

RALPH HOYT NEW FESTIVAL LEADER

Directors of Floral Jubilee Name Him President Unanimously.

TO GIVE $100,000 SHOW

Next Year's Demonstration Will Be Bigger, Better and More Beautiful Than Either of Former Celebrations.

NEW OFFICERS PORTLAND ROSE FESTIVAL. President, Ralph W. Hoyt. First vice-president, Julius L. Meier. Second vice-president, Edward Cookingham.

Portland's third annual rose festival is to be bigger, better and more beautiful than either of the two previous ones. Every effort will be made by the stalwart citizens behind the movement to raise by public subscription the sum of $100,000 to defray the expenses of a civic demonstration of a week's duration which shall, in every way, be worthy of the city's magnitude and progressive spirit.

Ralph Hoyt Popular Choice.

Mr. Hoyt accepted the honor in a characteristically enthusiastic speech and said that there was no other way out of it but that Portland must give a celebration that shall be not only a National but International importance and that he will do his part to make it so if the rest of the stockholders and directors of the festival and public in general will help him.

The stockholders met in the rooms of the Rose Festival Association at the Sweetland building, with more than 20 present in person and about 25 more represented by proxies. The report of retiring President C. A. Higelow and Treasurer Ralph W. Hoyt showed that out of the $33,500 originally pledged all but about $1300 had been collected, and that the festival had nearly $500 in cash in a bank account for the celebration of 1909.

New Directors Elected.

The first matter of importance was the election of a board of directors. This resulted as follows: R. D. Inman, H. L. Pittock, E. W. Rowe, G. L. Hutchins, C. A. Whittemore, W. W. Johnson, Alex. Sweeck, E. B. McFarland, Julius L. Meier, R. D. Inman, R. W. Hoyt, Adolph Wolfe, M. C. Dickinson, H. C. Wortman, H. C. McCallister, F. O. Downing, J. F. Carroll, Emmet Drake, E. Cookingham, William McMurray and C. A. Higelow.

Following the selection of the board of directors the stockholders adjourned, and President Whittemore, of the 1908 festival, called the next meeting of the directors together after they had been sworn in. The election of officers for the ensuing year followed. Ralph W. Hoyt received several nominations for president and was elected and inducted into office amid applause. The other officers were filled as follows: First vice-president, Julius L. Meier; second vice-president, Edward Cookingham; third vice-president, C. A. Higelow; secretary, Dr. Emmet Drake (re-elected); treasurer, R. D. Inman.

Hutchins' Management Praised.

The matter of a general manager to succeed George L. Hutchins was next considered, and President Hoyt was urged by no fewer than a dozen of the directors present to support Mr. Hutchins, which faithful and enthusiastic service of the past year was praised without stint. President Hoyt said he would defer the appointment until the next meeting, although it is almost a certainty that General Manager Hutchins will be named to succeed himself, because of his broad experience in festival work and his close familiarity with the work here.

The directors paid tribute to the business men of the East Side for the warm-hearted way in which they had supported the Festival of last June and for having a representative delegation present at last night's meeting. The East Side Business Men's Club was represented by President C. A. Higelow, George Aitchley and H. A. Calef. The directors were in turn assured that the East Side would do even better next year than they had in the big demonstration of this year.

By unanimous vote the Portland Rose Society was invited to co-operate with the Festival Association in preparing for the next year's demonstration, and President E. B. McFarland, who was present, declared that he would take great pleasure in conveying the invitation to the society and would take steps at once to have a committee appointed to work with the executive committee of the Festival.

Will Name Executive Committee. President Hoyt said he desired a few days' time in which to select his executive committee for the reason that the bulk of the work of planning and arranging for the Festival will devolve upon the six men whom he will select for this committee. As soon as he has designated his associates in this work he will call a meeting at which preliminary arrangements for the inauguration of the financial campaign will be taken up. It is hoped to have every thing in readiness to begin a sweeping crusade to raise funds for the 1909 jubilee not later than the first of next month.

ture gotten out. One communication from a big nursery in Pennsylvania asked for a set of pictures of the recent Festival saying it would guarantee a circulation of 200,000 copies in its particular field in the East. It was decided that one of the first steps taken by the new administration would be a widespread exploitation campaign to interest the East and Middle West. Another feature of the work that will be undertaken early in the campaign will be the arousing of interest among the cities of the Northwest outside of Portland. A considerable and most successful start was made this year, but the work will be inaugurated much earlier this season, and instead of only ten outside communities, the Festival people hope to enlist the support of no less than 25 towns in Oregon, Washington and Idaho. The next meeting of the directors will be held probably some time next week.

DOCK FIRE CAUSES LOSS OF $50,000

Blaze at Foot of Washington Street Gives Department Hot Tussle.

TWO FIREMEN ARE HURT

Acting Captain Monte and Hoseman Charbonereau Struck by Steam From Fireboat Hose—Boat Does Effective Work.

Fire that caused a loss perhaps of $50,000 occurred at the Washington-street dock last night and endangered the lives of two firemen. The injured are: James Monte, acting captain of Engine Company No. 7, and Ernest Charbonereau, hoseman, Engine House No. 1. Neither received fatal injuries.

The fire started about 7 o'clock in a bale of hay on the dock. It swept greedily from the hay piles to other bundles of freight on the dock. After eating out the lower part of the two-story frame building, the fire climbed to the upper story and for a time threatened the destruction of the entire structure. Fire Chief Campbell, however, arrived soon after the discovery of the flames, and directed his light against the lower portion of the building. The fireboat George H. Williams fought the upper portion of the flames, and but for its arrival the whole waterfront would have been endangered. The fireboat kept a number of streams of water on the burning building and held it down so that the firemen had little difficulty in fighting the flames. The fireboat did perhaps the best work of its career in extinguishing last night's fire.

It was the energy of the fireboat which destroyed the efficacy of Acting Captain Monte. Captain Monte was directing the action and work of his crew and a stream from the fireboat struck him. The stream was powerful, so much so that it took roofs of the docks where it struck. Striking him it not only dislocated his arm, but placed him on the list of injured, from which it will take weeks to recover. Hoseman Charbonereau was injured in the same way.

Among the losers are: The John Clark Saddlery Company, which had a lease on the upper story of the dock. Their place of business is 104-106 Front street and their losses will, perhaps, be $10,000. W. B. Clark, wholesale fruit merchant, had a quantity of goods in the dock and his loss will be at least $1000. E. L. Cooper & Co., hay and grain dealers, almost entirely the upper story of the building and it was that part of the building which suffered the most damage. This firm sustained a loss of probably $10,000.

The Bannell-Vesey Fuel Company's loss is considerable. It leased 25 feet of floor space on the lower dock and had perhaps 40 tons of merchandise there when the fire started. Injury to its property resulted from the water, for firemen were not sparing in this use of water. Their loss will reach $20,000.

An interesting feature in connection with the fire was the recollection of the old fire during the flood of 1894 when the engines were placed on a barge and patrolled the river. Down town in Portland was at that time submerged, the river reaching as high as Fifth street. The fire Chief secured a barge and equipped it with sufficient apparatus to fight the fire which started in the same docks.

The fire was first seen by dealer, Adier, a newby, who notified Captain Good in his office on the dock. Captain Good called the fire department.

INFORMATION IS DEFECTIVE. John Hardigan, Alleged Thief, to Be Dismissed by Court.

Although he has been held in the County Jail awaiting trial since May 13, the case against John Hardigan will be dismissed this morning, as the information filed against him is said to be defective in not stating the owner of the property in a larceny charge. This will necessitate the bringing of a new action.

Judge Morrow Trying First Case. Circuit Judge R. G. Morrow is trying his first case. It is that of Peter Sonsun against the Portland Railway Company for $517 damages because of a collision between a streetcar and a dray at Sixth and Gilliam streets. Sonsun, who is a driver for the Oregon Transfer Company, was crossing the track with two horses and a dray the morning of January 24, 1907, when a west-bound car suddenly struck him. He testified that he was knocked off the wagon and sustained personal injuries. The fireman was continually sounding the alarm before the car was set on its team onto the track when the car was only a short distance away. Although the motorman reversed the motor and applied the brakes, it is contended that the accident was unavoidable.

FUNDS FOR REPUBLICANS. CENTRAL COMMITTEE WILL RAISE LARGE SUM. Conference of Leaders in Campaign Action Will Soon Be Held in This City.

Republican headquarters in suite 200 of the Chamber of Commerce building will be opened formally this morning, following the return of W. M. Calk, chairman of the State Central Committee, who has been spending a few days at the seaside. Chairman Calk is expected today to announce the appointment of Citron N. McArthur as the new secretary of the State Central Committee.

Four of the five members of the finance committee held a conference yesterday, but it was announced that nothing definite would be presented at the latter part of the week, when Chairman Calk and Dr. H. W. Coe, the fifth member of the committee, can be present. Those attending the meeting were: Ralph E. Williams, National committeeman and chairman of the committee; ex-State Senator C. W. Hodson, ex-State Senator Sig. Bichel and Major J. P. Kennedy, chairman of the Multnomah County Central Committee. Mr. McArthur, who is slated for the secretaryship, was present.

Chairman Williams declined to discuss the result of the conference except to say that it consisted only of a preliminary discussion of plans that will be recommended when the committee meets formally later in the week. It was not the desire of the members present to take any decisive action in the absence of Chairman Calk and Dr. Coe.

About 20,000 lithographs of the Republican Presidential nominees have been received at state headquarters and the distribution of these in the several counties will be the first work to be performed by the committee. Other literature also will be sent out and a request will be made of the National Committee for competent campaign speakers for this state. The primary work, however, will be raising campaign funds.

The original information was never signed, either by the ex-District Attorney or one of his deputies. The Hardigan case had been set for today, but upon looking up the information Deputy District Attorney Fitzgerald found that it would be of no use to prosecute the case upon the information, and will ask the court to dismiss it.

PROPERTY-OWNERS TO PAY WATER-MAIN REPAIR RESPONSIBILITY FIXED.

City Attorney Renders Opinion on Matter Affecting Number of Important Movements.

All repairs to city water mains should be charged to benefited property, according to an opinion furnished to the members of the Water Board at its session yesterday afternoon by City Attorney Kavanaugh.

This settles one of the most important questions that have come up with the inauguration of the new system of laying mains, under the amendment to the charter, voted by the people and sustained by the Supreme Court. With this disposed of, a large number of repairs will be made in the system throughout the city, for which the property-owners must pay direct.

Mr. Kavanaugh also gave the members of the Water Board an opinion in regard to the question whether the Board has the right to proceed with the laying of mains under the old system, which were ordered prior to the new law taking effect. The opinion is that the mains that were previously ordered should be laid and paid for out of the regular water fund. There are a number of these, some with special features, and the members asked that any new mains laid under the old plan until certain minor questions are answered by Mr. Kavanaugh in these specific cases.

One of these mains is wanted on Tillamook street, between Fourteenth and Twenty-sixth streets, and the full support of the Holladay-Irvington Improvement Association is behind the attempt to secure this main. It was ordered more than a year ago, when it was represented to the members of the Board that a bluish pavement would be laid, and that the property-owners wanted the main laid in advance.

The matter was almost forgotten, when the Improvement Association sent a representative to the Board two weeks ago and sought to ascertain why the main had never been laid. Investigation showed that the pavement had never been ordered, and that was the reason the Board has not put in the water main. It now develops that the property-owners changed their petition from asphalt to bluish pavement, and as the pavement is soon to be laid, they are clamoring for their water main.

Mayor Lane and the majority of the members, however, after considering the matter for an hour or more, decided that it is a fit subject for the City Attorney Kavanaugh to refer to his deputies to ponder over, and referred to for an opinion as to whether the Board can proceed to put in the main with funds from the regular appropriation for the extension of mains under the old system.
