MAY COLLECT BOND

City Expected to Act Against United Railways.

COMPANY TO MAKE FIGHT

Kavanaugh Has Ruled That $100,000 Is Forfeitable—Council May Pass Matter Up to Executive Board for Action.

Preliminary steps will be taken this week by the city authorities to enforce the collection of a bond for $100,000 from the United Railways Company. This bond was given by the railroad company to insure the construction of electric railway lines between Portland, Salem and Hillsboro. Failing to construct one of the roads and not having completed the other, the company has been declared delinquent by the City Council, which, on the advice of City Attorney Kavanaugh, will undertake to collect on the bond.

Following the failure of the United Railways to live up to the conditions imposed under the bond, the instrument was referred to Mr. Kavanaugh for an opinion. That official held the instrument was collectible. It now appears to devolve on the same official to advise the members of the Council whose duty it is to undertake the collection and in what manner to proceed. Some of the members of the Council contend that the task of realizing on the bond is an executive and not a legislative duty and for that reason it is up to Mayor Lane and the Executive Board to get the money. It is the opinion of the Mayor and the members of the Executive Board that the responsibility rests with the Council which carried on the negotiations with the United Railways and accepted the bond which has been declared forfeited.

The controversy as to which department of the city government should make the collection will in no way interfere with the determination of the city to collect the $100,000 from the railway corporation. The subject this week will be referred to Mr. Kavanaugh, who will be asked to say whether the Council or the Mayor and the Executive Board should institute the necessary action to collect the bond. Undoubtedly litigation will have to be resorted to if the city gets the money to which it contends it is entitled. The present backers of the United Railways, as a defense, are contending that since the bond was given, the corporation has passed through the hands of a number of different owners, while its attempted efforts to comply with the conditions of the bond, all being in good faith, have been hampered by unfriendly interests. They deny that there has been any willful intent on the part to evade any of the responsibilities their predecessors assumed and declare that any attempt to force the collection of a bond that has been declared forfeited on technical grounds would seriously embarrass the corporation in its construction of an electric line to Hillsboro. The building of this road is now in active operation.

A NEW DEPARTURE.

The cost of interments has been greatly reduced by the Holman Undertaking Company. Heretofore it has been the custom of funeral directors to make charges for all incidentals connected with a funeral. The Edward Holman Undertaking Company, the leading funeral directors of Portland, have departed from that custom. When a casket is furnished by us we make no extra charges for embalming, hearse to cemetery, outside box or any services that may be required of us, except clothing, caskets and carriages, thus effecting a saving of $25 to $45 on each funeral.

UNIONS TO DISPORT

Big Celebration Planned for Labor Day.

MEET AT FAIR GROUNDS

Balloon Ascension, Athletic Contests and Speeches by Prominent Men Are Announced as Features of Programme.

A sensational feat known as "the slide for life," a balloon ascension and a series of contests will be features of the Labor Day celebration to be held on the Lewis and Clark Fair grounds on September 7. Arrangements for the holiday were discussed at a meeting of the Labor Day celebration committee yesterday afternoon in Drew Hall.

Indications are that the celebration this year will be one of the most elaborate which the local organizations have undertaken for several years. The exercises will be opened at 10 o'clock with a parade, composed of the various labor organizations of the city and a number of floats. A prize of $50 will be offered for the best disciplined organization in line; $30 for the best uniformed organization; $15 for the best feature or float and $5 for the most grotesque individual.

An interesting feature of the parade will be the carpenters' float. During the progress of the parade a gang of carpenters on this float will build a house complete. The Cooks and Waiters' union has also signified its intention to provide a float for the parade. It is expected other labor organizations will also be represented.

At the exercises to be held in the Oriental Building at 2 o'clock, addresses will be delivered by Governor Chamberlain, Mayor Lane, C. O. Young, National Organizer of the American Federation of Labor, E. J. Lewis, D. A. White and W. S. U'Fen. Vocal numbers will be rendered by Mrs. Ella Holberg Tripp.

The event of the afternoon will be a

Oregon G. A. R. Sends Delegation to National Encampment.

VETERANS GO TO TOLEDO

Veterans of the Civil War living in this state will be well represented at the National encampment of the G. A. R., to be held at Toledo, O., from August 31 to September 5. About 20 members of the order will leave Portland in a special Pullman car Sunday, August 23, at 6 P. M., over the O. R. & N. D. & R. G., and C. R. I. & P. roads for Chicago. The car will join a special G. A. R. train from the Coast at Salt Lake City. The delegation from this state will be headed by Commander J. T. Apperson, of Oregon City.

The Toledo encampment is the forty-second in the history of the organization, and promises to have the largest attendance of any recent gathering of the veterans. All the Western States will send good delegations, while the attendance from the Eastern States will be large. Salt Lake City is among the Western cities in the field for next year's encampment.

CAR GANG ARRESTED

Nine Hoodlums Captured on Mount Scott Line.

HAD LONG BEEN NUISANCE

Youths Who Had Frequently Insulted Women and Otherwise Made Themselves Obnoxious, Taken by Sheriff's Deputies.

Nine young hoodlums, who for more than a month have been making themselves obnoxious late Saturday nights to passengers on outward-bound Mount Scott cars, even going to the extent of sitting in the laps of women passengers and attempting to force them to drink whisky and beer, were arrested early yesterday morning and brought to Portland on a special car. They were then locked up in the County Jail, but were later released without bail.

The youths were booked on a charge of disturbing the peace, and their release without bail was decided upon after consultation with Sheriff Stevens. The nine will appear before Justice of the Peace Bell this morning to answer for their conduct. The members of the gang are as follows: Fred Krause, of Nashville; Guy Hildreth, Nashville; M. V. Lockwood, Tremont; A. L. Lake, Laurelwood; C. Larin, Arleta; Archie Mays, Arleta; C. E. Clements, Millard-Avenue Station; John J. Boland, Lents and H. J. Huffman, Arleta.

Nine Deputies on Car.

To capture the boisterous gang, nine Deputy Sheriffs were detailed to board the last two-car train leaving Portland for Lents at 12:30 o'clock. General Superintendent Fields, of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company, made a request for a number of deputies. He said the police had been detailed on the case August 1, but that on account of their uniforms, the hoodlums had been careful of their conduct on that night. On the Saturday night following they had renewed their obnoxious behavior.

Last Saturday night Deputy Sheriff Martin boarded the trailer at Alder

Made Trouble for Months.

"We have had trouble with these hoodlums for two or three months," said Superintendent Fields last night. "They have been in the habit of taking the last car out on Saturday nights, drinking whisky and swearing. The train crew was entirely unable to handle them. Matters went to such a point about two months ago, that they had a pitched battle, in which the conductor tried to put them off, and was assisted by the motorman. The car crew was unable to handle the rowdies and received some severe bruises. On one occasion the young fellows sat in the laps of some of the women passengers, otherwise insulting them, and attempting to pour liquor down their throats. When the women tried to defend themselves and the conductor attempted to interfere, the hoodlums told him to mind his own business and continued their shameful conduct. From previous experience he knew that it was useless to interfere."

"We have also had a great deal of trouble with the block lights on this division. In several instances the glass was broken. Of course we do not know whether this is the gang that did it, but such things are a source of danger to the train."

"It is but a short time since a railroad tie, laid across the track, nearly caused a wreck. As it was, the motorman saw the obstruction in time to stop the car before it had gone farther than to wedge the tie under the pilot."

"Not the least interesting of the happenings in connection with the arrest was the appeal of Fred Krause to Deputy Sheriff Boyer to let his friend Hildreth off. Krause offered to take the punishment for both himself and his young friend if the latter might be let off. Krause's father is a partner in the wholesale boot and shoe firm of Krause Brothers.

F. H. Heretek and N. J. Corrat are a conductor and motorman, respectively, on the car on which the arrests took place.

Cleanliness Fighting Disease.

Kansas City Journal.

Cleanliness never hurt anybody or gave him typhoid. The death rate in Rome has fallen from 20 per 1000 to 10 per 1000 since it raised its street-cleaning expenditure from $15,000 a year to $200,000 a year. Hamburg had 13 cholera epidemics between 1831 and 1874. The city cleaned up along with other German cities, and now the German physicians are praying the government to limit the supply of medical students. Cleaning up helps to destroy the flies' breeding places, and the flies carry half the diseases into the groceries.
