

MEAD BOOTH CASE
HALL BOOTH CASE

Clarence C. Tripp and Daniel W. Wennerberg Complete Federal Jury.

FOUR DAYS FOR EVIDENCE

Men Who Are to Return Verdict on Defendant Charged With Accepting Bribe Will Be Guarded by Bailiff.

- JURY IN BOOTH BRIBERY CASE
Henry C. Fowler, Goble, Columbia County.
Peter Pearson, Portland, Multnomah County.
Frank Odell, Dayton, Yamhill County.
E. Allen, Corvallis, Benton County.
C. W. Hermosa, Forest Grove, Washington County.
David J. Grant, Falls City, Polk County.
George Bolter, Parkers, Polk County.
W. J. W. McCord, Oregon City, Clackamas County.
W. W. Pilsner, Sheride, Linn County.
Andrew A. Lee, Salem, Marion County.
Clarence C. Tripp, Portland, Multnomah County.
Daniel W. Wennerberg, Portland, Multnomah County.

The jury that will pass on the guilt or innocence of James Henry Booth, charged with accepting a bribe while in the Roseburg Land Office, was completed yesterday by the addition of two Portland men—Clarence C. Tripp and Daniel W. Wennerberg. The latter was accepted by both sides just after court convened yesterday afternoon, when Judge Wolverton adjourned court until 10 o'clock this morning out of respect to the death of ex-President Grover Cleveland.

Counsel for the Government and for the defense this morning will make their opening statements to the jury. United States Attorney McCourt will outline the case for the prosecution and indicate what the Government expects to prove in support of the charge presented in the indictment. Dan J. Maloney, of counsel for the defendant, will present the case of the defense. It is believed these statements can be submitted in an hour, so that the introduction of testimony can begin before the noon adjournment. In answer to an inquiry from Judge Wolverton, counsel yesterday advised the court that about four days would be required to present the testimony in the case. With this information Judge Wolverton excused the other veniremen from further attendance on the court until 10 A. M. Wednesday.

Reluctant as to Testimony.

Judge Becker, who is conducting the prosecution of the case for the Government, is extremely reticent in defining the character of the testimony that will be offered for the Government. Neither would he confirm the rumor that Francis J. Heney and W. J. Burns, of the secret service department of the Government, would be brought to Portland from San Francisco as witnesses against Booth. It is known, however, that it is the intention of the Government to produce Mr. Burns, the Government sleuth, as one of its witnesses if that official has recovered sufficiently from a recent illness to permit his making the trip. It is not a certainty that Mr. Heney will come to Portland in connection with the case on trial, although the representatives of the Government here are known to be in communication with the graft prosecutor.

Nothing of a startling nature developed yesterday in the examination of jurors before the jury was completed. Perry Tomlinson, an expressman of this city, was preemptorily challenged by the defense after he had admitted having read Heney's specifications in the indictment. The graft prosecutor an able man. This came as a surprise to counsel for the Government which had its ax out for Tomlinson's head, having learned that Tomlinson, who is an acquaintance of District Attorney John H. Hall, had expressed himself at the time Hall was convicted as quite emphatically against the prosecution of land-fraud cases by the Government at the time Hall was convicted. During the forenoon A. B. Caven- dar, formerly of Marion County, but now residing in this city, was challenged preemptorily by the defense, after having admitted that he was prejudiced in favor of the Government in the land-fraud prosecutions.

Will Keep Jurors Together.

When court was about to adjourn the question of keeping the members of the jury together was suggested by Judge Wolverton. Judge Webster, of counsel for the defense, said the defense was perfectly willing that the jury should be permitted to separate. For the Government, Judge Becker remarked that it had been the practice in the Federal Court in all preceding land-fraud cases to keep the members of the jury together in custody of the bailiff, and he saw no reason why there should be a departure from that custom in the case being tried. He suggested that the Government had provided in every possible way for the comfort of the jurors, all of which was supplied at the expense of the Government, and for that reason insisted that the usual practice of the court be adhered to. Judge Wolverton concurred in this view and delivered the jury into the custody of Bailiff Kelly during the progress of the trial.

GANTENBEIN WILL PRESIDE

Operation of Juvenile Court to Continue Under His Direction. Judge C. U. Gantenbein will continue in charge of the Juvenile Court. This was the decision of the Circuit Court Judges yesterday. Judge Robert Morrow concurred with the other judges, and will soon take Judge O'Day's place. Judge Gantenbein consented to take the position upon the earnest solicitation of his colleagues, and after being pledged the support of Judge George H. Williams, F. E. Beach, W. J. Gardner and Dr. T. L. Elliot, of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society.

POSTMASTER PLEADS GUILTY

A. H. Grant Will Be Sentenced Today for Embezzlement at Bend. A. H. Grant, former postmaster at Bend, was arraigned before United States Judge Wolverton yesterday on an indictment charging him with embezzling about $500 while in the employ of the Government. He pleaded guilty. Sentence will be pronounced on Grant at 10 o'clock this morning.

Pleading Guilty to Sending Obscene Literature through the Mails.

Calvin Morris, of Plymouth, Crook County, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Wolverton to pay a fine of $200. Morris was returned to the Multnomah County Jail until the fine has been paid.

There were two other arraignments before Judge Wolverton yesterday. J. M. Hazelwood, indicted for perjury, was given until June 29 at 10 A. M. to enter a plea. Robert E. Porter, of Umatilla County, indicted for alleged complicity with several Eastern Oregon people to defraud the Government of its public lands, was brought into court and allowed until August 1 to plead.

Indictments to Be Quashed.

United States Attorney McCourt yesterday moved the dismissal of two indictments against Mrs. Nellie E. Ragan, ex-assistant postmistress at Royston, Klamath County, in which pleas had not been entered. Mrs. Ragan on Tuesday pleaded guilty to one indictment charging the theft of various articles from the United States mails, and was fined $100 and sentenced to serve 30 days in the Multnomah County Jail. The two remaining indictments alleged similar offenses. On motion of the District Attorney the sureties for Mrs. Ragan and Bert Ragan, against whom the grand jury had returned a nisi true bill, were exonerated. Getay, a Siletz Indian, was charged with a statutory offense. Ragan, husband of the Southern Oregon ex-postmistress, was charged with complicity in his wife's misdeeds.

WARNE MAY DUST OREGON

STANDING OF STATE SPIRITUALISTS IN DOUBT.

Head of National Association Will Also Oppose Any Attempt to Evade Cottell Ordinance.

Dr. George B. Warne, president of the National Spiritualist Association, is in Portland for the purpose of determining whether or not the Oregon Association of Spiritualists should be expelled from the National association. Dr. Warne is also here for the purpose of discouraging any attempt to oppose the Cottell ordinance that was recently adopted by the City Council, placing severe restrictions upon clairvoyants, spiritualists and others of similar professions. The president of the National association insists that the ordinance is a good one, beneficial to his association and to the community.

The Oregon association should be expelled from the National association, it is contended, because it has violated the organic laws of the parent organization and has permitted practices under its auspices that have brought disrepute upon the National organization. These charges will be heard by Dr. Warne during his visit in this city and, possessing absolute power of expulsion or retention, will decide whether Oregon shall be wiped off the spiritualist map.

One hundred or more believers and friends of the faith gathered yesterday at the residence of D. A. McIntyre, 311 East Eleventh street, where a reception was held in honor of the distinguished spiritualist. The speaker, McIntyre, is paying him on the western trip and at the reception they were the guests of honor. Dr. Warne is here for two purposes, said Mr. McIntyre. "First he is going to settle this matter of controversy that has arisen as a result of the passage of the Cottell ordinance. He believes the ordinance is for the benefit of the community and he is here to see that it is not evaded in Chicago, his home, and it has resulted in good there. A number of local members don't agree with him and have arranged a fight against the ordinance on the ground that it is unconstitutional. Dr. Warne will also decide whether or not Oregon should not be expelled from the National association. Charges have been made that certain practices have been permitted here that should not have been and the matter will be thoroughly investigated."

WHITE TEMPLE MEETINGS

Increasing Interest Shown in Sermons by Dr. Riley.

The meetings at the White Temple being conducted by Dr. W. B. Riley are growing in interest. The attendance at the service each morning at 8 o'clock is increasing, and the series of sermons on Jonah are proving unusually attractive. It might be said that the White Temple, Martin, the choir director, has a chorus of 100 voices, accompanied by two pianos and an orchestra of several pieces. Yesterday Dr. Riley spoke three times on the morning at the White Temple on "Jonah in the Fish." In the afternoon at the Central Baptist Church, and tonight at 8:45 he will continue his series on "Portland Sinners" with the text "Are Any Committing the Unpardonable Sin?"

Last night he spoke on the subject "Presumptuous Sins," from the text "Keep back thy servant also from presumptuous sins; let them not have dominion over me." He said in part: "Sin is the blakest word in human language and the blindest sin is the one for which the Old Testament presented the sternest penalty. What is a sin? Unquestionably a sin against light and against love. What is the sin that knows better in the act he may be presuming upon the goodness of God, which is a poor commitment to his grace and an insult to his justice. A. C. Dixon tells of a little girl in Baltimore, Md., whose mother had warned her against stealing sweetmeats. Finding her one day with her fingers up to her knuckles in jam, she said: 'Did I not tell you that was wrong and I would be angry with you? To which the little girl replied: 'Yes, mamma, I know he does not like it but I am asking him to forgive me all the time.' There are grown people who are doing the same all the time."

Presumptuous sins are especially dangerous because they despise the light. The children of the most godly, therefore, are peculiarly likely to commit them. To walk in the light is to walk in the truth. It is brought up in the way of the truth is to invite the divine sentence. To reject Jesus Christ is to reject the light of life, and he who rejects the light of life is in the Son of God and the Saviour of the soul is to seal one's doom. If one asks what he is to do to understand that he is the Son of God and the Saviour of the soul, we must reject of them. The 51st Psalm is not only the story of David's repentance but reveals the sure processes by which he came again into divine favor.

Operation of Juvenile Court to Continue Under His Direction.

Judge C. U. Gantenbein will continue in charge of the Juvenile Court. This was the decision of the Circuit Court Judges yesterday. Judge Robert Morrow concurred with the other judges, and will soon take Judge O'Day's place. Judge Gantenbein consented to take the position upon the earnest solicitation of his colleagues, and after being pledged the support of Judge George H. Williams, F. E. Beach, W. J. Gardner and Dr. T. L. Elliot, of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society. The judges decided that hereafter the judge who has been longest in office shall have the first choice of departments, the second to the next longest, and so on. This month Judge Cleland will have charge of department No. 1, and Judge Morrow of department No. 2. Judge Gantenbein of department No. 3. It is possible that arrangements will be made to have a jury box installed in department No. 3 this summer, to be in readiness for the Fall term of court.

MONEY FOR TRAILS

Oregon Will Spend $6000 in Forest Reserves.

PART OF FEDERAL FUND

State Receives Only Small Fraction of Congressional Appropriation. Work is Outlined by Forest Inspector Sheppard.

Of the Agricultural Appropriation bill, passed by the last Congress and appropriating $600,000 for improvement work on the National forests, $6000 will be expended in the forest reserves of this state. There are at the present time 164 National forest reserves in the United States, embracing 166,785,926 acres. The total area of the reserves in this state is 16,331 acres.

T. H. Sheppard, forest supervisor, reports that the appropriation of $6000 to this state will be expended in improvement work on both sides of the Columbia River south to the Divide, between the Santiam and McKenzie rivers. This territory is now known as the Santiam, North and the Bull Run National forests, but, after July 1, will be known as the Oregon and Bull Run National forests. The money will be used, first, for building four trails and improving the means of communication through the forests, and, second, for constructing headquarters cabins and pasture fences for the use of the forest rangers.

Trail on Cascade Slope.

As soon as the snow is sufficiently out of the mountains to permit of trail construction at high altitudes, work will be pushed on a trail south from the summit of the crest of the Cascades on the west slope. This trail will be known as the Summit trail and will connect the wagon road which crosses the summit of the mountains from the valley of the Sandy River to Wamic, in Wasco County, with the wagon road which crosses the summit of the mountains from the Santiam River Valley to the Deschutes, that is, the Cascade Mountain & Willamette Valley Wagon Road. This trail will cost $2000.

Work is already begun on the east and west trail crossing the upper waters of the Clackamas River and climbing the summit to connect with the north and south trail on the summit. The trail, when completed, will open a new line of communication from Estacada through range 6 to the summit of the mountains. It will be designated as the Clackamas-Summit trail and will cost about $1000.

Work Begun From Detroit.

Work has begun on a trail from Detroit, the present eastern terminus of the Corvallis & Estacada trail, along the mountains in which are the peaks known as the Three Pyramids, to the Willamette Valley & Cascade Mountains Wagon Road, connecting with it at a point near Fish Lake. The cost of this trail, which will be called the Detroit-Pyramids trail, will be about $1000.

Wills Speaks Sarcastically of Proposal to Go to Denver Convention.

An invitation to city officials to attend the Democratic National convention, to be held in Denver soon, gave opportunity for Councilman Wills, during the session of Council yesterday morning, to wax sarcastic. He moved that "the five Democratic members of the Council—the minority—be sent to represent Portland, together with the Portland City Council."

Gambler's Estate Tied Up. CHICAGO, June 24.—Judge K. M. Landis yesterday issued a restraining order in the United States District Court tying up the million-dollar estate of the late Michael McDonald. The petition represents an indebtedness of $1000, the actual amount to be sought in the United States Circuit Court is in excess of $400,000. This amount represents attorney fees and other liabilities incurred by Mrs. McDonald, in which she was charged with the murder of Webster Guerin.

To be Effective You Don't Need to be Harsh

Nature is never violent. When any bodily function goes wrong, she corrects it in gentle ways. Please do as Nature does. Don't seek to aid her with violent physic—with salts, castor oil or pill cathartics. They ruin the stomach. They harden the bowels, just as constipation irritates will callous the skin. Then the bowels cease to supply their own laxative. That's chronic constipation.

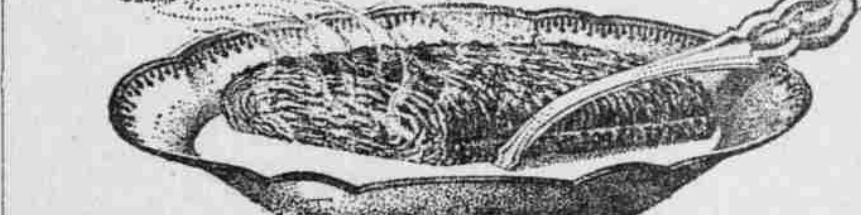

They are just as harmless as food. If the bowels are calloused, you may need one Cascaret twice a day for a time. But you'll need them less and less. For Cascarets restore the natural functions. Soon you won't need them at all. Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but not in bulk. Be sure to get the genuine, with C.C.C. on every tablet. The box is marked like this:

You can aid the bowels just as effectively in a gentle way. That way is Cascarets. They act without pain, without irritation.

The best-pocked box is 10 cents. The month-treatment box 50 cents. 12,000,000 boxes sold annually.

A Good Breakfast for Five Cents

Start the day right by eating a breakfast that gives the greatest amount of mental and physical strength with the least tax upon the digestion. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits with a pint of hot milk will supply all the energy needed for a half day's work—and the cost is about five cents.

Always heat the Biscuit in oven to restore crispness. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits with milk or cream will supply all the energy needed for a half day's work. Try Toasted TRISCUIT, the Shredded Wheat wafer, for luncheon, with butter, cheese or marmalade.
