Valley Woolgrowers Expect Better Prices.

EASTERN OREGON ACTIVE

New Wools From This State Attract Much Interest in Boston-Slight Improvement in General Situation.

Weel is now coming forward a little more freely from the Valley, though many grow-ers show a disposition to hold back in view of the recent advance in prices. The genof the recent advance in prices. The general quotation now is 12½ to 15 cents, the top price for the choicest No. 2. Very little wool was sold at the opening of the season, when the price was around il cents, and it is estimated that over half of the clip is still in growers' hands.

Eastern Oregon wools are pretty well sold but. Another sale is scheduled for Monday at Shartle white will republik wind un at Shaniko, which will probably wind up the sealed bid sales. A considerable quantily of the poorer grades are being sold East of the mountains at private sale on the basis of prices established at the public sales. Most of these are being taken by Sales and contracts in Montana are re-ported at 15 to 17c, including several well-known but not particularly desirable clips at 15-5c, and the Bair clip of 1.200,000 pounds at 16c. The report is that growers are expecting 18 to 10c for good staple clips. Up to 18-5 and 17c has been paid in the Triangle section. Other sales in Idaho have been at 15 % to 16c, including 700,000 pounds of Malad wools, the deal for which was of Malad wools, the deal for which was closed some days ago. A strong 50c is the estimated secured landed cont in Boaton of half-blood. Sales in Dakota are reported on the clean basis of 45c for half-blood and 42c for three-eighths.

New Oregon wools are arriving at Boston and attracting a good amount of interest. A few sales are reported at 17 to 18c for staple. The scoured basis is 55 to 57c. Recent sales in the state indicate an average price for good staple of 34c landed. Reviewing the situation in the East, the Boston Commercial Bulletin says;

Reviewing the situation in the East, the Boston Commercial Bulletin says;

The events of the week have caused a change in the outlook Merchants are more inclined to look favorably on the future though admitting that the market is to be a difficult one for some time to come. Worked wools and the best style of clothing are likely to meet with a good demand, but it is doubtful if prices can be established on a level high enough to allow of any great margin of profit. There is no indication of any particular improvement in the status of strictly clothing stock. Therefore, while the sale of combing wools may prove reasonably profitable, there is the large built of clothing wools, about the future of which there is much doubt.

In the mill situation improvement is apparently checked for the time being. Duplivate ordering develops slowly. Some lines have taken fairly well, but there is no general satisfaction in the amount of business accomplished. It is a problem to many manufacturers as to what they can do to keen michinery running. In the meantline mills that are running only part time and have no certain hope of increasing their output will buy spassingly of raw material, no matter how attractive its price or quality.

MOVEMENT OF CALIFORNIA FRUIT.

Shipments of Cherries and Apricots Nearly at an End.

The movement of California deciduous fruits in the past week is reported by the California Proit Distributors as follows:
Cherries, 17 cars—There will only be a few more cars shipped; practically at the end of the season.

Apricots, 6 cars—The same condition applies to apricots; the shipping season is practically over and only those will be marketed that are now on rouse.

Peaches, 7s cars—The bulk of the peaches going out the last week have been Triumphs with a few St. Johns and a few Hales Early. The Hales Early are nearly done, as are also the Triumph. Shipment of peaches will decrease very considerably the next seven days and the bulk of those available for shipment will be the St. Johns.

Pears, 6 cars—The bulk of the pears that have gone forward have been of the earlier varieties. There have been a few scattered hoxes of Bartletts. No considerable quantity of Bartletts will be picked until after the Pourth of July and the shipment will be light until probably the 10th. The crop is coming on nicely. We are going to have good, fait-sized, very clean, smooth and nice stock. Quality will be equal to any fruit of this kind that has ever gone out of the state. Remember this, there is absolutely no scab or smut on the Bartletts this year.

Grapps—Prospects are good for all varieties in all districts. Considerable number of Thompson seedless will go forward

The appointment of a receiver for the United Box Board & Paper Company made an unpleasant impression of possible further mortalities to be recorded among embarrassed industrial corporations, but it was ignored by the stock market.
