Enters House by Ladder.

About 12 o'clock he went to the house and obtaining a ladder, placed it against the porch roof, whence he entered the room of the sleeping girl through the open window. The little sister saw him, and jumping up rushed down stairs to arouse the family. This awakened the older girl, who saw the man in the room and asked him what he was doing. He made no reply, but turned to the window and loaded his revolver.

The girl jumped from the bed and started down the stairs, but as she reached the door, Janeigaj fired two shots, both of which took effect in her heart. Takes Two Shots at Father.

The slayer then jumped from the porch roof to the ground, where he was met by Schmreker. The latter was unarmed, and when the younger man fired two shots at him, both missing, he turned and fled inside the house. One of the sons at once went Court Deprives New Yorker of Elec tion Board Patronage.

NEW YORK, July 12 .- State Senator McCarren's application for a peremptory writ of mandamus con the Board of Elections of the City of York to appoint the Democratic members of the various Boards of Elections in Kings County from lists filed by him was denied yesterday by Supreme Court Justice Kelley.

McCarren was chairman of the executive committee of Kings County and the committee is thus deprived of con-siderable political patronage that has formerly attached to the position, and is political enemies have scored another point in the fight auginst him.

Senator McCarren announced tonight that he would appeal from the decision of Justice Kelly, and if possible ask for a special or extraordinary term of the appellate division. He added that the seneral committee of the Demothe general committee of the Demo-cratic organization in King's County would meet next Thursday to indorse the Denver nominations, and that the Democratic ticket would have the hearty support of the organization.

HIGHER TAX ON NEW LINES

Great Northern Only Half Winner in

Minnesota Suit. ST. PAUL, July 12.-Judge Lewis has filed in the District Court his decision in the case of the State of Minnesota against the Great Northern Railway Company, in which the state sought to compel the company to pay 4 per cent gross earn-ings tax under the state law of 1903.

mgs tax under the state law of 1903.

The rallway company paid the 3 per cent gross earnings tax, but claimed it was exempt from the 4 per cent tax under a law and agreement with the territorial legislature of May 22, 1887, by which it was to pay a 3 per cent tax in lieu of all other claims of the kind by the state.

The old road of the territorial days was known as the Minnesota and Pacific. Since then the road nas built many lines and acquired others.

Judge Lewis finds that the original lines are exempt under the charter and agree-ment from paying any greater tax than 3 per cent, but that the other lines must pay 4 per cent.

Dr. Butler had a chief role at the dinner given this evening by the International Conciliation committee, of which Baron di Betournelies is president, in honor of Ambassador Henry White, and the representatives of the Central and South American republics.

Dr. Butler's speech aroused genuine enthusiasm. Ideas, not force, he declared, were destined to rule in the future. The coming battle would be economic. The time is already in sight, he said, when natural resources will be exhausted and science must supply the deficiency.

"The world will no longer have time to fight," he continued, "but will need all its strength and brain to earn its living. Useful discoveries will then bind the world together by the ties of economic inter-dependency, and the future will belong to the people who best understand how to apply the principles of intellectual, moral and economic development.

The movement for a big nonpartisan celebration was started at a meeting of the Commercial Club directors held to-day. Robert McClure, secretary of the Commercial Club said:

"Four years ago the Commercial Club directors held a meeting and John W. Kern, who was president at that time, presided. He was enthusiastic in his efforts to arrange a nonpartisan reception for Mr. Falrhanks on the occasion of his return to the city from the convention which made him the Republican Vicewhich made him the Republican Vice-Presidential nominee.

"Mr. Kern presided at the reception ten-dered Mr. Fairbanks and we deemed it only fitting that we ask Mr. Fairbanks to return the favor in Mr. Kern's behalf this year. The Vice-President informed me that he would accept the invitation with pleasure and we feel that the cele-bration will be a notable one."

Chief Burns, assisted by Officers Shaw and Cooke, headed a posse made up of every available man to be found, and started after him. He is described as about 26 years oid, 5 feet 8 inches, smooth shaven, dark, and has no hat or coat, for he took these off before climbing up the ladder to the porch roof.

Jancigaj has been in trouble before in town, and is said to be of a quarrel-some disposition. It is not known whether he had been drinking.

Excitement is running high here, and many threats of a lynching have been heard. Chief Burns telephoned a description of the man to the Portland police, and they are watching incoming freights, for it is thought he may have taken a train that passed through town shortly after he ran from the house where he committed the crime:
