JUDGES CANNOT COPE WITH TASK

Work Piling Up Ahead of State Circuit Court Will Swamp Them.

VIEWS OF JUDGE CLELAND

Declares Four Departments Never Can Catch Up With Growing Volume of Business—He Says New Courthouse Is Needed.

That the Circuit Court is now so congested with cases that there is no hope of ever catching up with its work, unless more Judges are appointed, was the statement made yesterday by Presiding Judge Cleland. He said that cases are coming into court faster than the Judges will be able to handle them, beginning the first Monday in September.

"There has been no increase in the number of Circuit Judges in the last 15 years," said Judge Cleland. "Four Judges handled the business then as now. But they were able to cope with the task then. Now four Judges are unable to do it.

"Before the bank holidays, last Fall, we were just about keeping even, and I thought an increase in the number of Judges would not be necessary. But we received a backset then, from which we have not been able to recover, and shall not be able.

"We not only need more Judges, but we need a new and larger Courthouse, and we need it at once. There should be six courtrooms at least. When this building was erected it was planned to have only one large courtroom. Department No. 1 occupied almost the entire width of the structure. As an afterthought, the portion of the building now occupied by Judge Gantenbein, at the north end of the building, was made into a courtroom for Judge Stearns. When four Circuit Judges were appointed Department No. 1 was divided, the stairway placed in the center of the building and the south end of the building modeled into a courtroom. That room is so small that I doubt if a jury box can be installed without a removal of partitions. In that case where shall we put the law library?

"According to the present arrangement of Department No. 1 persons going to and from the quarters of the Probation Officers and to the Circuit Court department of the County Clerk's office must pass through the room to the disturbance of cases on trial.

"What need is there for having the Juvenile Court located in this building, anyway? And where is the necessity for having one of the Circuit Judges act as Juvenile Judge? I believe the Juvenile Court Judge should give his entire time to the work, without having his attention divided to care for the work of the Circuit Court.

"I believe it would be a better outlay of funds to issue bonds for the erection of a new courthouse than for the building of city wharves along the waterfront."

MAY CHARGE INCENDIARISM

District Attorney Probing Cause of Fire at Creston.

A rigid investigation is being made into the causes that led to the destruction of Cranfill & Deter's grocery and Dr. C. E. Bogue's drugstore at Creston on the Mount Scott carline a few nights ago. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin.

Deputy District Attorney Fitzgerald is conducting the inquiry, which was taken up yesterday. Several witnesses were examined, whose testimony may result in a number of arrests in the near future.

It was announced yesterday that nothing had yet been developed on which the District Attorney would be warranted in acting. It is expected, however, that testimony of an incriminating character will be heard at today's inquiry. Mr. Fitzgerald has summoned nearly 20 witnesses and it will require some time to examine them all. According to the evidence so far heard, the fire was ignited by the use of kerosene and started outside the grocery store, but beside the wall where a tank of oil adjoined on the inside. It is expected to complete the investigation this afternoon.

REPORT DENIED BY BAILEY

Says He Has No Deal With Bourne for Postoffice.

Report that State Senator A. A. Bailey, of Multnomah, has consummated a deal with Senator Bourne for appointment of Mr. Bailey as Postmaster of Portland, is denied by Mr. Bailey, who says that he has had no communication with Mr. Bourne on that or any other subject for a year. The term of John W. Minto, present Postmaster, will end next December. His successor, according to Senatorial courtesy, will be named by Bourne, and there is considerable speculation as to whom Bourne will choose for the position.

Mr. Bailey heretofore has been an anti-Bourne man, although he was elected in 1906 as a Statement No. 1 State Senator. Since the report of the deal with Bourne got started, gossips have surmised that Bourne was holding out promises in order to keep Bailey in line for Statement No. 1 and election of Chamberlain as United States Senator. Mr. Bailey says the report is wholly without foundation.

MAY ADVERTISE SERVICE

Attorney-General Rules on Forestry Bureau Publicity Work.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Aug. 4.—A clause in the agricultural appropriation bill affecting the Forest Service has been the subject of a recent opinion by the Attorney General. The clause provided that no part of the appropriation for the Forest Service "shall be paid or used for the purpose of paying for in whole or in part the preparation or publication of any newspaper or magazine articl, but this shall not prevent the giving out tto all persons without discrimination, including newspaper and magazine writers and publishers, of any facts or official information of value to the public."

The question was submitted to the Attorney General by the Secretary of Agriculture, whether this provision of the law prohibited the sending to newspapers, writers and others of such statements as has been distributed in the past. To this inquiry the Attorney General replied:

You express the view that in distributing such information as is compiled and sent out by the Forest Service, especially to persons engaged in the practice or study of forestry, and generally to the public at large through the newspapers and magazines, you are fulfilling the primary and fundamental duty imposed upon the Department of Agriculture by section 520 of the Revised Statutes. Information thus given out will be accompanied by a notice that it is sent in accordance with the proviso to the appropriation act of 1908. There will, therefore, be no discrimination; and you say, further, that no money will be paid on this account to any newspaper or magazine or to any newspaper or magazine writer or publisher, or to any person not regularly employed in the Forest Service. Obviously, such information as has been collected and distributed heretofore and will continue to be sent out is of value to the public, and certainly your determination that it is so, as head of the Department of Agriculture, is conclusive.

Under this state of facts I can see no reason to doubt that your conception of your official duty in this respect is legally correct, and that the forester may lawfully distribute information as proposed; and I am also of the opinion that information requested by a newspaper or magazine writer or publisher may lawfully be sent in the form of a letter.

CONFER ON HAZING CASE

PRESIDENT TALKS WITH WEST POINT SUPERINTENDENT.

Both Refuse to Tell Result of Interview—Many Visitors at Oyster Bay.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Aug. 7. — No definite information regarding the two conferences in which President Roosevelt engaged at Sagamore Hill today could be gained from any of those who participated. Colonel Scott, Superintendent of the West Point Military Academy, talked with the President concerning the cases of the eight cadets recently suspended for hazing. It is believed that the President maintained his earlier position that clemency might be shown without violence to military discipline, and that Colonel Scott held to his former and contrary opinion.

The attitude of the President has already been made known, and he is supposed to have sought today a thorough expression of both sides on the matter. If a final decision was reached it was scrupulously withheld from the newspaper men, and will be announced from the War Department possibly on Monday.

National Chairman Hitchcock discussed politics with the President earlier in the day, but he too was noncommunicative later. He contented himself with saying that his conversation with the President concerned politics in general.

Notwithstanding the large number of guests whom he entertained during the day the President did not fail to have his usual hard exercises.

The first arrival of the day was welcomed by Mr. Roosevelt in outing garments and damp with the perspiration that several hard sets at tennis had started. A dozen visitors were entertained. The first to arrive was O. V. Davis, of the New York Times, who had been summoned to answer some questions the President desired to ask. Then came Secretary Wright, Colonel Scott, Mr. Hitchcock, H. T. Higginson and John P. Elkins, of Boston, and Gerritt Forbes, a big-game hunter. They were all guests at luncheon.

NEW YORK PRAISES CIRCUS

Declares Barnum & Bailey Show Best in All Its History.

At the opening of the Barnum & Bailey circus season at the Madison Square Garden in New York this year the performance was declared to be the most delightful ever presented there. Night after night and day after day for several weeks the garden was crowded and the circus voted the best in its 54 years of world travel. With the most elaborate parade ever devised, an all-star company of Europeans and a complete new equipment throughout, there is little wonder the circus is attracting unusual attention. Just as presented in New York the two performances will be given in this city, unchanged in the slightest detail.

Sawmills Told to Be Careful.

HILLSBORO, Or., Aug. 7.—(Special.)—Deputy District Attorney T. H. Tongue has sent out notices to all sawmill-owners to see that the law governing spark arresters is complied with in all instances. This is of prime importance where little sawmills are operating close to large bodies of standing timber.

NEW PLAN FAVORED

Councilmen Speak for Change in City Government.

WOULD SIMPLIFY WORK

Four Out of Five Members of Street Committee Believe Benefit Would Result From Commission System.

The commission form of city government finds strong favor, even among members of the City Council. Four out of five members of the Council committee on streets, interviewed yesterday, expressed themselves as inclined to this change in the municipal administration. These are Councilmen Wallace, Vaughn, Cottel and Driscoll. Councilman Kellaher is not favorable to the change, as he says it concentrates too much power in the hands of a few.

No members of the Council are in a better position to judge of the need for a change in the city government plan than those who belong to the street committee, as they are familiar with the ins and outs of the charter provisions as to street improvements. Their work is very heavy, as the committee on streets is the one before which the vast volume of street improvements, franchises and other similar matters comes for consideration. These entail a large amount of work and require much time for consideration.

"From what I have heard and read of the commission form of city administration, I am favorable to it," said Mr. Wallace. "I do not know a great deal about it, but I do realize fully that Portland must have some change in its administration. As the charter now stands, it makes the municipal work too unwieldy. We need a change that will give some one power to do something. Take, for example, the problems of a city crematory and City Jail. These are items for which we have been striving for years, yet we are now standing where we stood when we first set out. Notwithstanding the great need of these things, we cannot get them, and the outlook is not at all good that we will get them. You cannot get 15 men to agree on any site for either building, or on the details of the building, if you could secure sites."

Messrs. Cottel, Driscoll and Vaughn expressed similar opinions. All favor the commission plan of city administration, from what they have heard of it. At any rate, they say, something must be done soon to remedy the clumsy system now in vogue.

Councilman Kellaher said:

"I do not believe in the commission form of city government. It concentrates too much power in the hands of a few men. This I oppose. And I will also say that the present city charter is a good one, and needs few changes, as I see it. It needs some altering, but not much, and, if great care is not exercised, you will find that the people will not stand for it; they will vote down every amendment and revision that may be recommended by the charter commission, if the greatest care is not used."

Mayor Lane is awaiting replies from the 15 men who were named on the charter commission, and when these are received, he will issue a call for a preliminary meeting, at which organization will be perfected and the work of the commission outlined.

NO REPLY FROM CAKE

SILENT AS TO PLANS FOR TAFT CAMPAIGN.

Unless State Chairman Acts Soon, Ralph Williams May Take Active Charge in Oregon.

Senator Fulton's peace proposal to W. M. Cake, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, for appointment of a Taft campaign committee by Mr. Cake, has not received the approval of Cake. No reply has come from Cake, to the senders of the message, asking Cake to appoint as the committee Ralph Williams, of Dallas, National Committeeman; George H. Williams, J. P. Kennedy, F. W. Leadbetter and C. Ben Riesland, of Portland.

Should Cake fail to reply and should he be absent from Oregon throughout August, it is altogether likely that National Committeeman Williams will undertake the Taft campaign himself, under instructions from the National Committee. This would amount to ignoring or repudiating Chairman Cake and the Republican State Central Committee. It might also lead to reviving the plan for ousting Cake from the state chairmanship.

National Committeeman Williams is in his home town, Dallas. State Chairman Cake is in the East. Members of the State Central Committee are in their home counties, and the Taft campaign is wholly neglected in Oregon. This makes the Fulton men, who are the foremost supporters of Taft, uneasy, and they are clamoring for action.
