

STATE'S ATTORNEY CANNOT BE FOUND

Lee Hong's Testimony Wanted in the Murder Trial of Lem Woon.

KIDNAPED OR A FUGITIVE

Was to Have Acted Also as Interpreter—Frightened Chinese Merchants Taken to Court by Use of Interpreters.

That Lee Hong, one of the state's chief witnesses in the trial of Lem Woon, which is in progress in Judge Brown's department of the Circuit Court, has been kidnaped and deported from the city, or has fled in fear of his life, is the belief of state's counsel. When Lee was called for in court yesterday he did not respond. As he was to act as interpreter, it was necessary for the court to order an adjournment until an interpreter could be secured.

In place of the absent Lee Hong the defense offered Sam Ah Tye, its San Francisco expert, counsel for the state objected, and subpoenas were issued for more than a half dozen local Chinese who understand English. The Sheriff had a hard time in getting one of them to serve. Subpoena for Lee Hong, Lee Yee, Lee Linn, Lee Lung and Lee Hou. They appeared much frightened when told they were to be taken to court. The Sheriff also subpoenaed for five members of the Lee family—Lee Yee, Lee Yee, Lee Linn, Lee Lung and Lee Hou. They appeared much frightened when told they were to be taken to court.

Says Witnesses Are Intimidated.

Mr. Maloney made the statement yesterday that the Chinese witnesses were so badly intimidated by threats of death that they were afraid for their lives if they testified in the case. He said that he had seen a woman made to burn down the house of the widow at Fourth and Pine streets, the old Arlington club house, where the murder occurred.

"Honk" Wedding Procession.

"Tommy" Bradshaw, a chauffeur who owns his own car and stands at Sixty and Washington streets, was married yesterday evening to Miss Vera Steinger. After the marriage ceremony the couple, in their way to the Union Station in their automobile, met with an unexpected reception on Sixth street about 11:30 o'clock. The car was stopped by some of Bradshaw's friends and when released had a placard on its back on which was printed: "We have just been married and are on our honeymoon trip. The auto on duty then formed in line behind the wedding party and serenaded them with "honks" all the way down to the station.

Witness' Answer Raises Laugh.

Lee Shue was called to tell what he saw of the murderers, as he was an occupant of the building at the time of the crime. He created considerable merriment when asked by Attorney Maloney: "Can you speak English?" Without waiting for the interpreter he answered "No." He said he had been in America 30 years.

STUDENT PLAY AT HEILIG

Christian Brothers Will Give "The Forest Bell" Friday.

The students of the Christian Brothers' College have a surprise in store for their parents and friends at the Heilig Theater next Friday night. These boys always draw a crowd, as they present a splendid programme. Judging from the sale of tickets so far, an immense crowd will be on hand to hear the boys in Schindler's dramatic opera, "The Forest Bell."

JURY GOES TO BED

No Agreement in Sight in Walton Case.

PRESENT TRIAL IS THIRD

Defendant Had Served Three Years of Sentence for Holding Up Car

When New Trial Was Ordered.

The jury in the Charles Walton hold-up case, which has been on trial this week in Judge Cleland's department, retired for deliberation yesterday afternoon at 4:25. Up to a late hour last night a verdict had not been agreed on, and since word came from the jury-room that the jurors had gone to bed, a disagreement would not be a surprise. As this is the third time the case has been tried, however, Judge Cleland will probably not discharge the jurors while there is hope of agreement. There will be no hope of a verdict before this morning.

FESTIVAL LATER IN 1909

PLANS BEGUN FOR NEXT YEAR'S ROSE CELEBRATION.

Executive Committee Holds Meeting and Preliminary Discussion of Plans. At the first meeting of the executive committee of the Rose Festival since the fiscal year in getting one of them to serve. Subpoena for Lee Hong, Lee Yee, Lee Linn, Lee Lung and Lee Hou. They appeared much frightened when told they were to be taken to court.

IMPROMPTU EXHIBITS OF FINE ROSES

June Shows With No Prize at the Chamber of Commerce Building—Friedrich V. Holman's Display

The lobby of the Chamber of Commerce building—main floor, entrances on Third, Fourth and Stark streets, no charge at the doors—was the site of a Portland rose show yesterday. It is such an exhibit that when a long-distance visitor, familiar with this flower, sees it, he will confirm our title to Rose City. All of the blooms are from the garden of Frederick V. Holman, corner Lowlands and Taylor streets. A multitude of men and women came to the display, many of them, anxious seekers for more light on the cultivation of roses. It will be open today also.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS.

Marquand Next Week.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS.

Two Toppers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

JURY GOES TO BED

No Agreement in Sight in Walton Case.

PRESENT TRIAL IS THIRD

Defendant Had Served Three Years of Sentence for Holding Up Car

When New Trial Was Ordered.

The jury in the Charles Walton hold-up case, which has been on trial this week in Judge Cleland's department, retired for deliberation yesterday afternoon at 4:25. Up to a late hour last night a verdict had not been agreed on, and since word came from the jury-room that the jurors had gone to bed, a disagreement would not be a surprise. As this is the third time the case has been tried, however, Judge Cleland will probably not discharge the jurors while there is hope of agreement. There will be no hope of a verdict before this morning.

FESTIVAL LATER IN 1909

PLANS BEGUN FOR NEXT YEAR'S ROSE CELEBRATION.

Executive Committee Holds Meeting and Preliminary Discussion of Plans. At the first meeting of the executive committee of the Rose Festival since the fiscal year in getting one of them to serve. Subpoena for Lee Hong, Lee Yee, Lee Linn, Lee Lung and Lee Hou. They appeared much frightened when told they were to be taken to court.

IMPROMPTU EXHIBITS OF FINE ROSES

June Shows With No Prize at the Chamber of Commerce Building—Friedrich V. Holman's Display

The lobby of the Chamber of Commerce building—main floor, entrances on Third, Fourth and Stark streets, no charge at the doors—was the site of a Portland rose show yesterday. It is such an exhibit that when a long-distance visitor, familiar with this flower, sees it, he will confirm our title to Rose City. All of the blooms are from the garden of Frederick V. Holman, corner Lowlands and Taylor streets. A multitude of men and women came to the display, many of them, anxious seekers for more light on the cultivation of roses. It will be open today also.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS.

Marquand Next Week.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS.

Two Toppers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

JURY GOES TO BED

No Agreement in Sight in Walton Case.

PRESENT TRIAL IS THIRD

Defendant Had Served Three Years of Sentence for Holding Up Car

When New Trial Was Ordered.

The jury in the Charles Walton hold-up case, which has been on trial this week in Judge Cleland's department, retired for deliberation yesterday afternoon at 4:25. Up to a late hour last night a verdict had not been agreed on, and since word came from the jury-room that the jurors had gone to bed, a disagreement would not be a surprise. As this is the third time the case has been tried, however, Judge Cleland will probably not discharge the jurors while there is hope of agreement. There will be no hope of a verdict before this morning.

FESTIVAL LATER IN 1909

PLANS BEGUN FOR NEXT YEAR'S ROSE CELEBRATION.

Executive Committee Holds Meeting and Preliminary Discussion of Plans. At the first meeting of the executive committee of the Rose Festival since the fiscal year in getting one of them to serve. Subpoena for Lee Hong, Lee Yee, Lee Linn, Lee Lung and Lee Hou. They appeared much frightened when told they were to be taken to court.

IMPROMPTU EXHIBITS OF FINE ROSES

June Shows With No Prize at the Chamber of Commerce Building—Friedrich V. Holman's Display

The lobby of the Chamber of Commerce building—main floor, entrances on Third, Fourth and Stark streets, no charge at the doors—was the site of a Portland rose show yesterday. It is such an exhibit that when a long-distance visitor, familiar with this flower, sees it, he will confirm our title to Rose City. All of the blooms are from the garden of Frederick V. Holman, corner Lowlands and Taylor streets. A multitude of men and women came to the display, many of them, anxious seekers for more light on the cultivation of roses. It will be open today also.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS.

Marquand Next Week.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS.

Two Toppers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

JURY GOES TO BED

No Agreement in Sight in Walton Case.

PRESENT TRIAL IS THIRD

Defendant Had Served Three Years of Sentence for Holding Up Car

When New Trial Was Ordered.

The jury in the Charles Walton hold-up case, which has been on trial this week in Judge Cleland's department, retired for deliberation yesterday afternoon at 4:25. Up to a late hour last night a verdict had not been agreed on, and since word came from the jury-room that the jurors had gone to bed, a disagreement would not be a surprise. As this is the third time the case has been tried, however, Judge Cleland will probably not discharge the jurors while there is hope of agreement. There will be no hope of a verdict before this morning.

FESTIVAL LATER IN 1909

PLANS BEGUN FOR NEXT YEAR'S ROSE CELEBRATION.

Executive Committee Holds Meeting and Preliminary Discussion of Plans. At the first meeting of the executive committee of the Rose Festival since the fiscal year in getting one of them to serve. Subpoena for Lee Hong, Lee Yee, Lee Linn, Lee Lung and Lee Hou. They appeared much frightened when told they were to be taken to court.

IMPROMPTU EXHIBITS OF FINE ROSES

June Shows With No Prize at the Chamber of Commerce Building—Friedrich V. Holman's Display

The lobby of the Chamber of Commerce building—main floor, entrances on Third, Fourth and Stark streets, no charge at the doors—was the site of a Portland rose show yesterday. It is such an exhibit that when a long-distance visitor, familiar with this flower, sees it, he will confirm our title to Rose City. All of the blooms are from the garden of Frederick V. Holman, corner Lowlands and Taylor streets. A multitude of men and women came to the display, many of them, anxious seekers for more light on the cultivation of roses. It will be open today also.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS.

Marquand Next Week.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS.

Two Toppers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

JURY GOES TO BED

No Agreement in Sight in Walton Case.

PRESENT TRIAL IS THIRD

Defendant Had Served Three Years of Sentence for Holding Up Car

When New Trial Was Ordered.

The jury in the Charles Walton hold-up case, which has been on trial this week in Judge Cleland's department, retired for deliberation yesterday afternoon at 4:25. Up to a late hour last night a verdict had not been agreed on, and since word came from the jury-room that the jurors had gone to bed, a disagreement would not be a surprise. As this is the third time the case has been tried, however, Judge Cleland will probably not discharge the jurors while there is hope of agreement. There will be no hope of a verdict before this morning.

FESTIVAL LATER IN 1909

PLANS BEGUN FOR NEXT YEAR'S ROSE CELEBRATION.

Executive Committee Holds Meeting and Preliminary Discussion of Plans. At the first meeting of the executive committee of the Rose Festival since the fiscal year in getting one of them to serve. Subpoena for Lee Hong, Lee Yee, Lee Linn, Lee Lung and Lee Hou. They appeared much frightened when told they were to be taken to court.

IMPROMPTU EXHIBITS OF FINE ROSES

June Shows With No Prize at the Chamber of Commerce Building—Friedrich V. Holman's Display

The lobby of the Chamber of Commerce building—main floor, entrances on Third, Fourth and Stark streets, no charge at the doors—was the site of a Portland rose show yesterday. It is such an exhibit that when a long-distance visitor, familiar with this flower, sees it, he will confirm our title to Rose City. All of the blooms are from the garden of Frederick V. Holman, corner Lowlands and Taylor streets. A multitude of men and women came to the display, many of them, anxious seekers for more light on the cultivation of roses. It will be open today also.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS.

Marquand Next Week.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS.

Two Toppers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

JURY GOES TO BED

No Agreement in Sight in Walton Case.

PRESENT TRIAL IS THIRD

Defendant Had Served Three Years of Sentence for Holding Up Car

When New Trial Was Ordered.

The jury in the Charles Walton hold-up case, which has been on trial this week in Judge Cleland's department, retired for deliberation yesterday afternoon at 4:25. Up to a late hour last night a verdict had not been agreed on, and since word came from the jury-room that the jurors had gone to bed, a disagreement would not be a surprise. As this is the third time the case has been tried, however, Judge Cleland will probably not discharge the jurors while there is hope of agreement. There will be no hope of a verdict before this morning.

FESTIVAL LATER IN 1909

PLANS BEGUN FOR NEXT YEAR'S ROSE CELEBRATION.

Executive Committee Holds Meeting and Preliminary Discussion of Plans. At the first meeting of the executive committee of the Rose Festival since the fiscal year in getting one of them to serve. Subpoena for Lee Hong, Lee Yee, Lee Linn, Lee Lung and Lee Hou. They appeared much frightened when told they were to be taken to court.

IMPROMPTU EXHIBITS OF FINE ROSES

June Shows With No Prize at the Chamber of Commerce Building—Friedrich V. Holman's Display

The lobby of the Chamber of Commerce building—main floor, entrances on Third, Fourth and Stark streets, no charge at the doors—was the site of a Portland rose show yesterday. It is such an exhibit that when a long-distance visitor, familiar with this flower, sees it, he will confirm our title to Rose City. All of the blooms are from the garden of Frederick V. Holman, corner Lowlands and Taylor streets. A multitude of men and women came to the display, many of them, anxious seekers for more light on the cultivation of roses. It will be open today also.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS.

Marquand Next Week.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS.

Two Toppers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

Chinese Jugglers.

MUSICAL PROGRAMME.

To Be Rendered at the Cream Store This Afternoon.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

MUSICAL PROGRAMME.

To Be Rendered at the Cream Store This Afternoon.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.

AT THE THEATERS.