LET TAFT BE HIS OWN SPOKESMAN

Bryan's Comment on Roosevelt's Eulogy of Candidate.

SAYS LETTER IRRELEVANT

Nebraskan Picks Holes in Opponent's Record on Labor, Tariff and Trusts—Denies He Has Made Cabinet Selections.

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 14.—W. J. Bryan, Democratic candidate for President, today for a second time claimed the attention of the voters of Maryland. He spoke twice, the first time at Annapolis, where he discussed the issues of the campaign, and tonight in this city in the 17th Regiment Armory before an audience which is conservatively estimated as exceeding 5,000 persons. Mr. Bryan received an ovation seldom equalled in this city.

When he stepped to the front of the platform, the crowd rose on its knees and cheered and waved flags, the band the while playing "Dixie." Upon order being restored, Mr. Bryan giving every evidence of his pleasure at the demonstration, began his remarks. He devoted most of his time to a discussion of the same issues that he has presented elsewhere. He stated with emphasis that there was nothing in the Democratic platform that need alarm any legitimate interest.

Mr. Taft, he said, had already amended his platform in several places, but none knew what other amendments he might add before the election and what additions he might make to it after the election. When any one came to construe the Republican platform, he said a guessing contest was entered into and none could tell whose guess was nearest the truth. President Roosevelt was elected upon a similar platform "and, as his platform promised nothing in particular, he felt at liberty to recommend any number of things which the Republican leaders objected to."

The result was, he said, a constant conflict between the Executive and Congress.

Let Taft Himself Speak.

"A few plain, simple sentences from Mr. Taft will be worth more to the country than the President's pronouncements. The President's endorsement is of no value unless the President will agree to stay in Washington and see that Mr. Taft makes good."

In these words Mr. Bryan summed up his opinion of the letter of President Roosevelt commending any number of support Mr. Taft. He could hardly do less in view of the fact that he selected him as the administration candidate and supported him with all the influence that the administration could bring to bear. The President's letter, however, may be objected to as irrelevant, immaterial and not the best of evidence. If Mr. Taft were dead it would be interesting to know from Mr. Roosevelt what he knew of Mr. Taft's opinions and work, but as Mr. Taft is alive and able to speak for himself, it is hardly necessary for Mr. Roosevelt to tell us what Mr. Taft will do.

Mr. Taft is running upon a platform which was so unsatisfactory that he had to amend it in several particulars and some of these amendments have already made have no thrown any light upon the political situation, but it is hoped that he will yet conclude to define his position with sufficient clearness to enable the public to know what he stands for. It is not sufficient for the President to say that Mr. Taft is a friend of labor. That is a subject upon which the laboring man is entitled to an opinion and Mr. Taft's friendship is to be determined not by the President's endorsement, but by the measures which Mr. Taft advocates. Mr. Taft believes that labor organizations should come under the operation of the anti-trust law, thus dealing with the men who belong to the labor organization as if they were merchandise, for the anti-trust law deals with the monopoly of the products of labor.

Mr. Taft is opposed to trial by jury in cases of indirect contempt, thus denying to the laboring man a safeguard which is guaranteed to every man tried in a criminal court. Mr. Taft does not agree with the laboring man in regard to the use of the injunction in labor disputes. No workers should come under the operation of the anti-trust law, thus dealing with the men who belong to the labor organization as if they were merchandise, for the anti-trust law deals with the monopoly of the products of labor.

Mr. Taft is opposed to trial by jury in cases of indirect contempt, thus denying to the laboring man a safeguard which is guaranteed to every man tried in a criminal court. No workers should come under the operation of the anti-trust law, thus dealing with the men who belong to the labor organization as if they were merchandise, for the anti-trust law deals with the monopoly of the products of labor.

Trusts and Tariff Revision.

"Mr. Taft's position on the trust question is not changed by the President's endorsement. The President himself has not succeeded in putting any trust magnates in the penitentiary and only a few of the trusts have been disturbed. If Mr. Taft is no more successful than the President in his attacks on the trusts he will not satisfy the expectations of the public. There are more trusts in the country today than there were when Mr. Roosevelt was inaugurated and Mr. Taft favors a weakening rather than a strengthening of the anti-trust law, for he has advocated an amendment that will limit the operation of the law to unreasonable restraint of trade."

"On the tariff question, Mr. Taft has failed to express himself with clearness. The Republican platform does not use the word 'reduction' and only promises revision, and Mr. Taft has construed that to mean that some schedules will be lowered and some raised, but there is no intimation that the average will be lower or higher than it is now."

"And so, in regard to all the questions which are at issue, Mr. Taft must make his position known. He cannot rely upon the President's endorsement. An endorsement on a note is not necessary if the maker of the note is good, and tender sentiment is only good when suit can be brought against the indorser to enforce it. If Mr. Taft had a reform record of his own, he would not need to be indorsed by the President, and the President's endorsement is of no value unless the President will agree to stay in Washington and see that Mr. Taft makes good."

What to Expect From Taft.

"We ought to have some definite statement as to what the public is to expect from Mr. Taft. No such definite statement appears in the platform, and no definite conclusion can be drawn from Mr. Taft's speeches, and it does not answer the purpose for the President to say he feels sure Mr. Taft will do what is right or what is just, for there is a wide difference of opinion as to what is right and as to what is just. A few plain, simple sentences from Mr. Taft will be worth more than the eulogy that the President pronounces."

Mr. Bryan arrived in Baltimore shortly before 8 o'clock this morning. The trip from Deer Park, Md., was uneventful, and the entire party had a good night's rest. Mr. Bryan was met by the local reception committee, composed of leading Democrats of the state and city, among whom were Mayor J. Murray Mahool, ex-Governor Frank Brown, General Murray Vandiver, Congressman Gill and Wolf, State's Attorney-General Straus and State Senator J. P. Gorman. The Presidential candidate was driven in an automobile to the Hotel Belvedere. There were no set speeches, the meeting between Mr. Bryan and the committee being of an informal character. During the forenoon, Mr. Bryan received a large number of visitors at the hotel.

Too Early to Talk of Cabinet.

Mr. Bryan was asked this morning in regard to the printed rumor that if elected he would appoint Admiral Schley Secretary of the Navy.

"No one has asked me about the matter and I have not talked with any one about that," he said. "The story, therefore, was absolutely imaginary. While I am an admirer of Admiral Schley, and feel that he was unfairly dealt with, I have no thought of picking out any Cabinet officers before the election. Were I to announce that any man would occupy any Cabinet position in case of my election, I would at once be called upon to select the rest of the Cabinet, and each state with a favorite son would feel that I should state my preferences."

HASKELL GATHERING FUNDS

Democratic Treasurer Says $3000 a Day Comes In.

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Governor Haskell, of Oklahoma, treasurer of the Democratic National committee, stated today that miscellaneous contributions to the campaign fund ranging from $1 to $100 were being received at the rate of $300 a day. These, he said, were exclusive of the funds gathered by the finance committee.

John W. Kern, Vice-Presidential candidate, spent the day at the National headquarters discussing details of his itinerary. He left this evening for Indianapolis.

FOG LIFTS IN CHICAGO

Rain and Wind Clear Atmosphere of Yellow Haze.

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—After 24 hours of a yellow haze which reminded travelers of a London fog minus the drizzle, a steady wind began last evening to drive away from Chicago the smoke from the forest fires in the Northwest. At midnight rain began to fall, serving to complete the work of clearing the atmosphere of smoke.

Only one accident during the day was attributed to the smoke. Three persons were seriously injured when a Madison-street car collided with the thick fog with another Madison-street car bound in the opposite direction.

Many of the passenger boats that ply across and up the lake during the Summer have closed their season, but the few remaining in service were not seriously handicapped by the big, low-lying clouds.

WAS NO DICTATION

Littlefield Denies the Charge Against Cannon.

IN REPLY TO METHODISTS

Maine Member Says Liquor Ship-ment Bill Smothered Because Validity Doubtful and Cannon Was Not Responsible.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The action of the Methodist denomination in opposing Speaker Cannon on the ground that he strangled the Littlefield bill, which was designed to prevent the shipment of intoxicating liquors into Prohibition districts, has called forth a letter from Congressman Littlefield to Mr. Cannon in which he says:

Doubts Validity of Bill.

"As to the Littlefield bill, which I was not able to get reported from the committee at the last session, no one has any authority from me to hold you responsible for that result. I suppose I raised some grave and close constitutional questions. While I feel that, the bill would be sustained, and I think it ought to pass, the question is by no means free from doubt and I would not for a moment think of intimating that those who take the opposite view are insincere or dishonest. In fact, some of the ablest lawyers that I know entertained that view. While I do not remember to have ever discussed this phase of the question with you, that I understand to be your view."

"It is not to be assumed, I take it, that when a member is elected Speaker he ceases to have opinions and is deprived of the right to express and maintain them that other members enjoy, without subjecting himself to the question of being a dictator of the House or reproached with a lack of vivacity. The election of a Speaker should not, in my judgment, emasculate either the Speaker or the House. That intelligent, conscientious and earnest men should disagree upon important questions is, I take it, inevitable."

Praises Cannon's Ability.

"I certainly hope that any view you may entertain on this question will not embarrass you in your campaign, as I think you fully realize, if your conclusions do not, the vital importance to the party and the country of having a man of your ability, intelligence, independence, courage and intimate knowledge of public affairs not only in the House of Representatives but in the position that you now fill with such great acceptance to all members."

SEIZE PICTURE FOR DEBT

EVELYN THAW'S MILLINERS WILL SELL PORTRAIT.

Judgment to Be Satisfied by Sale of Keepsake Given by White in Frame He Designed.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—When the Sheriff today seized a portrait of Mrs. Harry K. Thaw, owned by her, it developed for the first time that a milliner had obtained a judgment against her on September 2 for $236.

The portrait is a study in brown of Mrs. Thaw by Harrington Mann, and she is said to have posed for it at the request of Stanford White, who was killed by her husband. It is included in a remarkable brass frame which was designed by Mr. White. It is believed the picture would bring much more than the amount of the judgment if put up at a Sheriff's sale.

The original bill of the milliner was for $686, representing purchases on two days, including waists at $15 and $15 each and a suit at $140. Payments aggregating $450 were made on account and then were stopped.

Thaw Changes His Prison.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Sept. 14.—Harry K. Thaw left the Dutchess County jail today in custody of Under-Sheriff Townsend and accompanied by his counsel, Charles Morschauser, boarded a train for Tarrytown. From thence the three went by trolley to the Westchester County jail, where Thaw hereafter will be in the custody of Sheriff Lane.

Astoria Bank Clerk Dies.

ASTORIA, Or., Sept. 14.—(Special.)—Edwin L. Sinnott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sinnott, died at the family residence here during last night of pneumonia, after a short illness. The deceased was a native of Astoria, 21 years of age, and had been employed for some time as a clerk in the First National Bank of this city.

Brings Damage Suit for Land.

Alleging that when he offered to make the final payment of $400 on his land in Skamania County, Washington, to John W. Cook, from whom it was purchased, the latter refused to accept it or to give a deed to the property, Richard Scamson has filed suit for $300 damages in the Circuit Court. The land was bargained for last April, the purchase price being $2000, with $600 as the first payment.

S.S.S. MAKES A LASTING CURE

There are certain mineral medicines which will remove the external symptoms of Contagious Blood Poison, and shut the disease up in the system for awhile, but when the treatment is left off the disease will surely return. Then the loathsome symptoms of ulcerated mouth and throat, copper-colored spots, falling hair, sores and ulcers, etc., are usually worse because the disease has made rapid progress on the internal members, and weakened the constitution and general health of the sufferer. S. S. S. is the only remedy that can be used with perfect safety in the treatment of Contagious Blood Poison, and with the assurance that a lasting cure will result. This medicine, made entirely of roots and herbs of recognized curative and tonic value, antidotes and destroys the powerful virus of the disease, and by purifying the blood of every particle of the poison and enriching and strengthening the circulation, removes every symptom of the trouble. S. S. S. does not hide or cover up the disease in any way, but drives it entirely out from the blood, leaving not the slightest trace for future outbreaks. Home treatment book with valuable information and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.
