of the Americans in the finals of this event, which will be run tomorrow. Through their defeat by Shepard and Sullivan, Halstead and Lightbody failed to qualify. S. L. Cox of the University of Michigan, made a strong bid for victory in the fourth heat, but he was unable to keep up with E. Loney, of England, although the time was not particularly brilliant. Cox finished second.

Gathering of Royalty.

Shortly after 3 o'clock in the afternoon the royal box, which had been fitted up for the accommodation of 40 persons, began to fill. The early arrivals including the crown prince and princess of Sweden and their children, the crown prince and princess of Greece, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and the Duke and Duchess of Argyll. A short time afterwards the playing of the national anthem by a band of the Grenadier Guards announced the arrival of King Edward, Queen Alexandra and Princess Victoria with their suites, who had been driven in state from Buckingham Palace, London. Dea-borough, chairman of the council of the British Olympic Association, welcomed their Majesties at the entrance to the stadium and presented the members of the Olympic Council.

contingent. The procession came into the stadium, each country receiving applause, America and the colonies being greeted warmly by the audience. Before the arrival of King Edward, the athletes paraded around the grounds. The representatives of the United Kingdom looked formidable with their 513 men. The nearest approach to this number was France, with 219. Sweden came next with 169, and then Hungary with 154 men. The Americans have the next largest army with 148, but Trainer Murphy refused to allow all the men to come up for the ceremony, insisting that they remain at their quarters at Brighton until called upon for more serious work. In all 23 countries were represented and among that gathering Turkey was represented with one competitor.

Americans Tower Above All.

At the completion of this ceremony cheering broke out from all parts of the stadium. After the demonstration had died down the athletes gave three cheers for their Majesty and then marched past the royal box. The men made a splendid appearance, though unfortunately the weather prevented the athletes from coming out in athletic costume. The Americans were among those who wore street clothing, but even those attired in the size of the athletes evoked the favorable comment, Ralph Rose, of the Olympic Club, San Francisco, and Lee G. Talbot, of the Irish-American Athletic Club, New York, and the other giants of the team towering over a majority of those whom they are to meet. Only 50 members of the American team were in the parade, and this contingent appeared in time to assist in the representation of the United Kingdom, and some of the continental countries, but nevertheless their reception was enthusiastic. The American section of the stand, and when the team passed cheered them and waved the Stars and Stripes.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 13.—(Special.)—"Cricket" Kelly signalled his return to the saddle today after a reinstatement, following suspension for rough riding in the last heat of the two weeks ago, by taking Belle of Iroquois to the front in the fourth event and making every post a winning one. It was really a battle between the only Seattle owners at the track, Matt Reis and Scotty Ferguson, but the latter's mare, although an odds-on favorite, never could get up the flying leader, which won, ridden out in the track record time of 1:25 3-4 for the seven furlongs.

HARD NUT TO CRACK

Los Angeles Team Comes for Six-Game Series.

GRANEY WILL MAKE DEBUT

McCredie's, New Southpaw to Open Against Angel Band This Afternoon—Most of Crippled Beavers Have Recovered.

Captain Frank Dillon and Hen Berry's hunting bunch of balltossers, fresh from a victorious two weeks' set-to with the cellar champs, will arrive in Portland this morning and at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon a six-game series between the two leading clubs, Portland and Los Angeles, will be inaugurated on the Vaughn-street lot.

Pitcher Jack Graney, the new southpaw twirler secured from the Cleveland American League team, will make his debut as a Portland alabaster, and, unless Frank Dillon is still incapacitated by his Sunday morning accident, George Wheeler will probably be delegated to slab it for the Angels. Wheeler, in spite of his "Adonis" name, age 28, and 8 years old, seems to have gained a new lease of life since joining Los Angeles, and is pitching as good ball as Hans Hoop or "Adonis" Nagle, the kids of the Southern street lot.

At any rate, the contests this week should prove decidedly interesting, for Portland is anxious to regain the lead and the Angels are desirous of evening up the score for the walloping given them at Los Angeles some weeks ago. Hen Berry's bunch simply waded through the Athenians like ducks through a puddle of mud, and when they wound up the two weeks' series Oakland had frayed the win column on only three occasions out of 14, and two of these victories were scored at the commencement of the series. Los Angeles has therefore won 11 out of the last 12 games, and can therefore be figured as a hard team to stop.

However, Manager McCredie and his cohorts are confident of at least making the Angels hesitate, and it is barely possible that, with a sufficient quota of good luck breaking our way, the home team can get away with a majority of the series. Bobby Groom will not be able to pitch until the latter end of the week, but Hal Danzig will be back in the game, possibly this afternoon, and this will give McCredie the services of Maraball as a twirler, and also Johnson, in case McCredie decides to use the heavy batsman as a slab artist instead of a regular fielder. Manager Garrett has rounded to shape nicely and he will be able to go against the Angels for the first time since their last trip to Portland, for during the Los Angeles series the little fellow was ill and unable to pitch.

THE Seals got away with the series, but when one remembers that Portland contributed 24 errors in the six games, it is a wonder that the home team secured even one game.

Los Angeles is coming North with a fairly good lead and it is up to the Portland team to repeat its past performances against this club and the McCredie horde can displace the Dillonites from the lead.

Dillon's crew certainly had the voodoo sign on the Greeks for Los Angeles hooked 11 out of the 14 games played during the past two weeks. Oakland seems shy of reliable pitchers, for in each of the games the Angels batted like fiends.

A woman's baseball team is coming to Portland; the manager is already on the ground. Some of the players must have eloped for the team is advertising for additions to the ranks. There are some cool girls in this town who will probably answer the ad and secure a trout.

Ote Johnson distinguished himself Sunday in several different ways. In the first place he pulled off two nifty fielding plays, one of which was a one-handed catch of Zeider's hot drive, then he butted into the error column and gave the Seals a chance on the bases. His two-ply wad, scoring Kinsella, however, evened matters up.

After he was banished in the fifth, Kid Mohler became as meek as a lamb and sat throughout the rest of the game without uttering a word. The only regrettable part of the episode is that Mohler was not chased offener during the week. The umpire certainly had provocation enough to send him to the cooler on several occasions.

The new pitcher, Graney, will be on the firing line against Los Angeles this week, and unless Bobby Groom is confined to his bed by the epidemic period, Graney may again mount the mound on Sunday. He would have been sent against the Seals Sunday but Manager McCredie desired to save him for the Angels, who are shy at left-handers.

Scout O'Brien was present at Sunday's game, and strange to relate, both games he has witnessed were not edifying exhibitions. It may be that the players were on the nervous seat at the thought of their being drafted into fast company at the beck of the Cleveland agent.

Ralph Willis, who has been ill since Friday with a severe cold on the lungs, which threatened pneumonia, left for home last night with the San Francisco team. Willis will be incapacitated for several days, but hopes to get in the game against Oakland before the week-end.

HITCH ON FARE TO BIG FIGHT

Rickard Strikes Snag in Getting Reduction From Utah.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 13.—(Special.)—Tex Rickard, the Nevada fight promoter, said today that the Nelson and Gans fight at Ely on Labor day now hangs on the decision of one of the promoters, who has agreed to make a one-way rate for the round trip on all its lines west of Ogden and the Western Pacific also has made favorable rates. But one line wants $8 for the round trip from Ogden and Salt Lake, which Rickard says is a considerable $5 rate for this trip and $5 admission. He is sure he could get from 2000 to 3000 sports from Ogden and Salt Lake, assuming the financial success of the fight. These sports, however, would not pay $8 fare and $5 for a ticket.

MURDERED GIRL IS HAZEL DREW.

TROY, N. Y., July 13.—The body of the young woman found Saturday floating in Teal's Pond, was identified as that of Miss Hazel L. Drew, daughter of John Drew, of this city. Identification was made through a brooch which was found on the bank and a hatpin found in a black straw on the shore 30 feet from the spot where the body was found. It was at first thought that the girl might have committed suicide, but this theory was dispelled by the autopsy, which showed that her skull had been fractured by a heavy blow on the back of the head. It is supposed that the murder occurred at some other place possibly in this city, and that the body was taken to the pond, which is a secluded spot, and thrown into the water. Miss Drew was 19 years of age and attractive in appearance.

MRS. LEAFGREEN LOSES

Again Decided She Was Not Laclede Howard's Wife.

ST. LOUIS, July 13.—Judge Kinsey, in the Circuit Court, today gave a decision that Mrs. Mary Leafgreen was not entitled to a dower interest and widow's allowance in the estate of Laclede J. Howard, the late firebrick magnate. Judge Kinsey stated orally that the weight of the evidence tended to show that Laclede J. Howard was not the man to whom Mrs. Leafgreen was married in Decatur, Ill., in 1888, and that he had been added making his decision by comparison of the handwriting in letters. The defense introduced letters as evidence tending to show that Thomas Jefferson Miller, Mayor of Tumwater, Wash., was the man who married Mrs. Leafgreen under the name of Howard.

THROW UMPIRE INTO LAKE

WIFE DUCKED, TOO, AS SHE PLEADS FOR HUSBAND.

Spectators at Ball Game at American Lake Take Revenge for Official's Decisions.

TACOMA, Wash., July 13.—(Special.)—S. G. Thompson, proprietor of the City Laundry, acted as umpire in a ball game yesterday at American Lake, between the laundrymen and the campers, and as a consequence, in the last half of the ninth inning, on account of what the campers termed his "rotten" decisions, he was carried from the field and thrown bodily into the lake.

The unfortunate umpire's wife followed the enraged campers and remonstrated in her husband's behalf. Her entreaties evidently fell on deaf ears, for they seized the pleading woman into the lake with her husband.

Fortunately the water was only about four feet deep, and by a good deal of scrambling, they managed to wade out. Thompson took the ducking good-naturedly.
