CLERGY LIST INCREASED

NEW MINISTERS STRENGTHEN EPISCOPAL RANKS.

Ashland and Grants Pass Will Benefit by Appointment of Graduates From the East.

Three new clergymen were added to the list of parochial clergy of the Episcopal Church in Oregon this week. Rev. Roy Edgar Remington, of Rochester, N. Y., is to have charge of All Saints Church, Twenty-second and Reed streets, Portland. He was educated at the Episcopal Theological School, in Cambridge, Mass., and was ordained deacon last June. While at Cambridge he had charge of a church at South Framingham, Mass. Rev. Frederick Bethune Bartlett, A. B., Trinity College, Hartford, Conn.; and Rev. Samuel Martin Dorrance, A. B. (Harvard, 1905), are for the present to live at Grants Pass. They will have charge of St. Luke's Church, Grants Pass, and of Trinity Church, Ashland, and such other work in that part of Oregon as the Bishop may assign. Both Ashland and Grants Pass are important centers of the Episcopal Church, and it is thought that with each church having its own clergyman, both

MOST GOES TO CHILDREN

WILL OF MRS. R. R. THOMPSON FILED IN COUNTY COURT.

Oregon Portion of Large Estate Is Valued at $881,940—Most of Realty in Portland.

The will of Harriet Thompson, the widow of Robert R. Thompson, the millionaire Portland pioneer and shipowner, was filed in the County Court yesterday morning. With it was a petition from W. J. Hawkins, administrator in Oregon of Thompson's estate, that he be authorized to act as administrator of the estate of the widow. She died July 21, being 89 years old, while her husband died in San Francisco several months previously. Thompson left a large amount of his property to his widow, which will now be distributed among the children, of whom there are eight. The entire estate is worth in the neighborhood of $2,000,000. The Oregon property is estimated to be worth about $881,940. Almost the entire estate will go in equal proportions to the children, only one of whom, Robert H. Thompson, lives in Portland. Walter S. Thompson, another son, lives in San Francisco, Frank Thompson lives in Alameda, Cal., and

LEWIS CASS THOMPSON, OF CARLTON, YAMHILL COUNTY.

The daughters are Sarah A. Pollock, Clara Lillie Yates, Ella F. King and Hattie Bell Borden. Except in the case of Mrs. Pollock, all the children share alike. In her case she is to divide her share with her daughter, Mrs. Hattie B. Branched.

TRADE-BUILDING SALE

Draws Enormous Crowds to the Brownsville Woolen Mill Store. No clothing sale in years has attracted so much attention as the one now being run by the well-known Woolen Mill Store. These people, not content to give the greatest values in town, have made a special price of 15 for the pick and choice, without reserve of any suit in the store—this offer is simply to gain new customers and holds good only until October 1.
