WILL ASK FOR MORE TIME

CHARTER BOARD COMMITTEE TO PETITION COUNCIL.

Will Appear at Session Today Asking Extension for Revision of Existing Act.

A special committee of five will call upon the City Council, during today's session, representing the Charter Commission, to seek further time in which the Commission may attend to the duty of revising the present city charter. It is believed the Council will grant the extension, for, if it does not, there is every reason to believe that the members of the Charter Commission will decline to work, as they realize they can do but little in time for the November election.

The committee which will call upon the Council today is composed of ex-United States Senator John M. Gearin, Frederick V. Holman, Dr. C. H. Chapman, John F. Logan and Dr. W. G. Elliot, Jr. The committee was appointed by Judge Henry E. McGillin, Chairman, by resolution of the Charter Commission last Wednesday night, when it became known that the Commission could not perform its important duties properly in so short a space of time as that allowed by the resolution of the Council creating the Commission.

Judge McGillin said yesterday that, in his opinion, the Commission cannot well proceed without further time. Even should the Commission decide to revise the present charter, and simply do its best to straighten out the tangles, it could not do complete and thorough work, it is held, in time to submit the amendments and revisions to a vote of the people at the November election, as called for by the resolution of the City Council.

There are some members of the Commission who strongly favor a new charter embracing the features of the commission plan as in vogue in Des Moines and other cities. If this should be decided upon it will require considerable time, and it will be the duty of the special committee of the Commission to lay all of these facts before the Council today in the effort to secure the desired extension.

The question of sending delegates from the Charter Commission to the convention of the League of American Municipalities, which meets in Omaha yesterday and Friday, will also be the latter part of September, will also come up for action during the Council session, probably when the special Commission committee is present. Some of the members of the Council favor sending one member of the Commission, others favor sending two, and still others are opposed to sending any.

JURY BLAMES PHYSICIANS

Death of Woman Declared to Have Been Caused by Operation.

To ascertain the cause of the death of Mrs. Besse Crippin, which occurred last Friday, Coroner Norden held an inquest yesterday and today. H. T. and C. H. Atwood were censured.

Mrs. Crippin died Friday as the result of a criminal operation, according to the jury's verdict. Her death is said to have resulted from an operation performed at a sanatorium.

Many witnesses were heard during the inquest but none was able to place responsibility for the woman's death. Her husband, Jess Crippin, knew nothing of the cause and when interrogated by Coroner Norden, collapsed.

In returning the verdict the jury found as follows:

"That the woman came to her death as the result of a criminal operation, performed by a physician whom we do not know, and we censure the Drs. Atwood for failure to ascertain from the patient the identity of the person who performed said operation."

Mrs. Crippin lived in Sellwood and many of her relatives testified at the Coroner's inquest yesterday. The inquest was held, it is said, merely to introduce sufficient evidence to hold certain persons to the grand jury.

BUSINESS MEN WANT CARS

LACK OF TRANSPORTATION FACILITIES CAUSES LOSS.

Officials of Northwest Company Promise to Have Their Work Completed in October.

Business men on East Burnside street and Union avenue ask that tracks be laid across the steel frame of the new bridge on Union avenue over Sullivan's Gulch at once, and that Union avenue and over Burnside bridge. That these tracks can be laid across the bridge in a short time and cars cross, instead of waiting until the surface of the bridge is paved, is the opinion of the business men, and an effort will be made to have it done. For nearly six months the business men on these two streets at the east end of Burnside bridge have suffered great financial loss for the reason that the cars are only routed one way, westward, over the Burnside bridge.

Business has fallen off considerably. One man on East Burnside street and Union avenue reports his loss in two months has fallen off nearly $900. Peter Zimmerman, a business man, speaking of the matter yesterday, said: "Union avenue has now been closed nearly six months and we have suffered the great losses. It has been very hard on everybody doing business at the east end of Burnside bridge. No cars run eastward. Now I am told by engineers that there would be no difficulties in laying the double tracks over the Union avenue bridge, and we could have the cars back inside of two weeks instead of waiting two or three months. It seems to me that the business men and property-owners have suffered enough loss, and that the City Council should make provisions so these cars can be laid at once across the bridge and cars resume that route. I believe also that effort should be made to have the cars now using Grand and Burnside bridge continue on that route. The steel bridge is crowded. The cars could go northward on Union avenue and return by Grand avenue as at present."

C. A. Bigelow, president of the East Side Business Men's Club, yesterday took this matter up with the officials of the Northwest Bridge Company, and they assured him that the company would have the bridge completed and ready to be turned over to the city by October 1. They said they do not consider it feasible to lay the car-tracks until the paving of the surface is under way.

Tomorrow (Thursday) positively last day for discount on West Side gas bills. Don't fail to read Gas Tip.

Why Smith is Opening So Many Meat Markets

"We've got Smith losing money on every dollar's worth of meat he sells, and he's not hurting us a bit."

People who will remember a year back can recollect when the Beef Trust was running markets on both sides of Smith on Alder street, and this was what the Beef Trust said: "We've got Smith losing money on every dollar's worth of meat he sells, and he's not hurting us a bit." It set us to thinking we would have to hurt the Beef Trust. Over in Albina folks could not get the good meat they wanted. The trust gave the marketmen only the inferior quality and class of meats. Anything was good enough for Albina. We started two markets over there, all Williams avenue and 731 Mississippi avenue, and we believe the Beef Trust is hurt somewhat. In Oregon City the working people have been complaining for years that it was high-handed robbery to be obliged to pay 10c per pound for meats that we are selling for 3c and 5c. So we started a market at the Falls of the Willamette, and the Beef Trust was hurt again. Down in Astoria the Trust was clearing from $10.00 to $20.00 every bullock it sent to the town, and the people saw no getting away from the exorbitant tax. Smith has been very successful in making a market goes the price of meat drops from 40 to 50 per cent, and for our part, we are very round. Wherever you see the Beef Trust in control the price of meat goes down.

And so, old Beef Trust, we'll give you no peace nor rest, we'll dog your footsteps; we'll punch and pound you until you dance with pain and cry in torture that Smith is hurting you. And after that some more.

Larry Sullivan After Another Fortune

Ex-Portland, With $1000 Grubstake, Will Prospect in Mexico With Hope of Finding Eldorado.

LARRY M. SULLIVAN, ex-sailor boarding-house keeper in this city, an unsuccessful candidate for the City Council, and who later blossomed forth into a mining promoter and manipulator, amassing a large fortune in trading in Nevada gold-mining properties, and later losing his fortune as quickly as he gained it, is now going to start out to prospect in Mexico with the hope of winning a second fortune. A Los Angeles newspaper has the following account of the ex-Portlander:

Larry M. Sullivan, the ex-mining king of Nevada, is going to wield the pick again. Larry has signed a contract with a number of Los Angeles capitalists to go to San Luis, Mexico, and prospect for gold. A former millionaire operator, he has been provided with a $1000 grubstake and will start in fresh, hoping once more to wrest from the bosom of the earth a fortune which he has won and lost.

The peculiar turn in fortune's wheel that has sent Larry Sullivan off into the inhospitable regions of Mexico to locate mining claims may not be considered so extraordinary when his remarkable career and personality are considered. In the heyday of the Nevada mining boom, when the Sage Brush state was the camping-ground for adventurers and fortune-hunters from all over the world, Sullivan was at the very top of the heap. His company in Goldfield was the biggest of its kind in the world. He had 20 stenographers and so many other office employees that he could scarcely count them. His monthly advertising bill was a fortune. He grubstaked prospectors on every hill and plain of Southern Nevada and his daily mail was filled with orders for stocks from every city in the civilized world and with news of other large strikes from every mining district known to civilized man.

One of Sullivan's partners was the late Governor Sparks, of Nevada, who made a comfortable fortune before the crash came. This was caused by the decline in Nevada mining stocks, which carried the big firm down with it.
