RACE WHITNEY IS DEAD

TALENTED YOUNG PLAYRIGHT ONCE LIVED HERE.

Well Known and Popular in Pacific Coast Newspaper and Theatrical Circles.

SALT LAKE, Utah, July 14.—Race Whitney, aged 28 years, died this morning at the Latter Day Saints' Hospital, of neuritis. He was a son of Apostle Orson F. Whitney, poet of the Mormon Church, and was a nephew of Senator Reed Smoot. Identified with Salt Lake papers for four years, he went to Portland about four years ago. Later he went to San Francisco, where he collaborated with Waldemar Young on an opera, "The King Maker," now being presented at the Princess Theatre in San Francisco. He was taken sick in Los Angeles, and his father brought him home six weeks ago, since which time he gradually sank. He was one of the most widely known and popular members of the journalistic set here. He was twice married to Rosemary Ginz, who is now taking the title role in "The Merry Widow" in New York.

WHITNEY REMARKABLE MAN

Arthur A. Greene Pays Tribute to Talented Young Writer.

BY ARTHUR A. GREENE
When they told me yesterday morning that Race Whitney was dead, something black and rebellious and hateful welled up in me and I thought: "This God we praise is a monster of ingenious cruelty. Something to be cursed with clenched fists and distorted features rather than exalted with extended arms and faith-transfigured faces." And then again I thought a sinner, better thought; that it was well, as after all, in the last analysis, all things which God does are well. I could hardly have loved a charistated brother more than I did this brilliant, sunny-souled boy who is dead just as his life should have begun to blossom. He possessed the qualities which drew both men and women to him instinctively and babies always went to him without urging. Race was "a good fellow" with every-

ETTA McLEAN IS MARRIED

ADDS ANOTHER CHAPTER TO KALEIDOSCOPE CAREER.

Young Woman Last in Public Eye as Spy of Standard Oil Company.

AMESBURY, Mass., July 14.—Etta L. McLean, who five years ago was the heroine of the Stafford-Bishop shooting affray in Boston, and was also the central figure in the noted Government case against Alexander B. Gordee in Chicago, disappeared Sunday from the town, going to Portsmouth, N. H., where she was married to Walter Rollins, recently from New York. The news of her marriage created interest here, for rumor had connected her name in an engagement with another young man. It was on her account that Hartwell Stafford shot and nearly killed Skillman Bishop in Boston in 1903. Bishop recovered, but Stafford was sentenced to state's prison for three years. She married Stafford before he was taken away to serve his term. The divorce followed in 1906, with the right to resume her maiden name.

Later Miss McLean went to work for Gordee as a stenographer in Boston. Gordee and Miss McLean afterward went to Chicago, where she procured work in the office of United States District Attorney Sims. She became confidential stenographer. The Government was then prosecuting important cases against the Standard Oil Company and other large companies.

Important papers began to be missing. Miss McLean was arrested. She confessed and placed the blame on Gordee. He in turn blamed her. She was released, while he was held in $5000 bail. She then returned here.

HILTON RAISES BLISTERS ON WELLS AND PINKERTONS.

Lawyer of Accused Murderer Proclaims Class War—More Charges Are Impending.

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., July 14.—Without introducing any evidence to rebut Steve Adams' alibi, the state this morning rested its case in Adams' trial on the charge of murdering Arthur Collins, the mine superintendent, who was shot at Telluride on the night of November 19, 1902. Judge Sprigg Shackelford is now preparing the instructions to the jury.

The address of Mr. Hilton, chief counsel for Adams, was largely made up of scathing denunciation of General Bulkeley Wells, chief witness for the prosecution, and the Pinkerton Detective Agency. He declared that a "class war" was on, one side being represented by men occupying the same social position as General Wells, and the other consisting of those who labor with their hands. He predicted that a great general struggle would soon be on. Mr. Hilton made a fierce attack upon the Pinkerton agencies, so blistering, in fact, that Mr. Hogg, attorney for the prosecution, made a protest to the court. Mr. Hilton turned on him, shouting:

"All that is the matter with you is that I am getting too close to your hide."

Judge Shackelford warned the jury that it must not consider Mr. Hilton's statement concerning the Pinkerton agency as part of the Adams case.

Late tonight James McParland and six assistants arrived here, in company with Warden Whitney, of the Idaho State Penitentiary. It is reported that they are here to re-arrest Adams in case of his acquittal on the charge of murdering Arthur Collins. It is also reported that he will be charged with complicity in the blowing up of the Independence Depot, near Cripple Creek, Colo., when 14 men were killed. This affair occurred during the strike in the Cripple Creek district several years ago.

Arguments of course, would have been concluded tonight and the case given to the jury, but the members of

INCREASE BORDER POSTS

United States Promises to Prosecute All Neutrality Offenders.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Ambassador Creel, of Mexico, who, today, was in conference with Acting Secretary of State Bacon, regarding the alleged violation of the neutrality laws along the Mexican border, was given again the most positive assurance of the intentions of this government to prosecute all neutrality offenders. An increase of the Army posts on the border is possible, as Mexico already has indicated her intention of adding to the number she already has.

An effort also will be made for a more liberal application of the extradition laws so that persons claiming immunity on the ground that the charges against them are political, but who, it is found afterwards have been guilty of participation in raids, may be extradited.

The situation in Central America generally also was discussed. Mexico and this government are also in thorough accord on the subject.

Cleveland Remembered Niece.

KENDALL, Mont., July 14.—Miss Mary Hastings, a nurse in the county hospital at Kendall, is one of the beneficiaries of the late Grover Cleveland. Not a person in town knew Miss Hastings was related to the former President until the news was made known that she had been left $3000 from the estate. She is the daughter of Anna Hastings, sister of Mr. Cleveland.

Falls From Tree.

Paul Pelenson, a young man living near Rockwood, fell about 30 feet from a tree yesterday while removing a swing and was badly injured internally, besides having his left arm broken below the elbow. He was given medical attendance and will recover.
