

CHALLENGE FROM BRYAN TO CANNON

Dares Speaker to Tell How He Became Wealthy in Public Office.

WHAT HAS CANNON SOLD?

Salary of Congressman Too Small for Accumulation of Fortune, Then How Did Speaker Get It as Office-Holder?

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 10.—Heavy personal onslaughts on Speaker Joseph G. Cannon, of the House of Representatives, were made today in the course of his travels through Illinois. The Democratic candidate attacked Mr. Cannon from all sides. He charged the Speaker with being the favorite of predatory corporations and with having strangled reform legislation and with having falsified the facts with regard to Mr. Bryan's wealth.

Open Challenge to Cannon.

Not content with his statements at these two places, the Democratic candidate for President later on at Olney, Ill., where he stayed for three hours, openly accused the Speaker of telling a falsehood when the Speaker fixed Mr. Bryan's wealth at $1,000,000. In great detail Mr. Bryan gave figures showing how his money had been acquired from the day he entered Congress until the present time. He denied emphatically that he was worth $1,000,000 and fixed the amount of his early possessions at $100,000 as the extreme limit. He had come by it honestly, he said, through saving a portion of his Congressional salary and from receipts derived from lectures and writings. He demanded that Mr. Cannon be as frank as himself and tell the public whether he had made any money through lecturing and writing and to what end his money had been put.

Seven Speeches in One Day.

The entire day was spent in Illinois and Indiana. Altogether Mr. Bryan made seven speeches, the places at which stops were made being Mattson, Toledo, Newton and Olney, Ill., and Evansville, Ind. The heat was almost unbearable, but the Democratic candidate seemed not to be affected by it. Wherever he went he was met by large and enthusiastic crowds. During a short visit to the fair grounds at Olney, Ill., he was hailed with acclamations of joy. In Evansville, Mr. Bryan spoke on "Should the People Rule?" "The Tariff," "Trust Regulation" and "Election of the Senators by Direct Vote of the People." Incidentally he took a parting shot at Mr. Cannon.

How Bryan Made His Money.

I was worth about $3000 when I was elected to Congress. I served four years, and by careful economy I saved between $3000 and $4000. I then went to the spring of 1885 I was worth $10,000. During the period that elapsed between the end of my Congressional term and my nomination for the Presidency I was engaged in speaking and in lecturing, and added but a small sum to my savings. After the election in 1896 my earning power as a lecturer was largely enhanced by the prominence which the campaign had given me.

Worth Not Over $150,000.

More than half of my time since 1898 has been given to gratuitous work, and yet I have been able to accumulate property which I would estimate at about $125,000, but as one can never accurately determine what he is worth until he dies, I will fix $150,000 as the outside limit, the maximum of my wealth, and I am not sure that I have not done better.

How Did Cannon Get Rich?

And now, having answered the criticism of Mr. Cannon and shown that his accusation is false, I think I am justified in asking him to be as frank with the public as I have been. He began holding office in 1891, when I was a year old, and yet he is reputed to be wealthy. If he will tell us just how much he is worth, we can then guess how much he might have been worth had he been free to devote his talents to money-making.

Being the third man in our Government, coming next to the Vice-President, if not even above the President, in power to influence legislation, is it not fair that he should apply to himself the same rule that he applies to me and take the public into his confidence? Let him tell us how much he is worth and how he made it. Let him tell us what he has done for the people, to whom he sold it, and how much he got for it. If he thinks that the wealth of a President's candidate should be such a candidate's income shall be known, will he deny that the Speaker's wealth and his source of income should be known?

SAYS CANNON HATES REFORM

Bryan Accuses Him of Opposing Roosevelt's Policies.

TOLEDO, Ill., Sept. 10.—Speaker Joseph G. Cannon today came in for a severe arraignment at the hands of William J. Bryan, who spoke at this place for ten minutes in support of E. C. Bell, the Democratic candidate for Congress. When the train pulled in, so great was the crowd that many sought the roof of the station and surrounding buildings. Mr. Bryan charged that Mr. Cannon, with the support of James S. Sherman, the Republican Vice-Presidential candidate, had strangled legislation in the House in spite of the recommendations of the President.

FAILS FOR BIG SUM

Big Chicago Fish and Oyster Firm Goes to Wall.

DEBTS ABOUT $5,500,000

Booth & Co. Have $8,000,000 of Assets, but Lack Ready Cash—Receiver is Appointed for Old Concern.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—The long-established fish and oyster firm of A. Booth & Company was placed in the hands of a receiver by Judge Betha in the Federal District Court today. The Linsen Thread Company, of New York, and Alfred Booth, of Baltimore, were the complainants named in the petition and on their plea W. J. Chalmers, president of the Commercial National Safe Deposit Company, was appointed receiver. His bonds were fixed at $50,000, and he was placed in charge of the firm's affairs at once.

The petition asserts that the liabilities of the company are $5,500,000 and places the assets at $8,000,000. The troubles of the company are alleged to be due in large measure to an inadequacy of cash coupled with the financial mismanagement of last fall. The bill asserts that the company is unable to meet its obligations.

Coincident with the receivership proceedings an attachment for the funds of the company was secured today by an attorney representing the Girard National Bank, of Philadelphia, on a claim for $3,000. This amount is alleged to have been obtained from the bank by means of fraudulent representations.

President Makes Statement.

In a statement made by W. V. Booth, president of the United States Circuit Court, it is declared to have been rendered necessary because, instead of mortgaging the property, the company has relied for funds upon the sale of its short-term commercial paper, some of which it has been unable to renew. The basis for the receivership was a claim of $788, alleged by the Linsen Thread Company to be due on a note. Judgment was obtained before Judge Betha in the United States District Court and a Deputy Marshal who was sent to levy reported that he could not find sufficient property to satisfy the claim. Thereupon the thread company joined with Booth, of Baltimore, in asking for a receiver.

Was Organized in 1876.

Booth declared that he owned 7444 shares of the preferred stock and 7133 shares of the common stock of the company. There are 30,000 shares of preferred and 30,000 shares of the common stock all told.

A. Booth & Co. was organized in 1876 and took over at that time the business of the A. Booth Packing Company, which was then in existence. Its business, beside the catching, selling and distributing of fish and oysters, consisted of the handling of mail, the maintenance and operation in various cities of cold-storage warehouses.

ACCUSED OF STEALING DOG

George J. Hemmeter Arrested on Complaint of M. C. Asher.

The disputed ownership of a dog led to the arrest of George J. Hemmeter, 328 East Thirty-fifth street last night. He is accused of having stolen Spot, a handsome cross between an English and a Gordon setter, which was missed about the first of June from the home of M. C. Asher, a conductor on the O. W. P. Railroad, who lives in Milwaukee. Hemmeter maintained that he had owned the dog for the past nine months, and in the opinion of the police presented a very weak case. Inasmuch as he could not recall where or how he had come into the ownership of the animal, he was positively identified as the dog's owner, and the animal gave impressive evidence of this relationship by the manner in which it fawned on Asher. After offering a reward for the return, but hearing nothing from it until a few days ago, when Hemmeter boarded Asher's car with the dog. Asher had Hemmeter followed. With Hemmeter's identity and address in his possession, he applied for a warrant yesterday.

CLUB SELECTS DELEGATES

South Portland Republicans Eager for More Campaign Action.

The South Portland Republican Club held its first meeting since the close of the last National campaign, at Jones' Hall, Front and Gibbs streets, last evening. The following members were appointed delegates to the National Republican Convention to be held in Portland September 15: A. J. Fanno, N. H. Bird, J. F. Singer, E. T. Tegart, Dr. F. H. Dammach, John M. Mann, W. P. Lillis and E. F. Jones.

Arrangements are to be made immediately for a rally late this month. Senator Fulton will be the principal speaker and Senator Bourne is expected to attend if he is in the city at the time. On the committee which has this affair in charge are W. H. Chapin, J. F. Singer, A. J. Fanno and W. P. Lillis. The secretary of the club was instructed to write to State Chairman Calk and ascertain why the campaign has not been started more vigorously. What was termed apathy on the part of the managers was criticized.

GETS VOTES ON HIS NAME

Candidate for State Office Mistaken in Tacoma for Local Man.

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 10.—(Special.)—It's all right to ask "What is in a name?" but sometimes the answer is in it. J. L. Murray, candidate for State Treasurer, got nearly two votes to any other candidate's one in Pierce County because of his name.

J. L. Murray lives in San Juan County, and outside of a couple of hundred politicians, it is doubtful if anyone in this county knew him, but J. L. Murray, candidate for Prosecuting Attorney, was pretty well known and had many friends out working for him. Voters came to the name Murray, and thinking he was one of the men they had promised to vote for, put a cross opposite his name without further investigation.

GAMBLING RAID IS FUTILE

Chinese Evade Police by Use of Secret Passageways.

Thirty Chinese gamblers escaped from the police last night in an unsuccessful raid made by Detectives Smith and Kay, assisted by Patrolman Keitlen, on a notorious gambling joint in the rear of 33 Second street. The escape was made possible by passageways out through the brick walls between several adjoining buildings. The police blame the building inspectors for the failure of the raid. They maintain that if these buildings were properly inspected and the construction of the secret passageways prevented the work of the department would be materially assisted.

Although the police officers failed to make any arrests at 33 Second street they met with better success at 35 Second street. Here Detective Smith came upon a hitherto unsuspected gambling-room, where four players giving the names of Chin Hong, Chin Sang, Ah Chin and Chin On, were found playing fan-tan with $24.32 in the bank. They were arrested and required to give $50 bail.

TONE UP THE STOMACH

Get Rid of the Gas, Headaches and Dizziness.

The symptoms of stomach trouble vary. Some victims have a ravenous appetite, some loathe the sight of food. Often there is a feeling as of weight on the chest, a full feeling in the throat. Sometimes the gas presses on the heart and leads the sufferer to think he has heart disease. Sick headache is a frequent and distressing symptom.

A very delicate stomach requires easily digested food but nature never intended that the food should be digested before it is eaten. The stomach must be strengthened to perform its own work and what it needs is not food already digested but a tonic. The processes of digestion are controlled by the blood and nerves, and medical science has produced no better digestive tonic than

MUST PRODUCE LETTERS

COURT ORDERS STANDARD OFFICIAL TO SHOW THEM.

Government Says They Contain Proof of Bribery to Get Information About Competitors.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Frank B. Kellogg, Special Deputy Attorney General, who is prosecuting the Government's suit against the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, resorted to the United States Circuit Court today to force the production of letters he had previously demanded from C. T. Collins, secretary of the Standard Oil Company of Kentucky. The Government's lawyer obtained from Judge Ward a subpoena ordering Mr. Collins to produce the missing letters. This was served on the Standard official as he left the witness stand, where he had been testifying before Judge Collins, secretary of the Standard Oil Company of Kentucky. The letters demanded by the Government are about 40 in number and were written by M. Maxon, a Standard agent, to C. T. Collins, secretary of the Standard Oil Company of Kentucky. The letters dealt with alleged sums which the Government charged, were paid by the United States Circuit Court of Kentucky to its agents for the purpose of buying information as to competitors' shipments. This information in some cases the Government alleges, was bought from railroad employes, oil inspectors and others. This, however, is denied by the Standard Oil Company.

STANDARD ANSWERS PETITION

Argument Against Petition for Rehearing on $29,240,000 Fine.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Declaring that the decision of the United States Circuit Court of appeals in annulling the $29,240,000 fine imposed by Judge Landis was good law, counsel for the Standard Oil Company of Indiana today filed an answer to the Standard Oil Company's petition for rehearing of the case.

Point by point the answer, which was formally placed on record at the opening of the trial judge had really said that the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, on this point the answer declares it to be a matter of no consequence whether the trial court referred to the Standard Oil Company of Indiana Company as not a "virgin offender."

"The real point is," says the answer, "did the trial court in imposing punishment take into consideration the relation between the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and the Standard Oil Company of Indiana?"

The answer will be presented to Judges Grosscup, Baker and Seaman, of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, at the trial judge had really said that the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, on this point the answer declares it to be a matter of no consequence whether the trial court referred to the Standard Oil Company of Indiana Company as not a "virgin offender."

RAID ON GAMBLING GAME

Six Men Arrested in Saloon on Stark Street.

Six men were arrested this morning shortly before 1 o'clock, in the Circuit Court at 33 Second street, where State Game Warden and Patrolman Barzee found a gambling game in progress. Two men, Ben H. Miles, the bartender, and Thomas Ryan were the players, while Louis Bratton, Frank Clark, Oliver Jones and Robert Gray were spectators. The police found cards, chips and money on the table. The players were charged with gambling, and the onlookers with visiting a gambling house.

WILL ARREST GILLNETTERS

Patrol-Boats Watching for Expected Violators of Fish Law at Astoria.

ASTORIA, Or., Sept. 10.—(Special.)—As the Fall fishing season opened at Astoria today, owing to the stage of the tides, none of the gillnetters went out until after dark this evening, when a few of them left different parts of the river. As the patrol boats are out,
