

WILL JOIN ISSUE ON INJUNCTION

Taft to Analyze Platforms in His Speech of Acceptance.

DEFEND HIS OWN RECORD

Will Speak Briefly at Cincinnati, but Discuss Issues Thoroughly in Letter of Acceptance—Compares Two Platforms.

HOT SPRINGS, Va., July 13.—Beginning the work of writing his speech of acceptance of the Presidential nomination, Mr. Taft today made a careful study and comparison of the Democratic and Republican platforms adopted by the recent conventions. Injunction planks will receive the most attention, so much more having been said on this subject, criticism from Democratic sources having been made on his record while on the bench, and the two parties having adopted planks on that subject which are liable to play an important part in the campaign. Mr. Taft will declare his position on this important question in forceful and unmistakable terms. Senator Warner's notification speech will be so brief that it will require over 10 minutes in its delivery. The speech of acceptance also will be short. The letter of acceptance will treat public questions at greater length and will not be forthcoming for several weeks after the ceremony of notifying the candidate has taken place. Mr. Taft went on the golf links today as usual and played 18 holes. He purposes to play golf every day while at Hot Springs, and it is not likely that anything he will have to do will interfere with the game. "I play golf instead of taking medicine," he said.

BOURNE GIVES TAFT ADVICE

Begs Him Not to Name His Own Successor.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—The Washington Post prints the following: Senator Bourne yesterday crept out of the retirement he had been nursing the wounds made by the Taft steam roller in the Chicago convention. The original Roosevelt-reelection elective campaign signified his reappearance by issuing a statement in which he called upon Taft to promise upon the sacred honor of a man that he would not attempt to name his successor when he ceased to be President Taft, provided he was elected in November. Bourne declines to admit that Roosevelt is not yet the choice of the people of the country. He maintains that the demonstration on mention of the President's name in the convention proved it to his satisfaction. He slaps his idol, however, by declaring "the means used to nominate Taft may be potential enough to determine the result of the election."

Denouncing what he terms the reactionary league to the White House, Bourne says: "Taft should declare when his party or electorate relieves him of service that he will in no manner attempt to select his successor other than to give loyal support to his party's selection. In the end it is all right. Senator Bourne may be chastened, but he will stick by the Republican nominee. Cries of great joy were heard from the direction of Hot Springs last night, and the glow of red fire being burned in celebration lighted the heavens."

NO NEED TO DECLARE HIMSELF

Star Criticizes Bourne's Suggestion of Taft's Re-election.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, July 13.—The Washington Star construes Senator Bourne's latest intimation to mean that W. H. Taft, if he would improve his chances for a first term, must declare his willingness to accept as many terms as the people may wish to bestow upon him. Commenting upon the interview, the Star says: "If Taft is elected, he is certain of re-nomination, and should have a fine chance of re-election. That will comply with not violate precedent. The matter will work itself out. It will be a declaration now or later by the Chicago nominee."

HITCHCOCK HATES APATHY

Han nomination, Hitchcock, as Taft's manager, did not let up when he found that his candidates had enough votes to win; he kept fighting until the total was far beyond the necessary majority; fighting until the status of every delegate had been determined, and then he remained on guard to see that nothing went wrong with the programme he had mapped out. So it will be in the Fall campaign. Manager Hitchcock will be on the job right up to the time the votes are cast, and then, as at Chicago, he will be on guard to see that the programme is carried through.

Why He Was Chosen.

One of the participants in the Hot Springs conference, speaking of that meeting, said: "Hitchcock was chosen to manage the campaign committee because, in the opinion of the conference, he was far and away the best equipped man to undertake the job, and because he was the personal choice of Mr. Taft. The Republican nominee, however, chose Hitchcock for the same reasons that actuated other participants in the conference; he had unbounded confidence in Hitchcock's judgment and ability, and felt that the campaign would be safe in his hands."

Has Had Much Experience.

"Mr. Hitchcock has had more experience in the management of a National campaign than any other man who was looked upon as a possible National chairman. As assistant to Chairman Cortelyou four years ago, he was cognizant of all that transpired, and on all occasions he was consulted by the man who managed the campaign for Roosevelt. In that way he learned how a campaign is conducted, and he moraover, gained acquaintance among the leading Republicans of the entire country. During the past three years, as First Assistant Postmaster-General, he has been brought in closer touch with the party leaders, and his counsels with party leaders in the South and West have made him more familiar with conditions in those sections than any of his competitors for the National chairmanship.

Young, but Very Wise.

"It is true," continued this prominent Republican, "that Mr. Hitchcock is a comparatively young man, but in this day and age youth is no handicap. Frank Hitchcock has a level head, and a cool one, an active brain and an analytical one. He is peculiarly equipped to manage a campaign, for he has the ability to size up a situation, determine just what is needed, and then get results. "And when Frank Hitchcock, well along in the campaign, makes his predictions, you can accept them as being nearly correct. His forecasts prior to the Chicago convention were accurate to a marked degree, because he knew whereof he spoke, and he did not allow himself to drift into idle boasting. Hitchcock is the right man in the right place, and I venture to predict he will make good."

Believes in Publicity.

George R. Sheldon owes his selection as treasurer of the Republican National committee to the fact that he believes in publishing a statement of campaign contributions and their expenditures, and the further fact that as treasurer for Hughes in New York, he carried out the publicity idea in a most satisfactory manner. Bryan is opposed to the publicity plan of the Democratic platform declares in favor of publicity. The Democrats had intended to make capital out of the failure of the publicity plan at Chicago, but Taft is a great believer in publicity, and his counsels agreed with him at the Hot Springs conference, and therefore, a publicity man was chosen for treasurer and it was announced that a statement of the Republican campaign fund would be made public in all its details, notwithstanding the action of the convention.

Shows Taft's Generosity.

This move, by the way, is an indication of the political astuteness of Mr. Taft. The Republican nominee, according to his friends, will show to the country, before the campaign is over, that he knows not a few tricks of the game of politics, and will demonstrate that he is quite competent of meeting Bryan on the big field of battle. He robbed Bryan of an important campaign issue when Sheldon was named and publicity was assured. He will have further opportunities of checkmating his rival as the fight progresses.

Vorys Had No Chance.

As a matter of absolute fact, Arthur I. Vorys was never very near the Republican National chairmanship. He thought he was, and a great many Ohio and Indiana Republicans thought he would be honored, but out never high in the estimation of the party. The things stood between Vorys and the National chairmanship. First, he was absolutely without training in the field of National politics, and secondly, as Taft manager in the campaign leading up to the nomination, Vorys made several bad breaks, one of them very serious—breaks which no man fitted for National chairmanship could ever make. In other words, Vorys was not big enough to conduct the National campaign. In loyalty to Taft he was not up to the mark, and in his desire to see him nominated he was as enthusiastic as any man, but it requires more than loyalty and enthusiasm to run a campaign.

Bryan Was Handicapped.

The Republican conference knew they could not afford to repeat the blunder made by Judge Parker four years ago when he selected Tom Taggart for National chairman, and had to retire him before the campaign was half over. The selection of Taggart was a heavy drag to Parker throughout his campaign, Bryan, also, was heavily handicapped in his two past campaigns by his manager, James K. Jones, now dead. Jones was a bluff and a joke; he was no manager. Hitchcock, on the other hand, is neither a bluff nor a joke, but measures up to the requirements of the office for which he has been chosen.

Indicted for Conspiracy

PROMOTERS OF PHILADELPHIA COMPANY IN TOILS.

Homer L. Castle, who Once Ran for Governor on Prohibitionist Ticket, Head of Concern.

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—True bills of indictment, charging conspiracy in making, printing and circulating false financial statements of the Standard Title & Trust Company, of this city, were returned by the grand jury today against Homer L. Castle, of Pittsburg, a former Prohibition candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania and his associates in the promotion of a trust company, which never opened for business. Those indicted with Castle are Charles Hunter, Philadelphia, D. C. Claxton, Philadelphia, N. J., Arthur F. Williams, Chicago, and H. F. Aspinwall, Freeport, Ill.

The grand jury also returned indictments against Henry Cohen, of New York, and Colonel S. Ford and Colonel H. M. Ralston, of Chicago, on charges of conspiracy, which are alleged misrepresentation of the trust company's financial condition.

Alla Ready for Hanging.

CANYON CITY, Colo., July 13.—Gluseppe Alla, who is to be hanged in the State Penitentiary here some time this week for the murder of Father Leo Heinrichs, whom he shot in St. Elizabeth's Church, in Denver, February 23 last, is reported by the prison authorities today to be in good physical condition. No other information concerning the condemned man has been given out, and if the day on which the execution will take place has been set, the fact is not known outside the prison.

Can Inspect Bank Books.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—The State Supreme Court today made an order directing Receiver La Breaux of the wrecked California Safe Deposit & Trust Company to permit all parties interested to inspect the books of that institution now in his charge. The order was made as the result of mandamus proceedings brought by Attorney Charles J. Boynton to compel Superior Judge Coffey to allow him to see all accounts in the bank.

Rain in Klamath Basin.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., July 13.—(Special.)—Refreshing showers the past two days have fallen throughout the Klamath basin, terminating several weeks of dry weather. Upland crops have been greatly benefited, and good yields of grain are now assured.

WANT SCARLON FOR PRESIDENT

Enemies Anti-Saloon League Busy in Prohibition Ranks.

ATTACK WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Chairman of Ohio Convention Says Women Are Becoming Greater Drinkers and Equal Suffrage Aids Liquor Men.

COLUMBUS, O., July 13.—With but few of the delegates to the National Prohibition convention, which will be held here Wednesday and Thursday, on the ground, a vigorous movement in behalf of Professor Charles Scanlon, of Pittsburg, for the Presidential nomination is the latest development. Professor Scanlon is the field representative of the Temperance Society of the Presbyterian Church. He led the fight against the endorsement of the Anti-Saloon League at the meeting of the Presbyterian General Assembly here a year ago.

Other candidates for President whose names are receiving consideration are P. F. Wheeler, Los Angeles; D. R. Sheen, Peoria, Ill.; Alfred Manner, of New York; and Joseph P. Tracey, of Detroit. Others in the race are George R. Stewart, of Tennessee; Rev. A. B. Leonard, secretary of the Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church; Rev. J. D. Cranford, of Dallas, Tex., and P. W. Dalmora, of St. Louis.

Watkins for Second Place.

Up to the present time one candidate for Vice-President has appeared. Professor A. S. Watkins, of Ohio, is a candidate for this place. It is expected he will be named for Governor by the state convention tomorrow and, if so, it will be with the understanding that he will withdraw from the state ticket in the event that he secures second place on the National ticket. The reason there are no other entries for the Vice-Presidential contest is that it has been a custom to select the candidate for this place from among the defeated candidates for President.

Vicious Attack on Women.

A fight against a platform of numerous issues and in favor of one confined to the single issue of prohibition was started at the opening session by Temporary Chairman H. L. Peake, of Sandusky, and will be carried to the National prohibition convention, which opens Wednesday.

Wright Must Speak Out.

According to high officials of the party, Seaborn Wright, of Georgia, must soon state his position or he will have no chance of the nomination for President. Mr. Wright has an enthusiastic following, but he has not yet said whether he would accept the nomination.

Money Coming From South.

The National committee has in its war chest $200,000, which has come 20 per cent in very fast, especially from the South. The largest vote polled by the Prohibitionists was in 1902, when their candidate secured a total vote of 200,000. Chairman Jones estimated today that the vote will pass this high-water mark this year because of the marked increase in prohibition territory, especially in the South. He estimates that the number of people embraced in Prohibition territory has grown since the last National election from 20,000,000 to 30,000,000.

PANIC IN A COURTROOM

Bay City's Temporary Palace of Justice Threatens to Collapse.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—Over 300 persons in Police Judge Shortall's courtroom on the second floor of the temporary Hall of Justice, were thrown into a panic today when the floor suddenly sagged and began to sway as though the building was about to collapse. The judge hastily adjourned court and made a rush for one of the windows through which he was about to leap when he decided to join the crowd rushing through the corridors toward the exit. No one was hurt, but for a time wild confusion prevailed.

MAY BE FATALLY CRUSHED

J. A. Stedeman Caught Between Steamer and Dolphin at Astoria.

ASTORIA, Or., July 13.—(Special.)—John A. Stedeman, a passenger on the steamer Rose City, was seriously, if not fatally crushed by being caught between the vessel's hull and a dolphin this afternoon as the steamer was leaving her wharf en route to Portland. Stedeman and a companion came running down to the dock as the Rose City was backing away. The latter climbed on to the dock, and jumped to the steamer's deck as her stern swung in, but Stedeman grabbed the cork fender, hanging over the side, and a moment later was caught between the hull and the dolphin. His body was badly crushed. He was hauled on board as quickly as possible and a launch summoned to take him ashore.

Although so seriously squeezed that he was black in the face, and his eyes bulged from their sockets, Stedeman didn't lose consciousness and talked freely of his injuries, saying that his greatest pains were in his back and chest. He asked that no word be sent to his mother, who resides in Mayfield, Cal., but requested that Frank Bosworth, of Portland, be notified of the accident. Dr. Fulton, who is attending the injured man, says that while he is a fugitive in position, his injuries are not necessarily fatal. His collar bone and three or four ribs are broken and it is feared his pelvic bones also are injured. Whether he is injured internally cannot yet be determined.

CAUGHT AT SAN FRANCISCO

H. E. Howitz and M. A. O'Mera Are Wanted for Swindling Tailors.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—(Special.)—H. E. Howitz and M. A. O'Mera were arrested here on arrival of the steamer State of California from Portland today, on a charge of grand larceny, alleged to have been committed in Portland.

Howitz and O'Mera are wanted in this city on the charge of having swindled prominent citizens, John R. Coffey, of 253 Washington street, and Joseph Polivka & Co., of the Corbett building, of a number of suits of clothing. Prior to their arrest the swindlers turned the two workers had associated somewhat with well known people on "railroad row," claiming former acquaintanceship. Being seen in company and on friendly terms with well known Portland people, they were well received when they offered to patronize the two tailoring establishments. The swindling was finished by the men appearing for their suits "on loan." Because they said that they would prefer to have their families see the suits being made in company and on friendly terms with well known Portland people, they were well received when they offered to patronize the two tailoring establishments. At Pine Ridge cloudburst and much damage is reported. CONDON, Or., July 13.—(Special.)—Copious showers fell throughout Gilliam County this afternoon. The rain was preceded by an electrical storm. Farmers are rejoicing, for even at this late time the crops are in need of moisture. The last 24 days have been warm, and as usual at this time of the year and weather prophets were looking for the showers, which descended this afternoon for one hour. In some sections of the county the rains continued until evening.

SHOOTS HUSBAND'S SLAYER

land Miles, she said that Dr. Simpson had several times called at the house and that his visits were unwelcome. When he came today, she says, she ordered him away and when he refused to go, she took up a revolver and shot at him. Constable Hanson, who arrested Simpson in 1905, when the dentist shot Mrs. Horner's husband, arrested Mrs. Horner this evening. She was charged with felonious assault. After Justice Hawkins had fixed bail at $5000, Mr. Simpson, the prisoner's daughter, qualified as bondsman, and secured the release of her mother. Justice Hawkins set the hearing for next Wednesday.

Had Killed Father-in-Law.

This second tragedy at the Horner homestead is only another chapter in a series of unhappy domestic events of the last few years. The shooting of Bartley T. Horner by Dr. Simpson aroused the countryside in December, 1905, and when the dentist was put on trial, it was charged that he had shot against him. Mrs. Horner also gave damaging testimony against her son-in-law. Dr. Simpson was going through his divorce proceedings at the time he was shot in-law. After the verdict of acquittal Dr. Simpson resumed his practice of dentistry.

Oxygen Cures Peritonitis.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Remarkable results attained in treatment of peritonitis with pure oxygen at Beth Israel Hospital have raised hopes that a way has been found at last to combat this disease, which places the stamp of death upon 95 per cent of its victims. Mrs. Anna Abias, a sufferer from peritonitis, whose case upon her admission was at first hopeless, is now, however, recovered under the oxygen treatment. Mrs. Abias evinced such remarkable improvement that the attending physicians were surprised. There are now at the hospital four other patients who were in a similar condition. All have shown improvement, and it is expected that when they, too, have been in the hospital for two weeks and a half they will be able to go home well.

Parrots Starved to Death.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 13.—Hundreds of dead and dying parrots and parakeets were discovered at the Arcade depot yesterday by officials of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, whose attention was called to the condition of the large shipment to the California Parrot Company, of Fresno. According to the statement of officers who investigated the case, the cages contained nearly 10,000 birds, and it was claimed they had been without food and water since their departure from Guaymas. For some reason not explained the cages had been marked with the admonition not to feed or water the birds, but the warning was disregarded by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals officials, who saved the lives of many of them. Notice was served on the express company ordering that shipments under similar conditions be hereafter refused.

Fortune Left by Prince David.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—Advices from Honolulu, received by the transport Sheridan, say that the will of the late Prince David Kawananakoa has been filed for probate. The petition for probate estimates the estate at $100,000. The Featherly Le Kahuna, associations and orders of distinction and other insignia of rank are bequeathed to his son David Kalakaua. The remainder of the estate is bequeathed in trust, or his wife during her life and after her death to their children. It is the intention of Governor Frear to open up shortly for settlement the beautiful areas of public lands suitable for growing pineapples. These lands are open to any citizen of the United States.

LAUGH AT THE LAW

Paper Combines Keep Thousands Out of Employment.

PROSECUTION WAS FARCE

President Ridder, of American Publishers' Association, Harshly Condemns Court for Granting Immunity.

NEW YORK, July 13.—"Not only are the paper makers keeping their own employees in idleness, but they are enforcing idleness upon thousands of workers in printing and publishing plants throughout the country." This is the conclusion Herman Ridder, president of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, expressed in a letter addressed to the President about paper combinations. The letter states that the promise that the courts would provide an adequate and prompt remedy, after an appeal to Congress for relief had failed; that after 24 paper companies acting together in the "libel" suit, the association had been subjected to investigation by the Federal grand jury, the paper makers admitted that they had placed their records beyond their reach; but subsequently, all but two of the participants pleaded guilty, and that immunity was practically granted to every individual who participated in the pool.
