THAW CRITICISES HAND

STANFORD WHITE'S SLAYER DEFENDER OF CLEAN SPORT.

Says Commissioner Who Heard Jerome Case Is Wrong in Condemning Dice-Shaking.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Harry E. Thaw made the following statement today, after reading the opinion of Commissioner Hand, in the proceedings for the removal of District Attorney Jerome, who is opposing Thaw's fight for liberty. "I agree with Mr. Hand's decision in favor of Jerome, and think that, on the whole, public sentiment will support it. In his decision, Mr. Hand expresses certain opinions which seem to me mistakes, but two remarks that appear regrettable don't affect District Attorney Jerome. Mr. Hand might condone throwing dice for money, but his comment that to rebuke that deed is to indict a very large portion of the community who take part in the games of billiards, bridge, whist, golf, baseball and every other popular recreation known to the people of every civilized land, will surely shock the best people in the community. "I have friends who play billiards, and I know that they don't bet upon the game; that they indulge in it purely as a recreation with no thought of gambling. Bridge, what is never played in public for money. If my own experience over many links counts for anything, not one man in a hundred plays golf for money. I have attended more than 100 baseball games, and found that my own and my neighbors' interest came from the playing of the game itself. Were it otherwise, professional baseball would become a farce. Mr. Hand cannot be familiar with the spirit of amateur baseball. "That field sports, tennis, etc., are indulged in as a pleasure and wholesome exercise is, I trust, beyond doubt. Were this otherwise, the votaries of racing would have an unanswerable argument in favor of their diversion. The effect of Mr. Hand's statement, coming from such an authority, cannot be otherwise than injurious. "Another remark I hope will not meet with general approval is his affirmation that I cannot imagine any serious difference of opinion upon the proposition that there were justices of the Supreme Court in the First District who were not entitled to the respect of any well-informed lawyer. It has a disagreeable sound to me." Rosenthal's windows are money-savers.

ANNIS BOASTED OF CRIME

LAWYER GIVES TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF CAPTAIN HAINS.

Says Clubmen Heard Disparaging Remarks Made by Publisher Concerning Slayer's Wife.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 27.—The unnamed New York lawyer who, in newspaper interviews yesterday, stated that William E. Annis, who was killed by Captain Hains, boasted in his presence of his relations with the wife of Captain Hains and threatened to kill the latter, was in Baltimore today, partly on business connected with the Hains case. The attorney withholds his name, he said, at the request of Hains' counsel, as he has no personal objection to revealing his identity. The lawyer said today that he had seen two Baltimoreans who were in one of the clubs in New York City on the evening in which he declared that Annis made the alleged remarks. He said one was an Army officer and the other a minister of the gospel. Both, he added, had assured him they would come forward and testify as to what they said they heard if their services were needed.

IRRIGATION HELPING IDAHO

LARGE TRACTS RECLAIMED BY VARIOUS PROJECTS.

Completion of Works, Says C. B. Hurt, of Boise.

That irrigation is accomplishing wonders for Idaho is the statement of C. B. Hurt, of Boise, who is interested in various projects in that state. The opening of the different works there has resulted, he says, in the very large increase in the population of the state. Mr. Hurt passed through Portland yesterday on his way back to Boise after a short stay at the beach. The biggest development in irrigation has been made, he says, in the vicinity of Twin Falls, where very large areas have been opened up with irrigating canals. The Twin Falls south side tract includes 240,000 acres, the canal having been completed in 1906; the Twin Falls and north side project opened up 150,000 acres, the canal having been completed this season. The Twin Falls and Salmon River tract of 150,000 acres, was opened to settlement in June of this year, and the Idaho Irrigation Company will open 150,000 acres in October of this year. All these tracts are located in South Central Idaho. The Twin Falls extension canal will water 540,000 acres that will be opened for entry in 1909, and the King Hill project will water 29,000 acres additional. "The Twin Falls and Salmon River project, the latest opening of irrigated lands in the state, made the best showing of any project under the Carey act," said Mr. Hurt. "There was great interest in the opening and claimants far outnumbered the allotments to be made. "The approximate cost of the irrigation works that will cover the entire area will be not less than $25,000,000. The average unit of ownership in all the irrigated tracts is 30 acres, although each claimant is entitled to 160 acres if he wishes it. "The town of Twin Falls shows the effect of irrigation upon the settlement of the country and the increase in its prosperity. The town is three years old and has a population of 9000. The best crops in the district are alfalfa, grasses, grain, sugar beets and fruits. The entire district is served by railroad transportation, the Oregon Short Line having extended the Minidoka & Southwestern into the irrigated section. "The great success of irrigation in Idaho is shown by the large sums of money spent on the projects and the fact that extensions of the existing irrigation works will be made. The canal of the Twin Falls and south side project, the original one in that territory, is 50 feet wide at the bottom and 120 feet at the top, and carries a flow of 12 feet. This canal will be enlarged to carry four times its present flow. "Large numbers of newcomers are settling in the irrigated districts, and they came from the Middle West as well as from the irrigated sections of this state and Washington." Weinhard's Malt Tea, a non-intoxicating beer, ready for delivery Saturday, August 29, 1908. Phone orders to Henry Weinhard Brewery, Thirteenth and B streets. Main 72-A 1172.

GRAND JURY FOR HAINS CASE

District Attorney Undecided About Putting Wife on Stand.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Charles E. Hughes, in a letter received today by District Attorney Darrin, of Queens County, stated that he would empanel a special grand jury to hear evidence in the case of the Hains brothers, accused of the murder of William E. Annis. The Governor also said he would select a judge to preside. The District Attorney announced that the jury would probably sit about September 21. Hains will probably be placed on trial in October, according to a statement made by District Attorney Darrin today. Mr. Darrin said he had not decided as to whether or not he would place Mrs. Hains on the witness stand. The District Attorney said that if he becomes convinced that either the captain or his brother are not sound mentally before the date set for trial, he will have a commission in lunacy examine them to determine whether to go on with the trial or have either or both of them placed in an institution for the insane. Prices talk at Rosenthal's shoe sale.
