Portland got but one hit off Gray yester day and lost the second game to Los Angeles, 8 to 1. For the first seven innings the game was close and the Beavers were within striking distance, if they had hap-pened to find their batting eye. The eighth distillusioned those who thought Portland had a chance, for the Southerners, with the help of three errors and a three-bagger, made four runs and clinched the game. Neither side got a run for three innings, although there were two close decisions at the plate in the first and

Bernard was sent to the bench in the first by Umpire Perine for talking back after he was called out sliding home. Brashear took his place at second and Briswalter went to right field. Later Briswalter got a two-base hit and a threeagger, showing that he can hit as well

Los Angeles started the run-getting in the fourth. Dillon, the first man up, dropped a Texas leaguer over second and took third on Wheeler's single. Delmas singled to right, scoring Dillon, and Wheeler came in when Ryan held the ball

Portland Gets Run on Fluke.

Pertland got its one run and one hit is the same inning in a way quite out of the ordinary. Johnson got a base on balls, Danzig doubled and Raftery walked, filllog the bases. Bassey was at bat and Gray pitched a low ball which glanced from Easterly's glove and hit the umpire. Very few of the fans saw what happened and were surprised to see Johnson walk to the plate from third and the son wask to the plate from third and the other two runners move up a base. The run was scored on Rule 53, Sec. 4, which provides that baserunners shall advance a base if a ball delivered by the pitcher pass the catcher and touch the umpire or any fence or building within 30 feet of the borne plate. Bassay later flied to Dillon home plate. Bassey later filed to Dillon and Cooney went out at first, retiring the While Portland didn't show up well wille Perland didn't show by westerday, they seem to be trying and will undoubtedly recover from their slump soon. Such pitching and perfect team work as Los Angeles put up in the two games here would be hard for a second division big league team to beat, and the McCondibabora discrete result for and the McCredie boys deserve credit for the effort they are making.

CHICO MAN AND TWO SONS WILL WALK TO PORT-LAND, THENCE TO CHICAGO

FREDERICK WEISS AND HIS TWO SONS, HENRY AND LEONARD CHICO, Cal., Sept. 1.—(Special.)—Frederick Weiss, aged 56; Henry Weiss, aged 13; Leonard, aged 11; these three father and two sons, left this morning on one of the longest walking tours ever attempted in this country. These three will walk from Chico to Chicago. This is not the first time Weiss and his two sons have distinguished themselves as pedestrians. In 1906 the irio walked from Portland, Or., to this city, a distance of 616 miles. The trip was made in 22 days. This is a remarkable record, when it is considered the youngest boy, Leonard, was at that time but 2 years old. Nevertheless, he made the trip unflinchingly and without difficulty.

The route which will be taken by the travelers is over the Southern Pacific to Portland, thence by the Northern Pacific to Scattle and then by the same road to St. Paul and Chicago. Weiss proposes that the party will travel but 20 miles each day, and has further stated that all sleeping will be done in the open air until November I.

Despite the comparative free transportation which the freight trains of the railroads are now allowing. Weiss and the boys will walk the entire distance between Chico and Chicago is nearly 2800 miles, or 120 traveling days, by their schedule.

Weiss has resided in Chico for two years, having been employed as a foreman on several of the big ranches. He is a well-built man, and his muscles are like bands of steel. The two boys are active little fellows, who seemingly have not an ounce of surplus flesh upon them. They talk most anthusiastically of the trip, and are anxious for it to begin. While en route the pedestrians will carry their own cooking outfit and blankets. FREDERICK WEISS AND HIS TWO SONS, HENRY AND LEONARD Oregon Captain and Manager Issue Call for Football Men.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON. Eugens Sept. 2.-(Special.)-Manager Ralph B. McEwan and Captain Fred C. Moulier have ordered all football men to report for practice on Monday, September 21, one day prior to the opening of college.

Coach Robert W. Forbes and Assistant Coach Olen arnskiger will reach the campus on September 20 and John E. Owsley, the great Yale halfback, will come early in October and will remain two weeks.

After Owsley's departure Foster H.

Rockwell, Yale's famous quarterback and head coach during the season of 1906, will spend ten days here, assisting Forbes with the varsity squad. Rockwell is ranching in California and Owsley is in the lumber business at Seattle. usiness at Seattle. The fact that three Yale men will coach the Oregon team during the season has stimulated football enthusiasm, notwith-standing the loss of a number of the varsity veterans. Several Oregon alumni will probably be asked to return and as-sist Forbes at different stages of the sea-

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 2—S. G. Hoy's Memonia won the feature event of the fourth day's racing at the State Fair meet at Agricultural Park, today, defeating the picked winner McFayden, in four heats. The brown mare was in good form and left the field trailing in all but the second heat, which Dudley's stallion won in a driving finish.

The excessive heat caused comparatively slow time as none of the drivers cared to take chances of wearing out their animals. There were three races on the card including two special events for amateur drivers.

COUNTRY CLUB OFFICERS IN-VITED TO SEATTLE.

First Effort by Western Washington Fair Association to Hold Meet Will Be Made Next Week.

Western Washington fair directors have sent a general invitation for the officers of the Portland Country Club and Livestock Association to attend the races and livestock show at Seattle next week, with promises of special entertainment for those who are able to accept the invitation.

The Western Washington Fair is to be the first attempt of Seattle harness be the first attempt of Seattle harness horse owners and livestock breeders to hold a meet and they are trying to interest the livestock men and speed lovers in the meet which is to be held there. The Oregon State Fair has al-ready decided to send one or more representatives to Seattle, and Portland will probably add a local delegation to the number which will go from Oregon. Officers of the Italian warship Pug-lia, now in port, will be asked to re-main in port long enough to witness one or two days of the races here, and it is hoped to have the cruiser's band appear on the programme for the one or more days when the distinguished foreigners are to be the guests of the Country Club, W. H. Wehrung and M. D. Wisdom, both intimately associated with the livestock and fair game in this state, declare that the Coos Bay country will for the first time appear as a formidable contestant in the events to be held here. Practically all the harness harness horses which were entered in the races at Marshfield will be shipped here. here, and the livestock shown at the fair have been listed to appear in the various classes to which they are ellgible.

The entries in the combination sale which is to be held the fourth and fifth days of the local meet include the foremost breeding stock in the state, and the management will not be able to announce the complete list of stuff that will be offered for several days.

Daniel Webster.

ESCENDED from a stern unbending race of Puritan Pioneers and Indian fighters, this colossal personality ("With eyes of power and Jove's own brow") was born in the village of Franklin, N. J., where his father kept a roadside tavern, and where his intellectual development began.

The principles of "Liberty and Union, now and forever, one and inseparable," so eloquently enunciated by him, in after years nerved the arm of Lincoln, flashed from the blades of Sheridan, and glinted from the bayonets of Grant And some of his most memorable orations were delivered in taverns and at public banquets, where the delicious juices of the barley fields gurgled cool and invitingly from a thousand bottles; filled every bumper glass, and delighted his own palate; developing within him, force and energy, intellect, eloquence, mind and soul. Budweiser

The Natural Drink of America

A pure and wholesome product of barley fields and hop gardens. LUPULIN, which has created a stir in the medical world because of its great Tonic properties for stomach disorders, is found in the highest and most effective form in Saazer Hops, grown in the Province of Saaz, Bohemia. The Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association, St. Louis, U. S. A., imports more of these hops than all other brewers in the United States. More Budweiser is drank in American homes than all other beers.
