REALTY BUSINESS GROWS

COUNTY CLERK'S OFFICE IS SHOWING INCREASE.

Receipts for Filing Deeds and Mortgages for July Exceed Those for Same Month Last Year.

A larger volume of real estate business passed through the County Clerk's office last month than during the same period last year, as shown by the monthly re-port just compiled. For filing deeds and port just complete. For ming decids and morrgages property-owners paid into the countr's coffers last month $2000, while during the same period in 1907 the receipts were $2512.07. The total amount received last month by County Clerk Fleids was $4601.55, $1623.10 of this being from the County Court department and $389.45 from the Circuit Court department. In the latter there has been a falling off, doubtless due to the vacation season. probable that suits accumulating in the offices of local attorneys while they are enjoying their vacations will be filed in the early Fall. This will swell the County Cierk's receipts and also congest the Circuit Court docket.

County Clerk Fields paid out for salaries last month 1988 N and for supplies at 5218 N, making a total expense of $555.95. Making a total expense of $555.95.

Of the amount expended for supplies $600 of Hillsboro.

used in the Circuit Court vault.

This outlay lowered the profit last month to $1124.69. In July, 1907, it was $1959.99, the receipts being $4657.62, expenses $2537.62. Of the receipts $2537.62.

Was taken in by the recording department, $1272.60 by the County Court and $912.55 by the Circuit Court. Salaries during July, last year, were $2400, supplies $237.52.

How the real extension

How the real estate business has grown in the last six years may be gathered from the fact that during July, 1902, only $809.75 was received by the recording de-partment. The receipts in the Circuit Court at that time were $223.40 and in the County Court $381.90. The Circuit Court is now handling about four times the business of 1802. In July, 1902, the county paid $2104.46 in salaries and $296.50 for supplies, or a total of $260.96 for the running expenses of the County Clerk's office. fice. The expenditures exceeded the ceipts by $883.91.

the street, he saw the two men fleeing down Flanders street.

He at once gave chase, but was unable to overtake the fugitives. He ordered them to halt, but they paid no heed to his commands, continuing their flight. A large crowd was attracted by the chase and many joined.

After repeated calls to the fugitives to stop, the officer opened fire. At the first shot the men hesitated, but after a moment's deliberation continued. The officer fired again, and altogether four shots were fired by the men refused to name were fired, but the men refused to pause. ### SPECIAL CLOTHING SALES

To Boost Dull Month's Trade.

August is the dullest month in the year refused to stop. A witness to the shooting who was close to the fugitive threw out his foot and tripped him and the officer placed him in custody.

A thousand or more people were attracted by the shoots and joined in the chase. It was late in the afternoon when Officer Craddock raided an opium den at 453 Flanders street. He had heard that two negroes, Joe Redd and Frank Morgan, were in the place. He is said to have known them to be victims of the Chinaman's "yeng-she," and was determined to cause their arrest.

He entered through the front door, and evidently one of the Chinese immates warned the two negroes, for they escaped

SOME FACTS REGARDING PORTLAND CEMENT, AND HOW IT IS MADE

Artificial Mixture of Lime and Clay, Burned to Clinker and Ground-Named Because of Resemblance to Natural Stone of Isle of Portland.

position of the material is a subject that will, be considerably discussed from this time until the works are in operation. A short history of the discovery and subsequent spread of the use of the material is of present in-

In Professor J. B. Johnson's "Materials of Construction," Portland cement is described as "an artificial mixture of lime and clay in proper proportions, calcined to a clinker at a temperature of incipient fusion, and when finally ground, is given its name. It received this name in 1824 in England, where it was first made, from its similarity in appearance when hardened to the noted collitic limestone from the James Parker, in England, in 1786.)

This was made by calcining nodules (geodes) of a clayer limestone, found along the sea coast, at a heat nearly sufficient to vitrify them, and grinding the product. (This was patented by James Parker, in England, in 1786.) Isle of Portland, long used in England brickmaker, as an 'artificial stone.' "Since a good Portland cement, with or without sand. gravel and broken stone, makes an artificial compound equal to almost any natural stone in hardness, strength and durability, and since it can be moulded to any form and is much cheaper than quarried and cut stone, it is constantly finding wide and wider fields of application. Thi material has already worked a revolution in engineering construction nearly equal in significance to that following ipon the general use of the Bessemo and open-hearth processes of making "The character of Portland cement also has constantly improved, till now it has reached practical perfection. Within the past 20 years the improve-ment has been very marked, as a result of the universal system of testing now in vogue, and of the general employ-ment of competent scientific super-vision of the works, made necessary by these tests on the part of the user.
