

STAGE-ROBBERS MISS TREASURE

Delay of Train Saves It From Falling Into Their Hands.

HOLD UP STAGE AT YREKA

White Man and Indian Smash Express Box in California, but Get Small Plunder - Pursuers Confident of Capture.

YREKA, Cal., July 6.—The Scott Valley stage, running between Yreka and Etna, was robbed this afternoon on Forest House Mountain at Robbers' Rock, by one white man and a quarter-breed Indian. The Indian covered the passengers from behind a rock, the other man, who wore a mask and gunnysacks on his feet, took watches and money amounting to $30. The Wells-Fargo box was smashed with an axe, but the amount taken is unknown.

Sheriff Howard and Deputy Sheriff Geney are on the road, and two other posses are out. Escape is impossible. It is believed the robbers will try to reach the railroad at Gazelle and then go south.

A big shipment of treasure was to have been made on the Etna stage today by the Wells-Fargo Company, but the train was late and missed connections with the stage. It is supposed the robbers knew of this shipment and held up the stage to secure it, as they did not touch the mail sacks which were in the wagon.

DEATH ROLL IN NORTHWEST

Mayor Quincy A. Brooks, Prominent in Washington Territorial Days.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., July 6.—(Special)—Mayor Quincy A. Brooks, one of the few remaining of the old pioneers, died in this city today of senile decay. Major Brooks was prominent in history making in the great Northwest territory, having been prominently identified with Government service years before Washington was separated from the vast expanse known as the Oregon territory. He was born in Washington County, Pennsylvania, May 22, 1827. Twenty years later he was graduated with honors from Western University of Pennsylvania, and immediately took up the study of law, being admitted to the bar in 1849, at Pittsburgh, where he practiced until 1851. By that time, news of the boundless wealth of the Pacific slope reached the East and young Brooks was among the earliest to start West, making the tortuous trip to Portland by ex-Oregonian, and a member of the famous Cowley convention, which carried Washington out of Oregon territory.

Brooks was later general agent of the Postoffice Department for the entire Coast, and in 1886 was appointed Collector of Customs for this district, serving until Cleveland's first election.

MEXICALI SEAT OF WAR

REIGN OF TERROR IN MEXICAN TOWN ON BORDER. Soldiers and Mounted Police Gather to Protect Federal Offices From Raiders.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 6.—A special to the Union from El Centro, Cal., says: The outbreak of the Mexican revolutionary party appears to have its seat at Mexicalli, a typical frontier town just across the border from Calexico. The Mexicalli people fear that the revolutionists will make an attack upon the town and attempt to capture the custom-house and postoffice. Rurales and other riders have been called from as far as Tijuana to assemble at Mexicalli. Extra forces of aurible patrol the town. All shops are ordered closed at 10 o'clock, and Americans have been warned that they would better go to Calexico on the United States side of the border. Business places, the custom-house and postoffice are guarded.

CATCH BLACK HAND LEADER

POLICE HAVE AUTHOR OF MANY BOMB OUTRAGES. Affitto Believed to Have Blown Up Several Tenement-Houses to Extort Blackmail.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Lieutenant Petrosino and his Italian detectives today were running down the loose ends of their case against a Sicilian, Giuseppe Affitto, who, until recently, it is charged, was the moving spirit in many of the East Side bomb throwings. Affitto was arrested on the specific charge that he threw a bomb in a tenement-house in East Seventy-Fourth street to intimidate a wealthy Italian in an attempt to blackmail him. This affidavit was sworn to by a man who, the police say, saw the bomb thrown. The way in which this bomb and others were constructed, and the similarity of the letters and threats received by the man against whom this particular bomb was directed, and those received lately by other wealthy Italians, indicated to the police.
