The fruit market is again in a bad way

Peach receipts were very heavy yesterday. The stores and sidewalks were piled high and in addition there were four cars on the tracks. Some sales of extra fancy lots were made at 65c, but the great bulk of the ofrefings were at much lower prices. Good B's wrapped were sold at 27 16 30c and unwrapped stock could not be disposed of at any price.

The demand was equally light in other lines, pears, applies, cantaloupes, hananas and oranges moving very slowly.

Some Concord grapes came in from Forest Grove and Dillay, well ripened and of fine flavor. They were held at 300 a basket, but buyers did not take to them readily. California grapes declined all around with the arrival of a mixed car. Tokays and Malagas were offered at $1.25 and Rose of Peru at $0.690c.

Tomatoes cleaned up better and the market was steadler at 35.940c. A car of mixed shipments of 183 cars of grapes in the past week and say of the movement;

The Maisgas will soon cloan up. Shipment has not been quite as heavy as earlier anticipated. Still have plenty of Black Prince, etc. We had expected Tokays to go out heavier before this, but the different reports coming to hand seem to indicate that they are a little backward about ripening. All reports generally agree in declaring that there will not be as large a crop as earlier anticipated. In other words, we earlier anticipated. In other words, we will not ship quite as many of them as we did last season. Their quality is fine and as there is no mildew they should carry in Conrad Krebs emphatically denies the report of trouble with pickers at his Independence yards. Mr. Krebs said yesterday:

"We have had no trouble with the pickers at our yard on account of weighing of for any other reason. The pickers are well satisfied with our treatment of them and we are satisfied with the pickers, who are doing excellent work. There has been some trouble in yards in this section, but none at our place.

"We are getting over 2000 boxes a day and one day picked 3800 boxes. Our crop will be 800 bales larger than last year and the quality is fine. We will finish picking by the middle of next week."

A California dealer writes that the crop of that state will be 70,000 bales and that the quality is not as good as last year, owing to drouth, hot weather and poor cultivation. There was a report in the local market yestorday that Clem Horst will reach Saleen today with his picking machine.

ANNUAL REPORT OF ENGLISH FACTORS Le May Says Hops Are of Magnificent Qual-

The first of the English hop dealers to issue an annual report this season is W. H. & H. Le May, of London, whose circular & H. Le May, of London, whose circular says, in part:

We have, as has been our custom for very many years, made an exhaustive examination of the plantations in Kent. Susces. Surrey, Hampshire, Wordester and Hereford, and have great plansare in reporting that on the whole the hops are of magnificent quality, being fully developed both in size and lupulin and of a rich color. This is undoubtedly due to the great amount of sunshins we have had this Summer. The brewers are fortunate in having the opportunity to buy such a crop, as there can be no doubt that the quality of the English hop this year cannot be surpassed by any other country. With such fine quality the demand should be good, and we confidently anticipate a larger sale than has been the case the last two years, as without doubt many brewers will avail themseives of this most favorable chance of refilling the cold stores which have been practically emptied during the period.

The Kentish Observer, in its issue of September 3, reduces its estimate of the English crop from 14 cwt, to 15 cwt. per acre. Commenting on the government acreage figures, which showed the abandonment of do22 acres since last year, the Observer

We hear that further grubbing will take place both in Kent and Sussex at the end of the present season. The foreigner will be pleased to know this; and the Itadical government, with their affection for the dumpers, will find some plausible explanation of the lamentable steady decline of the industry.

Auction sales of fruit commenced here today. One car of mixed fruit was disposed will be held a day and that in the morning.

Later, however, an afternoon sale will be inaugurated. Higher prices on peaches were demand is very heavy and the receipts are lighter. Fruit held steady today at low prices. Cantaloupes still drag. The top price is Crumbling of Prices in the Stock Market.

CLOSING IS VERY

Harriman's Statement a Disappointment to the Traders. Who Had Bought in Expectation of an Advance.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—All that E. H. Harriman had to impart concerning the properties in which he is intercated fell far short of what the speculative imagination had been led to expect during weeks of buying of the stocks at ateadily advancing prices. It was a disappointment on this score that caused the crumbling of prices today more than any the crumbling of prices today more than any other factor.

Mr. Harriman's terse reason for the great strength in the stocks of his railroads was that it was "because they were too weak before." and the weakness today might be explained with equal justice as due to the stocks having become too strong. The realization that there was to be no Union Pacific holding company and distribution of treasury assets, no immediate valuable rights on Southern Pacific in connection with new financing, no extra disbursement on Northern Pacific and in fact no actuality on which to have numerous other rumors which have kept alive speculative enthusiasm for some time past, left holders of stocks with the dreat that they had been pursuing phantoms and evendoing the speculation.

The action of the market gave warning also that measures of control and support for prices were not to be enforced with the same determination as lately. The vigorous resistance shows by prices to selling pressure same determination as lately. The vigorous resistance shows by prices to selling pressure for some time past has quieted all apprehensions which arose on the part of purchasers of stocks for an advance. The conviction thus foatered that a powerful combination of capitalists, equipped with hundreds of millions of dellars, had set themselves to hold and advance prices, was shaken by the evidence of distribution of holdings whenever the market was strong enough to absorb them.

Reading served as the instrument for sup-port of the market, as was the case yester-day. The stock was about the only one to show positive strength at any, time. New York Central advanced a point temporarily when it became known that the regular divi-dend had been declared. The relief from fears of a reduction in that dividend did not avail to reassure misgivings over dividend maintenance at other points. The con-tinued shrinkage in railroad earnings, coupled with the heavy additions to share capital with the heavy additions to share capital which are to divide claims to earnings herewith the heavy additions to share capital which are to divide claims to earnings hereafter made the great transcontinental lines vulnerable to this consideration. Great Northern Pacific, St. Paul and Canadian Pacific were acutely affected. The motives prompting the liquidation were not so commonly agreed upon. Political scare was one motive advanced by some of the most demonstrative of the sellers.

The course of the market was not an entire surprise to observers less closely concerned in the speculation. The extent of the rise in itself has suggested the approach of a reaction. The moderate pace of the business improvement had indicated the over-discounting of this in the securities market. The reliance piaced on the plethoric money market to continue the upowement loses part of its basis with the normal period of depiction of central reserves arriving, even though the rate of depiction is unusually belated and slow this year. The effort at liquidation finds little absorptive demand to meet it, as the general public interest in the speculation has been at no time great. The selling pressure continued up to the close, which was weak at the lowest prices.

Bonds were heavy. Total sales, par value, $2,236,000. United States is, coupon, declined % per cent in the hid price.

Wheat Prices Rise Sharply at Chicago.

FOREIGN MARKETS FIRM

Duluth Reported to Be Doing the Heaviest Export Business in Its History-Italy May Reduce the Import Duty.

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—At the outset the wheat market was firm, with December 14 to $4c over yesterday's close. Early offerings, based on heavy Northwest receipts and in some instances to a desire to secure profits, were in large volume, but December dropped off only $4c from initial prices under the pressure A reaction followed gradually. dropped off only $\frac{1}{2}\text{c from initial prices under this perssure. A reaction followed gradually and drew most of the *traders to the bull side. At its best the market was at $1.01\frac{1}{2}\text{for September $1.01\frac{1}{2}\text{for December and }$1.03\frac{1}{2}\text{for May and these prices held at the close, being for September and December 2 cents over yesterday. Duluth was a heavy buyer in this market and one house shift that the Northern city was doing the biggest expert trade in its history. Local export brokers stated that all the wheat offered abroad last night had been accepted an adbrokers stated that all the wheat offered abroad last night had been accepted, an advance from Id to 3d in spot wheat at Liverpool and the firm tone in Continental markets giving color to this claim. There were houses, however, which gave out statements minimizing the extent of the export business. The talk of a reduction by Italy of the import duty on wheat was elso a factor in determining the trend of prices. The advance at New York created more than a full shipping difference between that market and this one.

The corn market was under a great deal of pressure today, leading longs apparently leaving the market to take care of itself. September at one time sold at 78c, 2½c under yesterday's close.

The weakness of corn was shared by the cats market. Cash outs in the sample market were off ½c. The close, while at a loss of ½c½c, was comparatively steady.

HANGS HIMSELF AND DIES

Cellar Worker Commits Suicide in Order to Escape Worry.

John Weis. 25 years of age, committed suicide inst night by hanging himself in the cellar of the Fritz Theater, corper of Second and Burnside streets. He had been employed for the past 10 days as the porter of Fritz's saloon adjoining the theater. Nothing is known of his home, friends or relations. It is said that he was formerly in the army and had served in the hospital corps. He hanged himself by tying a handkerchief about his neck and placing a loop of it over a clothes hook on the wall. In order to effect strangulation he had been forced to lift his feet from the floor. Just a short time previous to his death he had been seen by other saloon employes and appeared in the cellar, where he had a gas stove, shortly after 5 o'clock for the purpose of cooking his supper and was not seen until cooking his support and was not seen until found dead a few minutes after 7 o'clock.

Dr. L. Buck, of Third and Burnside streets, was hastily summoned but found life extinct. He notified Captain Moore at the police station and Detective Price at the police station and Detective Price took charge of the body until the arrival of Deputy Coroner Dunning. Weis was a good looking young fellow of refined appearance and some education and the belief exists that he came from a good family and took his life because of estrangement from his relatives. Yesterday was his pay day at the salcon and he had a week's pay due him last night which the proprietor of the place is holding, waiting for a claimant.
