BY W. J. PETRAIN.

Portland made it three straight from Oakland yesterday, and incidentally broke even on the series, after having dropped the first trio of contests. Jesse Garrett was on the firing line for the home guard, and, while touched up rather lively in the opening innings, he proved steadier toward the end. The four Oakland twirlers utilized by Van Haltren had difficulty in locating the plate. score was six for Portland to a brace secured by Oakland,

Garrett started out like he was after a shutout, but with Van Haltren and Cook on lee as the result of outfield flies, Heitmulier laced one past Ryan which went for two cushions and the "German" scored when Truck Elagan dropped a Wagner bunt back of the in-field and out of reach of McCredle and

The Athenian outfit slipped another run over in the third. This was due to a combination of errors by Cooney, Raftery and Madden. Lewis, the first manup, skied to center, but Raftery muffed the ball, "Slim" Nelson attempted a sacrifice, but Garrett sot Lewis at second, and Cooney, in an attempt to complete a double play, heaved wildly to first and Nelson took second. Van Haltren flew out to McCredie, but Cook banged a short single to center. Nelson raced past third and for the plate, while Raftery heaved the ball home yards ahead of the lanky plicher, but Madden muffed the toss and the elongated wrongsider registered, while Cook took third. Heltmuller failed to get the ball past Garrett and the danger was over.

While Oakland was collecting toll on two runs, Portland had been unceremoniously shut out. In three innings Nelson passed three batsmen, but the required hit was not forthcoming. The McCredieltes commenced to find the slim one in the fourth, but after Johnson had led off with a cracking hit, Hogan made Cooney failed to connect safely.

The fifth witnessed Mr. Nelson's retirement, for he became webbly with one man out and passed Garrett and Casey.

Van derricked the attenuated one and sent "Chubby" Jack Hardy, also a southpaw, to the firing line. Jack had bad luck right off the reel, for Altman foogled not hold up. Rush was hit hard in the second, fifth and eighth. Score: Bassey's grounder and then threw the ball away which sent in Ghrestt with Portland's first score. Raftery worried Hardy for a ticket and the bases were loaded. Johnson was importuned for one of his famous three-baggers, but only popped a short fly to Van Haltren, which held all runners to their bags. Jack Ryan was the candy kid however, for he clean bingle to center, which chased Casey and Basecy over the reg-

Hardy made another presentation in the sixth. Cooney fanned, but Whaling, who had succeeded Madden behind the bat, singled to right Hardy attempted to catch Bert off first, but his toss went yards wide of Eagan, and Whaling brought up at third. Garrett was passed for the third time, and when Casey rapped a single to left Whaling registered. Bassey hit into a double play retiring. Bassey hit into a double play, retiring

In the seventh inning Van Haitren sent Dellar against Portland, and unlucky Phil auffered to the extent of two runs. Raf-tery, the first to face the new man, filed to Hogan. Johnson secured transporta-tion, and when Ryan laced his double against the right garden wall Ote accred. The hit-and-run play was then successfully pulled off. The largest crowd of the season was present this afternoon to witness the game with the Frakes, an excursion train on the Woodburn-Natron branch bringing about 300, the West Siders brought Umpire Jack Rankin along, to be assured of a square deal and began ragging him on the first decision he was called on to make.

Again, in the last of the second inning, they found fault with another decision and formed a mass meeting in the center of the diamond. Second Baseman Drennen became very obnoxious and applied some epithets to the umpire and was ordered to the bench.

The visitors had only nine men in uniform and there being no one to take his place. Umpire Rankin awarded the same to Woodburn by default, 9 to 3. Not wishing to disappoint the large crowd present, after 30 minutes' delay, it was agreed to finish the game as an exhibition affair. John Hunt umpired the remainder of the now lifeless contest. The final score stood 10 to 1 in favor of Woodburn.

Streets in Vicinity Are Being Placed in Good Condition to Accommodate Heavy Travel

Forms for the concrete columns which will support the steel and concrete super-structure of the big grandstand at the Country Club track are nearly all in place and the concrete work is also under way. The present week will see substantial headway made on the foundation work and within two weeks the steel construction will be begun. The streets leading from the Rose City Park carline to the entrance of the big tract, on the northern crest of the plateau, are being put into shape so that automobiles and the northern crest of the plateau, are being put into shape so that automobiles and carriages may be driven to the very gates of the grandstand if the motorists and those who drive out prefer to witness the races from the grandstand instead of stationing themselves inside the race track.

ready moved out to the grounds and will be located there from now on to the race meet and ilvestock show. He is giving personal supervision to the construction work on the show stables, though most of them are nearly finished, the race track, the grandstand and Hillcrest drive, and will have a permanent office established within a couple of weeks.

Negotiations are now under way for the installation of local and long distance telephone service by both companies, the booths to be located in the grandstand. The Home Company has erected poles to the grounds and will cut in its Country Club service from the new Hood River long distance line which runs out Sandy The Pacific Telephone Company will run a line over from Mount Tabor.

Inasmuch as both telegraph companies have lines running within a few blocks of the tract already, it will be an easy matter for them to run "drops" over to the track.
