STEAMER JANETA FIXED FOR WHEAT

Kerr, Gifford & Co. Charter Vessel for September Loading at Portland.

Grain Charters Slow for Month Past on Account of Condition of Wheat Market - Exporters Buying Heavily.

Kerr, Gifford & Co. have chartered the British steamsnip Janeta for September loading at Portland. The destination is given as St. Vincents for orders and she will probably discharge at some port in the Mediterranean. The Janeta is now at Sydney and she will cross the Pacific with a cargo of coal, either for the West Coast or for San Execution. The versal registers 2773. Francisco. The vessel registers 2779

Charters for grain have been few during the last month. There has been a tendency to await the reports on the wheat crop before fixing too many vesels for Portland loading. Exporters have been buying heavily of late and the purchases amount to about 125,000 the purchases amount to about 125,000 bushels of wheat a day, which is more than a cargo for an average sailing vessel. At the present time, tonnage on the en route list amounts to about 10,000 more than at the corresponding time last year. The North Bank road and the Open River Company will bring in a quantity of wheat which will greatly increase the business over the amount handled during the fiscal year of 1907.8. With encouraging reports of 1907-3. With encouraging reports from the grain belt this lead will be greatly increased and the export season of 1908-9 will break all records for the Steam tonnage will be used to a greater extent than formerly for the transportation of grain. There are a large number of tramps in Pacific waters without charters and they will have rates a little in order to well shave rates a little in order to get cargo. The majority of the sailing ships fly the French flag.

Land-Fraud Indictments Dismissed by the Federal Court.

Decks Are Cleared in Many Pending Cases-Binger Hermann's Trial Is Set for November 9-Disposition of Other Cases.

Seven of the pending "Heney" landfraud indictments were yesterday dis missed in whole or in part in the United States Court on motion of Tracy C Becker, Special Assistant Attorney-General, and on the recommendation Francis J. Heney himself. The trial of Binger Hermann, in the famous "Blue Mountain" case, was set for November 9. The other cases were continued until the October term.

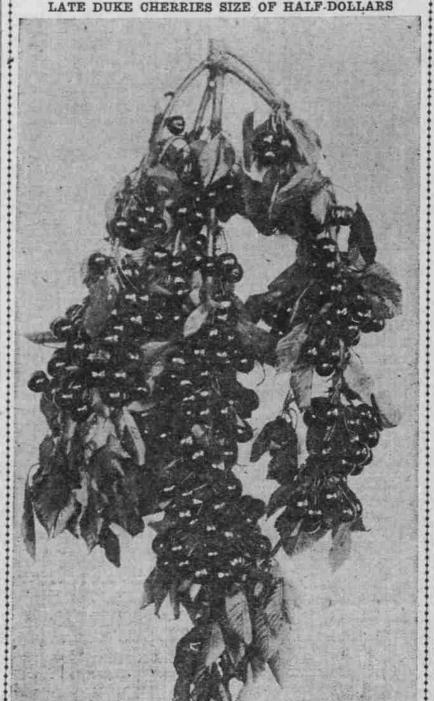

Dr. William H. Davis and Clark E. Loomis, an ex-Special Agent, who were indicted jointly in December, 1904, with Salmon B. Ormsby on a charge of conspiracy, yesterday withdrew their former pleas of not guilty and pleaded guilty. Dr. Davis was fined $500 but the sentence of Loomis, who is expected to be a witness for the prosccution in the Hermann trial, was suspended. Another indictment against Dr. Davis, alleging perjury, was dismissed on motion of Mr. Becker who interceded for Albany's ex-Mayor and recommended to the court the assessment of a minimum fine on the conspiracy charge. Mr. Becker said he had Loomis, an ex-Special Agent, who were spiracy charge. Mr. Becker said he had been informed that owing to the improvi-dence and extravagance of members of his family, Dr. Davis for some time had been practically bankrupt and for that reason recommended a moderate fine.

An Unpleasant Duty.

In pronouncing sentence against Davis, In pronouncing sentence against Davis, Judge Wolverton commented on the fact that it was an unpleasant duty for him to perform. Judge Wolverton explained that he had been acquainted with Dr. Davis for years and had known him to be an honorable and reputable citizen. The court regarded that the offense of Dr. Davis was the result of a mistake rather than a criminal intent.

In the same indictment the conspiracy charge was dismissed as against Elbert charge was dismissed as against Elbert K. Brown and Mrs. Nellie Brown on mo-tion of Mr. Becker, who sald he was satisfied from the facts in the case that the connection of these defendants with the alleged conspiracy was only slight and involved no criminal intent on their part. After reading a letter from Heney, in which the graft prosecutor confessed that he believed the alleged conspiracy was barred under the statute of limitations at the time the indictment was retions at the time the indictment was re-turned. Mr. Becker caused the dismissal of the indictment in which Claude Thay-er and others were charged with a con-spiracy to acquire several thousand acres of Tiliamook County timber lands fraudu-lently. Mr. Hency directed this disposi-tion of the indictment. Aside from Thay-er, the other defendants included in the

DOUGLAS COUNTY PRODUCT.

The latest record-breaking cherries of the season in Douglas County are found in a crop of the "Late Duke," which have been marketed from a fruit ranch near Roseburg and placed on the market. The accompanying illustration shows several of the cherries, comparing them in size with a silver half-dollar piece. Each cherry is almost as large as a half-dollar.

The Late Duke is a dark red cherry, of fine flavor, and in the Southern Oregon locality, seems to thrive. During the cherry season this year, cherries as big as a quarter of a dollar have been placed on the market, but this crop exceeds all others so far shown.

that the statute of limitations had run against the offense, recalls that when prosecuting the John H. Hall case, Heney dragged this alleged conspiracy into the evidence offered against Hall as showing other unlawful transactions with which Hall was said to have been associated.

The Meldrum Indictment

Indictment No. 2912, charging Henry Meldrum and others with conspiracy by making fraudulent surveying contracts, vas dismissed as against Livy Stipp. At the time the indictment was returned, Stipp was justice of the peace at Oregon City where he now holds the office of Deputy District Attorney. In asking for the dismissal of the indictment against Stipp, Mr. Becker expiained to the court that Stipp was not an active participant in the alleged conspiracy and did only what he did as a Notary Public without a knowledge of the criminal intentions and operations of the originators of the conspiracy.

Another indictment dismissed was that against Joseph Black and others in what is known as the "Wisconsin" case. These City where he now holds the office of is known as the "Wisconsin" case. These men were indicted for a conspiracy to defraud the Government of timberland in this state but the prosecution was de-feated in an attempt to cause the re-moval of the defendants from Wisconsin to Oregon for trial. Rather than have to Oregon for trial. Rather than have the docket further encumbered by the case. Mr. Becker caused it to be dismissed as to all of the defendants.

Mr. Becker also had indictment No. 4849, known as the "Los Angeles" case, dismissed as against the defendants Warren Gillelen, Robert W. Kenny, Jacob C. Cross and George L. Stearns. This is the case in which the officers of the Pacific Furniture & Lumber Company and their agents were indicted for seek-to rob the Government of nearly 9000 acres of timber land in Curry County, Trials Resumed in October.

The grind of the land-fraud cases will be resumed Monday, October 12, when Mr. Becker has arranged for the trial of the Pacific Furniture & Lumber Com-pany case. The trial of this case is expected to occupy fully four weeks, as the Government has approximately 2000 letters relating to the alleged conspiracy letters relating to the alleged conspiracy and which probably will be offered as exhibits. Following this case, the trial of Binger Hermann will be taken up, a postponement of this trial from the Oc-tober term for which it had been set having been agreed to by the Govern-ment at the request of A. S. Worthing-ton, chief counsel for Hermann, who has gone for a trip abroad and will not re-

In arranging this order of the cases In arranging this order of the cases Mr. Becker requested the court to set the retrial of the Williamson case immediately after the Hermann trial, for the renson that if Heney comes to Portland to try Hermann, which he intended to do, he would desire to retry the Williamson case at the same time. All of the other cases were continued until the October term, no definite date being set for any of them.

Day J. Malackey asked that the indictment charging Frank El Alley and others with conspiracy be set for trial at the earliest convenience of the court. He explained that he represented Mr. Alley, who was particularly desirous of an immediate trial. Owing to the fact that three cases had already been set for trial and probably would take up several weeks, Mr. Becker declined to indicate any definite date for the Alley trial, alany definite date for the Alley trial, al-though he assured Mr. Malarkey that the case would be called just as soon as it was possible. At the same time he advised counsel for the defense that the Government had failed to apprehend two of the defendants in the case and until of the defendants in the case and until they had been located and arrested the Government desired to proceed cautiously in the prosecution of the charge. Mr. Malarkey pointed out that his client, prior to his indictment, was an extensive practitioner as Land Office Attorney, but during the pendency of the indictment and the trial thereunder he had been suspended from the practice and practically cut off from the vocation on which he depended largely for a livelfhood. The only satisfaction Mr. Malarkey received was that the case against Alley nood. The only satisfaction Mr. Malarkey received was that the case against Alley could not be called until after the Pa-cific Furniture & Lamber Company, Binger Hermann and Williamson cases had been tried.

Expected More Dismissals.

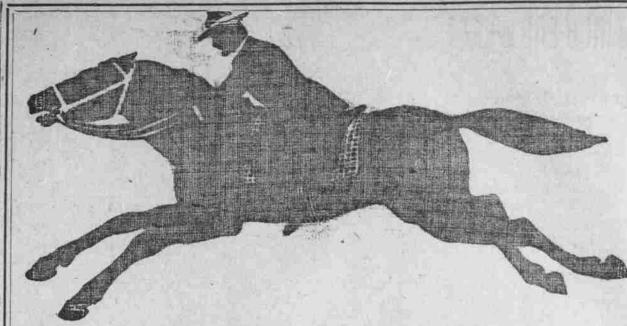

It was expected that a larger num of the indictments would be dismissed yesterday, for it has been regarded for some time that the Government did not some time that the Government did not intend to prosecute all that were returned by Henrey. That more of them were not dropped yesterday undoubtedly was due to the fact that the prosecution is relying on a number of these defendants as witnesses against Hermann. No chances will be taken by the Government, and it is not expected that any of the other indictments will be dismissed until after the Hermann trial and perhaps not until Williamson has been retried.

In concluding his remarks, Mr. Becker thanked the court for the extreme courtesy and consideration that had been extended during the long and thresome land-tesy and consideration that had been ex-tended during the long and thresome land-fraud cases tried during the last six weeks. Replying, Judge Wolverton com-mended Mr. Becker, as the representative of the Government, for the able and care-ful manner in which he had conducted the prosecution of the cases. Judge Wol-verton also extended his felicitations to counsel for the defense for their ener-getic and faithful work in behalf of their clients.
