Religious Thinkers Radical Find Champions in Divinity School.

Biblical World, Published by Chicago University, Makes Startling Defense of Rational View of Religion and Sciences

CHICAGO, Aug. 2-(Special.)-Higher critics of the Bible, disbellevers in the orthodox teachings of the Christian Church and "exposers" of the falliblity of the "unscientific" elements of the scriptures today received full credit and defense of their views in an official publication issued by the leaders of the University of Chicago Divinity

Responsibility for the article was declared tonight to rest jointly with the 12 editors.

The critical number of the magazine sets forth startling visws in two other articles besides the editorial, the whole being calculated to dispose of non-progressive views on biblical subjects. Professor Geraid B. Smith, of the University of Chicago, urges a "same expression of religious convictions" in distinction to the present popular attitude in an article on "The Field of Systematic Theology Today," while the miracles of Christ's temptations in the New Tesiantent are attacked as illogical and fanciful by Professor J. Dick Fleming, of Winnipeg, Canada.

The editorial is to be regarded as the expression of all the editors rather than as the work of one man, according ing to the statement made by Professor Theodore G. Soares. Professor Ernest de Witt Burton, who has just left for China to study the needs of the Oriental peoples, is the editor-in-chief. palities met at 8 o'clock to receive re-turns of the local boards, but at 9 o'clock not a single ward had been reported. It is believed that, owing to the inexper-lence of the election officials with the new system, only a few scattering returns will be received tonight.

Signs Favor Conservatives.

Both the Zayistas and Conservatives are claiming Havana province and city, with the chances rather favoring the former party. Estimates from interior points indicate a close contest, with a fair prospect for a Conservative success in a majority of the provinces.

Governor Magoon says:

'In the City of Havana the vote was slightly in excess of 50 per cent of the registration. The indications are that the vote in the provinces will be larger, but. as the registration was forced, the per-centage compares favorably with the votes cast at elections in the United States. Perfect order, amounting to absolute tranquility, has prevailed throughout the Island. Only the civil authorities were utilized in preserving peace.

HIM WILLING AID

Success or Failure Will Decide Plans for Future-Veteran Aeronaut Confident His Machine Will Do the Work.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.- The officers of he Signal Corps are awaiting the official trials of Captain Baldwin's dirigible baloon on the tiptoe of expectancy. The irst preliminary flight is scheduled for Monday. The success or failure of the test will directly affect the plans of Genral James Allen, chief signal officer, and eral James Allen, chief signal officer, and the younger officers under him. In fact, the signal officers are displaying more anxiety than Captain Baldwin himself, who when questioned as to the probable result of the trials said: "That machine result of the trials said: Inst machine has got to be a success, else, I don't eat."
General Allen, the chief signal officer of the army, who is one of the most enthusiastic advocates of aeronautics of the army, has expressed his belief that Captain Baldwin's machine will fulfill all the reequirements. Last Winter General Allen endeavored to get an appropriation of 2500,000 from Congress for airships. He was unsuccessful and be realized that the trials will have to be successful, at least as far as the dirigible balloon is concerned, or there will be a very small chance of getting anything from Congress

Receives Willing Aid.

For this reason Captain Baldwin is re ceiving every assistance from the officers of the Signal Corps. Lieutenant Frank P. Lahm and Lieutenant Benjamin D. Foulors have not missed a day at the Fort Myer balloon-house since Captain Bald-win began the work of assembling his machine, and the entire balloon squad stationed at the fort has been placed at his disposal. Contrary to the general belief Captain

Baldwin's military dirigible, which is yet unnamed, is vastly different from any unnamed, is vastly different from any airship of its kind ever built in this country. If a success it will mean more scientifically than the 24-hour flight which Count Zeppelin proposes to make within a few days in his monster aerial ship.

The gas bag of the Zeppelin airship is just 20 times as large as that of the Baldwin "Aeronaut," and the eddies and counter currents in the air have practically no effect upon it. With Baldwin's dirigible, however, each varying disturtically no effect upon it. With Baldwin's dirigible, however, each varying disturbance will have to be counteracted. It is the success which Captain Baldwin will meet in this one particular which will be the determining factor in the acceptance or rejection of his machine. That he will succeed in fulfilling all of the other requirements of the tests, Captain Baldwin does not entertain the slightest doubt.

ing shifted, which is on the same prin-ciple that a tightrope walker balances himself in midair. By the specifica-tions under which Captain Baldwin Signal Service Men Pin Hopes to the balonet, which Captain Baldwin was awarded a contract to build a dirigible for the Army, this method will not be permitted. Instead, side rudders of planes must be used in addition to the balonet, which is a balloon within a balloon or by any any arms. within- a balloon, or by any other mechanical means. Captain Baldwin will depend principally on the balonet and the planes, of which he has four, two on each side of the frame, placed forward and aft.

In the meantime Captain Baldwin is optimistic. He has made over 1000 balloon ascensions without even being scratched, and although he is 54 years old, he displays the energy of a much younger man, to say nothing of his enthusiasm. He is very resourceful and has already devised a means of shifting a heavy sand bag to overcome the dif-ficulty of balancing, which is the only stumbling-block over which he has ex-
