UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Or., June 23.—(Special.)—Alumni and former students of the University held an enthusiastic meeting on the campus today, the exercises being attended by a record-breaking crowd.

At the annual business meeting this morning, the following officers were elected for the coming year: Lewis R. Alderman, '98, president; Allen H. Eaton, '02, first vice-president; Dr. Frederick J. Ziegler, '02, second vice-president; Albert R. Tiffany, '05, secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Alderman, who has been re-elected president of the alumni, is superintendent of the Eugene public schools; Mr. Eaton, first vice-president, is a Eugene business man and is serving his second term as member on the lower house of the Oregon Legislature from Lane County; Dr. Ziegler, second vice-president, is city physician of Portland; Mr. Tiffany, secretary-treasurer, is registrar of the University of Oregon.

The association transacted a large amount of routine business and took a number of steps to organize the alumni into a more effective body. A resolution was passed pledging the support of the alumni to measures that will improve the condition of the public schools of the state and also favoring the establishment of union high schools. The alumni campaign committee, who conducted the successful campaign for the university appropriation bill was discharged with a rousing vote of thanks.

Annual Alumni Banquet. The annual alumni banquet was held this afternoon in the large open tent on the campus just east of Deady Hall. The weather was delightful and the banquet was one of the most enjoyable events in the history of the association.

Unveil Johnson Portrait. At the conclusion of the graduating exercises tomorrow, the alumni association will present the university with a handsome portrait of the late president, John W. Johnson.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—For two years, ever since a constitutional government was proclaimed by the Shah of Persia, that country has been in the throes of a revolution which has been general in character and included within its scope the inhabitants of larger and smaller cities. The Shah rather reluctantly proclaimed the constitution and has cast his lot with the reactionaries, who are opposed to it because they hold it is contrary to their best interests.

Remind Prince of His Promise. LONDON, June 24.—A special to the Times from St. Petersburg says that the Russian and British representatives at Teheran have been instructed to remind Prince Zilles Sultan of his promise of loyalty to the present sovereign and to acquaint him of the determination of the two powers to keep him to his promise. With the exclusion of this possible danger of civil war, it is hoped the situation will soon clear.

dental ticket that might occur between the date of the nominating convention and the election. A hasty study of the precedents shows that no emergency has arisen in the history of the Republic such as would arise by the death or retirement of one of the candidates before election day.

Of course there can be no statutory law on the subject, because, after all, not only the National committee but the conventions that create them have no standing in law. Therefore there is nothing to prevent a committee from filling a vacancy on a ticket—that is, no law of prohibition—but of course that committee would be answerable to the party which it represented. It has been suggested that the committee be authorized to fill a vacancy in the event that one of the persons named as a candidate on the ticket should decline the honor, but that would be a clear case of delegated power.

As has been a common practice in the nomination of candidates for state offices to authorize the state committee to fill the vacancies in such an instance. When there is a large number of candidates some nominee frequently drops out of the race, becomes ill or dies. At the convention which nominated Taft and Sherman adjourned without day, his existence is at an end, so that it is said by men who are familiar with the practice of the parties, if it becomes necessary to fill Mr. Sherman's place, the National committee would have to go through the same procedure in promulgating rules for the election of delegates and every other detail that was gone through in creating the convention that has recently adjourned. All questions of contesting delegates would be taken up again and would have to be decided without regard to anything that was done in the recent convention.

Another point of interest, taken by Representative James T. Lloyd, of Missouri, chairman of the Democratic Congressional committee, who stated today that he had no doubt that the National committee of both political parties have inherent power to fill a vacancy in the nomination of either President or Vice-President that may occur between the adjournment of the convention making the nominations and the election. While no precedent has ever been established, because there has been no emergency to call for a decision of this kind, he was fully convinced that, if the question had been brought up, the power of the committee to take such action would be what it probably means. Upon arrival at my home Dr. Edward P. Carter and Dr. Dudley P. Allen were called. This morning the physicians ordered that he be taken to a hospital, where he could be Speaking of Mr. Sherman's illness, Mr. Herrick said today: "Mr. Sherman first was taken ill on the train Sunday morning on the way from Cincinnati here. While in the sleeper the pains came on, and he at once realized what it probably meant. Upon arrival at my home Dr. Edward P. Carter and Dr. Dudley P. Allen were called. with the basket, where a cursory investigation failed to reveal any mark of identification. The city ambulance was called and the child sent to St. Vincent's hospital. At the hospital it was found that the child was a little girl only a few hours old, but there were no marks on the clothing to indicate who its parents might be.

practically the same conditions that caused some alarm in this city last spring is believed here. In the latter part of March he was taken from his hotel apartments to the Garfield hospital suffering from catarrh of the bile duct. It was suspected that an operation for gallstones might be necessary. This, however, was found unnecessary and, while Mr. Sherman remained in the hospital for some days he was only seriously ill for a few hours, suffering acute pain during that time.
