Big Show at The Oaks

The favorite Summer place of amusement for Portlanders is The Oaks, where all forms of helpful and amusing entertainment are offered at a ridiculously small price of admission. The Allen Curtis Company is this week presenting lis greatest hit. "The Show Girl," to delighted audiences, and the Carles trained animal show is drawing the crowds every afternoon.

New Parade Is a Wonder,

New Parade, which is again a fea-ture with the Barnum and Bailey Greatest Show on Earth, is beyond question the finest street pageant ever presented by a circus. It is all of recent manufacture, coming from European workshops, and rep-resents tenfold the money ever spent on a circus parade in the past. It is scheduled to appear on the streets here at 16 o'clock on show day, August 25.

One of the features to be presented at the opening of the Orpheum Theater Monday evening is Bond and Benton, with their company of farceurs, in a one-act comedy. Mr. Bond has starred for several years in Smyth & Rice's productions and has been featured in the Shubert musical comedies. He is a Hexter & Strause, Butchers, Acquire Property Said to Be. Worth $100,000.

COURT DECREE FULFILLED

Firm Obtained Option on Property for $50,000 in 1905-Owner Then Refused to Sell and

Louis Hexter and Lehman Strause, of the firm of Hexter & Strause, acquired the property on the southwest corner of Park and Morrison streets yesterday for $80,000 on an option given three years ago, and recently confirmed by the courts after considerable liti-gation. The former owner is Sarah A. Merrill, and the property is said to be worth now about $100,000. The sale was made as the result of a suit brought in the Circuit Court over two years ago, and carried to the Supreme Court. A decision in the case was rendered by the latter refirm, which conducted a butcher shop on the corner over two years ago.

June 8, 1905, the firm took an option on the property for 60 days, the consideration to be $50,000. By the same agreement they were to pay Mrs. Merrill $125 a mouth rent. Complaint had been made by the neighbors, as well as the Merrills, who resided in the building, of foul odors arising from the shop and as a result the butchers agreed to and as a result the butchers agreed to improve the basement and drainage system from the building; and by keeping only fresh meat to eliminate all Within the 69 days Hexter & Strause within the aw days Hexter & Strause demanded their deed, offering the $50,000. The deed was refused and they therefore deposited the money with a local bank. A year later, on July 25, 1906, Mrs. Merrill filed a complaint in the Circuit Court asking that the contract made in 1905 be set aside, and alleging that the marketmen had failed to make the improvements and had practiced fraud upon her. This was later disproven by the testimony. Had the contract been set aside by the Court the butchers would have been ousted from the premises.

In reply to Mrs. Merrill's suit they brought a counter suit aileging that Mrs. Merrill refused to give them their deed according to agreement because of increasing real estate values, the contract having been made during the sented by Senator Joseph Simon.

Mrs. Merrill was at first represented by Attorney M. B. Keefer. When he discovered yesterday that the deal was about to be closed, he filed in the Circuit Court an attorney's lien for $500, for attorneys' fees. Shortly afterward he had a long conference with Mrs. Merrill's husband, however, and withdrew the lien. Deputy County Clerk Lounsbury received the $50,000 and turned it over to Mrs. Merrill's attorney, giving Hexter & Strause the deed.

AUTO OWNER SEEKS DAMAGES

F. P. Baumgartner Blames County for Collision With Dirt Wagons.

Because the automobile of F. P. Baumgartner ran into a number of gravel wagons on the Base Line road the night of April 4, Baumgartner is seeking to recover damages from the A hearing was had before Commissioners Lightner and Barnes in the County Courtroom yesterday morn-ing. The testimony of Baumgariner's witnesses was that a steam roller was left standing in the road. This was not seen by the chauffeur until the speeding machine was upon the roller, when a quick swerve carried the automobile into the wagons, which had been left in the ditch. Not only was the car damaged, but two wagon-tongues were broken.

The chauffeur testified that the machine was traveling at 10 miles an hour, while the engineer of the roller said that he did not believe an auto-mobile going at that speed could do as much damage. He said also that a red light was left burning high in the wheel of the roller, while the chauffeur says that he saw none. He says that there were four wagons, while the workmen allege there were but two. The automobile party was just returning to Portland, about 10:30 P. M.

Baumgartner demands $150,20 for the repairs to the machine, and $10, which he was obliged to expend for towage of the auto to Portland. The Commissioners took the matter under advise-ment, and will render their decision next Wednesday morning.

AMBLER RIGHT AFTER ALL

Mrs. Cleveland Not Yet Accorded Postal Frank.

MOUNT ANGEL, Or., Aug. 13.—(To in The Morning Oregonian on Satur day, August 8:

"I should like to ask Postmaster Ambler what he would do if an unstamped letter addressed to Mrs. Grover Cleveland at Princeton, N. J. should be posted in his office?" inquired W. R. Hinman, Assistant Superintendent Division of Salaries and Allowances of the Postmaster-General's office.

"I should address a letter to Mrs. Cleveland and inform her such a letter had been deposited in my office and that I would forward the same on receipt of a 2-cent stamp," responded the rural postmaster.
"Well, that merely serves to litustrate how little the average Postmaster knows of the technicalities of his work," replied Mr.
Human, "for there is a provision in the department rules and regulations which provides that postage is not required on letters addressed to the wife of a deceased President."

This incident postured vesterday in

This incident occurred vesterday in connection with the annual convention of the Presidential Postmasters' Association in the Portland Commercial Club rooms. The article continues: "After being trapped himself by Mr. Hinman, the Mount Angel Postmaster was game," etc.

It was hoped and even expected. in justice to Mr. Ambier, "the average postmaster," and to the public in general, that The Oregonian reporter would present the facts as they developed However, as this was purposely or otherwise neglected, the truth is hereby set forth.

At the beginning of the afternoon session of the convention Saturday, August 8, Mr. Hinman addressed the convention as follows: "I wish to state that Postmaster Ambier, of Mount Angel, is correct in his answer yesterday to my question concerning the letter without postage addressed to Mrs. Grover Cleveland."

Now, this public acknowledgment of his own error on the part of the As-sistant Superintendent of Salaries and Allowances is in marked contrast with his utterance on the day previous, that "Mr. Ambier's answer merely serves to llustrate how little the average Postknows of the technicalities of his work.' Mr. Hinman's excuse for his apparent lack of knowledge on technical points of postal law is that he intended to use the name of Mrs. McKinley instead of Mrs. Cleveland. The public will please accept the gentleman's excuse.

By special acts of Congress the wives of deceased Presidents have been granted special privilege in mail mat-ters. Section 510, P. L. and R., of 1902 and Section 510, Supplement of the P. L. and R., read as follows:

L. and R., read as follows:

Section 510, P. L. & R. All mail matter addressed to Julia D. Grant, widow of the late Ulysses S. Grant, and Lucretia R. Garfield, widow of the late Fresident James R. Garfield, or sent by them under their respective written autograph signature will, in pursuance of the several acts of Congress, be conveyed free of postage during their respective natural lives.

Section 210, par. 2. Sup. to the P. L. & R. All mail matter sent by post by Ida S. McKinley, widow of the late William McKinley, under her written autograph signature, will be conveyed free of postage during her natural life.

From the above it is plain that Mrs.

From the above it is plain that Mrs. McKinley's franking privilege was re-stricted to mail matter dispatched and in no way did it apply to mail matter eccived by her.

It may be well presumed that the same token of respect will be conferred upon Mrs. Grover Cleveland by a spe-cial act of the next Congress, but until that time her mall matter must be treated in the usual way.

The Postmaster at Mount Angel is still of the opinion that it is far better to make a close study of the postal laws and other instructions issued from the Postoffice Department than to decorate the postoffice department than to decorate the postoffice of the postoffice department than to decorate the postoffice department than the postoffice department pend upon verbal and too often pre-sumptuous knowledge of others.

Wholesale Paper-Dealers Acquire Fourth-Street Frontage of "Dexter" Property, Which Will Improved at Once.

Blake, McFall & Co. yesterday concluded a deal for the Fourth-street frontage of the Dexter property. This piece is 125 feet on Fourth street, 165 on the south side of Ankeny and 101 along the line of the Marshall-Wells Company building. The sale was effected through the agency of W. B. Streeter and the figure at which the deal was closed was a little over $5,000. This sale was referred to in The Oregonian a few days ago as having been made for the Mercantile Investment Company, who owned the half black, but at that time the purchaser's name was withheld, upon request, as future plans had not then been determined on. Blake, McFall & Co. announce their intention to erect on the site a six or seven-story building to be occupied by the firm as a paper warehouse and salesroom, With the completion of the building of the Pacific Paper Company and the one now announced, the locality will become a center of that character of wholesale a center of that character of wholesale and retail trade, for already within a few blocks are located stationery stores and commercial printing offices, with others to be located before the close of the year. John B. Yeon announced yesterday the purchase from Dr. Andrew C. Smith of the southeast corner of Sixth and Everett streets, the consideration being $65,000. This figure is about on a par with recent purchases in that vicinity. A lot at the corner of Sixth and Hoyt was sold last week to J. F. Moore, of Fort Worth, Texas, for $30,000, and another on Sixth near Irving sold by E. H. James for the same consideration. Dr. Smith bought on Seventh, between Glisan and Hoyt, from Monastes & Burke, for $65,090. It is announced by these purchasers that the sites are to be built upon, with the exception of the property bought by Mr. Yeon. In that case, the intentions of the buyer could not be learned last night.

Report That He Is Hiding in His Apartments Vigorously Denied at Madison-Park.

Vigorous denial is made at the Madison-Park apartment-house, Park and Madison streets, that T. M. Stevens, whose sensational matrimonial entan-glements are causing him many troubles, is occupying his apartments. Equally vigorous denials were made to officials by the proprietor of the house. Stevens is said to be spending his honeymoon out of the city, but persist-ent rumors have been to the effect that he has simply been in hiding or seclu-sion at his apartments. This, however, is denied by the proprietor of the place. though there are reasons to believe that Stevens' honeymoon has not extended beyond the city limits.

"The clever young man who tried to get funny in an afternoon paper is not as wise as he thinks he is," said the proprietor. "Mr. Stevens is not at the Madison-Park, and has not been here for several days."

So insistent were certain officials in locating Stevens and so dubious were they of his departure from the apartment-house, that the proprietor took oath as to his absence from his establishment. So Mr. Stevens' honeymoon is free from annoyance and worry However, W. H. Stevens said yesterday that the bride and groom would likely return at any hour. He ex-pected them last night, and not later than today. Then, he said, Mr. Stevens would likely explain the dilemma in which he is supposed to be situated. The District Attorney's office is investigating various details in connection with the case. It is generally believed that Mr. Stevens will appear in the city today.

Mr. Stevens succeeded in folling the efforts of A. E. Clark, attorney for Mrs. Louise Powell-Stevens, for when at-tachment papers were served on the United States National Bank to tie up the money he had on deposit there was found that there was only $204 his credit. However, Attorney Clark predicts that sufficient property will still be attached to cover the amount sued for.
