PICTURE MACHINE EXPLOSION.—Joseph Wertheimer, manager of the Arcade Theater, 228 Washington street, where moving picture shows are given, was seriously burned about the head, face and hands, shortly before 6 o'clock last night, by the explosion of a film in the pierce machine. Wertheimer was operating. Fire followed. Protection and the department was called out, but Wertheimer averted the blaze from spreading by prompt action, which cost him additional severe burns. The explosion was caused by a short circuit. It failed to project the pictures upon the screen. The film passed in proximity to this light. The machine got stuck and Wertheimer attempted to remedy the defect without turning off the arc light. As the film is made of celluloid it exploded. Damage and almost blinded Wertheimer was hauled across the street to Bowe & Martin's drugstore, where he received first aid treatment, after which he was driven home.

DRA. POHL'S SON DREW.—Frederick Clayton Pohl, aged 6 years, the only son of Drs. Elm and Elmert Pohl, died at St. Vincent's Hospital yesterday morning at 4 o'clock of intestinal troubles. He failed to survive after an operation performed by Dr. George F. Wilson. Funeral arrangements have not been made, but it is thought likely that the services will be held in the home of his mother, Dr. Esther C. Pohl is the City Health Officer, and the death of her little son cast a gloom over the City Hall yesterday, as the little fellow had frequently visited his mother's office and had quite an acquaintance there, and was a great favorite.

ACTOR FROM CHINA APPREHENDED.—The City Executive Board at its meeting yesterday afternoon, adopted the report of the fire committee, recommending the award of a contract to the Coverer Fire Company for four four-pipe 100-horse power, six-cylinder Fire-Arrow automobile, to be used by Chief Campbell in the service of the Fire Department. PROFESSORS' PAY RAISED UNIVERSITY OF OREGON INCREASES SALARIES.

New Girls' Dormitory May Be Built and Additional Land Is Needed.

HIGHER SALARIES to many of the members of the faculty of the University of Oregon will be paid as a result of yesterday's action by the Board of Regents. The raise, where it will be effective, will be twenty-five per cent and will include many of those members of the faculty who were not recently receiving $2000.

The salary of President F. L. Campbell was raised from $3000 to $4000 and other increases were as follows:

Dr. Joseph Schaefer, professor of history, from $1000 to $1200.

R. H. Peacock, professor of electrical and mechanical engineering, E. E. McCloskey, professor of mathematics; H. G. Howe, professor of English; W. H. Miller, professor of physics; W. P. Boynton, professor of physics, each an increase from $1000 to $2000 a year.

Dr. John L. Stewart, steward and secretary of the University, from $1800 to $2000.

J. F. Boynton, assistant professor of biology, from $1000 to $1200.

George P. Adams, instructor in civil engineering, from $1400 to $1600.

W. H. Barbour, physical director, from $1000 to $1200.

Miss Julia Burgess, instructor in rhetoric, to $1000.

Miss Jackson, assistant in physics, to $800.

Miss Camille Leach, assistant librarian, to $1000.

C. W. Coates, instructor in electrical and mechanical engineering, to $1200.

A. R. Tiffany, registrar, to $1400.

D. H. B. Leonard, instructor in mathematics, to $1200.

J. H. Gilbert, instructor in political economy, to $1200.

C. A. Chapman, instructor in civil engineering, to $1200.

C. R. Reid, instructor in mechanical engineering, to $1100.

President Campbell and Regent J. A. Ainsworth were selected as a committee to decide as to the advisability of building a new girl's dormitory. It was also decided to purchase thirty-five acres of land adjoining the campus to give more room for the university.

A number of appointments were made known yesterday to fill vacancies made in the faculty.

AMONG THOSE MADE KNOWN YESTERDAY TO FILL VACANCIES WERE: James Currie as instructor in chemistry; R. B. Ketchum as assistant professor in the department of engineering at a salary of $1500; and Samuel C. Elliott as instructor in physiology.

with wagons, shovels and a large quantity of supplies. The men were not more than five miles from the junction of Trout Creek with the Des Chutes River. For many months the men of the company has been busy along the line of the proposed extension of the Corvallis & Eastern Railroad. There is every reason to believe that great railroad activity is to be seen in our section, and these two instances are merely corroborative of the various railroads in Oregon.

However, it is my opinion that we will never have a railroad in Prineville unless a road is built through our town to Burns, or unless we build it ourselves. The people of Prineville are very likely to build it, for if they once decide on such a move it will be through.

At present Prineville is the big wheat raising section, there are now at least a half million bushels of wheat awaiting shipment by rail, according to Mr. Kennedy. The crop is of the finest and there are no less than half a million bushels ready for shipment.

LABORERS HASTEN ROADS

ENORMOUS AMOUNT OF WORK IN EAST MULTNOMAH.

Improvements Continue Rapidly.

Independent of Operations, Under Orders of County.

Road work in Eastern Multnomah has been pushed along this year at an unprecedented rate. Independent of the county road improvements carried on from Kelly's Butte, where the rock crush is operated by county prisoners, there has been a large amount of new work completed from the various gravel pits under the supervision of the district road superintendents. For two months past the gravel pit at Sylvan has been the scene of active operations, a train load of gravel and gravel being shipped to Anderson Station every day over the O. W. P. for use on the Powell Valley road between Powell Valley and Pleasant Home. Supervisor Hillyard has spent about this distance and has recently torn up about 12 miles of the old plank roads making a solid surface which will wear for years.

Supervisor Kenney is also doing considerable work from the Graham County side. He has had about one acre of the surface covering strata off, exposing one of the finest deposits of gravel for road work to be found in Multnomah County. From it he has had teams at work during the past two months rebuilding several miles of worn-out road and improving important cross-roads connecting the departments.

In several of the other districts there have been many notable improvements, all together making the county road system of Eastern Multnomah about the finest to be found in the state.

It is now the policy of the County Court to replace the many small bridges throughout the county with fills, and several crossing structures have disappeared in that way. At one place on the Base Line road an unsafe bridge was replaced with a concrete viaduct through which Beaver Creek finds its way. It has been a success, and more of the same kind are likely to be built soon.

There are five principal thoroughfares known as the Sandy road, Base Line, Saco Line, Powell Valley and the Foster road, all leading eastward from Portland as far as possible into the mountains. Before winter comes all will have received attention. With the exception of the base roads and bridges, the system of Eastern Multnomah will approximate over 200 miles, nearly all of which will be in the best possible condition and will only need to be kept in repair hereafter.

Several new roads are being opened for accommodation of new localities, but these will come in for permanent improvement another year.

Mr. Swett took a deep interest in the proceedings of the Executive Board, which were extremely lively yesterday. He is a well-known lawyer and for 10 days recently was Acting Judge of the Municipal Court, during the absence of Judge Van Zante. When George J. Cannon was elected District Attorney and was about to vacate the Municipal Court bench, there was a strong rumor that Mr. Swett would be named to the position, but Mr. Van Zante was appointed.

When the City Executive Board met in regular session yesterday afternoon, Isaac Swett was present as a member.

He was appointed by the Mayor yesterday morning to fill the place left vacant by the death of C. A. Cogswell several months ago.

Mr. Swett was to a deep interest in
