AMUSEMENTS

BAKER THEATER (Third, between Morrison and Yamhill)—Richard Jones in "Don't Tell My Wife" Matinee 2:15 P. M. Tonight at 8:15.

AT THE THEATERS

"DOROTHY VERNON OF HADDON HALL," AT THE BUNGALOW. Sir John Manners... Dorothy Vernon... Sir George Vernon... The Earl of Rutland... Perkin... Lord Borealis... Howard Russell... Walter Renfort... Ruth Lechler

Every prospect was more than pleasing on the opening of the Bungalow yesterday where, after a rest of two months, the Baker company resumed work for the season. It was a felicitous affair, that opening, with the remodeled theater pretty as a bride's tressou, the company in fine form and the audience in high feather.

Mr. Jose's present visit here, after an absence of several years, is at the head of his own company, which opened an engagement at the Baker yesterday in an amusing little farce called "Don't Tell My Wife." The famous vocalist does not appear in the play, but his activities to his delightful solos between the second and third acts. Yesterday the audience demanded four encores and he gave such a reception as must have made his heart warm up to a public before whom he has not appeared in many seasons.

WOMAN AND TAXATION Her Right of Continuous Appeal Against an Injustice.

PORTLAND, Sept. 6.—(To the Editor.)—While the Oregon State Equal Suffrage Association and its many allied societies are contending in the aggressive, a large majority of the disfranchised citizens of the state, can readily see the wisdom of the proposition that women's property should be exempt from taxation (The women in the company, of whom there are five, contribute in no small degree to the success of the play, and do some clever character work.)

"Hooligan in New York" at The Star

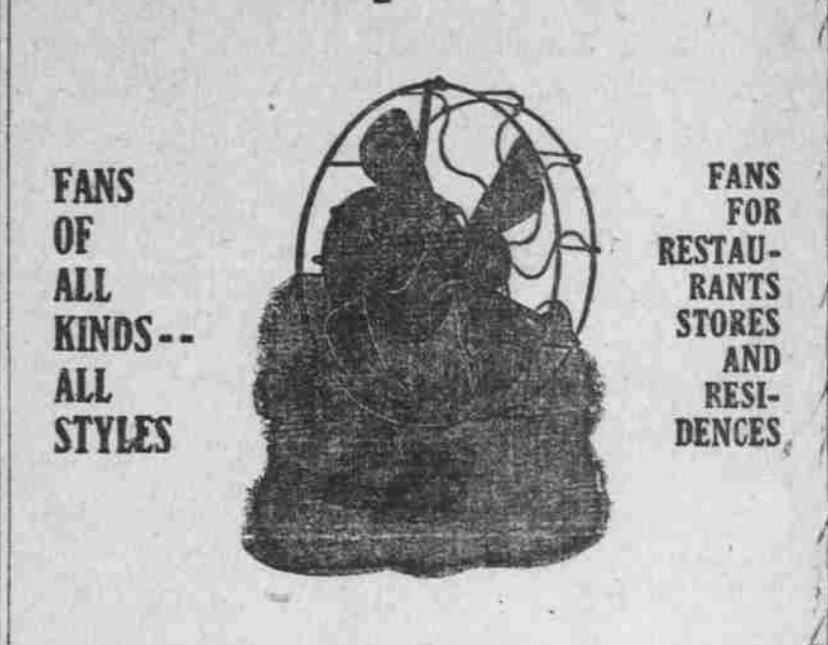

HAPPY HOOLIGAN was a happy choice for the opening of another season at the Star Theater. Manager Erickson could hardly have made a mistake, however, in selecting a play that has a record of 50 straight weeks on the road, for that is what "Hooligan in New York" has done for its proprietors, Cooper & Brown, starting from Chicago, where the piece played better last Summer to good business in about the only house remaining open in the heated term, the Alhambra.

"Lena Rivers" at the Lyric

If the "six best sellers" man had kept a tab on "Lena Rivers" it would probably be discovered that it would rank well up toward the head of the list. To confess that one has never read Mary J. Holmes' quaint, old-fashioned love story is an admission that one never enjoyed the luxury of salad days. It is safe to assume that some millions of people living and dead have swept over the sorrows of the unhappy heroine and rejoiced in her final triumph over circumstances and enemies.

Fan Season Is Here Keep Cool

Portland, Or., September 7, '08. It has been customary in the past for all high-grade tailors to simply mail their patrons each Spring and Fall an announcement stating that their new goods have just arrived; but that line of advertising is a thing of the past, and through this column I invite you to call and inspect the new arrivals of foreign fabrics and fashions. I am positive I can please you in style and perfect fit.

SHORT HOURS FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN—That the talk by Professor D. A. Groat, assistant superintendent of schools in Portland, at the Saturday meeting of the Evening Star Grange, on the subject, "Should Children Study at Home?" is worthy more than ordinary consideration is the opinion of those who heard him.

DOING WITHOUT MEAT NOT ECONOMY—Many people believe they are economizing when they do without meat. You can prove the fallacy of this by keeping account of the amount you are trying to get foods that will substitute for meat.

WILL DISCUSS PIPELINE—At a meeting tomorrow night at the Sargent Hotel, Grand avenue, by the United East Side Push Club, there will be a general discussion of the merits of the different kinds of material suggested for the second Bull Run pipeline—steel, reinforced concrete and wood. Experts have been invited to attend this meeting and give their views. The steel men are expected to be represented by another use of concrete to tell about the qualities of reinforced concrete for water conduits.

CLUB TO BOOST FOR TAFT—Arrangements have been completed for a Taft meeting Wednesday night in the club hall, on the corner of East Twenty-seventh and Powell streets, under the auspices of the Forty-fifth Precinct Republican Club. A special effort will be made to have a large crowd at this meeting. The club will receive itself into a Taft organization until the close of the campaign. The speakers will be C. N. McArthur, Allen R. Joy, Henry Westbrook and Will G. Hale.

IMPROVEMENT CLUB MEETING—The Kenworth Improvement Club will hold its first meeting of the Fall season tonight at 8 o'clock at the residence of T. H. Compton, 100 Gladstone avenue. The session will be devoted to outlining the work to be undertaken by the club. The question of the advisability of permitting a saloon in the district will also be discussed. All residents of the district are urged to attend tonight's meeting.

DECEASED IN PORTLAND—The funeral of Mrs. Mary M. Brooks was held yesterday afternoon from Dunning's chapel, 44 East Alfer street, and the interment was in Lone Fir Cemetery. Mrs. Brooks was 71 years old. She died at the home of her son, D. W. McPadden, in Walls Walla, September 4. She had been a resident of Portland.

CONFESSED TO BURGLARY—James Elstun, who was arrested Friday by Patrolman S. B. Vessey on a charge of vagrancy, confessed last night that he had broken into a restaurant, at 24 Sixth street and stolen a small sum of money.

SAVE THE DISCOUNT—Send check or pay at office on or before the 10th to save the discount on September bills for the Automatic Telephone, Home Telephone Company, corner of Park and Burnside.

of "paid for business" is now in force on the books of Oregon Life. Only nine of the 32 regular life insurance companies operating here have as much Oregon business as that, and most of these companies have been doing business here for 25 years or more.

Oregon Life is Proud of Its Record

To celebrate in a becoming manner A New Policy will be issued on and after Tuesday, September 8. Every person buying life insurance will find it of advantage to examine this contract before signing an application for insurance in any company.
