CHICAGO, Aug. 9 .- Never, since political returns were carried by messen evers on foot, by ox teams and canal boots have definite figures been so greatly delayed in any Illinois election as in one just closed. --

Twenty-four hours after the polls closed it was impossible to give accurat returns of the vote for Senatorial indorsement or the Gubernatorial nomina tion on the Republican ticket.

Senatorial Choice in Doubt.

ial indorsement in Chicago and Cook County was: Hopkins, 40,358; Mason, 39,917; Foss, 50,252, giving Foss a plurality over Hopkins of 9894.

In the state, outside Cook County, the contest seemed to be fairly even between Hopkins and Foss, with Mason falling far to the rear. The general returns were perhaps a shade in favor of Hopkins, but whether or not his vote in the outside counties will enable him to overcome the strong lead gained by Foss in Cook County is not yet known and it will probably be another 24 hours before a positive statement can be made on the results.

Stringer Easy Winner.

The Democratic Senatorial indorsement may be dismissed with the single atatement that Stringer won easily in every county in the state so far as heard from tonight.

For the Republican Gubernatorial nomination Deneen received in Chicago and Cook County 79,700; Yates 72,109, giving Deneen a plurality in Chicago and Cook County of 7591.

Yates May Yet Win.

Dencen's party managers claimed the state by at least 10,000 and freely predicted that his vote over Yates would show even a larger majority. The returns, however, were so slow and scattered that it is tonight entirely possible for Yates to win out. His campaign managers claim that he has done so by 1000, Adlai E. Stevenson, ex-Vice-President opponent for the Democratic Gubernatorial nomination, although James Hamilton Lewis, of Chicago, made a phenomenal run in Chicago and Cook County, securing nearly as many votes as all other candidates together.

Owing to the great distance and the difficult trip it is feared many were unable to make the return to camp before nightfall and were compelled to make the best of a night among the banks of snow at the foot of the mountain. #### SPERRY'S WELCOME WARM

Prime Minister Ward Officially

AUCKLAND, N. Z., Aug. 10 .- (Monday) .- Cloudy weather greeted the landing today of Admiral Sperry, commander-in-chief of the United States Atlantic fleet, and his officers to receive official welcome to Australian waters at the hands of the prime minister, Sir Joseph George Ward, on behalf of the govern-

The landing was made at the newly erected quay at the foot of Queen street, the city's principal thoroughfare, at the shore end of which an elaborately decorated stand had been erected for the reception. Grouped about the prime minister were the members of the cabinet and representatives of various town, berough and county districts of the Dominion.

Immense crowds thronged the streets and the verandas and roofs of houses adjacent were moving masses of humanity.

It was a great reception, and unbounded enthusiasm prevailed. In his address, Cir Joseph eulogized President Roosevelt as representing the best traditions of the common blood of civilization. He then presented to Admiral Speery for President Roosevelt a decorated gold and silver album, suitably inscribed, as a souvenir of the visit of the fleet to New Zealand.

The American Commander-in-Chief. replying to the Prime Minister, said that no greeting would appeal more strongly to President Roosevelt than that coming of the United States, ran far ahead of from a people small in numbers, but great in achievements. He described Auckland harbor as magnicent and safe, excelling any harbor in the Pacific, except that of Sydney and perhaps Manila. Every facility the naval commander desire was to be had there. In his address of welcome on behalf of the citizens of New eZaland, Lord Plunkett, the Governor, said that King Edward and President Roosevelt were honored, not because of their positions but for the noble work they had done and were doing for their countries and for humanity.

DEATH COMES INSTANTLY

Father Vahey and C. W. Pohlmann Fatally Crushed and Die Without Uttering Sound-High Back a Protection.

TOLEDO. O., Aug. 9 .- (Special)-When an automobile plunged over a steep empankment on the Mitchell road, two and a half miles west of Sylvania this afteroon, Charles W. Pohlmann, a wealthy Cleveland merchant tailor, and Father George Vahey, pastor of Columbkills parish, Cleveland, were instantly killed. Mrs. Charles W. Pohlmann and her daughter, Florence, and F. C. Dietz, a Cleveland dentist, were in the touringcar, but escaped injury.

The heavy touring machine capsized in the air and struck the ground bottom upward, the entire party being pinned underneath the wreckage.

Head of Priest Crushed.

As the automobile struck the bottom of he embankment the head of the priest was crushed between the edge of the car and a large stone and he died instantly without uttering a cry. Pohlmann was ground in such a way that his chest was crushed and his neck broken, killing him almost instantly.

To the fact that the back of the ton neau was unusually high and also that the car fell perfectly flat when it turned turtle is attributed the saving of the lives of the two women and Dr. Dietz, who were seated in the rear.

taken to a hospital in this city. Although they escaped without serious injury, the shock to their nervous systems by accident and the death of a husband and father was such that their future health may be broken under the strain.

The party left Cleveland Saturday afteroon and spent the night in Fremont. They arrived in Toledo at 10 o'clock to day and stopped at the home of J. J.

Shrubbery Concealed Bank.

The scene of the accident was at the Eley bridge, across Ten-Mile Creek. About 20 feet west of the bridge is a deep hole in the middle of the road, stretching nearly across it. The hole was full of water and just after crossing the bridge Mr. Pohlmann guided his machine to the left side to avoid the hole. The sides of the embankment at that point are thickly lined with shrubbery and small trees and the party did not realize that they concenled a steep bank.

The front wheel of the machine went over the edge of the embankment just as the rear wheels struck the edge of the hole in the road. The jumping of the rear wheels in the hole tossed the machine over the embankment.

Walter Wellman Declares Baldwin Balloon Is Much Too Small to Count in Case of Actual Warfare.

Walter Wellman has made a study of atr-ships and aerial navigation, and is as well qualified to speak on the subject as any American writer.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4-Count Zeppe lin's record-breaking voyage with great airship surprises no one familiar with the present state of the art of aerial navigation. That a modern motor balloon can be depended upon to make voyages of from 1000 to 2000 miles, under fairly favorable conditions, has long been known to men who are familiar with aeronautics. Count Zeppelin's success is epoch-making in that it con vinces a skeptical would of the practicability of airships and of their utility as engines of war and as instruments of exploration of the upper air, as well as of parts of the earth otherwise inaccessible. like the great unknown area surrounding the North Pole. Monday's demonstration without doubt will assure the rapid building of aerial navies by the chief military powers. In fact, Germany, France, Great Britain and the United States are already moving in that direction. France has the Lebaudy and La Republique already in commission, and Zeppelin's ship, it is understood, is to be taken over for the German army. The modern airship or motor balloon vill prove to be an effective engine of war. She can make reconnoissances of an enemy's position, flying at an altiude giving her immunity from the enemy's guns. She can not only gain valuable information, but she can make attacks upon strategic points, such as cities and bridges and forts and the camps of hostile armies, by dropping explosives down upon them. This phase of the aerial warfare of the future has been declared impracticable by some critics, because the dropping of a thou sand pounds of explosives from a ship of the air would instantly cause her to shoot up to a great altitude. critics who think this a fatal objection are not familiar with the art of sirship construction and operation. Dropping 1000 pounds of ballast or weight of any sort from a small balloon, dirigible, like the one Captain Baldwin has built for the United States Government, would, of course, be either impracticable, beause the ship could not carry so much, or dangerous if she could carry it. But that weight suddenly released is a more bagatelle compared to the total lifting capacity of such a ship as the Zeppelin, or my Polar airship, the America. The Zeppelin has a total lifting power of between 25,000 and 30,000 pounds, while the America lifts 19,500 pounds. The altitude gained by such aluship through dropping 1000 pounds in a lump presents no practical difficulties whatever. In the airship of the future, whether used for scientific or military purposes, size is sure to be a factor of prime importance. Interesting experiments may be made with small ships. But real ships, built by engineers, on a scale pathway. great enough to admit of the employment of steel and other metals, instead of filmsy structures of bamboo or such materials. If both high speed and long cruises are desired, there must be her thrift and industry. He refused to powerful engines and great stores of divide. She then asked for an allowance gasoline or other fuel for the motors, of $30 a year for her support. This was The Zeppelin is the largest ship ever also refused. But 1. Her volume is about 493,000 cubic feet. The French ships have about 115,000 cubic feet. In the opinion of most experts the Zeppelin is too large, Count Zeppelin is the only important aeronautic engineer in the America, 240,000 cubic feet. The French ships have about 115,000 cubic feet. In the opinion of most experts the Zeppelin When he brought the bride to the home important aeronautic engineer in the world who adheres to the idea of a rigid frame within the envelope which holds the gas and the subdivision of the balloon into many compartments. In all other types of construction rigidity of form and shape is secured by the simple means of interior pressure. The weight of the rigid frame in the Zeppelin ship is so great that notwithstanding the enormous total lifting power, due to the size, the net available lifting power, which can be used for carrying crew, fuel, provisions or explosives, is relatively small. Giving SOLDIERS DYING IN CAMP the figures from memory, I believe the net capacity of the Zeppelin is about two tons, while that of the polar airship America is 10,000 pounds, or five type can be landed and deflated, it necessary, with small damage, as the America was in Spitzbergen last September.

Count Zeppelin has broken all records for length of run. But there is no rea-(Concluded on Page 2)

Disastrously to Himself. ATHENS, Als., Aug. 9 .- (Special.)-Bryant McKinney, a resident of this ounty near the Tennessee line, has been
