Healthier Tone in American and European Markets.

DEMAND FOR CONTRACTS

Salem Firm Lifts 1908s to Nine Cents-Slow Movement in Last Year's Hops - Local Fruit Trade Shows Less Activity.

A distinctly firmer tone is apparent in the hop market on the Coast, in the East nd in Europe. The demand for spot hops in the West is still slow, and will probably continue so throughout the remainder the season, though rather more inquiry reported in New York. The healthier indertone in the market is attributed to clearer view that can be taken of the ing crop sitestion. That the 1908 world crop will be considerably under that of last year is now plain.

Interest in the Oregon market centers in the contract trade. The price of 1908s has advanced from 8 cents, which was paid last month, to 9 cents, which has been paid in the last few days. This figure has been freely offered by Lachmund & Pincus, and it is reported they have writ-ten several contracts in different sections. One of these deals was with Miley, of One of these deals was with Miley, of Aurora, for 10,000 pounds, and another was with a Champong grower. H. L. Hart this week closed a contract at 8% cents. There is a difference of opinion as to the quan-lity of new hops contracted for. Very few have been recorded yet, but it is said that Retailers evidently bought too heavily earlier in the week and the cool weather also had the effect of putting a damper on the demand. Receipts were not large, but a good assortment was carried over and prices generally were maintained, except on cantalouses, which declined to $2.75@3 per crate. The supply of this fruit was increased by the arrival of another car from California.

The strawberry market was weak and the street had a considerable supply of stock on hand at the close of the day, Cherry receipts were lighter than usual, and this gave the market a chance to TERRITORY WOOLS IN THE EAST. Better Movement Is Reported in Western Clips.

Mail advices from Boston report a beter business passing in territory wools. In the past week about 1.250,000 pounds in all is estimated to have changed hands, including considerable sold by one firm. Most transactions, however, are in lots of 25,000 pounds to 50,000 pounds each. A good portion of the transfera of clothing wools was at prices ranging from 13½ to 14½c, the scoured cost being around 45c. A fair amount of medium sold at 16 to 19c. including a small lot of 12,000 pounds Soda Springs quarter blood at 19c, about 175,000 pounds, part half blood and fine medium.

Immediate Future.

The butter market continues firm here, as it is in all parts of the United States, and there is no immediate prospect of a change in conditions. The city creameries have little surplus over their local and shipping orders and what is left is put There was a fair demand for poultry yesterday, but it was not sufficient to cause any material advance in prices.

The feeling in the egg market is steadler. Huying has not expended, but receipts have fallen off considerably in the last few with a Champoog grower. H. L. Hart this week closed a contract at Si cents. There is a difference of opinion as to the quantity of new hops contracted for. Very few have been recorded yet, but it is said that fully 25,000 bales have already been bought in advance in Oregon, and some authorities entimate the amount at 25,000 bales.

There is much speculation as to the part being taken in the movement by Lachmund & Pincus Their connection with Paul R. G. Horst naturally leads to the surmise that Horst has found means to launch another built campaign for the benefit it would have on his enormous holdings of old hops. Whitever is the object, anything that will have the effect of lifting prices will be cordically welcomed by the growers.

Trading in 1907 hops has been on a small scale in the past week. The demand is slow, but at the same time growers are holding decidedly firm. One of the most recent transactions was the purchase by E. C. Herren, of the Killenberger & Mayer lot, of 68 bales at Lebanon at 5% cents. H. L. PORTLAND LIVESTOCK MARKET. Prices Quoted Locally on Cattle, Sheep and

The livestock market continues slow with no important changes in prices. The demand for cattle is reported light, and the presence of much grass-fed stock adds to the weakness, but in the trade it is thought no further decline will be necessary. Although receipts yesterday were light, the large number of sheep, hogs and lambs lately received have put these lines, also, on an easy basis. Yesterday's strivals were 30 hogs, 50 cattle and 40 calves.

Professional Selling Ascribed to Political Motives-Further Gold Exports Are Looked for Next Week.

NEW YORK, June 19.—Operations in Mocks remained largely in professional hands today, although the movement of prices was somewhat freer than on earlier days of the Mocks remained largely in professional hands today, although the movement of prices was somewhat freer than on earlier days of the week and at the expense of values. Professional traders professed political motives for the celling of stocks pointing to the antihiguaction plank of the Republican platform as a matter for disquietude to holders of securities and the likelihood of the campaign discussion taking a tone of asgression on corporations was also dwelt upon.

The motive of the buying yesterday was an assumption that with the Republican nominations out of the way, some general dumand for stocks will soon ensue. London adopted this supposition and started prices of American securities higher today. The expected demand did not develop and disappointed professionals who bought yesterday were sellers in consequence. News of the closing of a Philadeiphia trust company was accorded a significance which the dimensions of the failure seemed not to warrant.

With the news of the arrival in this country of the head of the banking firm which is purchasing maturing coupous on Eric Railroad bonds, the troubled affairs of that property were brought into notice again and rumors circulated that a thorough reorganization of the finances was in contemplation. A bad sentimental effect was produced by another sag in the price of Union Facific refunding honds "when issued." The resistance of the bonds at ½ below the subscription price had given the imprecion that they were pegged at that price, which is 95%. Today they sold at 95%, in connection with reports from bond dealers that the investment demand generally for bonds had died out, this incident was of influence.

Further disagreement in the iron trade over prices of bar iron and a probable open market for that product was reported.

No more gold was engaged for export, but the exchange market was said to be affected in the continued case from abroad for subscriptions to the Union Pacific bonds and further exports are looked for next week. Discount nates were higher in Par

Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

Preparations for Fall trade are on a fairly liberal scale, testifying confidence in the future. Jobbers are receiving moderate supplementary orders for prompt shipment, while retail sales expand in response to sensonable weather.

Building operations increase at many points, creating a better demand for lumber and other materials, but there is still a decrease in most comparisons with last year's volume. Mercantile collections are more prompt and money is abundant, despite continued exports of gold.

Wheat Prices Break at Chicago After Nervous Session.

HEAVY REALIZING SALES

Absence of Rain in the Southwest Causes Holders to Let Go-Corn Touches New High-Record Mark for Season.

CHICAGO, June 19.—Weakness in the wheat market developed late in the day after a period of extreme nervousness. The market opened firm on a good demand by several of the leading commission houses, but an easier tone seon resulted from lib-srai realizing by local holders, who based their action on the absence of rain in the Southwest, where harvesting is in progress. The close was weak. July opened unchanged to be higher, at $5% to $6% and unchanged to $6 kie and then declined to $7 kie. The close was at $7 kie $7 kie.

The corn market was strong most of the day, and July buched a new high record mark for the season, when it sold at 70 kie. The close was steady, July at $6 kie.

Farmers Driven From Homes-Hay Crop Almost Total Loss.

WOODLAND, Wash., June 19 .- (Special.)-High water in the Columbia has done great damage to the ranchers and dairy people living in the bottoms west and south of Woodland. Many farmers have been compelled to move with all their possessions and stock. The hay crop will be almost a total failure, as but little had been cut before the high water came, the season having been very backward on account of cold weather.

The stage of water at Woodland in the north fork of Lewis River is now 14 feet 9 inches. The river is still rising at the rate of three inches a day. Another foot of water will cover nearly all of the river bottoms and will run the loss figure up to large proportions. There has ure up to large proportions. There has been no interruption to traffic, but the heavy rains of the last three days, while of great benefit to the upland farmers, will probably cause slides in the new cuts made on the Northern Pacific road and may cause some delay to Vancouver and Kalama trains.
