DEVELOPS NEW CHERRY.-A new and beautiful cherry is slowly but surely being developed, through a discovery made by Dr. M. A. Flinn at his home on East Dr. M. A. Flinn at his home on Bast Washington street, a few years ago. What he saw were half a dozen large beautifully colored cherries, resembling the Lambert, on a straggling tree that had grown in his back ground. The cherries were large and firm and mahogany colored, larger than the Lambert although they might be mistaken for the Lambert. He sent scions far and wide with the result that some of the cherries are beginning to make their appearance. At Sunnyalie there is a tree which is just beginning to bear its cherries are similar to those Dr. Film first found on his tree. He finds that the cherries of the new variety come about two weeks earlier than the Lambert. Dr. Film expects soom to hear from the scions sent away some three years ago to California and elsethree years ago to Chilfornia and else-where, and he believes that his cherry will be one of the finest, if not the finest,

DRAWS BUILDING PLANS .- H. C. Davis is Draws Building Plans.—H. C. Davis is preparing pians for the main building for the district fair at Gresham. This building will be about 60x150 feet and will be of rustic construction. Plans are merely tentative as yet and will be submitted to the fair association when it has been organized. A. F. Miller, who is a member of the committee on organization, said Saturday that enough of the $5000 in stock will probably be subscribed during the present week, but if not, Gresham business men are expected to step in and make up what is required so the association may form an organization to do bustmake up what is required so the association may form an organization to do business. The Gresham Council has an option on several pieces of land for a park which will be used as permanent fair-grounds and a selection will probably be made in a few days. The East Side Business Men's Club will assist in every way it can to interest business men of Portland in the fair. The club will have at least one day at the fair and will attend in a body. tend in a body

THREE COUNTY ROADS OILED.—Mulinomah County's roads will soon be as far famed as those in lands where the highways have been improved on for many generations. During the past month, three prominent roads have been oiled, the expenses having been borne by the property-owners living alongside the throughfares, and the county. For the oiling of the Sandy Road from East Twenty-eight street to the end of the carline, $880 were expended, one-half of which was paid by the adjoining land-owners. Of the $360 paid for oiling the Section Line road from East Forty-first street to the Grange Hall, one-half was paid by the county. The White House road has also been oiled for some distance, $750 being subscribed by near-by property-owners and $200 by the county. Occupy Forders Church, — The new THREE COUNTY ROADS OTLED .- Multno-Occupy Forsus Church. — The new Forbes Presbyterian Church, Gantenbein avenue and Seliwood street, which re-placed the structure destroyed by fire De-cember 17, 1907, was occupied yesterday by the congregation. Every member was in his place, and the entire congregation was delighted to get back home after so long an absence. The auditorium was attractively decorated. Handsome carpets and pews had been put in during the week. Rev. H. H. Pratt, the pastor, spoke of the loyalty of the church members in responding so liberally and promptly with funds for the rebuilding of the church. Many outsiders had contributed, W. M. Ladd giving $250, toward the building fund. At 349 Holla-day avenue a box call was sent in and the department found no, fire. The call resulted from a large quantity of smoke issuing from a furnace chimney. CONCRETE WORK COMPLETED .- The conrete work, including the foundation for the lers and the two end abutments, for the Union-avenue bridge across Sullivan's Gulch, was finished Saturday. The wooden forms of the north side abutment were cut away. The next step will be to swing the steel frame of the bridge into place. Anniversabt of Big Fire.—Today is the anniversary of the great conflagration that devastated Portland 35 years ago. It is said to have been the greatest fire in the history of the city and the loss was heavy. At that time the southern portion of the city was rather compactly built. The most solid portion of the city was from Morrison street to Jefferson and from Third to the river. The fire started at 4 o'clock on the morning of August 2 and raged for two days. It completely destroyed all the property between Yamhili and Jefferson streets and from Second street to the river, including the docks. Other buildings were destroyed as far north as Morrison street and beyond Jefferson. It was only a few years after the great Chicago disaster and offers of financial aid came pouring in from all parts of America. Mayor Failing, at that time the city's executive refused all offers, declaring that every one in Portland could take care of himself.

sel was en route, there were a number of minor mixups, but only a small quan-tity of gore was spilled upon the decks. The main events were pulled off after the steamer reached the dock. A fancied grievance on the part of a youth with curly locks caused a small set-to at the head of the slip and another whose integrity had been questioned stood by to settle the matter. He was at length prevalled on to go home and in the mean-time the victim-to-be made his exit by means of the after gangway.

The principal event of the day was a set-to between a man and wife on the applied a number of endearing terms to his spouse, who falled to interpret his words correctly. She forthwith hit her and on the return there was an effort to clean up the remainder. Not so, how-ever, with the beer. This exhilarating beverage was used up long before the hour of returning and there was a loud demand which lee cream could not sat-lefy. All in all, the annual excursion of the liquor men was a huge success.

The committee in charge is corresponding with the president of the Oregon Agricultural College with a view to securing some of the members of the faculty for addresses, and others have already been asked to attend. The programme for the three days will be modeled after those of Chautauqua gatherings. The grove where the institute will be held is three-quarters of a mile from the end of the Montaof a mile from the end of the Montavilla carline. It is expected that ar-rangements will be made to run a conveyance between the grove and the car. Russellville Grange is a new grange. E. C. Huffman is master. It will erect a building that will cost about $5000.

SITE PURCHASED FOR ERECTION OF NEW WEST SIDE HIGH SCHOOL

BLOCK BOUNDED BY SEVENTEENTH, EIGHTEENTH, COUCH AND DAVIS STREETS, FOR WHICH DISTRICT PAID ABOUT $100,000

Announcement in The Oregonian yesterday of the purchase of a site for a new and modern high school Announcement in The Oregonian yesterday of the purchase of a site for a new and modern high school for the West Side, created great in terest. There was general approval of the action of the Board of Education in looking to the future, and especially in securing a location so central. The property is bounded by Seventeenth, Eighteenth, Couch and Davis streets, and is considered choice ground for the purpose.

The purchase of the ground is the only definite action of the Board of Education thus far. It was officially announced, however, after a brief session of the directors yesterday afformoon, that the new high school building will require another bond issue, and that when the time comes to proceed with the work the taxpayers will be called upon to yo te.

taxpayers will be called upon to vo te.

The style of architecture, details of construction, size and cost-are matters still to be worked out, as it is considered improbable that the new structure will be built in less than two years. However, another year may see the actual work of construction begun, it is said.

The property purchased by the Board of Education is now occupied by nice residences, and it is understood the price paid was about $1,20,000. The sale of the old high school building and site is expected to more than pay for the property at Couch and Seventeenth streets, and will likely be sold within a year, with the stipulation that it may be used as long as needed by the School Board.

PARTY VISITS KLAMATH .- A DARLY CO

delighting large crowd.

THE "Tannhauser" overture and the ballet music from "Faust" were the principal numbers rendered by the De Caprio Band at the City Park yesterday afternoon. As on previous occasions, the band demonstrated that it can render with authority the majestic harmonies of the German master musician. The seven dance forms from Gounod's "Faust" were given no less effectively. Both selections were warmly received and encores were given.

A grand selection from Verdi's "Jeru salem" was another number that brought all the band's powers into play. Music of another type but which earned the appreciation of the audience was an "Hoberera," by Roberts, and the "Inriousies, by Roberts, and the in-termiczzo Passacolle" (Gregh). Weber's "Invitation to the Dance," Ischaikowsky's "Slav, March" and Rossin's "Sacred Chorus," were three high-class numbers admirably rendered. Signor De Caprio's baritone solo also pleased. The programme was concluded with the "Star Spangled Banner."

Spangled Banner."

No little regret has been expressed that after next Sunday the band concerts in the City Park will be discontinued as the arrangement with the city terminates at that time. There has been an increase in the attendance as the season progressed, and the work of the band has at each concert been received with marked appreciation.

MRS. TRAIL WANTS DIVORCE

"With the Juvenile Court moving to new quarters outside the Courthouse, the county officials hovering about the City Hall for room, inadequate quarters for the grand jury when it begins its monthly sessions in September, and the jail well filled, it is absolutely imperative that action looking to the erection of a new building be taken at once, he said. "The Juvenile Court has never had quarters of its own, as it occupied Judge Frazer's Large Crowd Attends Festivities." Large Crowd Attends Festivities, its own, as it occupied Judge Frazer's chambers until his death, and now holds ns in Judge Gantenbein's co room. At times it is necessary to use his private chambers in the trial of special cases. This will soon be obviated, but the court will be outside the building.

Will Install Jury Box.

"I have decided to have a jury-box installed in department No. 2, which has been occupied by Judge Cleiand," continued Judge Morrow, "This will make the quarters cramped, but there is no other way. It is very unsatisfactory for the judges to change courtrooms for the hearing of cases. The work in remodeling the room will begin about August 15. It will be completed before the September term of court begins.

The new Courthouse should have at The new Courhouse should have at least is courtrooms. Seattle has eight cir-cuit judges. San Francisco has at least 16, and Los Angeles has 12. Portland has but three besides the Presiding Judge, yet her court business is constantly increasing, and is now so congested that three judges can scarcely grapple with it. Circuit Court cases are at present set as far ahead as November 20. When as far ahead as November 20. When Judge Cleland takes the bench again to-morrow, after his vacation, it is probable that he will set cases in February. By an arrangement of this sort justice cannot be done, for cases should be brought to trial within a reasonable time. We need two more circuit judges at once, and ten years from now a Courthouse with is courtrooms will be found none too large."

Will File Oath Tomorrow

Judge Morrow will probably file his oath of office with Secretary of State Benson morrow. He took the oath and signed he necessary papers on June 18, before George W. Hazen, a notary public. The Oregon statute provides that a judge may take office on the first Mon-

Judge may take office on the first Mon-day in July. Judge Morrow does not regard this provision as mandatory, how-ever, hence when Judge O'Day and mem-hers of the legal profession came to him and asked that he permit his predecessor to remain upon the bench for two weeks longer, until decisions were rendered in the cases under advisances. Luigo Morrow the cases under advisement, Judge Mor-row consented. Then Judge O'Day was retained in a number of law suits, and pects to qualify Tuesday.

Judge O'Day appeared upon the bench for the last time Friday, but the Constitution provides that a judge shall con-tinue in office until his successor shall have qualified. On account of this pro-vision, found in article 5, section 15, Ore-gon Constitution, Judge O'Day will prob-ably go out of office Tuesday.
