

LYNCHING WARRIED; MURDERER IN JAIL

Jancigaj, Slayer of 16-Year-Old Mary Smrekar, Caught and Placed in Jail.

PLEASED AT NOTORIETY

Says "Goodbye" as Doors Clang Behind Him—Admits Guilt to Coroner's Jury—Story of His Unrequited Love for Dead Girl.

OREGON CITY, Or., July 12.—(Special.)—Surrounded and followed by a howling mob of 300 men and boys, Math Jancigaj, who had been in the County Jail for 15 years, was rushed to the County Jail this morning by Sheriff Nehren and Constable Miles, while at large posse of officers headed by Jailer Beatle, and accompanied by Detective Vaughan and his two bloodhounds, from Portland, were following the man, who had been in the County Jail for 15 years, to the Clackamas River, stopping in the vicinity of Redland on Tom Potter's farm.

For five blocks the crowd, its ranks swelling with every step, yelled and fought for first place, all eager to get a near look at the defiant prisoner, whose smile of delight and satisfaction upon receiving never faded until the jail doors closed upon him. Cries of "Give us a rope, and hang him," all upon the ears of the officers, and the murderer, but a leader was lacking and no time was lost by Nehren and Miles, both well armed, and they retreated, moving swiftly to the Courthouse square, where the dungeon doors clanged behind him.

Says Goodbye to Crowd. "Good bye," shouted the Austrian, waving his hand as he disappeared, and the kicking crowd laughed.

After killing the girl and firing three shots at her father last Sunday night, Jancigaj ran south on Main street to Twelfth and turned toward the hill, going up the canyon under the Twelfth-street bridge.

Posses and Bloodhounds in Chase. Meanwhile the alarm was given, and several posses were hurriedly formed to capture the fleeing criminal. The men, armed with all sorts of weapons, patrolled the streets and alleys until just before daylight, when parties set out for the rear of the canyon, where the Jancigaj might have taken to the open country. Bloodhounds were given the trail and set out in hot pursuit of a scoundrel who had been in the County Jail for 15 years. Just before 9 o'clock the capture of two Austrians was reported at Beaver Creek by telephone and Deputy Sheriff Baker started out to bring them in. One of the men answered partially the description of the murderer, except that he had no mustache. When they reached Oregon City, the man was in jail and the men were at once released.

STAYS ALL NIGHT IN WOODS.

All this time Jancigaj was hiding in the woods on the edge of the bluff near Tenth street. He slept there, with guilt upon his soul, and when the fierce glare of the morning sun awakened him, the murderer stole along the bluff, concealed by the timber and climbing down the side of the hill entered a wooded area in the rear of the home of a countryman, Peter Kurnik. He was there probably an hour, when Kurnik saw him. "What did you do last night?" he demanded. The murderer did not hesitate nor attempt to escape. "I do not know what I did," he replied, "but you go and report me to a policeman."

Kurnik went out quietly and the first man he saw was Charles Koman, the dead girl's sweetheart, whose fancy for Mary had turned Jancigaj's heart. Upon hearing of the murderer's whereabouts, Koman walked to the Courthouse and told Jailer Nehren and Constable Miles, went down to Fifth street and Railroad avenue, where Kurnik lives. The watchful crowd that lined the streets and with them, Jancigaj left his lair and climbed up the side of the bluff and was singing songs in his native tongue, while waiting for the officers to come and arrest him.

OFFERS NO RESISTANCE.

"Up with your hands," ordered Nehren, "and come down." Jancigaj slid down the steep bank and gave himself up. "Where is that gun?" asked the officer. "Mister, I have no gun," replied the man. "I threw it in the river." Five minutes later he was behind the bars.

Interesting tales lead up to the story of last night's tragedy. The Smrekar family came here two years ago from Michigan. Beside the father and mother, there were six sons, two of them now grown, and two daughters. The family is highly respected. For a time they kept the business until the owner of their home objected, and it was during that time that Jancigaj, an inmate of the house, met and fell in love with the daughter. While she never cared for him, she did accept his attentions to a degree, until her father, angered at the dissolute conduct of the man, who squandered his earnings in drink, requested the girl to have nothing more to do with the man, and she refused to do so. Five months ago Jancigaj left the Smrekar house and has since boarded with Matt Poloni, whose home is in the rear of the postoffice building.

ANOTHER IS FAVORED SUITOR.

Three months ago Charles Koman, who was attracted by the handsome face and friendliness of the girl, commenced to keep company with her. They were the best of friends, and last Fourth of July went together to Camas on an excursion. They had even discussed the possibility of an intimate marriage, but Mary was in no hurry and had made up her mind to go to Portland this week and obtain work as an assistant with a tailoring firm, as she was handy with the needle. All this was gall and wormwood to Jancigaj, who was cut to the quick because Mary would not speak to him when they met on the street.

On last Friday at midnight he tapped at the window of the Koman house, on Railroad avenue, near Eighth street, and asked for Charles. He was told to go away, and did so without making further trouble. Mrs. Koman herself was not at all satisfied with her son's attentions to the girl and rather favored Jancigaj. Late yesterday afternoon the rivals met in a downtown saloon and the murderer appeared to be quite friendly. He advised Koman to marry Mary, as she was a good girl, and, after a few drinks, he left the place and was not heard from until the hour of the tragedy.

CONFESSES GUILTY TO JURY.

The Koman family arrived here from near Chicago September 8, 1884, and Jancigaj came to Oregon City four days later. He was employed in the beater-room at Mill D, of the Willamette Enip & Paper Company and did not work yesterday. He talked freely in the County Jail this afternoon, admitting his crime and said he was sorry, but he also said that the girl was willing to die for love of him. This story, however, is couched, for it is well known that Mary manifested an aversion for her slayer.

Coroner Holman held an inquest over the body of the dead girl this afternoon, the jury returning a verdict in accordance with the facts. The jurymen were C. E. Nash, Henry Milroy, R. T. Barbur, Max Bollack, F. M. Naught and W. J. Wilson. Before rendering their verdict they went to the County Jail and talked with the prisoner, who confessed his guilt.

It cannot be learned at this time when the trial of Jancigaj will take place, but it is possible that it may become candidates for the following county offices of Klickitat County: Representative, Charles F. Karzer, W. L. Jones; Auditor, Delbert Gunning; Treasurer, Crocker; Sheriff, M. M. Warner; Daniel W. Pierce; County Commissioner, C. O. Barnes; J. P. Egan; County Clerk and Clerk of Superior Court, Irs. E. Hornbrook.

FLEET NEARS PORT

Honolulu Gets Into Touch With Connecticut.

WEATHER REPORTED FINE

Ships Steaming Westward in Squadron Formation—Hawaiians Anxious to Entertain Officers and Crew.

HONOLULU, July 12.—The Atlantic battleship fleet under the command of Rear-Admiral Sperry is nearing Honolulu and last night wireless communication was established with the Connecticut, though there was considerable interference from other ships and the signals were not entirely clear. It is expected that the fleet will come within easy communication tonight and from then until the ships drop anchor in this harbor on July 15 an interchange of wireless messages will be continuous. At 8 o'clock last night the battleship Nebraska, which was detained in quarantine at San Francisco owing to an outbreak of scarlet fever among the crew and which left two days after the other 15 ships, is fast closing up the gap that separated them and will arrive here close on the heels of the main fleet. Last night the wireless station here plainly heard wireless messages transmitted by Admiral Sperry to the Nebraska, to be relayed by the latter to San Francisco.

SHOT IN DRUNKEN BRAWL

FRANK GIBSON WOUNDED IN ARM BY PAT MURRY.

Second Tragedy Within Few Hours at Oregon City—Assaultant Refuses to Talk.

OREGON CITY, Or., July 12.—(Special.)—An epidemic of crime seems to have broken out in Oregon City for in a drunken brawl this morning Frank Gibson was shot by Pat Murry, who was captured and lodged in the city jail. Gibson's right forearm was filled with bird shot from a 12-bore shotgun. Murry lives up the Abernathy creek on the Swope place, about two miles from Oregon City, where he leads a bachelor life. This morning he was at his home with Gibson between 9 and 10 o'clock and after a mutual exchange of curses, Murry tried to put Gibson out of the house, but the latter declined to go, and in a drunken rage Murry took his shotgun and fired the charge directly at the intruder, and the fact that his nerves were unstrung from intoxicants probably saved Gibson's life, as none of the shot entered his body.

WOODBURN, Or., July 12.—(To the Editor.)—That Governor Chamberlain is using his pardoning power entirely too freely is shown in his pardoning E. L. Remington, of this city. Remington was convicted of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill. Taking his rifle Remington went to the farm of William Slaughter, a few miles out of town, concealed himself near where Slaughter was plowing and deliberately fired two shots, crippling Slaughter for life, also causing the loss of one eye. Remington was arrested soon after the shooting occurred and every effort was made to clear him. He was finally convicted and sentenced to two years in the Penitentiary, and has served but nine months. Those acquainted with the circumstances considered the sentence too light, and Remington's pardon, coming at this time only adds another blot to the record of Governor Chamberlain. Remington is also accused of alienating the affections of Slaughter's wife. Slaughter is thought to be in California. E. H. G.

CROPS LIGHT NEAR BAKER

Unusually Dry Season Affects Yield Unfavorably.

BAKER CITY, Or., July 12.—(Special.)—This is one dry year when farmers in Powder Valley, adjacent to Baker City, have reason to believe that crops will be light. Small grain cannot make its usual yield, due to lack of moisture. The sub-irrigation which in the past has caused bountiful harvests has been short this year, and only where water is run through ditches over the land do crops look anything like as good as usual. The season has been extremely backward, cool weather having prevailed until the past few days. The fruit is not so good this year as it was last. In Eagle and Pine Valleys, which are considerably lower than Powder Valley, good crops are reported, and the yield of everything excellent.

GOLDENDALE PREACHER ENTERS POLITICS.

Rev. W. J. Jones, July 12.—(Special.)—Rev. W. J. Jones, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here, has entered the political arena. In an announcement he declares his candidacy for the office of Representative to the State Legislature for Klickitat County. In his announcement he says: "Realizing that, if elected, I shall be called upon to vote for the United States Senator, I pledge myself, if elected, to vote for the Republican candidate for that office who receives the greatest number of votes in the primary election."

REGULATOR LINE

Plant of Holmes Pine Lumber Company at Lyle Total Loss.

LYLE, Wash., July 12.—(Special.)—Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the lumber mill of the Holmes Pine Lumber Company at this place at an early hour this morning. The flames were discovered at 2 o'clock in the morning and quickly enveloped the plant. The loss is estimated at $60,000, the plant being valued at $15,000, and the lumber at $25,000. Rosenthal's windows are money-savers.

TO SUPPORT BRYAN
Congressman Goulden Says New York Will Line Up.

MEMBER OF TAMMANY

Regards Nebraskan's Chances Excellent to Carry That State.

Speaks Good Words for Oregon's Members of Congress.

Congressman J. A. Goulden, of the Eighteenth New York (City) Congressional District, the most populous district represented in the National Congress, spent Sunday in Portland. Congressman Goulden's district embraces a population of 600,000 with over 7000 registered voters. He is returning home from Denver, where he attended the Democratic National convention as a delegate and extended his trip to the Pacific Coast for the purpose of meeting Congressman W. C. Hawley, of this state, at the Willamette Valley Chautauqua and attending the lecture of his Congressional colleague, John Sharp Williams. Having been delayed by a train wreck, Congressman Goulden did not reach Portland until yesterday and was prevented from keeping the appointment. He leaves today for Seattle, where he will spend a day before departing for the East.

ENTHUSIASM FOR BRYAN.

"No, we did not get what we wanted," replied Congressman Goulden, with a laugh, at the Perkins yesterday afternoon when he was asked how Tammany regarded the nomination of Bryan. "Our man was Judge Gray, but we did not win and have pledged our loyal support to Bryan and Kern. We have always considered Bryan a brilliant man, but we did not think he was the proper candidate for the Presidential nomination."

BUILDING BOOM AT MOUNT ANGEL.

MOUNT ANGEL, Or., July 12.—(Special.)—There is considerable building at Mount Angel this summer. The machinery is being installed in the new creamery here. F. X. Ruidl is sparing no expense in making this an up-to-date creamery, and will be collecting cream in about two weeks. A large addition is being built to the Mount Angel Hotel, and Lawrence Stupel is tearing down the greater part of his livery barn and expects to build a new addition 85 by 100 feet. There are also several new residences under construction. The Catholics are considering the building of a large, new church. Their church has been much too small for some time.
