A pathetic sight was seen in the Coun-ty Clerk's office in Newport, Ky. yes-terday, when a young man carried in his arms a legiess roung woman to the li-cense counter and applied for a marriage license. The pair gave their names as John B. Bapp, of Seattle. Wash., and Pearl Ruppell, of Portland, Ind. They went from Cincinnati in a cab to the city across the river and when the man stepped from the cab with the young woman in his arms he attracted a crowd. In the clerk's office he placed her on the counter while the document was being prepared. The young woman's legs were amputated as the result of a railroad accident. After securing the license the couple went to a parsonage

At that time Mr. Hayes met Miss Meldrum, and became fond of her company, but thought, perhaps, that his tender feeling was but an idle infat-uation. He lingered in Dundee to be near Miss Meldrum and missed his ship back to Bombay.

Finally he sailed for Bombay, and they corresponded for a while, but be-came more infrequent until they ceased altogether.

The engineer returned from India buildings. He had gone but a few yards when he was seen and halted by one of the guards. He surrendered and quietly returned to the penitentiary.
