

INSULT TO HUGHES

Horsemen Refuse to Race While He is on Track.

WAIT UNTIL HE LEAVES

Great Crowd at Saratoga County Fair Inconvenienced by Stupid Action of Trotting-Horse Owners and Gamblers.

BALLSTON, N. Y., Aug. 26.—For an hour and a half the openly-expressed hostility of the owners of trotting horses taking part in the events at the Saratoga County Fair toward Governor Hughes held up the racing at the Fair Grounds here. Governor Hughes was a visitor at the fair today, and addressed a big audience, which gave him a hearty greeting and attentive hearing. The Governor's presence on the grounds, however, was resented by the horse-owners, who have taken exception to the Governor's efforts to suppress betting on the racetracks of the state. As a consequence, they refused to start their horses, while the Executive waited on the grounds.

The horse-owners created an unprecedented situation, and caused the management of the fair marked embarrassment. When the conditions became known a sensation was created among the thousands of spectators on the grounds, and considerable pressure was put upon the trotting men to change their attitude and run off the races as scheduled. In this the fair officials took the lead, urging their case strongly upon the recalcitrant owners, and pointing out the awkwardness of the situation caused by the balk in the program.

Their efforts were fruitless, however, the owners remaining obdurate, and for an hour and a half refusing to budge from their position. They openly declared that Governor Hughes had antagonized their interests, and that they proposed to retaliate by refusing to take their horses out on the track while he was present.

Governor Hughes was scheduled to leave here on the 4 o'clock train, and shortly before that time he left the fair grounds enclosure. Immediately upon his departure the racing proceeded. The lateness of the start caused the continuance of the trotting until dark.

Hughes Will Say Nothing.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 26.—Governor Hughes, on his return tonight from Ballston, had nothing to say regarding the action of the horse-owners at Saratoga County Fair.

DEBAUCH ENDS IN DEATH

porch of the hotel at that resort Monday, died early yesterday morning at the Good Samaritan Hospital. At an autopsy held last night at the undertaking establishment of Dunning, McEntee & Gilbaugh, the cause of death was pronounced as alcoholic pneumonia. It was said Scholl had been on a debauch for several days and had contracted a severe cold that had settled on his lungs.

FAVORS NEW FISHING CODE

DR. JORDAN BELIEVES GREAT INDUSTRY IS IMPERILED.

President of Stanford University Discusses Work Accomplished by International Committee.

One of two members of an international committee to investigate the fishing waters of America, Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford University, arrived in Portland yesterday afternoon, en route to San Francisco. He was here only during the dinner hour and left a short time after his arrival.

As a result of his investigations during the Summer it is likely that a new international fishing code will be evolved and that important rulings will be incorporated. With Dr. Jordan on the committee was S. T. Bastford, of Toronto, a representative of the British government.

"Unless some rigid action is taken," said Dr. Jordan, "the international fishing grounds will be destroyed, or at least injured just as much as the Columbia River fishing interests have been injured. It is a well-known fact that the conflicting laws of Washington and Oregon have injured the fishing interests of the two states, and similar results will come from the present operation of the international laws.

"We have spent the last three months in investigating the fishing interests of this country and of England in the waters that are adjacent to our shores, and a new code of laws will be formulated. I am not in a position to state at this time what the code will be, but they will be prepared by myself and my colleague and submitted to the Secretary of State. He made my appointment as a well-known fact that the codified form of the new laws. If they suit his ideas of what is right, then they will be given to the public."

Dr. Jordan expressed himself as deeply interested in the Japanese question, especially in its reference to the Pacific Coast. It has been the work of hoodlums, he said, that has caused the recent troubles.

"The people of San Francisco and of Vancouver who started the race troubles are simply hoodlums," he said. "Respectable and responsible people would never have done such a thing, and all America resents it. The people of California feel no more towards the Japanese as was indicated by the trouble there than the people of Oregon feel towards the Indians.

"In our university there is no sign of trouble and absolutely no indication. There are many Japanese students there, but they are of an intelligent class and they do not believe that the riots in San Francisco indicated the feeling of the people of this country."

MEASURE TO SAVE SALMON

Dr. Jordan Favors Federal Control of Fishing.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 26.—Federal control of the salmon fishing industry to the extent of almost eliminating state regulation will follow the incorporation into a law of the findings of the international commission appointed by the governments of the United States and Great Britain, as a result of a treaty signed some time ago. Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford University, the American member of the commission, having finished a two money field survey of international waters from the Atlantic to the Pacific, is in Seattle. He said the effect of the work of the commission, in so far as the waters of the states are concerned, would be to place in the shape of Federal statutes regulations designed to save the salmon from extinction and the industry from squandering.

"The international waters of this state," said Dr. Jordan, "comprise one of the important districts involved in the plan for Federal regulation of fishing which we visited. Probably there is no point of greater interest, as far as laws which will save the salmon packing industry from perishing and the salmon from destruction are concerned."

HOUSE STAYS IN SPOKANE

Ex-Portland Pastor Declines Flattering Offer.

Although he was offered the pastorate of the First Congregational Church of Kansas City, Mo., with a salary of $1000 in excess of that which he now receives as pastor of the Westminster Congregational Church at Spokane, Dr. Edwin L. House has refused to accept it. The announcement that he would decline to accept the offer was made to his congregation from the pulpit last Sunday. Dr. House was formerly pastor of the First Congregational Church of Portland, the position which Dr. Luther R. Dwyer now holds.

Although a formal call had not been extended to Dr. House by the Kansas City church, its committee had written him, stating that this would be extended should he signify his willingness to accept. The Kansas City church, which is a large one, offered to pay him a salary of $4000 the first year, and $5000 a year thereafter. He is at present receiving $2800 a year.

HANGED BY HAZERS

Naval Apprentice Is Roughly Handled at Yerba Buena.

LAD MAY LOSE EYESIGHT

Rescued From Side of Training-Ship With Spark of Life Almost Extinguished—Principals to Be Court-Martialed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—The Bulletin today prints a story of the hanging at the naval training station at Yerba Buena Island of Earl Irey, a 21-year-old apprentice on the training ship Pensacola, which will probably result in the loss of sight to Irey and the court-martial of O. P. Guy and J. Valerius, two shipmates.

The hanging, it is said, occurred August 19 and every effort has been made to keep the incident from becoming public. According to the story, Irey was caught by Guy and Valerius as he was preparing to retire for the night, a noose was fastened tightly around his neck, the rope passed over a hook and he was swung clear of the deck, remaining suspended for five minutes.

He was found in this position by two masters-at-arms, his eyes bulging out and his tongue swollen and black.

For days he lingered between life and death, but the doctors now say that he has lost the sight of one eye and probably both. Irey will be sent to his home in Oklahoma.

BISHOP SCADDING RETURNS

GLAD TO BE HOME AFTER VISIT TO ENGLAND.

Attended Lambeth Conference, at Which 243 Bishops Were Present. Saw Olympic Games.

After an absence which caused him to long for home, Bishop Scadding returned yesterday from a trip to England.

"My trip was purely a professional one," he said. "I went there to attend the Lambeth conference, which is one of the most important conferences in our church. It includes the attendance of all the Bishops of the Church of England, and there were 243 bishops present. Of that number there were 60 bishops from America."

"The Archbishop of Canterbury presided at the conference, and I have an idea that his time was well occupied. He attempted to serve the entire number of bishops who were attending, and I think he had his hands full.

"During this conference there were many subjects discussed. Among the number were 'Ministry of Healing,' 'Marriage Problems,' 'Socialism and the People,' and 'Reunion of the Church,' all of which aroused a great deal of interest 'but caused no real sensation.

Bishop Scadding denied that any of the discussions assumed the form of a debate, and that the most important subjects discussed were of purely church interest. Bishop Scadding announced that three young clergymen had been engaged to assist him in Oregon. He did not state where they would be located, but left the inference that at least one of them would be installed in Portland and the others at other points in the state.

Bishop Scadding was in London during the Olympic games at the metropolis. He saw the Americans win the big events and his Americanism caused him to cheer the American youths with the other Americans who were attending.

"I never saw a sporting event that aroused so much interest," he said. "But I never want to see another Marathon race. It is too much for me, and I am sure the finish of the recent race was too much for the average man."

DECLINES TO OPEN STREET

Council Allows Terminal Company to Occupy Thoroughfare.

Councilman Kellaher's resolution, authorizing City Engineer Taylor to tear down the obstructions in Fourth street, near Irving, now controlled by the North Pacific Terminal Company, met defeat in the Council yesterday afternoon. Although Mr. Kellaher made a strong speech, in which he declared that the Harrison interests should be curbed and the city's interests protected, he was overwhelmingly voted down. The obstructions referred to consist of a signal tower and a large gate, which is usually kept open.

Councilman Wallace said that he had investigated the matter and found that the street, even if opened, would not do the public any good, as it would be a network of tracks in the terminal yards. He urged the Council to reject the Kellaher resolution.

YOUNG MAN IS SUICIDE

Charles Schmidt, Jr., Shoots Himself in Fit of Despondency.

Identify of the young man found dead in A. Slater's barn on the Patton road at midnight Tuesday was established yesterday and death was ascribed to suicide. A note was found by careful search of the dead man's clothing. It was signed 'Charles Schmidt, Jr.' and read: 'Farewell to everybody. I have been a fool but life is misery. I have been pretty sick but everything will be over pretty soon.'

From a card in his pockets it was learned he had been working for the Enterprise Lumber Company in June. Relatives could not be found. Death resulted from a bullet wound in the head. Schmidt used a 32 caliber revolver. The body will be interred at the County's expense today.

ADDRESS SPELLS DEFEAT

campaign speeches is reaching the Democratic National committee. The report that Governor Johnson may attend the Democratic State convention in Illinois on September 9 has aroused the other states to action and if Governor Johnson speaks in Illinois his life will be made a burden for him unless he goes to New York and Indiana also.

The National Democratic campaign textbook which will be off the press next week, will be illustrated with cartoons. Among the features will be William H. Taft, the Republican nominee, pictured in the act of discovering his alleged offspring, the injunction, and appearing surprised at the words of wisdom spoken by Mr. Bryan on the tariff question.

The cartoons, which are as fierce as a campaign cartoonist can make them, are expected to stimulate the appetite of those who see them so that they will devour the Democratic doctrines set forth in print.

Chafin Defines Prohibitionist.

"A Prohibitionist does not have to be a total abstainer. The Prohibitionist is the man who votes the Prohibitionist ticket on election day because he thinks the principles are right." This is the definition of limitations given by Eugene W. Chafin, Prohibitionist nominee for President, on those qualified to be Prohibitionists and the opinion was concurred in by Charles F. Jones, chairman of the National committee.

lice have captured a band of swindlers who have carried on an extensive business in the sale of spurious government bonds of so-called lottery issues. A certain number of these bonds, which are quoted at a premium of 250 to 400 per cent, are drawn by lot annually and are retired at their face value, the holders commonly insuring themselves against loss by drawing. The swindlers purchased bonds to be retired, altered the series numbers and resold them at the market price, pocketing the profit. In making the arrests the chief of the detective police was wounded in the hand by one of the criminals.
