Too Many Dogs.—That there are altogether too many dogs in Portland in general, and in particular in North Albina, is the opinion of the North Albina Improvement Association. At the last meeting of the club a resolution was adopted instructing the delegates to the advisory committee to see if an amendment to the charter could be secured which will limit the number of "roaming" dogs which howl and bark all night and which are a danger to the community by day. It was said at the meeting where the resolution was adopted, that 90 per cent of the dogs ought to be disposed of in some way, as they are a great nuisance in every way. The subject was considered of sufficient importance to warrant a special effort to reduce the number of canines if possible by a special amendment to the charter. Besides the dogs, these canines were declared to be a source of neighborhood quarrels.

BURIED WITH FRATERNAL HONORS.— The funeral of Engineer John Nichols, who lost his life in the railroad accident at Cottage Grove, was conducted yesterday morning under the auspices of the Williamette Lodge, No. 100, of the Locomotive Engineers, from Dunning's Chapel, 414 East Alder street. Rev. D. H. Chambers was in charge of the services, and the interment was in Long Fir cemetery. There was a large attendance, made up largely of railroad men and friends, and beautiful floral tributes covered the casket. Engineer Nichols was survived by his wife, who was Miss Louise Zella, of Portland, and one sister, Mrs.
M. Talbot, of Portland. The funeral of Frank H. Boulter, who lost his life in the same wreck, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of his father-in-law, H. J. Wilkins, 294 Eugene street.
Members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen will attend. The body will be deposited in the Portland Crematorium for the present.

ESCAPED CONVICT CAPTURED.—William Shipman, an escaped convict from the penitentiary at Salem, Or., was captured and arrested last night on the Ash-street dock by Detectives Hunter and Maloney.
He was taken to the City Jail and will be returned to Salem today. Shipman was formerly a member of the Fire Department in this city and was sentenced to 18 months imprisonment a little over a year ago on a statutory charge, his wife being the complaining witness. He had served all but a few months of his sentence when he escaped. Nearing the close of his term of imprisonment, he secured a job as a freighthandler on one of the river steamers and was leaving his work when he was apprehended last night.

PREPARING TO FILL EAST NINTH.—The Pacific Bridge Company is preparing to fill East Ninth street across Stephens Slough. A spur has been laid to Grand avenue on East Salmon street. Construction will here be made with the main track so that dump trains may be run to Ellsworth and East Ninth streets. At Ellsworth street iron has been delivered for a short time to the slough. Considerable filling has already been done on East Ninth street on both sides of the slough and a trestle was built some time ago to carry the traffic over the water in the slough which will soon be carried off by the Brooklyn sewer the fill can now be made. It is an important improvement, as it will open up another street south other than Milwaukie. The fill is to be nearly 400 feet long, but it will be on solid ground and there will be little settling.

MOUNT HOOD ASH.—According to the report made by William Deveny, Mount Hood this year is not in a good humor and is emitting sulphur fumes that are overpowering and promises to follow them up with something stronger. Mr.
Deveny went around by Hood River Valley to Cloud Cap Inn, and from there he went up to Ella Glacier with George Miller. The report that Mount Hood was in a more threatening mood this year than at any time he could recall, and the guide said he believed that before very long Mount Hood might become an active volcano.

FOUR BOYS DISMISSED.—Of the nine young lads arrested for creating a disturbance on a Mount Hood trip, four were discharged when their cases were investigated in the Municipal Court. The four who were exonerated of the charge of disorderly conduct, for which all were arrested by a company of deputy sheriffs, were: M. V. Lockwood, Clyde Clement, Frank Caughlan and Guy Hildreth.

WANT CONCRETE AQUEDUCT
W. A. GRONDAHL TELLS WHY
HE FAVORS IT.
Think Pipeline So Constructed, if Proper Attention Be Given It, Would Last Forever.

While the gentiment at the last meeting of the Federated Clubs seemed to favor sheet steel for the second Bull Run pipeline, it was decided to gather information as to the feasibility of using reinforced concrete. H. W. Hodges, of Mount Tabor, made the statement that Manchester, England, used a concrete conduit to bring in its water supply, and he was invited to get all the data he could on the subject. W. A.
Grondahl, who first proposed reinforced concrete for the second Bull Run pipeline, sent the following letter, as he could not attend the meeting in person:

train from giving any comparative cost data, but feel confident that with an equal expenditure the concrete conduit will deliver 50 per cent more water and with no comparison as to the life of the pipe.

Of the 44 English county chief constables only three have risen from the ranks, 33 being ex-army officers and one an ex-navy officer.

As I was the first to suggest publicly and recommend the construction of a concrete conduit for the Bull Run water supply I can well understand that you should wish to lay before you the reasons for such recommendation. As yet no very extensive work has been done in this line. The Reclaim-tion Service has used some large concrete pipe and made a few experiments, but the most recent construction of this kind which has come to my notice in the construction of several and one-third miles of concrete aqueduct for the water supply of Salt Lake City, of which mention is made in the Engineer and Contracting, Vol. 30 No. 6, page 75.
I think it will be generally agreed that were the Bull Run conduit built in reinforced concrete it would have a permanent water supply at practically no maintenance expense. The only point on which there is not sufficient data at present is the manner of water proofing under great pressure; but there is no doubt in my mind that with proper grading of the aggregate composing the concrete and with careful mixing and placing, an absolutely water tight pipe may be made. As I am not advised of the dimensions of the pipe intended to be used I re-
