WAVE UPSETS AND THREE-DEATH

All Trace of Man and Two Women Lost When Sailing Craft Overturns.

ACCIDENT NEAR EVERETT

Only One Cry for Help Is Heard. Launch Reaches Scene in 12 Minutes, but All Have Disappeared—Girls Were Nurses.

EVERETT, Wash., July 30.—(Special.)—

The lives were lost in this afternoon by the capsizing of the yawl Elizabeth in Everett harbor, about two miles from shore. The drowned are: George Morton, aged 35, his sister, Maudie Morton, and another young woman, Miss Florence Scott, of Victoria. Both the latter were nurses at Everett hospital.

The three went sailing late in the afternoon and were caught in a gusty squall. Young Morton was a good sailor, but it is supposed the boat was too large for him to handle unaided. Several persons saw the craft go over, but it was 15 minutes before a launch reached the scene, and then neither trace of boat nor of inmates could be found.

But one cry for help was heard. Search is now being made for the bodies.

NEWBERG'S TREE; BIG ONE

Old Yamhill to the Front Again With a Giant Cherry.

NEWBERG, Or., July 30.—(Special.)—Now that the various claimants in the "biggest cherry tree" controversy seem to have done their best, Newberg wishes to add what is believed will be the last word in behalf of the reputation of Old Yamhill.

The historic giant cherry tree of this county has not yet figured in the present controversy. It is located on the Abernethy place, southeast of Newberg. A measurement was made Tuesday which gave it a circumference of 8 feet 11 inches four feet from the ground—this against the Hubbard tree which is 2 inches less two feet from the ground. From limb to limb it covers an area 53 feet 7 inches in diameter.

This famous tree is productive in accordance with its size. Its record crop in any one season is a little over 3000 pounds of cherries.

FACES DEATH IN WAVES

Pleasure Party Narrowly Escapes Destruction in Rough Sea.

ASTORIA, Or., July 30.—(Special.)—Five men and one woman who were on the little launch Katie had a narrow escape from drowning in the lower harbor this afternoon. The launch is used as a tender for the Columbia River Packers' Association, and the party started for the sands with a heavy seine on the bow of the boat.

A heavy sea was running, and the bow being forced down, the weight upon the hatch and soon swamped the launch. Fortunately the launch pilot saw the distressed craft and rescued the people, and towed the Katie to shallow water.

Henry Ackerman, a gillnet fisherman, was captured on Peacock spit this afternoon and his boat and net were lost, but the men were rescued by the life-saving crew.

FOR PURE MEAT AND MILK

People and Organizations Support Eugene Campaign.

EUGENE, Or., July 30.—(Special.)—The pure food campaign upon which a number of Eugene citizens are actively working at present in the determination to see that the meat and milk supply of the city is as good as it can be made, is bringing to its support some of the most influential organizations of Eugene.

A petition, to be placed before the City Council, is being circulated by E. Schwarzwald, who was the originator of this reform, and the signatures, which are carefully solicited, include the leading physicians of the city and those citizens who are willing to stand by their rights in their efforts to secure the things asked for.

MARY BELL IN CUSTODY

Roseburg Authorities Waiting for Arrival of Portland Officer.

ROSEBURG, Or., July 30.—(Special.)—Mary Bell, the Portland girl arrested while riding in a boxcar in the railroad yards in this city yesterday, is still held by the authorities, awaiting the arrival of an officer from Portland, who it is reported will arrive tomorrow to return her to her home. The two men from Portland, giving their names as Nathan Gage and Jack Goodell, were each sentenced to five days' work on the streets on a charge of vagrancy.

JURY FAILS TO CONVICT

Roseburg Authorities Unable to Enforce Sunday Blue Laws.

ROSEBURG, Or., July 30.—(Special.)—Trial of the cases for alleged violation of the Sunday closing law was held this afternoon before Justice J. T. Long. Each defendant demanded a separate trial, and a jury was empaneled to try the cases. In the case of E. Rhodes, the first case called, it was proved conclusively that he had sold goods on Sunday, but after being out for several hours the jury disagreed and was discharged.

COUNCIL IN SOLE CONTROL

State Law Governs Right to Grant Franchise Privileges.

OLYMPIA, Wash., July 30.—(Special.)—The Seattle charter amendment (section 20 article 4) adopted this Spring, proposing to give the people control of a granting of franchises, is held void by the State Supreme Court as in violation of the state laws.

The decision affirms the holding of the King County Superior Court, in a case brought by Miles E. Benton against the Seattle Electric Company and city.

HOOD RIVER CELEBRATES

COMMERCIAL CLUB DAY BIG, THOROUGH SUCCESS.

Event So Successful That Plans Are Under Way to Make It Regular Annual Feature.

HOOD RIVER, July 30.—(Special.)—Yesterday was Commercial Club day at Hood River and everybody took a half holiday. The festivities commenced at 1 o'clock, when business of all kinds was suspended. The holiday was a success, due to the efforts of the officers of the club to enlarge its membership and raise additional funds to be used in publicity work.

The programme included a number of events for which admission was charged, the first being a ball game between two teams who dubbed themselves the Newtowns and Spitzbergen. The former were identified on the field by yellow ribbon tied around one of their arms and the latter by one that was red. The players were taken from the business and professional men of the town and the game was watched with intense interest by a large crowd of spectators. Seven innings were played and resulted in a victory for the Newtowns by a score of 16 to 9.

A tug-of-war which followed the ball game attracted a large number of spectators. The initiative for the formation of this circuit was taken by the Riverside Driving Club, of Portland, and the meeting to be held here to perfect the organization has been brought about by Manager B. E. Dasset, of the Albany Commercial Club, and D. O. Woodworth, a prominent local horseman, who has co-operated in the plans with A. C. Lohmire, of Portland, who has resigned his club membership and will send one delegate to the meeting here next month.

According to plans for the circuit, meets will be held in the circuit during the fall of each year. That at Salem, of course, be held at the State Fair, and Solo is expected to come into the circuit in the fall of next year. The schedule of meets would be arranged to fit in with local fairs and celebrations in each of the cities on the circuit.

That the time is ripe for the formation of a racing circuit in the Willamette Valley is conceded by horsemen. There is now great interest in horsemanship and racing, and all of the racing meets which have recently been held in valley towns have proved successful as entertaining and profitable to the community.

There are also a number of splendid tracks in the valley now. Plans for the certifying of the meeting of horsemen to be held here August 10 to form the new circuit, a meeting of local horsemen will be held in the rooms of the Albany Commercial Club tomorrow evening. Local horsemen have long been enthusiastic for such a circuit and the movement for an organization has met with great success here. The S. S. Bailey track at this city is probably the fastest in the Pacific Northwest, and Albany will be able to have a splendid meet.

Plan Big Dairy Near Astoria. ASTORIA, Or., July 30.—(Special.)—H. Weiss, a German dairy expert, who has been investigating conditions in various parts of this country including Alaska, for the government has resigned his position and located here for the purpose of starting a condensed milk plant. He is also working on a plan to form a colony in Germany, and this vicinity and through the Chamber of Commerce has secured options on about 50,000 acres of tidelands in the Lower Columbia River section.

Hugh G. Walker, of Weston. WESTON, Or., July 30.—(Special.)—Hugh G. Walker, a resident for over 20 years of Umatilla County and one of its best-known citizens, died last evening of tuberculosis after several years of illness. Mr. Walker made his home at Weston but followed farming near Hicks, where he owned 480 acres of valuable land. He is survived by his widow, four sisters and four brothers. Among the latter is Horace Walker, of Pendleton, County Commissioner.

For State Land Commissioner. CHEHALIS, Wash., July 30.—(Special.)—Albert Schooley, of Chehalis, chairman of the Democratic County committee, will file his declaration of candidacy for State Land Commissioner. Mr. Schooley has been County Auditor of Lewis County and been honored by his party in various ways. Four years ago he was defeated for State Senator by a few hundred votes, running many hundred votes ahead of his ticket.

Bitten by Cross Dog. CLIFFS, Wash., July 30.—(Special.)—Lee Malden was bitten four times by a cross dog and is thought to be seriously hurt. He has gone to Pasco for treatment, and will possibly go on to Tacoma. That is the fourth person the dog has bitten and the citizens required the owner to kill the dog.

Buy Grape Land at Lewiston. LEWISTON, Idaho, July 30.—(Special.)—F. Lynn Palmer, of Portland, has purchased a 30-acre tract three miles southeast of this city, which he will have planted to Tokay and European varieties of grapes next fall. C. T. Barker, of Portland, who accompanied Mr. Palmer, also purchased ten acres on which he will plant grapes. This makes a total of 50 acres of grape land bought by Portland men in this district during the last four months, the other buyers being Theodore Holecke and C. E. Grelle.

The mean height of all the land now above the sea is referred to by Lyle as being 1000 feet. The mean depth of the ocean is at least 12,000 feet.
