

SERIOUS CHARGES AGAINST MURPHY

Women Testify Officer Grossly Insulted Them and 16-Year-Old Girl.

MAY FORFEIT HIS STAR

Patrolman Who Recently Arrested Church Choristers Said to Be Frequently Drunk on Beat at Montavilla.

Conduct of a most shocking nature was attributed by many witnesses before the police committee of the Executive Board, during a session lasting four hours Thursday night to Policeman Matt P. Murphy, who was arrested on the Montavilla beat on the first relief. That he has been most constantly intoxicated, that he grossly insulted the 16-year-old daughter of F. A. Willard, likewise forced his way into the home of Misses Winnifred Newth and her deaf and dumb sister and Carrie Delano and treated them outrageously; that he was found by boys while asleep or drunk in a hammock of the park, and that he unwarrantably arrested a party of men in an automobile for no cause whatever, were the charges against him.

After witnesses had sworn under oath in these serious charges, Murphy took the witness-stand and emphatically denied every allegation, saying that his own conduct had been proper while on the Montavilla beat. The case was not completed, and the defense will produce additional evidence later.

Long List of Charges. In the entire police history of Portland, so such startling testimony has been given against an officer as that adduced against Policeman Murphy last night. The remarkable conduct of the officer, who is 36, continued over a period of three months, and it seems strange that Murphy's superior officers have so long overlooked his actions. The charges are, in brief, continued over a period of three months, and it seems strange that Murphy's superior officers have so long overlooked his actions. The charges are, in brief, continued over a period of three months, and it seems strange that Murphy's superior officers have so long overlooked his actions.

Insults to Young Women. Misses Newth and Delano swore that Murphy entered their home, in which is also their millinery establishment, on July 3 and 7, and even went into the bedroom of the deaf and dumb Miss Newth, who was preparing to retire. He was drunk, they swore, and refused to leave until the young women threatened to call in some men. He came back July 7, it was sworn by Miss Winnifred Newth, walked in uninvited and entered a room where she was sitting on a sofa reading. She paid little heed, thinking he was her partner's brother. She swore that Murphy, who was in full uniform, thrust his hands inside her and attempted unwarranted familiarity. She swore that he had the effrontery, at a still later date, to intrude into her home on the pretext that he wished to wash his hands. He asked herself and Miss Delano to have some ice cream and when they refused, she threatened to run them out of business. They reported the matter to Roy Delano, Miss Delano's brother, who notified Mayor Lane.

Following this sensational conduct, Murphy, it was sworn by F. A. Willard, took charge of her 16-year-old daughter for speaking to the young women milliners. Without any further provocation, Mrs. Willard and her daughter swore, Murphy took the girl home and told her mother the daughter had been in the millinery store. Mrs. Willard, when Miss Willard denied it, the officer repeatedly in the most insulting language, called the child a liar. When Mrs. Willard said she would call her husband by telephone and investigate, Murphy said he was in a hurry, and he left quickly.

The officer was just as drunk as he was when he testified. "As soon as he opened the door he came in, smelled whiskey, and the man was more like a beast than a policeman in his right senses, his eyes bulged out and he was like a crazy person. Repeatedly he called my little daughter a liar, right in our own home."

Denies Every Charge Made. Through this grilling, Murphy sat behind his counsel, Isaac Sweet, and mopped his face and hands continually with a handkerchief. In his sober moments, the officer seemed to realize how serious were the charges against him. Behind him sat his chief, at right side his captain, and directly facing him were Commissioner Greene and Sabie, in whose hands lies his fate. He was also forced to suffer the piercing glances of his accusers throughout the dramatic scene, but when he took the stand in his own behalf, he rallied his faculties, and in a strong, clear tone of voice, and most emphatic manner, gave the lie to those who had so unmercifully sworn against him.

In addition to the charges by the young women, Murphy was accused of drunkenness and conduct unbecoming an officer by arresting four young men, members of the choir of St. David's Episcopal Church, on the night of July 10. He charged them with disorderly conduct, but Municipal Judge Wm. Zeate dismissed the charges. All the men swore Murphy was very drunk, and Captain of Police Stover, in charge of the station house, also testified. Policeman Sloan, James E. Redman and D. L. Vandervoort swore Murphy was not drunk that night.

Two weeks ago, it was testified by three young men, Murphy was very drunk and went to sleep in a hammock in the Montavilla Park.

ATTACKS GIRL WITH KNIFE Woman Arrested on Serious Charge After Neighborhood Quarrel. A quarrel between the families of Mrs. Minnie Natchar, 81 Minnesota avenue, and Mrs. Benedetta Vernovsky, 584 Minnesota avenue, which started because the children of Mrs. Vernovsky picked cherries from the backyard of the Natchar home, culminated Thursday night in the arrest of Mrs. Vernovsky on the serious charge of assaulting Mrs. Natchar's 11-year-old daughter with a dangerous weapon. In default of bail, Mrs. Vernovsky was locked up in the City Jail. Her victim is confined to her home with a knife wound in her scalp and with contusions on her head and body. According to the charges Mrs. Vernovsky is alleged to have attacked the girl on Tuesday because she had reprimanded Mrs. Vernovsky's children for taking the cherries. Mrs. Vernovsky is said to have run out of her home with a knife in one hand and a club in the other and to have cut an ugly wound in the side of the girl's head and to have beat her with the club, only desisting when Mrs. Natchar ran to her daughter's assistance. The matter perhaps would have been dropped if Mrs. Vernovsky had not applied Wednesday for a warrant for Mrs. Natchar's arrest. Although her daughter had been seriously hurt it had been the intention of Mrs. Natchar to refrain from pressing the matter into the courts, but following the charge of assault and battery filed by Mrs. Vernovsky the Natchars retaliated with the more serious charges. The Natchars are in the saloon business on First street and own considerable property on the East Side. Mrs. Vernovsky is one of their tenants.

LABOR TURNS ON GOMPERS

SCORNS ARGUMENTS FOR SUPPORTING BRYAN TICKET.

No Real Argument Against Taft, Says One, but Bryan's Election Would Check Prosperity.

NEW YORK, July 17.—"Gompers cannot count upon organized labor to support any political party, and, as to influencing them by argument to vote for Bryan, labor men know how they are going to vote and they can think for themselves." So spoke yesterday Edward Horrigan, of the International Association of Machinists. Julius D. Davis, of the United Garment Workers, said: "The same arguments that appealed to workmen against Bryan in his two former campaigns appeal to them still. There is no real argument to be made against Taft, but there is a very solid fear of the setting back of matters when the tide of prosperity is beginning to flow again. If a radical like Bryan is elected, it will mean a return to the old days, when the labor leader says: 'Gompers a begging and receiving crumb and smirking with contentment at their receipt, but sympathizing with the gentleman's triple office of President, editor and, last, but not least, undertaker of the civic federalized system of unions.'"

Questions Gompers' Acts. DETROIT, Mich., July 17.—Samuel Prince, of New York, organizer for the American Federation of Labor, stirred up an agitation in the local body of the union headquarters, protesting against the National advance information concerning the proposal to take the Federation into the Democratic camp this year. Prince made a speech before the local organization exhorting the members to stand by the Gompers' program. He created an uproar of objections. The result of the agitation was the adoption of a resolution directing an inquiry of the National officers as to what the Gompers' program embraced, and by what authority it had been entered upon.

BESIEGED BY VOLUNTEERS Thousands Would Go to Africa With Roosevelt. OYSTER BAY, July 17.—(Special.)—Widespread interest in President's African hunting trip is evidenced by letters which pour into the Executive offices. They are from all parts of the world. Secretary Loeb said yesterday if all volunteers were taken into consideration there would be able to enter Africa with an army of several thousand men. If Mr. Roosevelt were willing to take with him all the game that will be shot without human aid, hunting knives that will pierce armor and other contrivances offered by enterprising dealers, he would need an army for porters.

Escapes the Electric Chair. NEW YORK, July 17.—William Campbell, a bricklayer, who July 3 killed his partner, Carrie, in a bread kitchen, stood like a man under a sentence of what was going on about him in General Sessions Court yesterday, when his plea of guilty to manslaughter Judge Mulgrew sentenced him to not less than 10 nor more than 20 years in Sing Sing. He is 56 years old. He had been indicted for murder, but the District Attorney's office had recommended that a plea of manslaughter be accepted.

Gambler's War Continues. CHICAGO, July 17.—For the second time in three days, a heavy blast of dynamite exploded last night at the rear of John A. Rogers' saloon at West Madison and May streets. The explosion was the 17th within a year attributed to a war between gamblers. Although the blast tore the roof off the building and scattered burning powder, no man and woman afterward were found in the structure, and with three other men who were found in the vicinity were arrested by the police because of their suspicious actions.

Caterow Quits the Race. DAYTON, O., July 17.—Colonel H. G. Caterow, Republican candidate for Congress for the Third District, has announced his withdrawal from the race. Colonel Caterow is prompted to take this step because he struck Eugene Sullivan, a laborer on the street here yesterday, instantly killing him with his automobile. The nomination was secured as the result of a bitter contest which was carried to the Ohio State Convention. The Congressional Committee will be called together in the next few days to choose a candidate for Colonel Caterow's place.

Jacketmakers Win Strike. NEW YORK, July 17.—Twenty-five hundred jacket makers, who went on strike a few weeks ago against a reduction in wages have won their strike in all but a few shops and returned to work at the former pay.

Uncle of President McKinley. LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 17.—Dr. De los Campbell, uncle of the late President McKinley, who died here last night, was father of Mrs. Imogene Northrup, of Portland, who was at his deathbed.

TAKE BETTING MEN

Detectives Cause Excitement at Brighton Beach.

PROTESTS FROM CROWD

Score of Gamblers Marched Off Ground and Track May Be Forcibly Closed—Grand Jury May Indict Big Horsemen.

NEW YORK, July 17.—There were exciting scenes at the Brighton Beach racetrack yesterday, resulting from the tactics of the police in their determination to take a score or more of suspects into custody. Arrests were made right and left by plain clothes detectives detailed to the track in place of the uniformed squad that has been on duty there. The crowd of 5000 in the fields and stands was wrought up to a high pitch of excitement when detectives not only took a score or more of suspects into custody, but proceeded to search some of them in full view of the spectators. There were no demonstrations against the officers, however, and their work was accompanied by nothing more serious than outspoken remarks of the prisoners, some of whom were brought handcuffed from the field through the grandstand.

It had been hinted before the afternoon's racing began that extreme measures would be taken, even to the extent of closing the track, if the anti-betting law was flagrantly violated, or if there were any riotous demonstrations. The behavior, however, was excellent, and no radical action was deemed necessary. Some of the men arrested were released after being escorted out of the grounds. Eight men, however, were taken to Brooklyn headquarters and afterward released on bail for a hearing tomorrow morning.

Grand Jury Investigation of conditions at the tracks is proceeding, and District Attorney Elder said that within 24 hours he expected indictment of important persons in connection with alleged violations of the betting law.

Police Share in Winnings. NEW YORK, July 17.—That evidence to show that members of the police force participate at the racetracks will be placed before the grand jury next week is asserted. Bookmakers arrested at the track, who have since secured immunity by offering to testify as to their operations, have, it is said, supplied this information. It is further said that $12 a day, said to have been demanded of bookmakers for advance information concerning races, was paid solely for the privilege of conducting betting. Indictments of important persons are promised early next week.

ROBBED IN CHURCH SHADOW Two Men Pounce on A. Lerouge Beside St. Patrick's. Held up in the shadow of St. Patrick's Church, Nineteenth and Xavier streets, at about 10 o'clock last night, a robbery Tuesday night, was the experience related yesterday to the police by A. Lerouge, of 630 Xavier street. Lerouge was walking after attending a downtown theater. When he reached the corner where the church stands two young men pounced upon him from the shadow of the building and snatched his pocket watch. Both assailants were young and were of small stature. They were well developed muscularly and handled Lerouge with ease after a few minutes' resistance or make any outcry. He describes one as 5 feet 4 inches tall and the other about 5 feet 6 inches tall. Both were dressed in dark clothing and wore slouch hats. The police are working on the case, but so far have made no arrests.

Edmund Barton, British Commissioner, presided. In the absence of Foreign Minister M. Pinchon, M. Lewis, under secretary of the Foreign Office, extended a formal welcome. The session was devoted to a discussion of the plan of work. While the primary object of the commission is to investigate the complaints of both French and American exporters, with a view to the suppression of vexatious administrative regulations by means of mutual concessions, the entire subject of the tariff returns between the two countries will be examined, and it is felt that the ultimate results of the commission's labors will be of much greater importance.

DENVER, Colo., July 17.—Giuseppe Alla might have been living yet had he made time for a second race against Harper his claim that Father Leo Helmholtz, for whose murder Alla was hanged at Canon City Wednesday, had raised his home and caused him to become a wanderer. Governor Harper said today that he would have repressed Alla until information through the Italian government could be secured as to the truth of Alla's charges. If found to be true, Governor Harper said, he would not have allowed the death sentence against Alla to be carried out. Alla's association against Father Leo was not made until his last night, too late to reach the ears of Acting Governor Harper.

Army officials, among them Brigadier Alexander McMillan, found the head of the famous Anti-Sulicide Bureau, will leave Chicago this week to take command in various parts of the United States. During the year or more since the "Anti-Sulicide Bureau" was started, exactly 400 men and women have applied for advice. According to the army officials a large proportion of these would have taken their lives if the bureau had not intervened. In preparing a final report of the work of his department, Brigadier McMillan has compiled a table of causes of desire to commit suicide. "Lack of employment, heads the list with the entry 'drink' a close second. Then comes 'gambling,' 'financial difficulties,' 'family troubles' and half a dozen other causes of less frequency. Twenty-seven ascribed their desire for death to loneliness.

Brigadier McMillan, who came to Chicago from Spokane, Wash., in 1906, has been ordered to Des Moines to command the Iowa division. Brigadier Peebles, who has been in charge of the army's actual and industrial operations throughout the West, goes to Denver, Colo., to take charge of the Rocky Mountain division of the organization. He will be succeeded by Brigadier Emil Marquand, who has had charge of the army social work in Cleveland.

Brigadier Kimball gives up the direction of the organization's spiritual work in Chicago to go to New York city. Major Dart is appointed general secretary to Colonel Blanche E. Cox, of Kansas City, and Captain Riddle, who has had charge of children's work in Iowa, also goes to Kansas City to undertake similar work in Nebraska, South Dakota, Kansas and Oklahoma.

Arrangements were made for Mr. Curtis to begin his work in Chicago tomorrow morning.

Mr. Curtis stated that the winner of the $50 prize contest for the best essay on "Why the Republican Party Should Be Successful Next November" will be made known about August 15, from New York. Several thousand manuscripts have already been submitted and as many more are expected.
