The appeal of Mr. Bryan to the farmers of the country for campaign contributions is bearing fruit. Today a number of responses were received, the sums enclosed varying in amount. Two old retired farmers from Omaha, one aged $2 years and the other 79, preferred to deliver their contributions in person. They hobbied up the pathway to Fairview and placed in the hands of Mr. Bryan a five dollar bill.

Appeal for Campaign Funds.

An appeal by Mr. Bryan to the Demo-cratic newspapers of the country to be-gin the collection of funds for the cam-paign was one of the important hap-penings of the day. He says:

"I wish every Democratic paper would

I wish every Democratic paper would begin the collection of a fund from its subscribers. The Democratic party has struck a blow at this system by limiting contributions to $10,000 and providing iting contributions to $10,000 and providing for publicity before election. The Republican party has so far refused to join with us on this proposition, but public sentiment may yet compel it to do so. I have no doubt that the Democratic party will receive contributions from more individuals than ever before contributed to any campaign, and there is no reason why campaign, and there is no reason why the entire sum necessary should not be supplied by contributions from the masses. If every Democratic paper will take the matter up and lend a helping hand, we will soon have money enough in the treasury to provide for legitimate campaign work, and that is all we want." campaign work, and that is all we want.
Late this evening George Fred Williams,

the station to Fairview by Mr. Bryan.
The two were in lengthy conference upon reaching the Bryan home, where M Williams expected to spend the night. Bryan's Hopes in Ohio.

According to Democratic leaders who with Mr. Bryan, the ability in cratic party to secure the negro vote in Ohlo will depend largely upon the attitude of Senator Foraker. So long as he remains outside the Republican titude of Senator Foraker. So long as he remains outside the Republican breastworks, at least as regards Judge Taft, the Democrats feel assured of large, negro support in that state. Holding, as they do, the balance of power, politically, there being some 60,000 of them, the negroes in the Onto campaign will be a most important factor. However, should Senator Foraker become reconciled and lend his support to Taft, it is conceded that there is little probability of enroll-ing a sufficient number of negro voters in the cause of Democracy materially to affect the result. Former Atturney-General Frank S. Monnett, of Columbus, and E. H. Moore, of Youngstown, who was chairman of the last Democratic state convention are today speeding home after a conference with Mr. Bryan last night with instructions to size up the situation and take every advantage of the For-aker-Taft foud.

MINERS AT DENVER DISCUSS POLITICS

Question of Party Affiliation Is Brought Up in Western Federation.

DEBATE HAS WIDE RANGE

Grows Out of Introduction of Reso lution Declaring Against Alliance With Political Parties-Discussion Will Last All Week.

DENVER, Colo., July 20.-The Western Federation of Miners Convention spent the entire day in discussing the industrial unionism question and adjourned without having taken definite action. During the day the discussion assumed wide range, including socialism, industrial unionism, crafts and all kindred subjects. The preamble of the consti-tution of the organization declares "That industrial unionism and the concerted po-litical action of all wage-workers is the only method of attaining, the emancipa-tion of the working class.

Today the discussion of all these subjects arose over a resolution, one sec-tion of which read as follows:

That the marshalling of workmen in every department of industry under the banner of one organization, that recognizes the fact that an injury to one is an injury to all, that the concern of one is the concern of all, that the working class must get together in an economic organization, the purposes of which are to control the machines of production and means of distribution. of production and means of distribution, re-gardless of political affiliations of any

This paragraph, it will be seen, declares against political affiliation. Should it be adopted, then a concentrated effort will be made to change the preamble.

Fight Against Politics

The organization has not adopted any political faith, but it has recommended the subject of socialism to its membership for study. Many Socialists today fought against the addition of any political reso-iution on the ground that it did no good and embittered the membership.

Last year the convention ordered the executive board to secure, if possible, a conference of representatives of all labor organizations with a view to uniting unier the banner of the Industrial Workers der the banner of the Industrial Workers of the World. After the convention many local unions protested and the conference for various reasons was never held. In the discussion this subject was taken up and became part of the general debate, but no definite position as to affiliation with that organization was taken.

In the Justice Court today Mr. and Mrs.
Antone Maczskis listened to a severe lecture from Judge Samson and agreed to keep their diherences out of court in future. They signed a paper that was drawn up by the court, by which they promise not to interfere with one another, and Macisskis says if his wife wants a divorce, he will not contest the suit. He further agrees to give her $300 when his savings, amounting to $450, reach here from an Eastern bank.

This afternoon Macizskis put up $400 cash ball for the release of his wife's brother. Felix Danneserwaus, but the woman's admirer, Peter Brellius, who was charged jointly with Danneserwaus with assault with a dangerous weapon by the husband, still languishes in the County Discussion Not Ended.

We believe, however, that the number of these who adhere to party as above all else will be less this year than it has been in the past."

Authorities Convinced That He Killed Mrs. Eberhard.

PLOTTED

Clerk Lured Well-to-Do Aunt and Her Daughter to America for Purpose of Murder and Robbery.

NEW YORK, July 20.- The tale of a hard, the well-to-do Viennese widow whose body was found on the railroad track in a lonely section of Hackensack, N. J., early yesterday. At first it was believed that the woman had been struck by a train and killed. Subsequent investigation, however, revealed that she had been murdered and her body placed upon the track in an effort to destroy the traces of the crime. It was with this discovery that there came the first intimation of the deeply laid and cunningly executed plot which places the case almost in a class by itself in the history of crime.

As a result of that investigation the police are now searching for August Eberhard, the dead woman's nephew, who had importuned Mrs. Eberhard to come to this country and to bring with her her little fortune of $2800 and her 29year-old daughter, whom August had promised to marry. It was largely due to the story told by the daughter after the finding of the older woman's body that the search for August was begun, and the police in every city in the Eastern section of the country have been asked to take him into custody if found. He is wanted to tell what he knows of the circumstances related by the girl who was to have been his wife. The young woman herself, however, refuses to be-Beve that August had any part in the tragic death of her mother; but, despite her protestations, detectives have gone to the home of the man's parents, who live on a farm near Dutchess Junction. in Dutchess County, New York, and the search for him is being prosecuted in Plotted for Months.

According to the police, Eberhard had een at work for months carefully plotting the crime to gain possession of the little fortune that his aunt in Austria possessed. He wrote many letters paint-ing in glowing colors the riches that would be hers if she would only leave the old home in Austria and come to this new land. To the woman's daugh-ter, aged 20, also bearing the name Ottli-lie. Eberhard promised marriage if they would come to America. Finally, yieldand her daughter set sall for this country. They arrived in New York last Thursday on the steamer Deutschland, the mother carrying $2500 in the bosom of her dress. Eberhard, who had been em-ployed in a grocery store in St. Nich-olas avenue, asked his employer for a vacation on the day of the woman's arrival and met them at the pier. settling them temporarily at a little ho-tel at Tenth avenue and Twenty-third street, he took the elder to a money changer, where her little store of wealth was quickly converted into America money.

It was the intense heat of Sunday afternoon which furnished the pretext for the trip to the country, with its tragic ending, according to the stories told by her daughter. Eberhard suggested a trolley ride in New Jersey. Mrs. Eberhard consented to the trip, and the three crossed the Hudson by ferry on their way to the country. At Rochelle Park, two miles west of Hackensack, the nephew suggested that they take a walk, and the three left the car to stroll through the three left the car to stroll through the fields. Evening found them at a lonely spot on the tracks of the New York, Susquehanna & Western Railroad. Everhard told the women he had lost his way. A storm broke and the trio pushed ahead down the track until in a deafen-ing crash of thunder the elder woman stumbled.

Thought Shot Lightning.

"I have been struck by lightning," she screamed, as she fell in a heap by the track. At the same instant, Miss Eberhard says she saw a flash coming, evidently, from behind a car on a siding near by, and then a second and a third.

felt a bullet graze her own neck, cutting a thin gold chain from which a looket was suspended. Suddenly Eberhard urged her to run, and as a second bullet plowed into her shoulder, she started down the track screaming. Once she turned back to see if her mother was following her, and again there was a shot which passed above the bridge of her nose, the blood from the wound half blinding her. Trough the wound nair binding ner. Through the darkness and the storm the wounded girl kept up her flight until she reached a cottage, where she was taken in and cared for until the storm had passed. Then the Hackensack police were notified.

In the meantime an engineer of a passing milk train had seen the body of a woman on the track, and when he arrived in Jersey City he telephoned the Coroner of Hackensack. Upon visiting the spot indicated by the engineer, the Coroner found the body of Mrs. Eberhard, horribly mangled. Close examination, however, showed that the woman had been shot twice, and was dead when the nowever, showed that the woman had been shot twice, and was dead when the train struck her. The murderer must have shot the woman as she lay prostrate on the track, in order to make sure of her death before dragging her body across the rails.

Shock to Eberhard's Parents.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., July 26.— The parents of August Eberhard were dismayed today when detectives in-formed them that young Eberhard was suspected of the murder of his aunt and an attempt on the life of his cousin at Hackensack Saturday evening. The father said:

"This is terrible news-terrible. Why the boy was to have been married in New York yesterday and we were ex-pecting him to come home today with his bride." A close watch will be maintained at the farm, in the belief that August may
