Mission Boat Guiding Star, Supposedly Outside, Slips Quietly Into Portland.

ENJOYS FAIRLY GOOD TRIP

Captain Bernays, Mate Hancock, Seaman Wilson and Their Small Vessel Complete Voyage From Vancouver, B. C.

The 18-foot sloop Guiding Star, which sailed from Vancouver, B. C., on June 4, arrived in Portland Harbor yesterday morning after passing in at the mouth of the Columbia, and by Astoria as well, without having been heralded by the lookouts at the lower harbor.

The little craft in command of Captain Leopold A. Bernays, and with Mate B. Hancock and Scaman J. Wilson, made the trip from the British Columbia port to the Columbia River, after putting into Neah Bay on June 11, in exactly ten days. The Gulding Star, instead of putdays. The Guiding Star, instead of put-ting to sea when the fog sprang up Sun-day, continued into the harbor. On reach-ing Astoria at 10 o'clock Sunday night and finding everything quiet, the captain and crew decided to continue on to Captain Bernays was enthusiastic over the success of his trip and said that his party enjoyed fairly good weather during the entire voyage. The sea voyage was naturally rough at times for the little 18-footer was tossed about like an egg-shell when gusts of wind sprang up. but the worst luck encountered on the journey happened after the craft had started up the Columbia River for Portland. Shortly after passing Tongue Point on Monday morning, a fishing-boat col-lided with the stern of the Guiding Star and carried away the rudder. According to Captain Bernays and his crew, the occupants of the best refused to offer any assistance to the crippled craft. However, a jury rudder was rigged and the journey to Portland continued.

Until St. Helens was reached the little party were unaware that there was any anxiety felt as to their voyage. At that point they secured a daily paper recording the fact that the Guiding Star was supposed to be off the Columbia River. Captain Bernays hastened to a telephone office to call up his father, Chaplain A E. Bernays, of the Portland Seamen's In stitute, but found the office closed for the night. A passing river steamer with a logboom in tow afforded the crippled sloop an opportunity for making faster time, and the trio of hardy navigators hitched their craft to the logs and were towed as far as Linnton, where the logbeen was moored and the sloop forced to continue to Portland by its own power While the three members of the crew of the little craft expressed the greatest of satisfaction at finally accomplishing their journey, they were delighted at their experiences on the trip. Their aloop Guiding Star will be used in missionary work connected with the Everland

Seamen's Institute.

Captain Bernaye was formerly an officer in the British Navy, and recently has acted in the capacity of superintendent of the Seamen's Institute at Vancouver, B. C. He will leave Portland in a few days to resume his duties at the British Columbia city. Captain Bernays and Mate Hancock hope to have the Gulding Star placed in condition soon, and it is possible that the craft will be entered in the coming regatta at Astoria. state Hancock some time ago sailed a Portland boat in the regatta and won a silver cup, and Cap-tain Bernays has won several cups in salling competitions. The Astoria regatts is not scheduled until August, and in the event of the Guiding Star being entered, Captain Bernays will return to Portland for the purpose of commanding her. Mate Hancock is one of the officers of the ship Donna Francesca, which is lying at Astoria.

Lutheran Synod May Name Super-Intendent for Work.

A discussion of a paper prepared by Rev. G. Pauschert, of Spokane. Wash., on the advisability of appointing a su-perintendent of missions, yesterday occupled the attention of the Washington and Oregon district convention of the Lutheran Synod now in session in the Peninsula Church. After lengthy con-sideration, the matter was referred to a committee to report back to the district convention during this session. Members of this district are divided on the ques-tion, a number favoring the present sys-tem of supervision by a mission committee appointed at each district meeting, and others favoring the selection of a standing committee in conjunction with a superintendent. City Officials Are in Favor of Revision.

WILL CONFER ON CHANGES

Council Will Probably Take Initiative in Movement, but Any Alterations Must Be Approved by Electors.

There is a strong public sentiment in favor of a careful revision of the Port-land city charter, and Mayor Lane favors calling the heads of the various municipal departments together and seeking from each his opinion as to needed changes. The power to do this rests with the City Council, and it is believed it will act in the near future. Whatever changes are made must be by vote of the people, through the Initiative, and cannot be accomplished before the next city election.
Mayor Lane, City Attorney Kavanaugh,
City Auditor Barbour, City Treasurer
Werlein, members of the Council and Executive Board, and the heads of the departments in general, as well as nu-merous others who are in touch with the situation, favor some changes in the charter, in order to facilitate transaction of the city's business. That something should be done, seems to be agreed upon and it is believed that action will be taken "In the main," said the Mayor, "the charter is a good one, and protects the public well, but there are some things which need revision. There is particular need of a change in the manner of street improvement, and some other alterations should be made. Both city officials and contractors are complaining of the poor method of letting street work, of carrying on the same and payment therefor, and it is altogether likely that this section at least will be revised. The section under which the work is now done is said to be too complicated, and frequently hinders pro

From May, 1968, to May, 1969, the city will lose about, $19,000 in interest, which it might as well nave, but for the pro-visions of the charter governing the handling of public funds by the City Treasurer. Only such banks as bid for funds by the first Monday in May can have any of it; loaning it under any other consideration is against the terms of the charter, and must be followed, notwith-standing a loss in interest. Therefore, it is said that this charter section also will be altered.

It is said that the labor unions will seek to have incorporated into the charter a provision calling for an eight-hour day, and the East Side people will endeavor to have the boundaries of the wards east of the river changed so as to give them another member in the City

Should the Supreme Court decide that the proposed amendments to the charter, voted upon favorably by the people at the last election, are illegar, it will be neces-sary for each of them to be voted upon again at the coming election.

Colonel Miller is the curator of the permanent exhibit maintained on the second floor of the Chamber of Commerce building and he preserves in liquids large quantities of fruits each year so that wide-eyed tourists and visitors from all parts of the country may view them as they pass through Portland and wonder at the perfection of the fruits grown by this state. Colonel Miller has hit upon the plan of preserving roses so true to the life that rose shows may be held next Winter by the Chamber of Commerce for the edification of tourists. The work is a labor of love with Colonel Miller and while he admits that as yet the art is in the experimental stage he feels conthe experimental stage, he feels con-fident that within a short time he will have learned the secrets of preserving flowers in liquids so they will show to the best advantage after the blooming season has passed.

Colonel Miller had a large red rose im mersed in a jar of preserving liquid yes-terday and the flower looked singularly lifelike and natural. The color and form was as perfect as if the rose were still on the bush, swaying in the June breezes. It is probable that by the time Winter comes, the Chamber of Commerce will have a choice collection of roses on display showing this more dainty product among the prunes, apples, salmon and other things in the jars of formaldehyde in the permanent exhibit.

First of all I find that f he very serious and so-called "incurable" cases are due usually to NEG-LECT and DELAY. Again, I know that many men suffer FOR YEARS and practically R UIN THEIR HEALTH FOR-EVER trying to dose themselves with some pattent nostrum that never could cure. NO TREATMENT AT ALL is what "cheap" treatment means in nine cases out The last state of the man is worse of ten. than the first. Just before you go a line further in this aunouncement, stop and ask yoursel f as to whether YOU are following in the foolish foosteps of the man who NEGL ECTS himself? Are YOU trying to cure yourself with nostrums? Are YOU looking for treatment that will not cure? If you are, it is certain that you will regret it. It is NEVER TOO LATE to get on the right path, but at the same time remember that you cannot get there too soon. The ber t help in the world is none too good for you; you cannot get it too quickly. I offer it to you at the lowest fee
