DEATH OF MRS. MARGARET LYLE.—Mrs. Margaret Lyle, sister of the late J. A. and William Crawford, of Linn County, who died in Portland yesterday at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Protzman, 35 Thirteenth street, was born in Ireland, near Belfast, January 20, 1820. Her childhood was passed in Glasgow, Scotland. After her marriage there she went to Philadelphia. Her husband dying in 1859, she went to Albany, Or., making her home with her brothers. For the past five years she had lived with her foster daughter, Mrs. E. C. Protzman, in this city, Mrs. Lyle will long be remembered for her gentle ways and kind hospitality. Since early childhood, she has been a faithful and devour member of the Prespyterian Church. Beside her daughter, she is survived by a brother, Robert Crawford, of Albany; two nephews, John and George Simpson, of the same city, and a niece, Mrs. M. R. Woodcock, of Corvallis.

DIES AT COLLINS' SPRINGS.—A tele-graphic message received yesterday con-veyed the information that Mrs. George M. Parks, 448 East Couch street, dled suddenly, at Collins' Springs, yesterday morning. Mrs. Parks went to the springs shout two weeks ago in the company of Mrs. Joseph Chambreau to take treatment for asthmatic troubles. She was reported as improving until news of her sudden death came yesterday. The remains were brought down last night on the Bailey Gatzert and were taken to Dunning's undertaking rooms, on East Aider street. Arrangements for her funeral will be announced today.

Edison Sees Prosperity Here—

Edison Shes Prosperity Henri-Thomas A, Edison, the wizard of the electrical world, bore testimony while in Portland to the fact that this section of Fortland to the fact that this section of the country stood the shock of the panic of the past year better than any other section of the country. Mr. Edison's method of comparing the prosperity of the different states of the Union is in the sale of phonographs, an invention which Mr. Edison perfected and in which he, naturally, has a peculiar 'interest. Mr. Edison said that the sale of phonographs in Oregon and Washington during the past year kept up better than in any other part of the country.

GAIN IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

ENROLLMENT REACHES 17,065 ON SECOND DAY.

Increase Over Last Year Is 870 and Many More Will Register This Week.

Yesterday's registration of pupils in the public schools of Portland showed a gratifying increase. There were on the enrollment yesterday 870 more than for the second day of the Fall term for 1907, and 261 gain over the total registration for Monday, the opening day of this year. There is certain to be a steady gain for several days, it is said. All of the schools are now well organized for the season, and now well organized for the season, and henceforth work will proceed in the

NEUHAUSEN IS OUT

Resigns as Special Inspector of Interior Department.

FOUR YEARS IN SERVICE

Official Closely Connected With Land-Fraud Prosecutions Will Reside in Portland and Engage in Timber Business.

In accordance with his declaration, pub-licly announced last February, that he atended to quit the Government service as soon as his duties would permit, Thomas B. Neuhausen wired the Secretary of the Interior Monday as follows:

"Although deeply appreciative of pros-ective appointment October 1 as Indian aspector, I feel that I should take advantage of present business opportunities as-suring greater financial rewards than Government service. I, therefore, respect-fully tender my resignation herewith, sub-ject to customary transfer of Government ecords and property. Telegraphic ac-eptance of resignation is requested, in order that Prosecutors Hency, Becker and McCourt may immediately formulate such changes as my resignation may ne-cessitate in plans for land fraud trial of ten defendants on October 12 and of Bin-ger Hermann on November 9, also of other defendants later. I expect to remain in Portland and my testimony will be avail-able under due legal process."

The telegram acceding to Mr. Neuhau-sen's request arrived last night. It was signed by Frank Pierce, Acting Secretary of the Interior. the Interior. Mr. Neuhausen has been associated with

Mr. Neuhausen has been associated with the prosecution of the Oregon land frauds for nearly four years and has participated in every trial since the "II-7" case. Since it became known that he intended to resign his position with the Government he has been offered several salaried positions but he has declined all of them.
"I shall never again work for a salary only," said Mr. Neuhausen last night while discussing his future plans. "I like Portland and intend to make my home here. Some Eastern friends have asked me to invest some of their money in Oregon lands and timber and I intend asked me to livest some of their money in Oregon lands and timber and I intend to do so, while making an occasional side investment myself. The timber market has been pretty dull for the last cight months but it is now beginning to improve. For convenience I shall have an office here in the city."

CHURCH UNION DISCUSSED

Trustees of Calvary Presbyterian Hold an Important Meeting.

A meeting of the session and board of trustees of Calvary Presbyterian Church was held monday night in the church parlors, for the purpose of tak-ing action on the letter recently ad-dressed to Calvary Church by the First Church, offering to unite the two congregations. As the letter was addressed to the officers and congregation, final action on the matter cannot be taken until the October meeting of the church members,

The remainder of the session was devoted to a discussion of the advisability of uniting with the congregation of the First Church. Those present were: Secretary of the session, John Bain; E. E. Fichtner, J. S. Bradley, W. F. Edwards, W. B. Honeyman, O. A. Tilton. Board of Trustees—Herman Claussenius, Sr.; D. W. Tilford, Cord Songstake, G. J. Burns, John Barkie, Mr. Hyde. Dr. J. B. Crowds at the Bungalow. The Bungalow is the center of attraction this week and the Enver Stock Company's production of "The Devil" is one of the greatest theatrical sensations ever created in this city. Sydney Ayres, Miss Jewel and Donald Howles, with the rest of the company, form a powerful organization. The scenery and stage settings are beautiful and original. Matinee Saturday.

"Chie" Perkins at the Star. "The Little Prospector" is one of that sort of plays to which a young man can take his best girl, his eister or his mother, and have no fear but that they will enjoy it throughout. There is a naturalness pervading the whole performance that makes one forget they are at a play. The stage settings and scenic effects are unusually striking and elaborate.

"The Devil" at Lyric. The most important offering ever made by the Biunkall Company at the Loric is that which is being seen at the popular Alder-street theater this week. "The Devil" is positively the most fascinating drama of modern times, the various parts being portrayed by the most brilliant artists.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Kolb and Dill Next Sunday. The opening attraction at the Heilig The-ater, Fourteenth and Washington streets, will occur next Sunday night, when the favorite comedians. Kolb and Dill, together with their excellent company, will present the musical-comedy, "Louesone Town." The engagement is for one week, with usual matinees.

"The Royal Chef" at the Baker, The regular Baker Theater season of hig musical and dramatic traveling attractions will open next Sunday matines, the first being the Frazee & Ward musical comedy, "The Royal Chef." which has always appeared here before at top prices.

Georgia Harper Coming Miss Georgia Harper will present at the Star Theater next Sunday afternoon a first-clase production of the four-act comedy-frama, 'Nell Gwynne.' The story of the play is interesting as well as entertaining.

Julia Kingsley-Orpheum. A sparkling sketch, "Supper for Two," by Julia Kingsley and her company will be seen at the Orpheum next week. It is a clever little act filled with comedy from beginning to end and will appeal to all. The Jupiter Brothers or the cowboy illusionists will also please the public.

"Tennessee's Partner" Next. The next attraction at the Lyric will be the Blunkall Stock Company in that thrilling Western dramatic success. "Tennessee's Part-ner." It is a play that has delighted thousands BANK WITH A STRONG BANK

Needless to say, he was very much surprised. He finally accounted to much surprised. He finally accounted for the bird's presence by the fact that the Irvington woods are known to be well populated with the game bird and one must have strayed from its usual haunts out into the city street.

ST. JOHN MAN IS MISSING Disappearance of Frank Thompson

Causes Anxiety.

Frank Thompson, a laborer in the St. John sawmill, has been missing since the evening of August 22. He was last seen in the vicinity of the eastern approach of the Burnside bridge, in ompany with a man and woman who have since left the city. When Thomp-son came up from St. John on that evening he had about $40 and was sventing he had about $40 and was known to have been drinking. He is aged 29, and is about 5 feet 8 inches tall, of light complexion, smooth shaven and wore dark clothes. There is considerable mystery attached to Thompson's disappearance, as he stood well with his associates in St. John and had no debts. All his per sonal belongings are yet in his room at Mrs. Gillespie's rooming-house. Relatives in Philadelphia have been written to by Chief of Police Black, but no answer has been received. Steps are being taken to find the woman with whom Thompson was seen and who may be able to clear up the mystery.

Charge Is Changed to Larceny.

The charge of obtaining money by false pretenses, on which Mrs. Anna L. Pugmeyer has been held at the County Jail, has been dismissed and the woman will be permitted to plead guilty to the charge of simple larceny in the Justice Court. She was indicted on a charge of passing a worthless check, signed "Mat-thews & Foster," on W. H. Markell, and

Who Will Join in a Unique Grand Piano-Playing Revel?

Several of the lady enthusiasts who visited the extraordinary display of grand planos at Ellers Plano House yesterday thought it would be a wonderful experiment for them to be played in unison.

A number of planists immediately offered their services. If a sufficiently large number of planists can be secured while the assortment remains more or less complete, arrangements will be made for an event of this kind. Eighty people—169 hands—to play simultaneously on 40 grand planos. Such an undertaking would be absolutely unique in the history of music and probably never can be duplicated. Planists of ability wishing to participate in this interesting concert, are invited to report in person or by telephone—Exchange 23 or A 2359—to our Mr. Louis P. Bruce for particulars.

The performance will not be af a public character, but merely for the enjoyment of participants and a very limited number of their friends. Please apply at once. Ellers Plano House will supply the music required.
