

METHODISTS SLATE CANNON TO REPEAL

Condemn Him for His Attitude on Interstate Liquor Shipment Bill.

SPEAKER MADE SCAPEGOAT

Churchmen Overlook Fact That Hardest Blow to Prohibition Legislation Was Dealt by Lawyers in Senate.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Sept. 9.—Barnes Congress has thus far failed to pass the "Interstate liquor shipment bill," the Methodist Episcopal Church has undertaken to prevent the re-election of the House of Representatives.

The most severe blow dealt the liquor bill in question was, however, delivered by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, reached the conclusion that the liquor bill, in the form advocated by the Methodist Church, is unconstitutional, and a report to that effect was submitted to the Senate by Senator Knox on April 13, last.

Even if the Speaker should advocate the passage of the bill, and even if the House committee should favorably report, and the House itself pass the bill, it could not pass, for the death blow was administered by the Senate committee, and that committee stands ready to kill any bill of similar character that may be sent over by the House.

Seven Bills Introduced.

During the past session of Congress seven bills of this general type were introduced in the Senate and two in the House. The bills, differing somewhat in detail and phraseology, were of almost identical character and effect.

It is possibly true, as charged by the Methodists, that Speaker Cannon is responsible for the failure of the House committee on judiciary to make report on the Littlefield and Brantley bills; indeed, it is more likely that the same rests largely on the speaker, for the committee on judiciary, as now constituted, is wholly under the thumb of Mr. Cannon, and does his every bidding.

The Senate substitute, drawn by Senator Knox, provided that common carriers should not act as the agents of vendors of liquors in states where the sale of liquors is prohibited, and further required that all interstate shipments of liquors be plainly marked as to their contents, both character and quantity, in order that the state authorities might know whenever liquor was shipped in, and to whom consigned. It would then be up to the state authorities to prevent violation of their laws after the liquor reached the consignee.

Think States Too Slow.

There was one thing, more than all else, that prejudiced many members of the Senate committee against the rigid liquor bill; that was the fact that so-called prohibition states and not gone as far as they might have gone in their efforts to stamp out the liquor habit within their boundaries. Many states had prohibited the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors within their borders, but no state has ever undertaken to specifically prohibit the use of liquors within its jurisdiction.

But in recent legislation of the Senate committee to the interstate liquor shipment bill is based upon constitutional grounds. A majority believes such legislation not proper, as it is contended the National Government cannot delegate to a state its power to regulate interstate commerce.

Lawyers Do Not Agree.

That there is serious doubt as to whether or not the pending measure would be adjudged constitutional is evident from the division of sentiment among the big lawyers of Congress. Even the Methodist Episcopal Church authorities realize the doubt, but they want to have a court decision; they are willing to take the chance. They fear they will never get a decision as long as Cannon remains Speaker; therefore they want a new Speaker.

Republican Boss Thinks Delegates at Saratoga Should Decide.

Parsons Says Hughes Will Win in End.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Chairman Woodruff, of the Republican state committee, in a statement issued today on the result of the primaries held in Greater New York yesterday, said: "The magnitude of the opposition thus manifested to Governor Hughes in New York, and particularly in Kings County, certainly justifies the position which I have taken, that we should have to await the gathering of the delegates at Saratoga to enlighten us as to the actual situation in all the Assembly districts, which are the unit of representation. I have, of course, recognized the very large and earnest sentiment in his favor among many classes, and the very best classes of Republicans, but could not be blind to the opposition which, for the first time, was made evident yesterday to the public."

Court Orders Testimony to Be Taken on Contempt.

GOMPERS ASKS FOR JURY

Leaders of Labor Federation Deny Disrespect to Court and Assert Right to Criticize Decisions on Principle.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—In the case of the contempt proceedings against Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, of the American Federation of Labor, in connection with the Buck Stove & Range Company today, Judge Gould decided to appoint an examiner to take testimony, and Albert Harper was designated to perform that service. Thirty days was given to each side for the purpose of taking testimony.

Widespread interest has been taken in the case in view of the labor issues involved. Alton B. Parker, of New York, who headed the Democratic National ticket in 1904, is chief counsel for the Federation, and a notable array of counsel was in court. J. R. Van Cleave, the president of the petitioning company, is also president of the National Manufacturers Association.

The injunction proceedings had their inception last November, when Mr. Van Cleave asked the court, Justice Gould presiding, to prohibit the Federation from advising organized labor that the company was unfair to its employees, and from printing that advice in the Federa-
