6ays High School Boys Who Belong to Secret Societies Are Insolent Beyond Bellef - Students Take Case Into Court.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15 -- (Special)-Otto C. Snyder, president of the Board of Education, believes that if corporal punishment were restored in the Chl-cago high schools the much discussed "frat evil" would disappear in just about the proverbial number of shakes of the dead lamb's tall. Now, don't be frightened. He is not thinking of putting his belief into immediate practice. He merely expressed his opinion on the subject today—expressed it vigorously too—in commenting on his experience of the day before with 51 Hyde Park high school recalcitrants who were barred from the mchool building for the day. "Since our conference with those boys and girls yesterday afternoon, I have become pretty clear as to what they need," he said. "The boys I mean. If they could be taken out behind the school building and given a good old-fashioned spanking, it would do more real good than all the rules the board can make.

Law Does Not Forbid.

"Oh yes, we could do it. The Illinois state law does not forbid corporal punishment. It would simply be a matter of annuiling our own rule. I don't say that I am going to advocate any say that I am going to advocate any such measure, but I am convinced that it would be a good thing.

"The conduct of the boys who attended that conference showed exactly why we are stamping out the fraternities. They were impudent and ill-mannered. When we went into the committee room it was a general rush for sents and it was almost imposfor sents and it was almost impos-sible for Superintendent Cooley and me to find chairs. When we gave them an opportunity to state their case they were impudent and cocky. I never saw such an exhibition of demoralization in youngsters in my life."

Superintendent Cooley did not advocate corporal punishment, but he was even more emphatic than the president in commenting on the boys'

There was enough evidence right on There was enough evidence right on the floor of the committee-room to con-vict every High School fratarnity in Chicago," he said. "They were not only impudent—they were insolent."

So far as the "frat fight" is con-cerned, the day brought a grateful lull in the hostilities. At the Hyde Park High School, the pledges of the recal-citrants were accepted, signed "under protest," and all returned to their Edward MoDonald, the Phi Sigma mem-cipal Loomis told the signer that the promise would be interpreted to mean that all connection with secret organ-izations had been abandoned, except such connection as might be necessary No visible evidence of identification with the societies, such as the wearing of "frai" pins, will be tolerated. The same rules will be insisted on at the ther High Schools.

So far as the various principals knew, all the secret society members signed the pledges and returned to their classes during the day. Students Gain Point.

At two points the fraternities ap-pear to have gained a possible point over the Board of Education. Neither President Schneider nor Superintendent Cooley would commit himself on the question as to whether membership in National organizations will be permit-ted, and in the matter of the signing of pledges by parents, it has been an-nounced that there will be no attempt to compel those who decline. "We are not going to be bumptious in enforcing this rule," said Mr. Cooley. "I want to find out just what is meant by this plan of keeping National mem-bership before I decide anything. If the boys and girls will meet us half way, we shall accept their action in the spirit in which it is offered, but if this is merely an attempt to evade the apirit of the Boards' rule, it will not be tolerated for a minute. If they are going to wear pins and belong well have their own chapters.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL TALKS

Denies Report That Followed Adverse Decision Regarding Wisconsin Defendants - New Indictments Cure All Defects.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 .- (Special.) -The Department of Justice, contrary to a published report, has no intention of dropping the prosecution of the Southern Idaho land-fraud cases. When Judge Quarles, of Wisconsin, recently refused to order the removal of Barber and Moon to Idaho for trial on the ground that the indictment was insuf-ficient, it was reported that other partles indicted with these defendants would not be prosecuted. As the Attor-ney-General was then on his vacation, no authoritative information could be obtained. It was given out at the de partment today, however, that both Barber and Moon have been re-arrested under a new indictment drawn by Spe-cial Attorneys Gordon and Rush, who were sent to Idaho early in the Sum-mer, and that it was believed that this new indictment would hold.

The department, however, is not ready to proceed with the prosecution of these cases this Fall, as had been expected, and a postponement will be asked. Frank Martin, of Boise, one of he defendants, has been demanding an immediate trial, but Peyton Gordon, who is now in Idaho, will move a postponement when the cases are called. Trial is not probable before next

Conference of Western Republican

Leaders Voices One Demand. CHICAGO, Sept. 15. - Republican enders from 14 Central and Western States, who were assembled here to-day in a conference with Chairman Hitchcock, of the Republican National committee, expressed their gratifica-tion at the re-nomination of Charles E. Hughes for Governor of New York. Without exception the leaders declared that the action of the New York con-vention will aid the Republicans in their campaigns in all of the debatable states of the West.

Requests that Mr. Hughes be sent into Western states to make campaign speeches have been received in great numbers, and many of the chairmen of state central committees have been insistent in their demands. He will be insistent in their demands. He will be shattered the desk and flung the president against the wall. Maine Sound on National Issues

Representative Boutell, of Illinois who has just returned from campaign-ing in Maine, visited Republican head-quarters. He said that the small malority by which Maine was carried by the Republican party has no particular bearing upon the National election. He thought that the return of the entire Republican Congressional delegation was an indication that the party in Congress meets with the approval of the state, regardless of local differ-ences. He predicted that in the National election the normal Republican majority would be given Taft and

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15 .- (Special.) -Death by telephone is the most recen method of an invention devised for Pres ident Cabrera, of Guatemala, according to the statements of the officers of the City of Para, which arrived here today.

The revolutionists in the plot hit upon a new way of accomplishing death when they attached a wire to the telephone in Cabrera's office and connected the other end with an infernal machine hidden in another part of the room. This is supposed to have been accomplished during the night, and there was nothing in the appearance of the room to intimate that sudden death had been so cunningly

Soon after Cabrera entered the room the elephone bell rang. Whether the plotters had themselves called the President's number or had left that to chance and the ordinary routine of the day has not been discovered. Answering the call, Cabrera took the receiver off the hook and on the instant came an explosion tha

For want of a better clew the police arrested five Salvadoreans on suspicion.
Their immediate execution was ordered, but the American Minister at Guatemala intervened and the sentence was com-muted to banishment and the five were placed on board the City of Para and taken to Acajutla, where they went
