Republicans Are United and Democrats Have No Hope of Carrying State.

CANNOT TOLERATE BRYAN

Tammany Loyalty Is a Bluff, Upland Democrats Are Openly Hostile-Hitchcock Pleased.

BY LLOYD F. LONERGAN

BY LLOYD F. LONERGAN

NEW YORK, July 19.—(Special.)—With National Chairman Hitchcock on the ground, and National Tressurer George R. Sheldon busly mapping out plans to secure ammunition, the Republican campaign in the Empire State may be considered as being under way. Mr. Hitchcock, following his usual custom, is not inclined to be talkative, but it is known that he is decidedly pleased with the local outlook. He has talked with a number of leaders, all of whom assure him that Taft and Sherman will carry New York by at least 100,009.

There are three things that cause the National chairman to feel confident: the closing up of the Republican ranks, business men's distrust of Bryan, and bickerings among the Democrats. Republicans in this section are convinced that the Middle West will be the hattle-ground this year, and that the campaign in New York will be more perfunctory than it has been since Cleveland's days. Of course the local organization will "whoop it up," but the amount of money that will be expended will not come anywhere near the total on tap in past campaigns, all of which is sad news for the heelers. Although President Roosevelt expects to keep out of the lime light this Summer, he is keenly interested in the result in his home state. Several second-class politicians, encouraged by the prospect of a "sweep," have lightning rods out for the gubernatorial nomination, but they are beginning to realize that they might as well take them in again.

Wants High-Class Ticket.

Wants High-Class Ticket.

The news from Oyster Bay is that the President absolutely insists upon the nomination of a high-class ticket, which will be a help and not a hindrance to Taft. Possibly Mr. Roosevelt thinks of his own experience in 1904, when he carried the state by 148,000 and an unpopular gubernatorial candidate drifted in by 75,000. It is pretty well understood that while there is no absolute "Roosevelt choice" this year, yet the man selected choice" this year, yet the man selected must meet with the President's approba-tion. And none of the local leaders feel disposed to brave the anger of the Chief Executive.

"I do not know who we will select for Governor," said one well-known politician today, "but you can accept it from me that no peanut statesman will carry off the nomination. We have no intention of taking any chances."

On paper, Taft has two elements of weakness; among the negroes, because of the Brownsville case, and with labor men owing to his attitude on injunctions during the time he was on the United States bench. Republican leaders have carefully canvassed these two classes of voters, and are more than encuraged. voters, and are more than encouraged by what they have discovered.

Colored Voters in Line.

The defection in the colored vote will be very small. Had the election been held the day after Taft was nominated it would have cut a considerable figure in the result. But the trouble is dying away, and the negroes are lining up with the Republican party as usual. There was a meeting of the Garnet Republican Club in Brocklyn the other evening. This organization is one of the most influential negro bodies in the East. One speaker, Henry Jackson by name, but otherwise

They say the niggers in the Brownsthey say the niggers in the Browns-ville regiment got a raw deal." he re-marked "Maybe they did. They say the Republican party gave us that raw deal. Maybe it did. But the Democratic party gives us a raw deal all the time, and always will. So why should we go back on the Republicans for one little slap?"

This speech seems to sum up the po-

This speech seems to sum up the po-sition of the negroes. They intend to forgive that "one siap." Some of them are still growling, of course, but influ-ential men of the race say the trouble is about over.

Taft will lose the votes of a number of Republican working men, but experts who have analyzed the situation say the number will not reach 30,000 in the entire state. They also look for an increased Socialist vote, the bulk of which will come from the Democratic party.

His Only Weak Spots.

These are the only two elements of weakness that Taft possesses, and are more than counterbalanced by his elements of strength. It is a month since the nomination was made, but up to date not one single Republican has announced his intention of boiting the ticket, and this is a time-honored institution, too. Why, even in 1994, one Republican formally bolted Roosevelt, and made speeches for Parker. For the benefit of the curious, it might be said that his name is Henry D. Hamilton and he lived in Brooklyn, also; after the election he moved to Nyack, which is further away from Oyster Bay.

Every county leader reports that the voters in his territory are harmonlous, and satisfied with the ticket. They also find that Taft is growing in strength

LOS ANGELES. and many of them believe it is too late and many of them believe it is too late to get the habit now.

Tammany leaders admit that Taft's diplomatic handling of the Friars dispute in the Philippines will gain him many thousands of Catholic votes.

Kern Handicap to Bryan.

Republicans figure that Kern, although practically unknown in New York, will prove a handicap to Bryan. Kern is an intimate friend of Tom Taggart, and was his lawyer during all the legal warfare centering around French Lick, Taggart's

Indiana gambling resort.

Kern, in consequence, bears the gambling taint, and will prove objectionable to many church people. This Taggart-Kern aillance, by the way, will undoubtedly be one of the keynotes of the campaign.

Paign.

Nobody is paying much attention to the Independence League, although its threat to hold a "National Convention" has not to hold to hol to hold a "National Convention" has not been withdrawn. The general opinion is that Hearst will not stand up to be counted this year. Republicans are convinced that if there is a Hearst ticket it will help them, and if Hearst allies himself with Bryan, it is a matter of only triffing importance, so they have practically eliminated him from their calculations.

Republicans Are United.

This is the situation as Republican leaders see it. Taft has a united party back of him, and is fighting a disorganized army of Democrats, who march to battle knowing they are defeated before a single blow is struck. And the G. O. P. figures that the voters do not forget to register. that the voters do not forget to register.

Mr. Hitchcock is a cautious, careful general, anxious to be sure of results, as he demonstrated in the search for Taft delegates. He is pleased with the reports he has received here, but is verifying them himself.

He does not want to take any chances in New York, and will not, but already he is pretty well convinced that New York is safely anchored in the Republican column, and that the real battlefield will be in the Central West.

No confirmation of the story could be had from the District Attorney's office and but little credence is placed in it.
