because they had supported the Mateo revolution, and he dared the French Government to deny this.

BATON ROUGE, La., June 23.—After a campaign lasting several months, the close of which was marked by a bitter fight, the so-called Locke anti-race-track gambling bill was this afternoon passed by the Louisiana State Senate. The bill passed the House several weeks ago, and now only requires the signature of the Governor to become law. There seems no doubt Governor Sanders will sign the bill.

MISS REID MARRIED

Royalty Honors Ceremony by Its Presence.

BRITISH FASHION SMILES

Daughter of American Ambassador Wedded to English Nobleman at Chapel Royal—Guests Few and Distinguished.

LONDON, June 23.—With King Edward and Queen Alexandra smiling approval from their private gallery, Jean Reid, daughter of the late Sir John Reid, the American Ambassador to England, was married this afternoon in the Chapel Royal of St. James Palace to the Honorable John Hubert Ward, brother of the Earl of Dudley and squerry-in-waiting to the King.

Royalty at Ceremony.

A few minutes before 3 o'clock King Edward and Queen Alexandra, accompanied by their suites, drove from Buckingham Palace and proceeded at once to the royal gallery, where the Prince and Princess of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and Princess Patricia already had arrived.

Costume of Bride.

The bride's dress was a soft white satin, trimmed with rose point lace, given her by her grandmother. The veil, too, had a lace center and edging, and was held by a wreath of orange blossoms. The bride wore but three pieces of jewelry, and these were all old fashioned clasp bracelets, the wedding presents of King Edward, Queen Alexandra and Mr. Ward, and looked charmingly beautiful as she walked up the aisle of the historical old chapel on the arm of her father, Miss Jennie Crocker, of San Francisco, attended her cousin.

At the conclusion of the service in the chapel all those who had been present, including the members of the royal family, attended the reception at Dorchester House, where hundreds of friends came in during the afternoon to offer their congratulations and admire the marvelous display of wedding presents. The list of gifts had been greatly added to during the last three days, among those coming at the last moment being handsome offerings from the Duchess of Fife and the Duchess of Argyll.
