HARD SERIES FOR BEAVERS IN SOUTH

Portland Team Will Do Well if It Breaks Even at Los Angeles.

ANGELS GOING THEIR BEST

Pitchers in Fine Fettle and Team Working Hard, While Beavers Are Demoralized — Still Batting at Good Clip.

BY WILL G. MAC RAE.

This week it will be Portland and Los Angeles. McCredie and his hired men will sure come in for a tough week's entertainment because Los Angeles will be fighting to retain its slender hold on the top of the Coast League ladder, while Portland will be clawing at them to push them out of the way to make room for themselves. Just how we will come out in the series, not even the most daring and loyal fan will dare predict and if we break even, joy here at home will be at the flood tide.

Los Angeles All Keyed Up.

Los Angeles will enter the fray all keyed up and its pitchers going great guns, while our home talent is all shot to pieces. That hoodoo that has been camping around the front door of the Portlanders and knocked our pitching staff gallywest, wasn't content in sending us against Oakland with only three pitchers working, but just to play the string out, it had to land on Moose Casey and put his mush in the way of a foul tip. When the fans read that Casey's injury would perhaps keep him out of the game for several days, there was a great deal of gloom around the smoke emporium, for the Moose was just getting back into the game after a forced lay-off. Casey was sadly missed during the closing home series, and if he is forced to lay out of the game while we are at Los Angeles, there are chances that we won't accomplish much more than the Seals did against the Loo-Loos.

There is a ray of hope peeking through the hard luck and that is Casey's gameness. He will have to be mightily hurt to keep him from playing against Los Angeles. Pearl would sooner beat Los Angeles than any team in the league, and his face will have to be all but caved in to make him sit on the bench.

In the series just ended, the Seals had a harder time than Portland with Oakland. Out of the six games between Los Angeles and San Francisco, the Seals were only able to annex one game, and that was the day that President J. Cal Ewing sat among the moguls. Portland did manage to take two out of the six games carded with Oakland. One was a tied-up affair and did not count, or won't at any rate until the time rolls around for the playing off of the games that were tied or postponed on account of rain. After finishing with Los Angeles, McCredie will play a series of eight games with the Seals. The double-header on July 4 makes the eight. The Seals will have to take a great brace to keep us from breaking even or better, so it looks now as if our hardest battle is with the Angels.

Beavers' Batting Is Good.

At home here, some of the fans were inclined to think that the team had fallen off in batting, but the figures give this wail the lie. Oakland did outbat us, it is true, but by only 37 points. Any team that can bat .230 or better on the road is going along at a pretty good clip. McCredie's crew did better than this, for they wound up the series hitting along about .259, while Oakland slammed the ball at the rate of .296. This is traveling faster and showing more speed than the Athenians have shown this season. This clip was hit up by the Oaks, not because they had found their batting eye, but because Portland's twisters were out of form.

According to the San Francisco baseball scribes, Oakland won two games because luck was breaking for them and not for the home folks. In one game, the first that Casey played in, a sharply-hit ball almost tore Casey's shoulder off after taking a bad bound. The ball caromed off Pearl's wish bone and rolled to the fence, letting in two runs that won the game finally for Oakland. In other games that went against us, Portland out-hit the other fellows, but the bingles did not arrive in the rounds when they counted with the scorekeeper. This, however, is the luck of the game, and it is that mystic something that always brings the fans back to the next game.

DOG POISONER KILLS COLLIE

Valuable Animal Owned by A. C. Phelps Dies Despite All Efforts.

BY WILL G. MAC RAE.

That fiend in human form is abroad again, the thing that walks on two legs and poisons harmless and valuable dogs. The latest specimen of this species of rogue Sunday afternoon poisoned two handsome collies, the property of A. C. Phelps, who lives at Eleventh and Jackson streets. The poisoner tried to kill both dogs, but the prompt attention given the suffering animals by Mr. Phelps saved the life of one, but in spite of all effort the handsomer of the two, Lady Hamilton, a pure white registered collie, unquestionably one of the best bred and finest collies on the Coast, died yesterday morning.

Both of Mr. Phelps' dogs were registered and finely bred. They were not dogs that annoyed any one and Mr. Phelps is at a loss to understand why any rogue would wish to kill his pets. Whoever the miscreant was, he threw bits of meat, containing strychnine into the yard, and as Mr. Phelps was taking his dogs out for exercise, they picked up the poisoned meat. It was not until Mr. Phelps had almost reached his mother's home, that Lady Hamilton showed signs of the deadly drug. The dog was taken with convulsions and Mr. Phelps hurried to his mother's home and with olive oil and other remedies, managed to keep Lady Hamilton alive. In the evening she appeared to be recovering, but yesterday morning she was again stricken with convulsions and died. The other dog was more fortunate and is still alive.

Mr. Phelps is thoroughly aroused over the dastardly killing of his dog and will vigorously prosecute the poisoner if caught. He recently refused a high offer for the dog that died.

SNOW BEATS VETERAN GOSS

Surprise in Multnomah Club's Championship Tennis Tourney.

In the continuation play of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club's championship tennis tournament yesterday Snow proved the surprise of the day, for by his defeat of Goss it seems probable that he may now enter in the finals. Brandt Wickersham played his usual brilliant game and succeeded in defeating McMillan in several hard-fought frames. The scores were as follows:

Wickersham beat McMillan (receive 15), 7-5, 2-6 and 6-1; Wilder (owe 16 2-6) beat Wakeman (receive 4-6), 6-1, 6-0; McKenzie (receive 5-6) beat Knight (receive 15), 6-2, 6-2; Nunn (receive 15) beat Zan (receive 5-6), 7-5, 6-0; Snow (receive 4-6) beat Goss (owe 40), 6-2, 6-4; Warriner (receive 15) beat Warren (receive 15 2-6), 6-2, 6-2; Black beats Forbes by default. Alexander beat Hughes by default.

Doubles—Mersereau and Brewer (receive 15) beat Warriner and Dunne (receive 3-6), 6-4, 4-6, 6-3.

The matches scheduled for today are as follows: Goss and McAlpin vs. Farrell and McMillan, Wilder vs. Dole, Morrison vs. Nunn, Snow vs. Ames, Ladd vs. Hubbell, Warriner vs. Alexander, Bellinger vs. Katz and Andrews vs. Brewer.

ANOTHER GRANT IS VICTOR

This One Defeats Englishman at Lawn Tennis.

WIMBLEDON, June 22.—The all-England lawn tennis championship tournament was opened here today. W. C. Grant is the only American entered. In the second round of the singles Grant defeated J. B. Ward by three sets to one, the scores being 6-3, 8-10, 7-5 and 7-3. Norman E. Brooks, the holder of the championship, will not defend his title this year.

Fail to Secure Dr. Clapp.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 22.—The hopes of the students at the University of Washington of getting a high-class Eastern man to take charge of athletics have been shattered. Dr. Raymond S. Clapp, a graduate of Yale College and at present head of the department of physical education in the University of Nebraska, whom President Thomas Kane, of the University of Washington, intended to recommend to the board of regents as athletic director at the university, has decided to remain in Nebraska.

Faculty Gives Up Baseball.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Or., June 22.—(Special.)—The baseball game to have been played today between the faculty alumni and the senior teams was called off because not enough martyrs could be secured from the faculty ranks. University students feel that one of the strongest traditions of the institutions has been violated.

FINE HORSES FOR COAST

I. D. CHAPPELLE, OF HILLSBORO, BRINGING THEM.

Classy Thoroughbreds Entered in Speed Events to Be Held in Portland Next Fall.

I. D. Chappelle, of Hillsboro, one of the leading horsemen of the Pacific Northwest and a prominent exhibitor in the show ring and competitor in several of the classiest harness horseracing events of the big meet to be held next Fall, is in the city, and will leave tomorrow for Denver to bring to Oregon what local horsemen regard as the greatest 3-year-old animal in the country.

The racer and show ring performer in question is Dr. Ullman, with a record of 2:23¼ as a 2-year-old last year. This likely candidate is now in Denver, and Mr. Chappelle will make a special trip to the Colorado metropolis to bring this classy entry to Portland for appearance in the Northwestern circuit.

Mr. Chappelle will bring Dr. Ullman to Portland in about ten days. About four weeks ago he brought from Denver a carload of harness horses and show-ring exhibits and have stabled them on his placed at Hillsboro. He will enter not less than seven races in the early closing speed events and will have from eight to ten animals in the show ring, when the first annual Pacific National Exposition is held at the local Country Club and Livestock Association meet here, next September.

In the Open River, purse, 2:14 pace, $1000, he has entered Bushnell King (2:21¼), a well-known Eastern pacer by Norval King, and Alta Norte (2:16½), by Del Norte, who has shown splendid form at various Pacific Slope race meets heretofore.

He has entered Iowa Boy in the 2:09 pace for the Rose City purse of $2500. This splendid performer has a record of 2:17¼, but has negotiated exhibition miles in much better time than that.

In the County Club purse, 2:18 trot, $2500, Mr. Chappelle has entered Elma O., with a record of 2:16 flat as a 3-year-old, and in her previous performance she has proven one of the gamest in her class.

Neva Wins Yacht Race.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—The sloop Neva of the San Francisco Yacht Club fleet won the cup yesterday in the race around the San Francisco lightship, given under the auspices of the San Francisco Yacht Club. The little sloop Ruby, of the Corinthian Yacht Club, was second. These two yachts were the smallest in the race, and consequently they were given the limit time allowances.

Big Sewer Planned for Peninsula.

The North Albina Improvement Association, at its meeting last night in the engine-house on Albina avenue, started a movement for the biggest sewer yet constructed in Portland, which will cost when completed between $500,000 and $600,000, and will drain the Peninsula district, including a considerable portion of Vernon. The district is bounded by Humboldt street on the south, the city limits east, Columbia boulevard and also the Columbia and Willamette rivers. It will start at some point east of Union avenue and follow nearly through the center of the Peninsula and empty near the Swift packing plant. It is estimated that it will take fully five years to complete this big sewer system.

Electric Storm in Ohio.

COLUMBUS, O., June 22.—One of the worst electrical storms in years passed over Central Ohio early today and did much damage. Springfield, Dayton, Delaware, Coachto, York and other towns report severe damage.
