Charge That Carpenter Pocketed Halsewell Causes Uproar at Olympic Games Because of Management's Unfairness.

WINNERS OF DAY'S EVENTS.
FLAT RACE, 200 METERS—Kerr, Canada, first; Cloughen, Irish-American A. C., second; Carmel, University of Pennsylvania, third. Time, 0:22 2-5.
STANDING HIGH JUMP—Ray C. Ewry, N. Y. A. C., first, 5 feet 2 inches; J. A. Hiller, Brooklyn Central Y. M. C. A., and Tschirra, Greens, tied for second, 5 feet 1 inch.
FLAT RACE, 400 METERS—J. C. Carpenter, Cornell, first; W. C. Robbins, Cambridge, Mass., second; Halsewell, United Kingdom, third. Time, 0:47 4-5. Declared no race on plea of foul.

LONDON, July 23.—The unfortunate series of disputes which have been since the opening of the Olympic games, not only between Americans and the officials of the Amateur Athletic Association but between the athletes of other nations and the officials, culminated this afternoon in an occurrence which threatened to wreck the inter-Olympic meeting.
The trouble was over the final heat of the 400-meter race, for which J. C. Carpenter, Cornell University; J. B. Taylor, Irish-American A. C.; W. C. Robbins, Cambridge, Mass., and Lieutenant Wyndham Halsewell, United Kingdom, qualified. With the exception of Taylor the men got off quickly on the firing of the pistol and Robbins sprinted in front, talking the pole from Carpenter, who was just behind with Halsewell trailing along beside him. It looked like anybody's race as they approached the last turn, the three leaders being bunched. Their spurt for the final hundred yards was begun, when suddenly one of the officials rushed onto the track, the tape across the finish was torn down and the race was declared void.

Uproarious Cry of "Foul."
It was hard for a time to understand what had occurred, but the official pronouncement was that Carpenter had fouled Halsewell at the turn. Everybody close to this spot had noticed that the three men had swerved toward the outside of the track as they came around the bend at a terrific pace, but there was no sign of a deliberate foul visible to those in the press stands.
An uproar followed such as seldom or never was witnessed on an athletic field. Officials of the Amateur Athletic Association, with whom the arena had been filled since the opening of the gates, ran along the edges of the track shouting "foul," and appeared even more excited than the runners, who, with the exception of Taylor, continued the race to the finish, Carpenter passing the post first, Robbins second, and Halsewell third. Taylor, who was a considerable distance in the rear, was dragged off the track by one of the excited officials, who shouted all the while that it was no race.
The American contingent set up a yell of delight, as its man had apparently cap-

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., July 23.—(Special.)—Three Deputy Sheriffs are engaged in a man-hunt in the vicinity of Spencer Creek. Numbers of cabins have been robbed recently of food supplies, and a mysterious individual has been seen in the big pine timber of that vicinity. He is described as apparently an Italian, heavily bearded, and believed to be hiding out, possibly for some offense against the law. Only two men have talked to him, and he was reluctant to answer questions, but seemed perfectly sane.
He is armed with rifle and hunting knife.

Champlain and Other Characters in Canadian History Represented in Gorgeous Procession—Prince Visits American Warship.

QUEBEC, July 23.—The Prince of Wales was the central figure today in the magnificent spectacle of reproducing Quebec's historic past and ushering in the 300th anniversary of the founding of the city by Champlain. Aside from the spectacular features of the event, it was the occasion for a notable exchange of addresses between Vice-President Fairbanks and the Prince of Wales, in which the former spoke of the existing relations between the United States and Great Britain and the Prince delivered a message of good will to the American Government.
An enormous crowd filled the Place d'Armes fronting the Champlain monument, where the exercises were held. Here the Prince received the addresses of the American and French representatives, the Mayor of Quebec and finally Champlain himself, reproduced as in the days of old, coming from the mimic reproduction of his original ship, the Don de Dieu, with some 5000 followers representing every phase of old France in Canada.

Splendid Night Spectacle.
It was a splendid spectacle, carried out under bright skies with a setting of this picturesque old city and its harbor filled with a fleet of international warships. Tonight the city and harbor are a blaze of lights. The warships are outlined in electric lights, marking every line of hull and rigging, while the Parliament and many other buildings are similarly outlined.
From the citadel the Prince is looking across the St. Lawrence at a gigantic display of fireworks on the heights of Levis, showing in fiery outlines portraits of King Edward, the Falls of Montmorency and the battle of Wolfe and Montcalm.

In addressing the prince during the exercises Mr. Fairbanks dwelt on the interest which the United States had in the explorations following the landing of Champlain and on the common ancestry of Canadians and Americans, and the great future before the two countries. He expressed hope for the growth of the international peace movement and said in conclusion:
"We have no need to fear that the relations between the United States and Great Britain will ever again be disturbed. We have faith to believe that our flags, which trace this historic occasion and which mingle together and salute each other upon the Plains of Abraham, will never confront each other in conflict upon either land or sea."
British Good Will Expressed.
The Prince of Wales, in replying to the Vice-President, said:
"The King, whose earnest desire is always to promote the best and closest relations between nations, has especially desired me, as his representative, to convey to you, Mr. Vice-President of the United States, and to your colleagues, not only a hearty welcome but also a warm expression of thanks, both to it and to your Government, for your presence is not merely an indication of your interest in this celebration; it is an outward and visible sign of the friendship, concord and good-will between ourselves and the great country which you represent with such distinction. We think of the United States as having given the example of"

STETSON'S WIDOW MARRIES COUNT

PORTUGUESE NOBLEMAN TO SPEND HATTER'S MILLIONS.

Groom Consul for His King at Chicago and Sculptor—Honey-moon in Europe.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 23.—(Special.)—The widow of John B. Stetson, the millionaire hat manufacturer, became a Countess shortly after 11 o'clock today, when she was married to Count Santa Eulalia, Portuguese Consul at Chicago and a sculptor of some note. Mrs. Stetson did not embrace the Catholic faith to become Countess. Under a special dispensation from Archbishop Ryan the wedding ceremony was performed by Monsignor James P. Turner at "Ildro," the beautiful estate of Mrs. Stetson in Melrose.
This afternoon the Count and his bride went to New York, and will sail tomorrow for Europe. Only the immediate members of the Stetson family and a few of the trusted servants were present when the ceremony was performed, and the utmost caution was exercised to keep all details of the wedding secret. No newspaper men were allowed within 50 feet of the house. There was the deadline and there they stopped. The suburban police force saw to that, effectually, too.
Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served on the broad veranda, and later the Count and Countess, with other members of the family, went out on the lawn and posed for several pictures. They would not, however, permit newspaper photographers to use their cameras.
The Count and Countess, it is said, will make their home in this city.

CABLE FAVORS POSTAL

Western Union Sues for Business Lost on Trans-Pacific Line.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23.—Alleging discrimination in favor of the Postal Telegraph Company, a suit was filed today by the Western Union Telegraph Company against the Commercial Pacific Cable Company for $2581 damages, and for an injunction to restrain the defendant company from continuing charging a higher rate to the plaintiff for messages to Honolulu and Asiatic points. It is alleged that since May 23, 1908, the Commercial Cable Company has charged the Western Union from $3 to $4 per message more than it has charged the Postal Company on business originating at points in the United States where the Postal maintains offices and not at points where the Postal is unrepresented.
The complaint alleges that the Western Union has lost $1000 in business diverted to the Postal and that $1581 represents the amount paid to meet excess charges on messages.
Judge Sturtevant, of the Superior Court, issued a temporary injunction, pending the presentation of the case.

Isaac Eppinger, Warehouse Receipt Forger, in Asylum.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 23.—(Special.)—Isaac Eppinger, one of the members of the firm of Jacob Eppinger & Co., accused of raising money on false warehouse receipts, was committed to the Asylum for the Insane at Ukiah, upon the findings of lunacy commission today. Judge Cook made the order. Eppinger was brought to the Detention Hospital several days ago, and it took but a short time to decide as to his condition.
The accusation through which all the Eppingers received ill fame came to trial on account of the destruction of the records in the case by the fire. Since that time the head of the firm, Jacob Eppinger, has died.

Escape on Technicality Would Be Miscarriage of Justice—Appeal Court Gave Loophole by Misquoting Record in Case.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 23.—President Roosevelt tonight announced in unmistakable terms the determination of the administration to proceed with the prosecution of the Standard Oil case despite the decision adverse to the Government handed down by the United States Court of Appeals yesterday. This decision, the President thinks, in no way affects the merits of the case and he makes known his decision to cause the action to be brought again before the courts in such a case, if possible, as to prevent technicalities from interfering with a decision based upon the actual issues involved. The statement made public tonight by Secretary Loeb follows:
"The President has directed the Attorney-General immediately to take steps for re-trial of the Standard Oil case. The reversal of the decision of the lower court does not in any shape or way touch the merits of the case, except insofar as the size of the fine is concerned. There is absolutely no question of the guilt of the defendants or of the exceptionally grave character of the offense.
"The President would regard it as a gross miscarriage of justice, if through any technicalities of any kind the defendant escaped the punishment which would unquestionably have been meted out to any weaker defendant who had been guilty of such offense. The President will do everything in his power to avert or prevent such miscarriage of justice.
"With this purpose in view the President has directed the Attorney-General to bring into consultation Frank B. Kellogg in the matter, and do everything possible to bring the offenders to justice."

QUOTES LANDIS INCORRECTLY

Two Glaring Errors Form Basis of Petition for Rehearing.

CHICAGO, July 23.—United States Attorney Sims today announced positively that a petition for a rehearing in the case of the Government against the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, decided adversely to the Government by Judge Grosscup yesterday, would be filed. Mr. Sims today received the following telegram from Mr. Bonaparte:
"I feel that you and your associates have done everything possible to protect the interests of the Government and promote justice. I will write fully as soon as the opinion comes to hand."
"That the petition for rehearing will be based on two alleged errors in the quoted portions of the opinion of the court is the generally accepted opinion of attorneys interested in the case. Local newspapers today print parallel statements taken from yesterday's decision and from the record of the original trial.
"This is from Judge Grosscup's opinion: and carried out in the ruling excluding certain proffered testimony, including that of one Edward Bogardus, who, being in absolute charge of the traffic affairs of plaintiff in error, offered to testify that he did not know anything about the 18-cent rate over the"

BALTIMORE, Md., July 23.—Lincoln Beachey, who is making daily and nightly flights in his airship from a suburban amusement resort, claims to have made new records for both distance and speed in a flight made this morning from Arlington to and around the city hall. The distance, 14 miles,

An automobile which followed the airship was distanced on the return trip.
Lincoln Beachey, the aeronaut mentioned in the foregoing dispatch, is well known in Portland, where he made almost daily flights during the Lewis and Clark Fair. He repeatedly circled the Oregonian building tower and his numerous flights here were all successful.
WASHINGTON, July 23.—Captain Baldwin's dirigible balloon built for the Army is now at Fort Myer, Va. It probably will make its initial flight early next week.
