DEATH SUMMONS

JOHN F. CAPLES

Honored Citizen Succumbs to Paralysis After Illness of Almost Two Years.

WAS CONSUL AT SANTIAGO

Served With Credit in Diplomatic Position—Member of Legislature, District Attorney and Presidential Elector.

After a long and honored career as one of the most successful members of portunity to exercise that diplomacy and tact which have been his conspicuous characteristics and which were especially required by reason of the complications engendered by the Spanish-American War. Mr. Caples resigned in 1891 and returned to Portland, where he re-engaged in the general practice of law.

LATE JOHN F. CAPLES, WHO DIED AT HIS HOME YESTERDAY

eloquent platform orator.

As an orator, an eloquent and effective platform speaker, and general trial lawyer, Mr. Caples was excelled by few, and within the State of Oregon until a few years ago no man was personally known to more people than he.

He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church since his youth, and held many lay offices in that body and also served as a member of the General Conference of the church at Cleveland in 1886.

He was associated with Portland Lodge, No. 55, A. F. and A. M., the consistory and the 32d degree of Scottish Rite; the Ancient Order of United Workmen, and Evening Star Chapter.

In Champaign County, Ohio, the deceased was married to Sarah J. Morrison in 1864.

Mrs. Caples having been born in Ohio, and her death occurred in California in 1877.

Six children born to this union survive: Mrs. W. H. Saylor, Mrs. M. C. Matthew, Miss Jennie Caples and Mrs. B. Lee Paget, of Portland; Mrs. A. M. Caples, of Palo Alto, Cal., and R. A. Caples, of Gaston.

There are also five grandchildren—Charles C. Anthony, John C. Matthew, ened screams attracted neighbors and the police.

The young man now says his affections have soured and that he despises the young woman with a hate that is everlasting.

He declares he robbed him of $20,000, smiting upon him as long as he had money and snubbing him as soon as his pockets lost their yellow glint.

He has requested an interview with one of the District Attorney's assistants and says he will swear to a complaint charging the erstwhile object of his fondest fancy with robbery.

WILL FACE LUNACY BOARD

Hamilton's Counsel Files Insanity Complaint With County Court.

An insanity complaint having been lodged against Fred Hamilton, the athlete who was caught while robbing Heitkamp's jewelry store, he will be examined by a lunacy commission.

John F. Logan insists that Hamilton is insane, but the football player stoutly denies it.

It is probable that Drs. W. E. Joseph, W. T. Williamson, and Sam C. Sloum will be members of the commission, the two former as appointees of the County Court, and the latter at the instance of Hamilton's counsel.

It is also likely that District Attorney Cameron will appoint a physician to consult with the other three.

Hamilton waived examination yesterday and pleaded not guilty.

He was then bound over to the grand jury, and his bond fixed at $200.

Several of Hamilton's friends are said to know that during the last few weeks his mind has been unsteady in money matters.

Stories are told of how he tried to borrow large sums of money with which to purchase diamonds, and offered to subscribe $50,000 to the campaign fund, before the June election.

WEBSTER FAILS TO ACT

No Response to Sheriff's Letter Asking for Conference.

Although requested by Sheriff Stevens to name a time when a conference may be had concerning affairs at Kelly Butte, the County Court has not yet answered that official.

The offices of the Sheriff and Judge Webster are in the Courthouse, but Sheriff Stevens thought best to notify the Court by letter that he wished to take up the matter formally.

The law passed by popular vote in June gives the Sheriff the custody of all the county prisoners.

The Commissioners have said that they expect to use only city prisoners at Kelly Butte hereafter, so no county prisoners have been sent out since the new law went into effect.

There were 64 county prisoners at the Butte, and there are now but 24.

Hay Crop Is Very Heavy.

HILLSBORO, Or., July 17.—(Special.)—Washington County is gathering one of the heaviest hay harvests for years.

In many places clover has yielded from three to four tons to the acre.

The acreage of hay lands is increasing from year to year, owing to the dairy industry, which is encouraged by the milk condensers at Forest Grove and Hillsboro.

The situation was further complicated last night when the warrant was issued by the announcement made by Mr. Joseph that he had discovered that at the time the mortgage was given his clients there were other claims of ownership to the horses in question.

Mr. Brown's and this point was brought forward with the object of showing criminal intent on the part of the defendant.

THIS SUITOR O'ER ARDENT

Will Explain in Court His Peculiar Wooing Methods.

In order to rid herself of the persistent company of Fred Form, Miss Susie Bell, of 283 Third street, will have that young man before the Municipal Court today.

She charges that not only did he haunt her with profers of undying affection, but that he got to working odd rises in order to gain her company after she refused to recognize him on the street.

Her patience became exhausted when she returned home to find he had gotten hold of a key and was waiting her arrival inside.

Overcome with rage she admits she gave him her frank opinion regarding his personality and ordered him to get out.

Then he lost his temper, seized her by the throat and was busy choking her to death when her frightened screams attracted neighbors and the police.

The young man now says his affections have soured and that he despises the young woman with a hate that is everlasting.

He declares he robbed him of $20,000, smiting upon him as long as he had money and snubbing him as soon as his pockets lost their yellow glint.
