

WESTERN STATES MUST CO-OPERATE

Chairman Hitchcock Explains Call for Colorado Springs Conference.

IDEA IS ENTIRELY NEW

Manager of Republican National Campaign Will Today Urge Party Leaders in West to Unite for Winning Fight.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 19.—When Frank H. Hitchcock, chairman of the Republican National Committee, arrived here this evening to consult with the members of the National committee...

Members of Conference. Members of the National committee: W. S. Surges, Arizona; Charles C. Cawder, Colorado; Senator William E. Borah, Idaho; David W. Mulvane, Kansas; Thomas C. Marshall, Montana; Victor Rosewater, Nebraska; Solomon Lima, New Mexico; James Kennedy, North Dakota; Cash M. Cade, Oklahoma; Ralph E. Williams, Oregon; Thomas Thorsen, South Dakota; Cecil A. Lyon, Texas; William Spry, representing C. E. Loose, Utah; Robert L. McCormick, Washington; and George E. Peaton, Wyoming.

State Chairmen Present. State Chairmen: Herbert B. Tenny, Arizona; George Stone, California; John F. Vivian, Colorado; James H. Brady, Idaho; J. T. Moore, Kansas; Fletcher Maddox, Montana; William Hayward, Nebraska; George F. Turrill, H. O. Burson, New Mexico; L. B. Hanna, North Dakota; Charles E. Hunter, Oklahoma; W. M. Cade, Oregon; W. C. Cook, South Dakota; Cecil A. Lyon, Texas; Wesley K. Aiton, Utah; A. F. Slatyer, representing Washington; and the chairman of the Wyoming committee, Charles W. Burdick.

Two Members Absent. The National committee members from California and Nevada were unable to come. Senator Warren, of Wyoming, and a number of Republicans not members of the committee will be here tomorrow. Nothing of the kind was undertaken by Mr. Hitchcock as yet attempted in the history of National campaigns in any party. He announced upon his arrival here today that it would be his purpose to have states which are certainly Republican assist in campaigning in neighboring states, which may be doubtful. To that end he is bringing the Western leaders together.

Programme for Today. Tomorrow there will be a general conference at which the various leaders will exchange ideas and formulate a system whereby one state may draw upon the political resources of another. After that Mr. Hitchcock will hold individual conferences with the representatives of each of the states and territories which are sending men for the political gathering.

According to Chairman Hitchcock, there has been a close cooperation between Western leaders in past campaigns, the representatives of each state doing the best to pile up Republican majorities in neighboring states which have more difficult political battles to fight.

Broaden the Responsibility. He said today that he wanted to broaden the responsibility of each of the Western Republican leaders, with a view of carrying the whole Western region for Taft and Sherman. When asked what Western States he regards as safely Republican, and what ones he classifies as doubtful, Mr. Hitchcock said:

Makes No Predictions. "I have determined not to make any predictions at any time. That will be my policy throughout the campaign. We will neglect any territory, where there is a bare chance of carrying it, whether North, South, East or West; but I shall not indulge in forecasts."

A delegation from Denver arrived here tonight to see Mr. Hitchcock, and urged the selection of that city as the place of establishing a Western headquarters for the distribution of campaign material and assignment of speakers. Salt Lake is being considered also, but no decision will be made until after Mr. Hitchcock returns to the East.

FIRES IN JEALOUS RAGE

Crowd Joins in Chase. Mrs. George Tremblay, proprietor of the house, and several other women, were in a room downstairs when the firing commenced, and they rushed out into the hallway. Before they reached the upper floor, however, the man had fled. They gave the alarm, and several men on the street below gave chase to the fugitive as he emerged from the door. He still carried a revolver in his hand. Martin Kochevar and Charles Reeves were passing and took up the chase. They were joined by others, who, in turn, were joined by still more, until the crowd numbered a thousand or more. The fugitive turned west on Salmon street, the crowd in close pursuit, and Reeves and Kochevar almost at his heels.

NAVY DEPARTMENT STORM

(Continued from First Page.) However, the President probably would not be deterred from taking such action if he deemed it best. In anticipation of the meeting, the staff of the war college, already has taken up the question of designs for future battleships. These will be considered at the coming meeting. There have also been inquiries along other lines and the entire question of reform is to be threshed.

In the opinion of naval officers stationed here, there is every prospect for the greatest row in years in the department. It may mean the dethroning of several of the older officers who have run affairs for many years. As these officers have friends in high places, the sewing of the Presidential "big stick" will probably be followed by a storm of protest in which the entire naval squabble may take on the proportions of a scandal.

the back porch began to scream. The crowd, arriving at this time, heard the screams and imagined that the fugitive was committing further crimes.

Big Through Quickly Gathers. They quickly surrounded the house, shouting wildly and attracting a still larger crowd. Little boys and girls from the vicinity joined and women blockaded the streets and sidewalks for blocks around.

Officers Find Way Blocked. It was with difficulty that the officers forced their way through the crowd, men and women blocking the way, and in their frenzied desire to see something gruesome or morbid, even refusing to heed the stars of the officers.

Men and Officers Enjoy Shade and Hospitality of Hawaiian Homes.

HONOLULU, July 19.—A feature of the entertainment of the fleet today was the presentation of hundreds of tons of fruit and delicacies of all kinds to the various battleships. The great store of food things was loaded on a lighter which was towed to each of the 12 ships in turn.

Sunday has been a quiet day with the men of the Atlantic battleship fleet. Outside of the star games, which took place at the League grounds, and which hundreds of sailors attended, there was little in the way of formal entertainment except excursions to Pearl Harbor, many of the men taking advantage of the opportunity to inspect the site of the naval station that is being planned.

The officers today were privately entertained at many residences and there was hardly one of the cool porches along the streets of the residence district that did not offer retreat to the white clad visitors. The men, too, sought amusement in many parts of the city and the streets of the downtown section as well as the tree-shaded roads and lanes further out were populous throughout the day with groups of strolling seamen.

Out of the ships, hundreds of visitors were made welcome and every yacht and private launch in the bay was pressed into service to carry parties of pleasure seekers in and out among the anchored warships.

Catholic Archdiocese Stirred by the Romance of Pretty Italian Girl.

PHILADELPHIA, July 19.—(Special.)—Behind the belated announcement made to a few friends by Miss Rose Rossi, a pretty Italian girl, of 1425 Ellsworth street, that she had been married somewhere in the western part of the state last December, to Philip Mucci, is a romance which has stirred not only "La Italy," where the pair live, but the entire Roman Catholic archdiocese.

One day the priest disappeared from the rectory, and at the same time the girl left her home. Then came a letter from the priest to the Rev. Angelo Caruso, pastor of the Italian church, explaining by the score. Father Mucci became interested in the girl, and was a frequent visitor to her home.

Because of parental objections on the part of the young woman's family, it was thought by friends of the girl that there would be no wedding. Consequently, they were much surprised yesterday to learn that the marriage had taken place. The bride admitted the marriage, and insisted that she was perfectly happy. Mucci, it is understood, is earning his living by translating Italian and English.
