

McHARG HERE TO GENERAL FACTIONS

Representative of Hitchcock Urges Party to Unite in Behalf of Taft.

NOT CONFIDENT OF OREGON

That Senatorial Fight Will Be Dropped Until After National Election Is Hope of Re- publican Worker.

Elimination of factional differences and the organization of Oregon Republicans for an aggressive campaign in the interest of Taft and Sherman are the purposes of the visit to this state at this time of the crassly McHarg, personal representative of National Chairman Hitchcock in the Western and Pacific Coast states.

Since arriving in Portland Sunday, Mr. McHarg has conferred with many prominent Republicans in this city with whom the disorganized condition of the party in this state has been reviewed. Today he will hold a conference with Senator Fulton and National Committeeman Ralph E. Williams. Senator Fulton will arrive this morning from Salem, where he has been attending the State Fair, and Mr. Williams will come from his home at Dallas.

Demand Leaders to Unite.

In order to insure the success of the Republican nominees by the usual majority in this state, Mr. McHarg will demand of the party leaders that they drop the personal quarrels and eliminate until after the November election every phase of the Senatorial fight. Mr. McHarg admitted last night that because of the persistent attempt to wage the Senatorial fight in connection with the National election, concern was felt for the success of the party. He declared, such tactics were not making for harmony within the party and the success of the Presidential ticket in November.

"It will be insisted," said Mr. McHarg at the Portland last night, "that the Senatorial fight in this state be dropped until after the November election. Since I have returned to Portland I have found that the situation is even more serious than it had been represented. Republicans apparently have submerged Taft's chances in this state in order further to prosecute their factional fights.

Hopes for Usual Majority.

"It is the duty of every Republican to stand by his party's nominees and see that the usual majority is recorded. Oregon is counted upon as a Republican state, and why should it not be when four years ago it gave Roosevelt a majority of nearly 4,000? By dropping their factional quarrels, which serve only to dissipate the party's forces, and uniting their forces, a big majority may be registered for the ticket. With such a showing and the backing of a National administration the party would be better prepared to present its candidates as to the Senatorial. But by giving Taft a majority out of all proportion to that received by Roosevelt, the Senatorial would not have the impetus a big majority would give."

Mr. McHarg reports that conditions in Wisconsin, Wyoming, Montana and the Dakotas are entirely satisfactory and indicate the success of the Republican ticket. The outlook is equally bright, he says, in Washington, where the Republican factions within the party have put aside their differences and all are working earnestly for the success of the National ticket. After concluding his work in this state, Mr. McHarg will go to California and thence to the other Western States which belong to the territory to which he has been assigned as the special representative of the National chairman.

McHarg's Work in South.

During Secretary Taft's campaign for the Presidential nomination, Mr. McHarg was the right-hand lieutenant of Chairman Hitchcock, who was then manager and director of the War Secretary's candidacy. It was Mr. McHarg who visited the Southern states, studied local conditions and collected data relating to the numerous contests that came before the Republican National Convention from those states.

Mr. McHarg appeared before the committee which heard the contents and as the personal representative of Secretary Taft won every contest in which the Secretary's interests were involved. It was invariably the case that Mr. McHarg knew more about each individual contestant than the delegates from the very district that was concerned and his success in securing a decision favorable to his man in every contest was largely due to his mastery of the details and information relating to each one.

Armory Will Probably Be Used by Independence Party.

Paulinus McDonald, who is in charge of the Independence party headquarters in Portland, yesterday received a telegram announcing that Thomas H. Higgen, the party's nominee for the Presidency, and W. R. Hearst, would be in Portland, Monday, October 12, and deliver addresses. On that day all of the theaters in the city will be occupied, but it is the intention of Mr. McDonald to secure the Armory for the meeting.

First Ward Taft Club.

The First Ward Republicans met Monday night at 444 North Twenty-third street and organized the First Ward Taft Club by electing the following officers: Charles Conroy, president; Felix R. Wagner, vice-president; J. H. Bush, secretary; H. B. Stout, treasurer. Executive board—Ralph E. Moody, chairman; W. A. Storey, H. Hayburn, Delegates—W. A. Storey, J. Neuhart, P. L. Willis, Theodor Splud, Louis Kuhn, J. Sanborn.

Elaborate Plans for Rally.

Democrats are making elaborate arrangements for the rally to be held here September 25, when Senator Gore, of Oklahoma, will be the principal speaker. This will be probably the biggest Democratic rally of the campaign unless the National committee decides to send Bryan to the Pacific Coast and a meeting can be arranged for him in this city. Taft Strong in Umatilla.

Among the visitors at Republican headquarters yesterday was L. E. Chamberlain, Umatilla County Representative-elect from Umatilla County. Mr. Chamberlain was on his way to Salem with his family where he will spend several days at the State Fair. He reports that crop conditions in Umatilla County this year measured up to expectations. He says the Republicans of his county will support the party's nominee loyally in the November election.

BLAMES THE POLITICIANS

Make Saloons Respectable by Giving Licenses to Respectable Men.

PORTLAND, Sept. 15.—(The Editor)—The politicians of this city, as well as others, have been playing hide-and-seek with the saloonmen and the people generally. Ordinances have been prepared in seeming haste and all were supposed to be perfect but lacked the final term—"I can be seen."

It is a great injustice to blame saloonmen in general for the present rotten condition of the city. A majority of respectable men in the saloon business that have for a long time demanded reform, but have refused to give up their saloons as their best friends.

Give a license only to absolutely respectable places and the saloon question will be solved.

To forbid tables in drinking places is absolutely wrong. Get out with the bars, and the treating system will be killed; give a license only to the best of the saloons, but in no way that the worst evil, the treating, has gone.

In other countries saloonmen are among the most respected, because the business is not in the hands of politicians, but in the hands of the respectable element of the community.

It reminds me often of a great joke of Frederick the Great. His government was coming bad. He asked the court clown, "Can you give me advice how to improve it?" "Johann my government is bad," said the clown. "Majesty, I saw the other day the chessman clean the board and she began at the top and I would advise you to do likewise."

I would advise the people of Portland to take this hint, and begin to clean from the top and break up the company of the politicians and the brewers and wholesale liquor dealers.

Too many things are going on now. Prohibition seems to be sure, due to the protest of the public and the respectable element of the saloonmen, who are the majority.

Let us improve, not destroy.

R. BUEHKOOPER.

PLAN FOR ROOMING-HOUSE

Improvement to Be Made Corner Third and Ankeny.

Attention of passers-by has been attracted to the tearing down of old buildings at the northwest corner of Third and Ankeny streets for the past few days. The shacks are now about removed and on the eastern end of the quarter block girders and joists are going in for the first story, there being no concern for the second story. The owner of the ground in the well estate and it is announced as the intention to erect a two-story building, to be occupied by a saloon on the corner and a billiard hall. The second story is to be fitted up for a rooming-house. Two streets will also be provided on the Third-street front.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. L. Rosenheim, of Cincinnati, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Samuel Rosenblatt, at home today.

X. W. Durham, editor of the Spokane Spokesman-Review, visited Portland Monday. He was surprised at the growth of the city since his last visit.

Sloan P. Shutt, editor of the Drain News, was operated upon Monday morning at the St. Vincent Hospital, for appendicitis. He had been suffering for the past three weeks.

Miss Opal Hall, who recently resigned as a teacher in the Atkinson school will leave today for New York City, where she will spend a year studying art at the Art Students' League and the New York School of Art.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Moorehouse, of Sellwood, are arranging to leave for Texas soon. The move is to be made partly on account of Mrs. Moorehouse's health. They have recently acquired a 2000-acre ranch in that state.

F. F. Scher, 713 Reed street, was elected to the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company, is rejoicing in the birth of an heir. He has named the boy Theodore William Paul, after President Roosevelt and either Taft or Bryan, the next President.

PROFIT FOR THE FIRMS

Scandals of Two Years Ago Said to Have Had Wholesome Effect on the System of Life Insurance.

Scandals of two years ago had a wholesome effect and have, in fact, resulted in educating the people of the country in life insurance matters, bringing increased business. In the belief of Charles Jerome Edwards, of New York City, president of the National Association of Life Underwriters who reached Portland yesterday and is visiting the Oregon organization of life insurance men. He says the demand for life insurance has never been better and that, while many agents were frightened and left the business, the fact that the largely depleted corps of agents is doing a normal business throughout the country proves the increased interest and demand for insurance.

Mr. Edwards came to the Pacific Coast to attend the annual session of life insurance men in Los Angeles, which was held August 15-20. Since that time he has been visiting the various coast cities and getting in touch with life insurance conditions in this territory. He was entertained yesterday by William Goldman, and today at 2:30 o'clock he will be dined at the Commercial Club by local insurance men. This afternoon he will be taken about the city and shown what slight voice overlooked yesterday. He was taken to the Forestry building yesterday afternoon and was surprised at the immensity of the logs entering into the construction of that monument to Oregon's lumber resources.

The question came up when the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company applied to the County Board for a franchise to erect poles and stringing wires. The Commissioners granted the franchise, but inserted the provision that the electricity to be used must be generated within the State of Washington.

The action of the Commissioners is intended to forestall the possibility of the electric company importing cable across the Columbia. The company has a plant in Vancouver, but if power and light were brought in here from outside, necessarily this plant would be closed down.

FINDS NO CAUSE FOR ALARM

Only Two Cases of Typhoid Fever Reported to Oregon City Officials.

OREGON CITY, Or., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—Mayor Carl has made an investigation of the conditions surrounding the reported epidemic of typhoid fever in Oregon City and finds there is no cause for alarm. There are only two existing cases here that have been reported to the Health Officer. In one of these cases the patient was an American Lake with the Oregon National Guard and may have contracted the germ of the disease there, while the other patient has been from Oregon River on the dam around Willamette Falls.

It is true there are numerous cases in West Oregon City, Canemah, New Era and other places near Oregon City, but the water used for drinking purposes is always filtered and residents of the city may use it in perfect safety.

Albany Taft Club Officers.

ALBANY, Or., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—Percy R. Kelly was chosen president of the Taft Club of Albany last evening. Other permanent officers were elected as follows: Secretary, E. H. Rhodes; members of the executive committee, L. M. Curl, Y. G. Freeman and W. L. Marks. The following delegates were chosen to represent the local club at the convention of Taft clubs in Portland: E. H. Rhodes, Y. G. Freeman, Percy R. Kelly, S. C. Worrell and J. C. Leatherman. A membership committee consisting of E. H. Rhodes, Y. G. Freeman and W. H. Worrell, was appointed.

Preparing to Fight Fires.

WALLOWA, Or., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—The City Council has just voted $163 to be added to a like sum raised by subscription for the purpose of building a bandstand and hosecart room. A second hosecart was recently purchased and the city will soon have two volunteer fire companies.

Seeks Balance of Insurance.

Suit against the Order of Washington to obtain the balance of a life insurance policy has been brought by Lucy M. Mahoney, in the Circuit Court. John Joseph Cohen took out a policy for $2500, in favor of the plaintiff. He died in October, 1906. It is alleged that there is now due a balance of $575.

New Pavement Is Damaged by Water Board.

Residents in the vicinity of Twelfth and Alder streets are indignant at the action of the city authorities in tearing up the bitulithic pavement, just completed there, for the purpose of installing a hydrant. Hardly had the improvement been finished when men were ordered to the northwest corner by the Water Department, to put in the freplug, and as a result there will be a defacement of the hard surface. It is the contention of the residents that the hydrant should have been placed long ago, and certainly before the new pavement was laid.

"I ordered the hydrant installed at Twelfth and Alder streets because there are large churches and theaters, as well as numerous other very valuable buildings in that neighborhood," said Fire Chief Campbell, when asked for an explanation of the case. "I am aware of the fact that these men have been hydrants placed in this district before the pavement went in, but the hydrants were not to be had, and I had to order them in there when I could get them. In a district like that, it is absolutely necessary to have protection from fire, and the hydrants had to be put in, notwithstanding the fact that the hard surface had to be cut."

This is not the only instance of the kind that has happened, as there are so many miles of hard-surface pavements going down throughout the city, that Chief Campbell declares it is impossible to put in hydrants ahead of all the improvements in existing conditions. In many instances, also, water mains, gas mains and sewers are laid after the pavements are down, and there is a general complaint "rising all over the city on this account."

Mother of Husband Will Pay.

Mrs. Mary E. Payne has filed a petition in the Circuit Court asking that she be permitted to accept $300 from her husband's mother in place of the $10 a month alimony, which the court decreed that her divorced husband must pay her every month for the support of herself and child. She says that her husband went to Honolulu to avoid the payment of the alimony and that his mother now offers to pay her $300. The divorce from Edward I. Payne was secured in March, 1906.
