FORAKER SLAPS AT ROOSEVELT

Points Out Dangers of Abuse of Executive Power in Speech to G. A. R.

TALKS AT PERRYSBURG

Addresses Veterans at Dedication of Monument on Site of Old Fort Meigs—Seattle Beaten in Convention Race.

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 1.—A street parade of a civic character, preparatory to the G. A. R. parade of veterans tomorrow, and the dedication of the Fort Meigs monument at Perrysburg, 12 miles from Toledo, divided interest today in the 42d annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. Forty thousand journeyed by trolley and boat to the historic spot where General William Henry Harrison in 1812-13 checked the ambitions of the British general, Proctor. Many speeches were made, chief among them being the utterances of Senator J. B. Foraker, Governor Harris and General Bennett Young, representing Governor Willson, of Kentucky, who was unable to be present.

Artillery Thunders Salute.

When Mr. Harris and his party arrived on the ground shortly after 11 o'clock this forenoon, the Governor's salute of 17 guns was thundered from the field-pieces of Battery B. When the bunting which draped the newly-covered monument was drawn, four guns of the battery belched forth a salute and the bands broke into patriotic music, which was almost drowned by the cheers from several thousand throats.

The Gubernatorial party, which included Senators Foraker and Dick, came to Perrysburg in launches and from that village was transported to the battlefield in automobiles, preceded by the band.

Mr. Foraker spoke in part as follows:

When General Harrison fought here there were but 18 states in our Union; now there are 46. Then we had less than 10,000,000 of population; now he have 87,000,000. Then we fronted only on the Atlantic; now we face both oceans. Then our industries were few in number and restricted in character; now they are multitudinous and expanded. Then we had only simple and primitive conditions; now the most highly-developed and complicated known to modern civilization.

But greater than the expanse of our domain, greater than the multiplication of our wealth, greater than any power that has come to us, greater than any glory we have achieved, greater than any of our physical accomplishments, has been the improvement of our people intellectually, morally and in all that makes for good citizenship. There never was a time when they stood less in need of a statutory straight-jacket, or when they less deserved to be discredited in their own estimation and before the world by official censure and public criticism.

Division of Federal Power.

A government under which the people can accomplish such wonderful success at home and exert such influence abroad cannot be too thoroughly studied or too carefully guarded. Practically all the greatest publicists agree that the most vital feature of the general plan of our Government is found in the distribution of its power among three separate, independent and co-ordinate departments.

It is fundamental that neither shall encroach upon the other. The Legislative shall not, without constitutional authority, take from or add to the powers of the Judiciary, nor shall the Judiciary annul or embarrass the lawfully-enacted will of the Legislative. Working in harmony as their official duties require the result is as near perfection as human imperfection will allow. We can only speculate as to the disappointing consequences that would ensue if they should work at cross purposes. To the credit of these departments, neither has ever willfully infringed upon or denied the powers of the other. Through all the years that have passed they have been so true to the purpose of their creation that they have carefully respected and jealously guarded each the rights of the other.

Danger in Executive Power.

But worse than legislative and judicial discord would be an invasion of either of the other departments by the executive. All the powers of that department are consolidated in a single individual. He is the commander-in-chief of the Army and the Navy. He has in his own hands all the tremendous power of public patronage. He not only has under his control, and subject to his will, so far as their tenure is concerned, thousands of officeholders, but he has even more immediately under his command a constantly increasing Army of more, at the present time, than 5000 special agents, inspectors and secret service men whose highest law is his bidding.

Under a bold, aggressive, unscrupulous and designing executive this power of appointment of these armies of appointees could be so exercised and directed as to destroy the independence and impair the usefulness and efficiency of both the other departments.

Such an abuse of power would be a violation of the Constitution, which, if long acquiesced in, might eventually work its overthrow. Such practices are of such serious character that they are not likely often to occur, but nevertheless we should be ever watchful to rebuke them when they do occur, lest in them we find our undoing. Open and avowed enemies are not always the most dangerous. They are frequently subtle influences that undermine and thwart human endeavor before they are recognized. This is particularly true in Governmental expenditure.

Eternal Vigilance Needed.

All the teachings of history proclaim that there is no safety except where there is eternal vigilance. If there should come necessity for changes in our organized law, let us make them in accordance with its provisions, having the requisite patience and patriotism therefor and ever remembering and believing that what Washington and his associates framed and Lincoln and his associates with the help of that grand old Union Army perfected, is good enough for you and me, and for all who are coming after us.

Festivities at Night.

Tonight the Woman's Relief Corps held a reception to Commander-in-Chief Burton, of the G. A. R., and the ex-prisoners of war held a campfire at Memorial Hall. Mr. Foraker adressed an audience of negro veterans at the African Methodist Episcopal Church.

The spectacular feature of the evening was the "Venetian night on the river." All the pleasure craft in the harbor were covered with flags, streamers and lights and moved down the river under rays of powerful searchlights, thousands of people watching their progress.

At the various state headquarters today was spent in issuing instructions for the formation of the parade tomorrow.

The contest for the honor of entertaining the next annual encampment of the G. A. R. today narrowed to Atlanta, Ga., and Salt Lake City, with representatives of the latter city claiming victory.

That Washington State posts are supporting Salt Lake City was confirmed by G. H. Boardman, department commander of that state. Seattle is out of the race.

Veterans of 1908 Assemble.

BOSTON, Sept. 1.—Sailors and soldiers who served in the Army and Navy of the United States during the Spanish War gathered today at Fanueil Hall, more than 5000 strong, for the formal opening of the fifth annual encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans. Tomorrow the great parade, the feature of the encampment programme, will be held. Seattle, Wash., Saratoga, N. Y., and Oklahoma City are each seeking the next encampment.

Wyman Faces Court-Martial.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The court-martial of Lieutenant Guy Wyman, Tenth United States Cavalry, was begun on Governor's Island today on a charge of passing as a single man while his wife was living. Lieutenant Wyman's defense was that he believed his wife had divorced him. Lieutenant Wyman has the reputation of being one of the finest horsemen in the service as well as a marksman of the first class.

SAYS LIFE IS IN DANGER

RUSSIAN SEEKS PROTECTION OF POLICE AT SEATTLE.

Asserts He Has Been Condemned to Death for Betraying Fellow-Countryman.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 1.—(Special.)—For informing the police that Iza Bermon was an escaped murderer from Vladivostok, J. Negoloff has been condemned to death by Russian revolutionists in Seattle, according to the story he told today at police headquarters, where he went to seek protection.

Bermon was arrested in the first place for an assault on Negoloff's sister. Negoloff then told that Bermon, who has also been known as Carlson, was imprisoned at Vladivostok for a political murder, that he escaped, killing another man, taking from his body $1500. He was recaptured, but again escaped and came to America, the Negoloffs joining him here.

Negoloff claims that he has lost his job in a tailoring establishment, his employer being a Russian and a political sympathizer of Bermon. He also says that he has learned that a meeting of Russians was held in an old church in the southern part of the city last night, at which those present bound themselves by oath, first to raise money to assist Bermon to freedom, and then to put to death Negoloff, his betrayer.

Negoloff asked that an officer be sent home with him to get his clothing and belongings, as he was afraid to return home alone.

FINDS SUNKEN WARSHIPS

Japanese Salvage Vessel May Recover Three Lost in War.

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 1.—Advices from Japan state that the sunken battleship Yashima has been located by the steamer Saruhashi Maru, a salvage vessel sent by the naval department to search for Japanese warships lost during the war with Russia, and investigations are being carried out to ascertain if the battleship can be raised. The Saruhashi Maru has also located the Russian warship Sebastopol and the approximate place where the cruiser Takasago sunk has been located.

She is now searching for the battleship Hatsuse. The sinking of the Yashima and Hatsuse was due to the placing of mechanical mines by Rear-Admiral Wiren, on May 1, 1904. The Russian officers observed that the Japanese warships, while engaged in gauging at Port Arthur, cruised continually over the same ground, and a mine field was laid into which the vessels steamed, and the Yashami, Hatsuse and cruiser Yoshino went down the same morning, all with heavy loss.

News of the sinking of the Yashima was suppressed for six months by the Japanese government, and reports of her loss was always officially contradicted with the result that not until news of her destruction was published in the official reports at the end of the war was it generally kwown that she had been sunk when the Hatsuse and Yoshino went down.

CROWD WAITS FOR TICKETS

Two Hundred Persons in Line All Night at Bungalow Theater.

That extraordinary interest is being taken by the public in the opening of the Bungalow Theater next Sunday by the Baker Stock Company was amply indicated by the demand for season tickets yesterday afternoon and last night. At 2 o'clock this morning a line of nearly 200 persons stretched along the street from the theater entrance. These anxious playgoers proposed to wait until the box-office opens at 10 o'clock this morning. The management served a midnight supper to the throng of prospective patrons and they then made themselves as comfortable as the chill morning air and lack of bedroom accommodations permitted. The opening play will be "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall."

SECURE LAND AT ASTORIA

Portland Men Pay $40,000 for 500 Acres on Young's Bay.

ASTORIA, Or., Sept. 1.—(Special.)—A deal was closed here today whereby Dr. Keeny and A. H. May, of Portland, purchased from S. D. Adair about 500 acres of tideland lying on the south side of Young's Bay, for a consideration of approximately $40,000. The property is a rich agricultural tract and after being diked is to be platted into ten-acre lots.

LOST FROM SAILBOAT

over the tiller. Just at this moment the boat rose high upon a wave, exposing her to the full brunt of the wind.

Struck by Wind.

An unusually heavy gust struck her and in a twinkling the sloop went over on her beam ends and the party of ten were thrown into the water.

Haskell, Crawley and Evans were able to grasp the tender of the sloop and were saved by a boat sent out to pick up the survivors. The rescuing party reached the tender just in time and pulled the three exhausted men aboard.

Cannot Be Resuscitated.

Of the rest but two were in sight and the boat was headed for them. They were Lutie Kellogg and Miss Evans. They were unconscious and although the rescuers worked vigorously over them, all efforts to restore life failed.

SENATOR HEYBURN IS RENOMINATED

Unanimously Indorsed by Republican Convention in Idaho.

ATTACKS DIRECT PRIMARY

Nominee Declares He Is Opposed to Any Platform Which Attempts to Legislate for People and Pledge Officials.

BOISE, Idaho, Sept. 1.—(Special.)—Senator Heyburn was renominated by the State Republican Convention today. In accepting the nomination he expressed the opinion that conventions should make recommendations to nominees instead of pledging them to any particular reform.

There were 201 delegates at the convention and Fred R. Reed, of Shoshone County, was chosen temporary chairman.

Thomas R. Hamer was named as the permanent chairman. After his address to the convention, Chairman Hamer called for nominations for United States Senator.

Although John P. Gray, of Shoshone, had been selected to place Senator Heyburn's name before the convention a dozen men jumped up in various parts of the hall and in one voice they presented the Senator's name. Considerable confusion followed and the chairman was unable to accord recognition to Gray.

Before the convention realized what had happened Senator Heyburn had been nominated.

Attack on Direct Primary.

Senator Heyburn made an attack on the direct primary and the election of Senators by popultr vote. The speaker said it was only right that he who filled the position of United States Senator should have ever in mind the interests of the state he represented, but that if those interests were not in accord with the welfare of the Nation then it must become the duty of the United States Senator to look first to the interests of the Nation.

The speaker referred to talk of amending the Constitution of the United States. It should remain as it is, he said.

"It is the bulwark behind which the people of the Nation stand against the whole work, an ark of safety," he continued. "The Constitution should be better studied by the people. Under it the people do not seem to understand what rights they have and they are very liable to go too far in conventions of this character. The Constitution limits the power of the people. Sometimes criticism, unjust to the United States Senators comes because the people say to the lawmakers, give us this law or give us that law, when they do not know whether a Legislator, in doing so, would violate his oath under the Constitution."

Should Not Pledge Nominees.

Senator Heyburn expressed the view that conventions should make recommendations to its nominees instead of pledging them to any particular reform.

"I have always opposed, as I do now," said the Senator, "any platform which may show any attempt to legislate for the people. You are empowered to adopt such a platform. You may recommend, and if the officers the people elect find your recommendations sound and a base for legislation they will act. If they do not find your recommendations sound you must not be offended, for you may be wrong."

Majority Must Govern.

The writing of a platform was taken up by the speakers who urged that the words "We pledge the legislature" be avoided in the platform. "You are here to recommend, not to pledge," he said, "the more clearly we understand the relation between state and citizens, citizens and state and citizens themselves, the more likely we are not to make mistakes. Self-governing people are entitled to be heard. The silly catch words that have been adopted by the Democratic party 'The people will govern,' will not catch anyone. The Democratic party would have the majority govern. The majority of the people has always governed, is governing and will govern, as provided by the Constitution."

OWES DEBT TO NEGROES

Eugene Chafin Says He Was Saved From Drowning by Colored Man.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 1.—At a reception given Eugene W. Chafin, Prohibition candidate for President, this afternoon, a committee of negroes headed by Ed Clayton, editor of a negro weekly, thanked him for saving the life of a negro state employe in the Springfield riots.

Mr. Chafin said that he had been saved from drowning by a colored man when he was a boy and that he owed the race a debt ever since.

In his afternoon speech Mr. Chafin said that local option in country districts was driving the disorderly element of Illinois to the cities. He prophesied that if the state did not go prohibition that there would be enough vicious men in the city to burn it to the ground within four years.

In explaining his methods of enforcing prohibition, if elected, the candidate said that he would call a caucus in Congress and create seats if there were not enough to make a three-quarters vote. He threatened to stuff juries, as was done with the Mormons in Utah, to gain his ends.

BLOWN TO BITS BY OXYGEN

Chemical Manufacturer's Tragic Death Before Eyes of Son.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 1.—John G. Clifford, president of the United Oxygen & Chemical Company, was blown to pieces at the plant of the company today in the presence of his 18-year-old son Roger, when a tank of oxygen charged to 2200 pounds exploded. The boy was uninjured.

THIS IS REAL PIANO SELLING

MORE THAN A YEAR'S BUSINESS FOR AN ORDINARY PIANO DEALER CROWDED INTO THE MONTH OF AUGUST AT EILERS PIANO HOUSE.

By Far the Biggest Record for August Ever Witnessed. And We Are Going to Sell 360 New Pianos This Month. While Slightly Advanced Prices Will Have to Be Put Into Effect, They Will Still Be Placed Much Below Usual. Terms Will Be Arranged to Suit Any Reasonable Buyer. Investigate the List of the Names and Pianos Sold.

We stated at the outset of the month that we were determined to make up for lost time. We had made up our minds that more pianos would have to be sold during the month of August than ever heretofore in the same month.

We recognized that buyers would be found in plenty if sufficient inducements in the way of price, and also terms of payment, were made on the right kind of pianos.

We took some of our choicest and best-known makes, and cut prices unmercifully, making the cost of each piano to the retail buyer less than what small dealers or agents would have to pay at the factory, and we made the terms of payment so extraordinarily easy that many a home owner who had been putting off buying on account of too high prices or payments, saw his way clear to make his home a musical one.

A satisfied buyer, merchants say, is the best advertisement. Here in this list are nearly 250 "best advertisements," for every buyer during this sale has unquestionably become a friend and well-wisher of Eilers Piano House, not only because our prices were considerably lower, and the quality of our stock considerably higher than elsewhere, but also because they found here just a little bit more considerate treatment, a little bit better attention to detail, a little more painstaking and positively prompt delivery service (we have our own delivery service), than could possibly be expected elsewhere. But read over the list:

ALMOST TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE—THESE WILL GO FOR 10 CENTS A DAY.

During this sale we accepted from several buyers their used pianos, and since they secured their new pianos at such immense reductions, they could afford, in turn, to let us have their used pianos for little money. These we must sell at once, for we need the room they occupy.

We have a magnificent Marshall & Wendell piano, splendid finish and excellent tone, carved legs, worth surely $150—half price takes it—yes, we will make it $72—$6 down and $4 a month.

An Arion piano, also in excellent order, surely worth $100, goes for $62.

A superb Fischer, inlaid with mother-of-pearl, carved legs and round corners, $52.

An Antisel, also splendidly pearl-inlaid piano—must have cost $700 or $800 when new—now $85.

A Sohmer, in fine condition, $65, and still another Sohmer for $58.

An Emerson, considerably older than any of the above, but of good tone, $28.

A Steinway, $47. An Imperial, splendid large size, and a Gardner, also good round tone—take your choice, $55 each.

Terms, $6 down and $3 per month secures them.

But you will have to come at once, for at these prices and such low payments we could sell hundreds in a month's time.
