LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—After a struggle of 16 long innings, that were played in three and one-half hours, the Beavers finally heat the champions today, 3 to 1. The game was marked by brilliant fielding at times and fine pitching by Koestner and Groom, Koestner holding the Beavers to six hits and fanning 17 men. He gave eight passes, but only two figured in runs. Three thousand peongured in runs. Three thousand peo-ple saw the game, including 400 boys, and the afternoon started with a race around the bases between Oakes and Kolb, the comedians, Oakes beating Kolb easily

short, also shone, and several others startled the fans. The game would have ended in the ninth with a 1-to-0 score in favor of the locals but for a rotten decision of Connell in calling McGredle safe at third, stealing, when Smith stood wait-ing for "Mac" with the ball in his hand. Casey walked and was forced to second by Mac's grounder to Smith. 'Mac" ran to second on Raftery's in-Mac ran to second on Matter's in-field out, and got to third by O'Con-nell's help, scoring on Cooney's infield bounce hit. This was the last hit the Beavers got until the ninth inning. In the third for the locals, Delmas singled to left, went to second on Hogan's sacrifice, to third on Koestner's single, and scored on Hosp's infield out.

This was the only run for the locals, and the two teams then fought along and the two teams then rought along with great pitching and fielding until the 18th. Koestner opened by fanning Raftery and Johnson. Cooney walked, stole second and scored on Danzig's hit over third. Ryan doubled to right, sending Danzig to third. Whaling bounced a scratch to Koestner, who taggred it. Danzig ran toward the Danzig ran toward the plate, and finally scored when Smith hit him with the ball in attempting to catch him between bases. The score: LOS ANGELES. AB. R. H. PO. A. E. innings:

Definite Plans Made to Greet Oregon Athletes.

BIG BANQUET ON RETURN

Sporting Editors of Three Portland Papers Will Welcome Smithson, Gilbert and Kelly and Distribute State Literature.

At the meeting of the general committee having in charge the celebration to be held in Portland in honor of Oregon's three victorious athletes, on their return home, held at the Commercial Club last night, it was decided to increase the welng committee which is to go to New York from two to three members.

This contingency arose through the inability of George W. McMillan, president of the Multnoyah Club, who was delegat-ed at the meeting of the club directors on Tuesday evening, to leave Portland at this time. The resignation of Mr. McMillan was received with sincere regret on the part of the general committee, and on motion of George W. Simons, which was seconded by William McMurray, William J. Petrain, sporting editor of The Oregonian, and Robert A. Cronin, sporting editor of the Oregon Daily Journal, were elected to form the committee, together with Robert Lee Ringer, sporting editor of The Evening Telegram, Mr. Petrain being named as chairman of the committee. They will go to New York to wel-come Forrest C. Smithson, Alfred C. Gil-bert and Dan J. Kelly and escort the vic-torious trio to Portland.

The resolution increasing the dele-gation and naming the delegates was carried unanimously. Mr. McMillan, who was afterward added to the finance committee, volunteered personally to raise the amount required in sending the extra member of the committee. Other names added to the finance committee were General Charles F. Beebe, George W. Simons, Robert Lee Ringer, Ben Seiling, Julius L. Meler and Frank Tompletee.

L. Meier and Frank Templeton. General Beebe, who is also a member of the committee in charge of arrang-ing for a banquet in honor of the ath-letes, submitted a report whereby it is planned to have plates said for 125 guests, including the athletes. This was the most complete report filed. for most of the other committees were handlcapped by the absence of members who were out of town.

The report of the finance commit-tee showed that, while the merchants were responding liberally when ap-proached, hardly one-fifth of the busi-ness houses had been visited by the committee. The new members of the committee will assist materially in securing the required amount and by Monday it is hoped to have all the funds necessary to cover expenses. The committee, however, will have plenty of time in which to canvass the city, for the next meeting of the board has been set for next Thursday night.

The opportunity of advertising Oregon in this matter is so pronounced that fine merchants are to be urged to recegnize this in a signal manner. No effort will be spared in the endeavor to present with emphasis before the Eastern public the fact that three Oregon boys were comprised among the victorious American athletes who com-peted against 2000 athletes from all over the world.

George Small, editor of the Baker City Democrat, addressed a communication to the committee in which he states that Baker City will do its share in honoring the Oregon boys and is especially plan-ning a demonstration in honor of Dan L. Kelly, the Baker City lad who was one of the successful trio. The other two athletes, Smithson and Gilbert, are resients of Portland.

The welcoming committee, on its way East, will have much work to do, as several of the principal cities along the route are to be visited, and arrangements made for informal reconficies in honor made for informal receptions in honor of the boys. Some of this work has already been done by correspondence, but the brunt of it will devolve upon the committee which will visit the points to be selected.

William McMurray, general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific and O. R. & N. Company, is preparing a pamphlet dealing with Oregon generally, and containing pictures of Smithson, Kelly and Gilbert, together with a brief biography of the lads, and these books will be distributed by the committee while in the East. The Commercial Club, Chamber of Commerce and other commercial organizations are preparing similar data to be dispensed by this committee.

INVITATION FROM ROSOEVELT American Athletes Asked to Visit Oyster Bay,

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—That President Roosevelt will meet and congratulate the American athletes who took part in the Olympic games in London is likely, although the President cannot be in this city to participate in the celebration being arranged in their honor. A lotter from the President to that effect was received by Secretary MacDougal of the Olympic at his MacDougal, of the Olympic athletes aception committee. Mr. Roosevelt indicated his pleasure at being named honorary president of the committee, but said it would be impossible to at-tend the reception. He closed the letter by extending an invitation to the members of the team to come to Oyster Bay, where, he said, he would be giad to greet them. Arrangements will probably he made by the athletes to visit the President:

The committee in charge of the recep-tion also received a letter from Governor Hughes saying he would be glad to arrange for the participation of the National Guard in the parade that will take Twelve American athletes, including John C. Carpenter, of Cornell University, who was disqualified after finishing first in the 400-meter race, returned to New York today on the steamer Majestic. In relating his version of the much-discussed incident of the famous race, Carpenter said: Carpenter said:

"I have no recollection of having touched Lieutenant Halsewelle at the time. I feel keenly the injustice of having been disqualified for alleged unfair tactics. I did nothing to warrant my disqualification." disqualification." Forrest C. Smithson, of Oregon, arrived on the Teutonic, A. C. Portland Public Demands Admission of Seattle and Tacoma or Change of This City to Northwestern League.

BY W. J. PETRAIN. Within the next few days a con-erence of considerable importance to the baseball public will be held in some city of the Pacific Northwest, out owing to the secrecy of the mag-nates, the exact time and place has not been divulged.

J. Cal Ewing, prime mover and president of the Pacific Coast League. is said to be on his way to Portland, Seattle or Tacoma. His destination is not heralded, but it is said that he comes north to consult the magnates of this vicinity with a view to map-ping out next season's programme. as well as arranging for a change of the circuit

League Needs Six Clubs.

The baseball patrons of Portland de nand that the league be increased be cause four clubs do not furnish enough variety. Six or eight clubs must be included in the circuit in order that it shall enjoy popular favor. At the same time a Pacific Coast League comprising six clubs, five of which shall be located in California, will posi-tively not meet with favor in Port-land. as social lines.

The Pacific Coast League can claim the Northwest territory and make the claim hold. Seattle, Tacoma and Spokane want faster buseball than is now being furnished them by Lucas and Dugdale. This is true despite the welrd attempts of the Seattle scribes to emphasize Dugdale's faults, which they choose to describe as excellent they choose to describe as excellent qualities in a manager. The Seattle baseball team is at present enjoying a series of successes that calls forth many psalms in honor of the peer-less Seattle magnate, whose only real attribute is his desire to get the mone;

Up to two weeks ago the Scattle baseball club was unable to win many games, and during that time the Dug-dale press agents filled the air with their cries of "hard luck," "good game, but lost," and "fierce umpiring," all of which were expected to salve the fans into the belief that Seattle really had a ball club.

While the press agents up North are knocking the Coast League proposition from every possible viewpoint, the fact remains that the public at large is demanding a better brand of baseball than is being given at present. The public cares very little whether its wishes are realized through a Coast League, or through a Class A Pacific Northwest League.

Dugdale Stands by Lucas.

Dugdale balks at the Coast League because of the antipathy against Lucas on this circuit, and especially Portland, Dug will make a grandstand play against California and the Pacific Coast League in the hope of weaning Portland away, but this is hardly likely to happen unless some extremely unusual developments arise, for this city will not stand for dic-tatorship from men of the caliber of Dugdale and Lucas.

Dugdale and Lucas.

Despite the antipathy to Dugdale and Lucas. Portland is friendly to the Northwestern League, but it is a cinch bet that if the McCredies do join with Seattle and the other towns, the Seat-tle fat man and his hireling will oc-cupy bench positions and wear muzzles.

cupy bench positions and wear muzzles. The agitation over the increasing of the circuit has created considerable speculation as to the composition of the league next season. Most of the fans interviewed want a Northwest League, but are not unfavorable to a Pacific Coast League that would include Seattle, Tacoma and Spokane. There the matter rests, and developments will be eagerly watched by the fans.

ADVISES CHANGE IN LEAGUE

Tom Richardson Gives Views on

Baseball Situation. PORTLAND, Or., Aug. 13.—(To the Sporting Editor.)—I have watched with unusual interest your campaign re-garding the affiliation of Portland with the Northwestern League, and it oc-curs to me that from a business standpoint, if no other, it would be advan-tageous for Portland to belong to a league which would include the cities of the Northwest.

Viewed from its advertising aspect it would be worth a great deal to Port land to appear constantly in the read-ing columns of the newspapers pub-lished in the territory from which she draws her business.

The present league is three-fourths California and one-fourth Oregon, and this connection has one advantage in the fact that Portland and Oregon in consequence get occasional mention in California papers. Under ordinary conditions it is almost impossible to get a story about this city or state into a California paper, unless it is one dam-aging to us. The visit of a special train of Oregon business men is dis-missed by a single paragraph in San Francisco. The establishment of great packing plants, a cement factory, enormous building operations, record-making shipments of lumber and wheat, and any other character of news that would do Portland and Oregon good-all are ignored, but first page can always be had for any lie that a prominent Californian in public life may have to tell about the Columbia River or some other derogatory story.

The Oregonian's recent editorial gave some of the real reasons why we should play ball with the people who make the great Northwest and whose interests are consequently identified in greater or less degree with a greater Portland. Yours truly, TOM RICHARDSON, Manager Portland Commercial Club.
