BOYS AND GIRLS VISIT OARS.—Manager Freeman of The Oaks Invited the chil-dren at the Receiving Home of the Boys' and Girls' Ald Society yesterday to at-tend that resort, and about 45 of them were in attendance. Manager Freeman gave the children a free ride on the chuics and admitted them to the laughing callery. Tra Shellenberger, proprietor of chutes and admitted them to the laughing gallery. Ira Shellenberger, proprietor of the figure eight and merry-go-round, Lynn Welcher, proprietor of the old mill, and Diamond & Whitcomb, operating the moving pictures, gave the children the benefit of their attractions. The management of the society feels grateful to all those who contributed to the children's entertainment on that occasion, including the street railway company for transportation to and from The Oaks.

PEDESTRIANS STOP HERE Fred Weiss and Sons Walking From Chico Falls, Cal., to Chicago.

Fred Welss and his two sone, Henry Fred Welss and his two sons, Henry and Leonard, aged 13 and 11, respectively, reached Portland Wednesday afterneon from Chico Falls, Cal., on their long hike to Chicago They are walking the entire distance and expect to reach Chicago by November 20, averaging about 27 miles a day. The two boys are rugged-looking youngsters and are standing the hardships of the trip fully as well as their father. They expect as well as their father. They expect to enter school next Fall with a knowledge of geography and railroad build-ing that few boys have an opportunity to gain.

The party will follow the railroad tracks to Chicago. Mr. Weiss declaring this to be the easiest mode of traveling by foot, and will go by the O. R. & N., Oregon Short Line and Union Pacific. All bedding and cooking utensils are carried along and so long as the weather permits they will camp out at night. to gain.

The result is a return to normal conditions in practically all lines of trade. The gains should continue to be shown from this time forward. Only a fraction of the crops have been moved to date and as the movement grows it will soon reach the time corresponding to the period of last year when a shrinkage in business began to be apparent, a fore-runner of the financial troubles of Octo-er and November. In addition to the improvement in cur-rent trade, the resumption of railroad construction has done much to stimulate construction has done much to stimulate confidence in the future and awaken business activity here and in the country to be traversed by the new lines. The improvement in the foreign and domestic demand for lumber has also been a strengthening influence, affecting every branch of the business from the logging camps to the transportation companies. TRADE BUILDING SALE Any Suit in the House During This Month for $15.

During the entire month of Septem-ber, in our great special Woolen Mills Trade Building Sale, we will give the pick and choice, without reserve, of any suit in the store for only $15. There are now over 5000 suits on hand—all marked in the plain figures at which they sell. These regular every-day selling prices being $15, $17.50, $18.50. selling prices being $15, $17.50, $18.50, $20. $22.50, $25, $27.50 and some $30. No matter what the suit cost or what it sells at. $15 will buy it if taken be-fore October 1, at which time all suits fore October 1, at which time all suits will again be sold at regular prices. We know of only two ways to run a store. One is to expand and grow, the other is to go backwards. There's positively no middle ground. This store has chosen the course that knows no backward turn. For the past few years our growth has been so rapid that this Spring we were forced to enlarge the store— which we did by adding the entire second floor. This store is double the former room and ding the entire second floor. This gives us double the former room and we can now handle fully one-third more business.
